triton times

Volume 11, Number 6

University of California, San Diego

Friday, October 16, 1970

Third College: Hope For The Third World

Yesterday the Regents of the University of California, meeting in San Francisco, heard a progress report from Chancellor York and Third College Provost Watson. The subject before the Educational Policy Committee was UCSD's Third College. The new college, approved last spring by the Regents, was on their docket for the first of many Regental check-ups. Regent Glen Campbell precautioned last spring that Third College "was an experiment" and asked that it "be watched carefully" and asked for periodic reports.

What has currently fascinated educators

What has currently fascinated educators across the nation, two years ago had little chance of becoming Third College. In March of 1969, a group of Blacks and Browns changed the direction of forthcoming Third College. Angela Davis, sitting at one end of a long oval table in the Chancellor's Conference room spoke words that led to the downfall of Provost Rapaport's carefully contrived plans for Third College as a social science school, and his resignation as 'Contradictions which sustained America in the past are now threatening to anihilate the entire societal edifice. Black slave labor laid the basis of the American economy, . . . " Miss Davis said speaking on behalf of 60 Black and Brown students who had crowded into the room to prosent a solid front for their demands for to present a solid front for their demands for

"Lumumba Zapata" college.
Such was the scene when it all began. During the following summer a Third College Academic Plan replaced the demands for LZ Academic Plan replaced the demands for LZ College, and scholarly prose replaced the original rhetoric which created such a stir. Given an impossible deadline, the Third College planners met an August 1 completion date during a hectic summer of planning and development. The academic plan the students developed over the summer was impressive but radical in its orientation. "The faculty was afraid of radical rhetoric and black and brown student control of the college." said Dr. Gabriel student control of the college," said Dr. Gabriel Jackson, currently chairman of the Academic Jackson, currently chairman of the Academic Senate. In the end, many of the principles of the original Lumumba-Zapata demands were incorporated into the academic plan, but the controversial admissions variance was eventually dropped after going through the Academic Senate and before the Regents approved it. "An admissions procedure," says Third College Provost Joseph Watson, "is the main task before us in the coming year." main task before us in the coming year

From the time the demands were read by Angela Davis and the Academic Senate granted s approval in April for a go summer planning, a slow and bureaucratic administration, faced by what then were radical proposals, frustrated the Black-Brown coalition. A spur-of-the-moment decision according to some participants led approximately 50 students to break into and occupy the Registrar's Office on Matthews Campus. The 50 students ended their occupation 90 minutes later when informed that the senate had passed the Varon resolution, which was to dramatically change the direction of Third College in their favor.

The Varon resolution provided for a reconstitution of the faculty of Third College so that those with a commitment and interest in minority education could be included. It also provided for extensive student participation in the planning of the college.

From such confrontation, The Third College was born at UCSD. This year, its doors have opened amid a flurry of controversy. Conservative faculty members have contended that Third College has radical students, an unqualified faculty and a revolutionary curriculum. Third College officials vehemently deny these charges, supported by Chancellor

Provost Watson denounced the criticism, saying no one has ever made charges to his face, but rather behind his back. He says, the City Editor

Regent's Meeting

York, Watson Give Progress Report To Regents Carl Neiburger Staff Writer

The Regents Committee on Educational Policy showed serious concern about the role of the Third College board of directors at their meeting yesterday. Chancellor Herbert York and Provost Joseph Watson were repeatedly asked by members of the committee about the role of the board of directors in hiring faculty.

Regent Dean A. Watkins began the questioning after introductory remarks by York and Watson by asking what the role of students and Watson by asking what the role of students in hiring was. In the ensuing discussion York in hiring was. In the ensuing discussion York and Watson explained that the Board of Directors provided additional screening of potential faculty members in addition to the traditional hiring process: They pointed out that all appointment proposals originated with the department involved, while the actual decision concerning the hiring rests with the chancellor.

No Faculty Opposition

In response to questioning York, who was Vice-Chancellor for Graduate Studies at the time that the hiring took place, said that there was no faculty opposition to any appointment that was made, although there were several controversial cases regarding the rank and the salary the appointees should receive. In general, he said, both the chancellor and the faculty committees "aired on the side of offering too little to persuade faculty members to come to UCSD, and with the large demand for minority faculty many private colleges offer far higher salaries than the university of California. minority faculty many private colleges offer far higher salaries than the university of California

York and Watson explained that students mainly have to determine the suitability of prospective faculty members in undergraduate teaching. While the departments are supposed to consider candidate's qualifications in teaching as well as in research, they tend for the most part to overlook teaching ability in favor of research ability. Chancellor York noted that "review by the provost has become the point where undergraduate teaching receives

Specific Cases Discussed

During an executive session the Regents continued discussion of specific cases of faculty hiring, according to a reliable source. Apparently they do not intend to take any specific action. In open session the Regents went on to inquire about Third College admission standards. Watson explained that 60 per cent of Third College students are admitted under regular university criteria, while 40 per cent of the students are admitted under the campus-wide four per cent permissible exception. Most of the 40 per cent are deficient in one of the six regular admissions criteria.

On the other hand, no student who qualified for admission under the regular criteria was denied entrance. Chancellor York explained that the use of the four per cent criterion was necessary to admit many minority students since the high schools they attended did not provide them adequate preparation for admission to UC.

