Dear Mr. Fletcher:

You will recall our correspondence during 1927 and 1928 regarding lot 340 Grossmont, which belongs to Mrs. Burbank.

In your last letter you were planning on a paving program which would benefit this lot and I hope you were able to go through with it.

Mrs. Burbank was talking to me about the lot yesterday and seems very anxious to dispose of it, would even consider a trade for something down here.

I would appreciate hearing from you regarding the prospects for a sale or trade.

Trusting that we can work out something for Mrs. Burbank and awaiting your advice, I am,

Yours very truly,

Dear Mr. Wood:

Answering yours of May fourteenth will say the paving program has not yet gone ahead.

Ask Mrs. Burbank what price she will take for the property and I will try and dispose of it for her.

Yours truly,

Dear Mr. Fletcher:

Your letter of the 23rd received.

Mrs. Burbank, not feeling that she is sufficiently informed as to market conditions and values and having great confidence in you, wishes me to put the proposition up to you as follows:

She would like to get $1,500.00 for the lot, but if this is not in line, she really wishes to sell and will be glad to have you submit any offer, together with your recommendation regarding same.

Trusting that we can work something out which will prove satisfactory and awaiting your advice, I am,

Yours very truly,

Dear Mr. Fletcher:

Mrs. Burbanks has just been in to see me about her Grossmont Lot.

She has just paid her taxes and tho
it was not much, still it reminded her that she wanted to dispose of the lot and asked me to get in touch with you again.

She is really very anxious to sell and I would appreciate your making a special effort to submit her a proposition. I think anything, even a near reasonable figure, would appeal to her as she has no present or prospective use for the property.

Awaiting your advice, I am,

Yours very truly,

Harry J. Wood

Dear Mr. Wood:

Answering your letter of the eighth will say
I will try to dispose of Mrs. Barbanks' property.

Lots have sold as low as $500 recently owing to hard times. I am sorry to say it is hard to find prospects at the present time.

Yours truly