Chancellor York told the TRITON TIMES he felt that "some Regents are concerned about radicalism and had additional questions about academic quality." He said he would continue to answer all questions concerning Third College. Watson left for San Diego immediately and was not available for comment.

The Committee on Educational Policy also discussed an administrative memo explaining that the statewide administration is beginning a study of the relations between the university and the Associated Students of each campus. The memo points toward the varied relationships existing on the different campuses that indicate an administrative effort to try to develop uniform AS relations throught the Regent Heller stated that the "the Regents are interested in a university-wide conformity" in AS relations. Regent William French Smith. on the other hand, thought that the problem should not "necessarily be solved on a university-wide basis" if individual campus solutions proved more profitable. One of the questions involved in this is the payment of state and local taxes by several AS's. The taxes are paid mainly on bookstore operations.

(continued on page 10)

Knowledge and Skills Shared at Free U.

"The Free University of San Diego is based on modeled after the Free Universities of Berkeley the concept of non-coercive education. Classes are taught by non-salaried volunteers who have skill or knowledge to share. Since there are no grades or credit given, students attend classes purely to learn," stated George Lewbel of the Free U.

The new fall catalogue states: "Anyone may teach anything," and the courses offered are greatly varied. Some course titles are "Basic" Volkswagen Repair," "Rock Music Workshop," "Underwater Photography," "Ten-Speed Bicycle Repair and Riding Technique," and
"Writing Workshop for Radical Feminists."

A class titled "Street Truckin" is directed toward urban survival. "The course will be a fact-finding commission whose aim is to produce a book: Street Person's Guide to Greater San

A field course in gastronomic marine biology and inter-tidal ecology describes itself as "investigating foul slime, edible and non-edible clams, creepy-crawlies, mud and ooze. Field trips to swamps, tide pools, salt works, and mud flats. With luck we'll eat some products of the sea and get into Mexico to dig mud. Meets sporadically depending on free time and tides."

The teachers of the Free U are all people who are well qualified in their subject, explained Lewbel. Ollie Ryder, whose class is on pesticides, is involved in research on pesticides in the Biology Department here. Bodine, who is 62, will lead a three to five month bivouac in Colorado and has been traveling around the country this summer talking to other free schools and getting more people together for the trip.

This is the third trimester of the San Diego Free U. It was begun last year by a group of people from Scripps and UCSD, and was and the mid-peninsula. Although on the trimester system, most classes continue as long as the students want them, and when the last classes end, a new catalogue comes out.

Lewbel explained that although some members are very political, the Free U takes no political stand. He stated that "the Free U is a good forum for people to get together to share knowledge, and is open to all sides." Most classes are taught in homes in the Del Mar and La Jolla areas at night or on weekends.

Since most members of the Free U are students or staff members of UCSD, the Free U provides communication between the community and the University of California. Lewbel also said, "most communities never get something like the Free U started, and UCSD is a good source of people who are interested and willing

The Free U has continued to enlarge each session. The enrollment in the summer was approximately one hundred students. Because the Free U is a non-profit non-funded organization the five dollar registration fee is now paying for the printing of catalogues. The Free U is hoping to rent a building soon for classes, and Lewbel said that tools for such things as automotive repair and welding might eventually be purchased to loan to members of Registration will take place this week until October 17 at 9515 Poole Street, near UCSD, from noon to 8 p.m. daily. The $5.00 registration fee entitles you to take as many courses as you wish. Catalogues will be given out in Revelle Plaza from 12-1 p.m. Monday through Friday of this week. Late registration is also possible by attending the first class meeting.

Muir dorms loom behind model of new student apartments.

Student Apartments: Concrete Guinega Pigs

In case you haven't heard yet, what they're building over at Muir are reinforced concrete guinea pigs, and they're scheduled for completion next fall. Starting then, the complex of eight major buildings (and a central laundry) will house 320 students in 68 apartment units apartments complete with kitchenettes, living areas, separate bedrooms, private decks, and hot and cold running water in every unit's

The buildings will be four stories high. External appearance will be basic Muir textured concrete, with no paint. Stairways will be external. You can get a good idea of the appearance of the buildings from the picture above. For an idea of the size, visit the construction site. The walls on a couple of buildings are going up now, and all the buildings will have about that much space per floor. For unit size, divide by two, as there will be two units per story.

According to the descriptions given by Mr. Don McCartey, project architect, the buildings will be built on two different ground levels. The outer four buildings (away from Muir Commons) will have a ground floor one story lower than the inner four. Walks will connect the buildings at floors two, three and four. Two of the eight structures will have full-roof decks, for use by all tenants. The ground floors of two other buildings will be given over to offices for the resident dean, counselors, and residence halls manager. Laundry and vending areas will be in a seperate one story building. Plans also call for a TV lounge and kitchenette for the Individual units are designed for four or five students. The four-student unit will have three bedrooms - two singles and a double. The fivestudent unit will add another single. Stoves will be "apartment size;" decks will open off the

Not everything is as typical as the floor plan, though. The way the complex is coming into being is of interest to colleges and universities nation-wide, including other UC campuses. The books and stationery

north coast stationers

127 north highway 101 solana beach

755-4923

art materials

office supplies

reason is that the "Component Universit Residential System" under which the project was conceived and is being built represents a new approach to construction. The system was formulated by the University of California in conjunction with the Ford Foundation, and UC plans to house 2,500 students with the system, on various campuses. The Muir complex is the first to be built, and so it is being closely

Two things make the system unique. First, the buildings are treated as five separate projects, or "components." (The components on this project are structure-ceiling, partitions, bath units, heating-ventilation, and furniture.) Second, the components are not offered for bids by final design, but by a list of requirements. For example, partitions are required to have certain degrees of mobility and soundresistance, with the additional specification that they must accept a standardized wall-hung furniture component. A company then designs a component to fulfill the requirements, and enters a bid. Final design and bid are accepted

The system has run into a few problems. All the bids for the bath component were considered too high, and were rejected, as was the one bid received for furniture. Work is on schedule on the structure-ceiling, though. When this component is done, there will be an empty shell, with no internal walls or facilities except in-floor conduits for ventilation, plumbing and

This basic flexibility will be retained when the internal walls are installed. Those walls around bath and kitchen facilities will be permanent, but non-supportive, so they can be ripped out if the building is put to a different use. All other walls will be movable by university crews (but not by students). Ideas on what would be appropriate in the way of furniture may be sought from the students at a later date, says

Meanwhile, the line forms on the left.

Education For The Chicano This Huelga committee has extended itself to "The name of this organization shall be boy-cotting COORS beer. "The reason for this Movimeinto Estudiantil Chicano de Aztlan boycott", says Alda Blancos, "is that COORS in (Mecha), hereinafter called Mecha/UCSD. The Denver Colorado didn't hire the ratio of

Presently on Mecha's agenda for future activities are fighting for a cultural center at According to Ana Cardenas, chairman of the Ford building, working on the Chicano Park Mecha/UCSD, Alda Blancos, vice chairman, in Southeast San Diego, and reacquiring Chicanos can expand. We are concerned with Building. We had one before. It was used as such the betterment of the Chicanos through cultural and promised to us by City Manager Hanh. The chicanos got kicked out and Hanh went back on his word." Blancos said.

Mecha/UCSD belongs to a string of tightly Money, landscape, and land were granted by knitted Mecha organizations throughout the state. It's list of past achievements marks the City of San Diego to provide a park for the Chicano Community. Located underneath the Mecha/UCSD as a highly organized and Coronado Bay Bridge, the park still needs playgrounds, art attractions and other park RECRUITMENT OF CHICANO STUDENTS

The Neighborhood House is another issue that prime reason for its formation at UCSD. Ana Mecha is working on. This house was built and Cardenas feels that this was one of Mecha's privately donated to the Chicanos and set up as most successful attempts to bring about betterment for the Chicanos. "Three years ago, a teaching center. Later, this house was taken there were only 16 chicanos here on the campus. over by the government and the programs Today, there are about 300 with prospects of 300 started becoming irrelevant to Chicano needs. An effort is being made to get back

Not Political Organization

An example of this was the recruitment of Faustina Solis to the Community Medicine Department at UCSD. She is the first Chicano in the Med School and she is working on community health programs. According to Alda, Mecha had to add pressure to this issue by talking to the Vice Chancellor and Dean Grobstein. "They wouldn't hire her at first because her qualifications weren't up to standards. She has no PHD and no degree. She is presently performing a job and getting the equivalent paying salary. Though she has no degree, she was formerly head of the Farm Workers Association and has organized 48 health centers in the Bay area alone", Alda Blancos remarked.

For the surrounding area, Mecha's community efforts had started a "Chicanito Program" in La Jolla. Here Saturday classes were held for the children. This program went off to such a good start that it has now been turned into an actual daycare center, run by the goals and purposes. Huelga, a committee which children's mothers. Other programs of similar "To better the Chicano community." This is workers is in association with Mecha. Last the stated goal of Mecha. Thus far, it has tried year, UCSD became quite involved with the to by means of a strong sense of community Grape Strike. Chavez had invited all the Mechas involvement. What this entails for Mecha is to to Coachella Valley, the center of the boy cott. seek out programs of improvement, and inform Mecha/UCSD went on a fund-raising campaign Chicanos and minorities about the privileges and managed to make enough money to provide and services free to them by the federal food for all those who went to Coachella Valley. government or private agencies.

DIVERS

LOOKING FOR BARGAINS IN

DIVING EQUIPMENT?

CHECK THESE PRICES!

$107 72 cubic ft. J valve tank and boot just $58

$95 ¼" nylon lined U.S. Divers wetsuit $49.95

$21 Arbalete U.S. Divers spea gun $13.95

All tank sales include 1 year free air

$1.35 snorkel only $.79

$60 U.S. Divers Regulator $39.95

lifetime guarantee

purpose of this organization shall be to promote minority workers that they were supposed to and underpaid those they had. It was found out the Chicano in the United States and that other COORS companies carried this elsewhere." (TAKEN FROM MECHA's similar policy throughout." and Sylvia Enrique, secretary, "Mecha is an Neighborhood House. 'We want a culture center at the Ford

ON CAMPUS: this was Mecha's goal and the Neighborhood House back to the community

These are some of the issues that Mecha is working on. Ana Cardenas and Aldo Blancos both agree, "Mecha is a cultural organization designed for the betterment of the Chicano community. We are not a political organization but because of our attempts for betterment, we do encounter politics. Mecha is not political in nature and we don't want it to be political. However, our pursuits in the community sometimes do not divorce us from politics."

supports the boycott of non-union farm type are hoping to be started, especially at the products, tries to raise funds and in general Neighborhood House.

COMMUNITY BLOOD BANK 327 F St. PAYS DONORS for service Tue. thru Fri. 9:30 - 7:30 Sat. 9:30 - 5:30 Closed Sun. & Mon.

233 - 8328

hallmark cards

school supplies

party goods

MAR EARTH-SONG BOOK STORE 1440 Camino del Mar • Del Mar • 755-4254

NEWENGLANDDIVERS, INC. 3860 ROSECRANS ST. SAN DIEGO, CA. 92118

THIS AD WORTH ONE DECAL PER CUSTOMER

McGill, York, Salk to Miss Convocation

Freedom

Earl Warren to Speak at Muir Today

A convocation honoring the members of the first freshman class of John Muir College and celebrating the college's move to a permanent campus will be held today on the Muir College

Former Chief Justice of the United States Earl Warren, one of four people selected to receive Honorary Fellowships at the convocation, will be the main speaker. Others being named as Honorary Fellows are Dr. Jonas Salk, director and resident fellow of the Salk Institute for Biological Studies; Dr. William McGill, president of Columbia University and former chancellor of UCSD; and Dr. Hannes Alfven, professor of applied physics in residence at UCSD and an authority on the evolution of the solar system. Unable to attend the convocation are Dr. Salk and Dr. McGill. Scheduled to accept Dr. Salk's award for him is Dr. Maarten Chrispeels, assistant professor of biology at UCSD. Dr. George Mandler, chairman of the UCSD Department of Psychology, will receive Dr. McGill's award.

John Muir Co lege admitted its first students in the fall of 1967. Classes were held in temporary buildings on the Matthews Campus until the college moved to its new, permanent quarters direc'ly north of UCSD's Revelle College last year.

held on the Mur College Greens located in the center of the new Muir College campus. The public is invited and those attending are requested to bring pillows or blankets for seating on the lawn areas.

Muir College classes will be dismissed from 2 to 4 today to allow students to take part in the convocation. The official party will be led by Dr. John Stewart, provost of Muir College, who will welcome visitors. The invocation will be offered by the Rev. Louis Evans, Jr. Vice-Chancellor Clifford Grobstein, representing UCSD Chancellor Herbert York who will be away from the campus on business, will extend greetings, and Craig A. Starr, a Muir College senior, will speak on behalf of Muir students. Warren will arrive in San Diego from Washington, D. C., on October 15

More Defense Work on Campus?

(Request for females government issue)

Jeff Fried

Your sometimes reporter is proud to announce his first scoop of the quarter. The following sign was almost seen on campus.

> We need girls, girls, girls ages 18-30. There will be a dance party for all Marines at the 195th Birthday Ball on November 7, 1970. Del Mar Enlisted Club. Camp Pendleton California. Buffet dinner-dance 6:30 p.m. Attire: Cocktail dresses you may drive your own car or transportation will be provided by contacting Bldg, 250MC 453-2000, no later than 28 October 1970. Pick up 250 MC 5:00 p.m. Return 250 MC 2:00 a.m.

No decision has yet been made as to this invitation. This reporter feels that it would be completely unfair to UCSD coed's (and gay liberation) to deny the campus this invitation. What could be more thrilling than a dance with one of our men in uniform. What a chance to find out how the other The convocation, scheduled for 2 p.m., will be half lives (and dies). It is still not too late however, all patriots wishing to sign up should contact the Triton Times and we will tell them where to go.

Note: This request was received on campus from Camp Pendleton. It has not yet been approved by the powers to be The very wording of the request is yet another example of the medieval minds of the military.

WE NEED GIRLS, GIRLS! AGES 18-30. BE A DANCE PARTNER FOR OUR MARINES AT THE 195™BIRTHDAY BALL ON 7 NOV. 1970. DEL MAR ENLISTED GLUB. GAMP PENDLETON, GÁL. BUFFET DINNER-DANGE-6:30 PM

ATTIKE COCKTAIL DRESSES YOU MAY DRIVE YOUL OWN CAR OR TRANSPORTATION WILL BE PROVIDED BY CONTACTING CAMPUS, 453-2000, EXT. 1936 - NO LATER THAN 28 OCT 1970.

PICK-UP AT 250 MATTHEWS CAMPUS - 5 PM RETURN TO 250 MATTHEWS CAMPUS - 2:00 AM. motivated group on campus as well as off.

Ana Cardenas

MECHA

Attempts Made to Fulfill Goals

Mecha makes many attempts to fulfill their tries to improve the living conditions of farm

more to come," she says.

Central Library Begins Operation

John Maxwell Associate City Editor

"I think the building has been well designed. In terms of its function, it does the job it's supposed to do." Mel Voigt, university librarian, describes the newly opened Central Graduate Research Library in this way.

In full operation only since the beginning of this quarter, the library is facing a few operational difficulties. The most annoying problem is only a temporary one. None of the shelves are labeled. This obviously creates enormous difficulties for the user. Like the remainder of the problems, this lack of labels stems from the enormous cuts made in the library's budget.

Budget Cuts Cause Staff Shortages

Assistant University Librarian Joseph Gantner explains, "As a result of budget cuts, we are 25 staff positions short." Although the shelves won't be labeled before the end of this quarter, "there are going to be charts and maps so that at least when you get off the elevator you don't have to stumble around blindly.'

Staff shortages have also created short hours in the special collections department and the placing of reserve books behind the circulation desk.

Another common complaint concerns the long wait for the elevators, the only way to go from floor to floor. For safety and security reasons, the stairways are rigged with alarms and are only for emergency use. Voigt explains, "We originally the situation becomes bad enough, the stairs can, with some modification, be opened between the upper floors."

Many students also complain about the location of the library. Just north of the Matthews Campus, the library is directly in the center of the 12 campuses planned for UCSD. It is primarily a graduate library, and undergraduate needs are to be fulfilled by undergraduate "cluster" libraries in various locations. The Humanities Library will now serve as the cluster library for Revelle, Muir, and Third

High School "Hangout" Develops

A new problem has developed during the evening and weekend hours. Large numbers of high school students have adopted the library as a "hang-out" and have brought with them a disturbing amount of noise. Voigt suggests that, "we will, if the situation continues, have to initiate some system of checking identification in order to ease the problem, at least at night and on weekends.'

Despite the problems, however, Alice Pastoruis, director of circulation, reveals that library usage is up from last year. In fact, the advantages that the new library has over the old HL are infinite.

The obvious advantage is that of the tremendous increase in space. Departments are no longer cramped together and carrels are no longer located on main expressways. Because of a low ceiling structure, sound does not echo.

The books are divided between the floors by subject; aisles are more organized and less cramped. The books are surrounded by comfortable and attractive furniture, not made of metal and plastic vinyl, but of wood with upholstered backs. Almost every reading area has a panoramic view of the expanses of trees and hills

The library is surrounded by an enormous but as yet undeveloped plaza. No funds are currently available for either its development or the landscaping around the library. Until such funds are available, chaparral will be planted around the

An Inexpensive Project

Many first impressions of the library, especially those who see it first at night glowing on top of the hill, are that because of its impressive architecture, it was an overly expensive project. Gantner explains, "Actually this library is very inexpensive for a major library in California. This is due largely to the economy of using exposed concrete rather than a finished material. Conceived only five years ago, the building was erected at a cost of 5.2 million dollars."

The library is, however, more than an aesthetic and comfortable study room. The fastest growing library in the University of California system, its budget calls for the addition of 75,000 volumes this year. "Sometime in November, the total UCSD collection will reach three-quarters of a million volumes," Voigt stated.

First Floor to Store Maps

Although originally intended to be only a very quiet reading and study area, staff cuts have forced the underground first floor to become the depository of government documents. This floor will soon house over 25,000 "Army" maps. Gantner explains, "Almost overnight we will become a major map depository for the Ar-

On the second floor, the periodicals room houses 3,000 different current issues arranged conveniently by subject.

The fourth floor was originally designed to house an extensive tape and record collection with 40 listening stations. Budget cuts have reduced it, however, to an empty "Arts and Music" desk and the university's collection of art books. And no one should miss the special collections department on the eighth floor. That's where they keep all the dirty books.

Reading areas typically overlook the panorama of trees surrounding the new central library.

requested three elevators but cuts in our budget left us with funds for only two. If Framed by the trees of Mathews campus, the new central library dwarfs University Librarian Mel Voigt Budget cuts have left many shelves as well as staff positions unfilled. The circulation desk must also handle the undergraduate reserves.

Competition for California State Scholarships Announced

If you are planning to continue to attend college in the fall of 1971 and believe you need scholarship assistance, you should apply for a California State Scholarship now. A student who has received a California State Scholarship in the past will continue to receive this award providing he is in good standing with the university and making normal progress towards a degree. He must also continue to demonstrate financial need.

As a result of the enactment of the Monagan Scholarship Bill, the number of State Scholars selected in the Spring of 1971 for enrollment in 1971/72 will be increased to 9,300, compared to 6,023 this year. Allocation of scholarships among high school seniors, college freshman, college sophmores, and college juniors will continue to be proportional to the number of applicants in each category. At UCSD, State Scholarship Awards will be given in the amount of $300, $500, and $600 according to the student's financial need.

A new academic selection system will be initiated this year. Winners will be chosen on the basis of grade-point average and the total of verbal and math scores on the SAT Scores from SAT examinations administered after November , 1969, may be used (See California Scholarship Application for further instructions.) If you have taken the SAT prior to November 1, 1969, you mus retake this examination.

The Commission is using two administrations of the SAT, scheduled for November 7, 1970, and December 5, 1970. The scores from subsequent examinations will not be accepted. Students are urged to register for the November administration as a precaution against unforeseen problems, which might prevent their appearance on the December test date. The final filing date without penalty for the November 7, 1970, administration is October 7, 1970, and for the December 5, 1970, administration November 18, 1970.

All students planning to apply for a State Scholarship must have a Social Security number since this becomes the identification number in the State Scholarship Program. The filing deadline for State Scholarship applications is December 3, 1970. The Commission will not accept an application post-marked

In the absence of a minimum composite score set by the California State Scholarship and Loan Commission, the Financial Aids Office recommends that students who have a grade-point average of 2.5 or better, a combined total score of at least 1,000 on the Math and Verbal SAT, and who can demonstrate a need for monetary assistance, apply for this scholarship. Applications for the Scholastic Aptitude Test and the State Scholarship Awards may be obtained at the Financial Aids Office, Building 250 MC. They also have a supply of form SS-5 (Application

All students above the minimum composite score (to be determined after initial processing of applications) will be notified on or about January 28, 1971, that they are semi-finalists and will then be required to submit a Parents Confidential Financial Statement. All questions concerning the program should be directed to the Financial Aids Office

(Photos by John Maxwell)

The Slacks: CHARGER' FLARES

No-iron solids, stripes and plaids. $10 to $11.

A-1's heel-to-toe slant.

The Action Man Slacks

Christie's

Fashion and Casual Clothes for Men 459-5323 7914 Girard La Jolla

Mutual Put-On

Al Capp Draws Full House In Comical Routine

Al Capp, noted cartoonist and satirist, drew a full house of nearly 2000 people to the UCSD class suggested that it would be groovy to go gymnasium Tuesday night but, as it turned out, less than a third got to hear the bulk of his remarks. Capp left the stage after about 15 minutes, later stating: "This is the first time I have ever left an audience and I've been on 278 college campuses. This is the most rude treatment I have ever received."

Capp was persuaded to return and answered questions for nearly an hour for those who remained, many of whom had stayed around discussing the abruptness with which Capp had

A group of some 30 people had arrived with signs like "Heads for Capp," and they cried out in mock approval of Capp as he proceeded through a comic monologue that consisted of answering questions supposedly mailed in previously. The group had come from Dr. Bill class suggested that it would be groovy to go over there and see and communicate with Capp," Wilde told the TRITON TIMES. However, he would not confirm or deny whether the guerilla-theatre action had been planned in

Trades Jeers With Hecklers

Capp soon caught on to the intent of the group and traded sarcastic jibes with them. "That was a cry of ecstasy from a group of compulsive masturbators," said Capp. "Where was legalized abortion when we needed it?" These remarks and others drew a lot of laughter from an audience that was greatly receptive to his wit.

The group in back moaned and waved their hands about. Capp replied, "they had a group grope back there, and just found each other. Let's hear from you when your complexion clears up."

by Ed McMahon

answers questions about

In which the candid connoisseur

Beer, and the drinking of same beer. What's it all about?

DEAR ED: Every now and then,

I see guys putting salt in their

DEAR ALFIE: I'll tell you what it's about . . . it's about to drive me crazy! Now, I have nothing against salt. On hard-boiled eggs.

Or french fries. But not in my

Putting salt in beer, some say,

perks up the head ... or livens

up the taste . . . makes the beer

"drier." With Budweiser, though,

all salt can do is make it salty.

Because Bud is already just about

Before his quick exit, Capp went through several of the prepared questions: Q. Mr. Capp, what is your opinion of the Middle East situation A. I think it is terrible for those two million bloodthirsty Israelis to terrify those 78 million

Q. Mr. Capp, what do you think of sex education in high school?

A. I don't think they should take it out of the neighborhood theatre. Q. Should unmarried teachers be allowed to teach sex education?

A. Certainly; unmarried teachers are the only ones doing current research.

Capp's walkout came after, in a sudden change of mood, he threatened to leave if another disruptive incident occurred. Scattered clapping provided this incident, and Capp walked off the stage. Some of those clapping were elderly supporters of Capp from the community who were approving the hard-line stance he was taking against the demonstrators.

Demonstrators "Distracting" Although the demonstrators were grouped in the rear of the auditorium and did not actually try to drown him out, Capp claimed that they were distracting him. "I loved the debate, but only until it became physically painful. I mean you just can't concentrate with that noise and those signs waving in front of your face."

Outside the gym, as a group of students tried to talk him into coming back, Capp was asked why he had left. "A lot of people condescend to students, but I don't. I expect them to act like civilized people, not baying animals."

After Capp returned he answered questions on several serious topics. Many of the exchanges between Capp and those that were asking questions continued to be hostile.

Capp reacted strongly to the use of the word "pig" by one student. "Calling a man a pig just because he wears a blue uniform is racist. There's this phrase 'off the pig' meaning kill the pigs. The Nazis used the same thing, only it was kill the Jews'!'

While declining to claim the label of either liberalism or conservatism for himself, Capp did call attention to his lifetime membership in the NAACP since 1940. "The NAACP was the only thing going then, and my strip was in a lot of southern papers. I ran a six-week story on discrimination in 1940 and lost 27 southern newspapers as a result. Capp: Lifetime Dissenters Capp said he has spent his whole life dissenting and "there isn't a L'il Abner strip that didn't raise hell with the establishment.' Recently his strip featured a barb at college recruitment of minorities, specifically an Indian program at Harvard. When questioned about this, Capp defended his views, claiming that such "indulgent" programs were racist.

When asked about shootings of Blacks and college students, Capp replied that "your indignation is selective. What about blowing off a judge's head or blasting a university building, or killing a researcher?"

The SAN DIEGO UNION reported Wednesday that Capp required an escort by the San Diego Police as he left the area. UCSD police chief Torrens said that this report was "just not true." One unicop was on duty to escort Mr. Capp, who is a partial cripple.

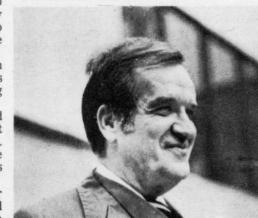

Capp is not a newcomer to the college lecture tour, nor to confrontations with students. In an article of April, 1968, TIME magazine asked: 'Why are students willing to pay a millionaire cartoonist $3,000 a shot to insult them from a lecture platform? 'I think it's a love-hate relationship,' says Capp.'

Said Capp in '68: "The more I see of students, the more I dislike them." As for student activists, he has compared them frequently to Nazis.

Dan Spellens, Program Board Chairman, told the TRITON TIMES that the AS had not paid Capp for his appearance. The event was sponsored jointly by the AS and the Campus Studies Institute, an organization that has sent literature to San Diego college students deploring radicals and campus violence. It is not known if CSI paid

A representative for CSI expressed disappointment in Capp's performance. "I think they (the students heckling) were in the gutter and he rolled in the gutter with them.'

As for Capp, he felt that "the saddest thing was the majority of outraged students who just sat there while those idiots broke up the meeting. They wanted the man from out of town to quiet their animals. That's ridiculous.

del PLAZA BARBERS

mens hairstyling

appointments available

755-3000

310 fifteenth street del mar

see-Rich Heimlich T.T. City Editor long hair our specialty del mar plaza

Bird Rock Putt Putt Shop South 631 1/2 La Jolla Blvd. 454-0761

Want to write-

Bob Davis Camera Shop 7717 Fay 459-7355

ANHEUSER-BUSCH, INC. . ST. LOUIS . NEWARK . LOS ANGELES . TAMPA . HOUSTON . COLUMBUS . JACKSONVILLE . MERRIMACK

So save the salt for the popcorn, please. We put heart, soul and our exclusive Beechwood

Ageing into Budweiser. All you need to enjoy it is a glass . . . or drink it right from the can,

Beer questions? Write: Ed McMahon, Anheuser-Busch, Inc., 721 Pestalozzi St., St. Louis, Mo. 63118

Haywood Gammon, Editor-in-Chief

Jeff Fried, Business Manager

The editorials expressed below are approved by the TRITON TIMES Editorial Board. All other opinions expressed on this page are those of the authors whose names appear in the bylines, and do not necessarily reflect the views of the TRITON TIMES. Anyone desiring to submit material to be published in this section should send it to the Editorial Director, TRITON TIMES, 117 Blake Hall, UCSD.

Get the Lead Out With #18

Ever wonder why you tend to get headaches driving in the city, why your furniture never looks all that clean, or why you might wind up with bronchitis four times a winter? It's because the air is poisoned.

Before we cough ourselves into our own graves, however, it might be a good idea to look into Proposition 18. This proposition, appearing on the Nov. 3 ballot, will authorize the use of revenues from gasoline tax and license fees for the control of environmental pollution caused by motor vehicles. The revenues will also be used, in part, for public transportation including mass transit systems.

While motorists are not the sole culprits in the dangerously growing problem of vanishing breathable air, they nevertheless contribute to the problem in no small way. Besides, no one should shirk from setting a precedent in a time as crucial as now.

Fighting pollution requires more than lip service and recognizing the problem. Enormous funds are needed to clear up the situation. Earlier this year, for instance, the Assembly Select Committee on Environmental Quality reported that eliminating pollution and preserving the environment will cost from $3 to $5 billion over the next five to 10 years in California alone. Proposition 18 will initiate a moneagainst perhaps one of the worst enemies of our age. Consider the recent statistics compiled by two Pittsburgh economists, Dr. Lester B. Lave and Eugene P. Seskin of the Carnegie-Mellon School of Industrial Administration. Their study indicated that if air pollution were cut by 50 per cent in

-A newborn baby would have an additional three to five years life

-Deaths from lung cancer and in fact all lung disease would be cut by 25 per cent.

—Death and disease from heart and blood vessel disorders might be cut by 10-15 per cent.

-All disease and death would be reduced by 4.5 per cent yearly and the annual savings to the nation would be at least $2 billion.

From these and a whole slew of other statistics it has become clear that abating air pollution is the single most important thing we can do to improve

It has become almost embarrassingly clear that the citizenry will have to foot the bill if we are ever to clear-up our own mess. It's high time to get the lead out of more than gasoline. It's high time to support

On Capping on Capp Al Capp's appearance claimed that he was phynot meant as a criti-

on campus Tuesday night sically pained and outpresents a most strange paradox. Here was a man who claimed to be a outright heckling and feel satirist by profession. that the syndrome of Given a group of would- preventing other viewbe hecklers doing a points from being heard "Freaks for Capp" on this campus has gone routine, he rose to the on for too long. But there occasion quite well, are degrees, and Mr. Amidst an audience Capp's statement that politically hostile to UCSD is the "worst" Capp, his jokes, directed campus only proves that at the demonstrators, his previous sites must had the place in stitches. have been hand-picked Capp seemed to be in his (Kansas State, medium, and loving it. perhaps?).

Yet Capp suddenly left
It became obvious that the stage and labeled this Mr. Capp had not come to campus as giving him the engage in serious worst reception ever. He discussions (and this is cism). His act is raged also. Now we do not condone and ridiculing detractors. Since Capp was really not a serious figure, the

"hecklers" were doing no more than he was. They were satirizing him and not really disrupting him. Their acts came during the periods of laughter following his punch lines and it would be really stretching matters to say conclude that Capp wanted to make an issue political influence. out of the "heckling."

Although many students found Capp's remarks objectionable, to view the entire scene as anything but a ludicrous comedy is giving Capp more credit than he deserves.

The evening was a most entertaining one but The ease with which the devoted to the production of lethal weapons. San Diego Union caught on to the story and distorted it makes us wonder if the whole affair was staged. Were we really just being put-on?

Capp can scarcely complain about his reception. He got a little bit of his own medicine back and we wonder if it was any less tasteful than some of his more pointed barbs directed at the audiences.

Political Problems

of the University

Gabriel Jackson, Chairman San Diego Division

Over the last several years both the academic community and the general public have been increasingly concerned about politicalization of the university. Like all abstract terms, politicalization has very different meanings and connotations when used by different persons.

Personally, I believe that it is not only legitimate but beneficial for all members of the academic community to be keenly interested in politics, to read a variety of political journals, to attend political rallies and discuss politics at meals or in dormitory bull sessions. None of the above activities constitutes for me a problem or

Personal Influences Bring Danger

The danger arises if and when a professor chooses his course readings, or determines his attitude towards students or colleagues, in accordance with his political convictions. More generally, if political controversy absorbs a large part of the personal energies of professors and students, they cannot possibly pursue truth objectively, and the pursuit of truth is indeed the main goal of the academic life.

I agree with those who feel that at this time we are in great danger of politicalizing the University in this bad sense of having our academic work and our personal attitudes adversely affected by political passions. But most commentators tend to blame the leftist students and faculty for this politicalization, and at this point I part company with the majority of critics.

Three Factors Involved

Without going into long histories or great detail I believe I can point to at least three factors which have inevitably politicalized the University of California in ways that adversely affect both the teaching process and research, and which are certainly not due to pressures

1) The composition of the Board of Regents: 2) The dependence of the University on federal

3) Racial injustice. precisely this, satirizing Let me discuss each of these three factors

It is stated in the Constitution of the State of California that the University shall be kept free of all political and sectarian influence. However, the Board of Regents includes the Governor and the Lieutenant Governor of the state, and appointments to the board have obviously been influenced by political considerations. One current member is the former appointments secretary of Governor Brown, and the present chairman of the board is the personal lawyer of the present governor of the state. In addition, several Regents have economic interests related to the Irvine Company, interests which inevithat he was unable to tably involve state political and financial speak. One can only questions. Thus, in the very governing board of

Second Factor: Federal Funding

The second factor which I have mentioned is the dependence on federal funding, largely funding through the Department of Defense. It is true, at least at UCSD, that far and away the largest portion of research dependent on such funding is done by professors who are free to pursue truth as they see it and who are working on problems of general interest to humanity such as the nature of the oceans or the problems of atmospheric pollution. But the university also

In any case, there is an old saying that he who pays the piper calls the tune. If federal funding took the form of a general subsidy of the entire teaching and research operation it would be entirely welcome and without political danger. But when it comes predominantly from a single department, when the mission of that department is military, and when United States military forces are operating all over the world in pursuit of American political objectives, such federal funding inevitably constitutes a very dangerous kind of politicalization of the

Final Element: Racial Injustice

The final element to which I wish to call attention is the acute problem of racial injustice. There have been innumerable abstract discussions of this problem but I think that, in the wake of the Angela Davis case, it is worth looking very concretely at a specific situation.

Miss Davis is alleged to have been criminally involved with the so-called Soledad Brothers and these allegations, the truth of which cannot be known at the present time, have been the basis for a chorus of selfjustification by people who have said all along that she should never have been hired to teach philosophy at UCLA. There has been a great deal of publicity about the abominable kidnapping and shooting of a judge in the Marin County courthouse, but very little publicity in any newspapers of major circulation concerning the background of the Soledad

One of these brothers, George Jackson, was sentenced at the age of 18 to, from one year to life, for stealing $70 from a gas station. He is currently charged with the murder of a guard at Soledad Prison, and the preliminary investigation of the case has uncovered overwhelming evidence of all kinds of sadism and deliberate setting of whites against blacks within the prison. Anyone who lives in a white suburb knows that white, middle-class boys caught shoplifting get off with warnings or suspended sentences, not sentences of one year to life.

The obvious differential in the treatment of blacks against whites must, and in my opinion, very probably should, cause the deepest anger and revulsion in anyone, black or white, who becomes aware of such facts. It would seem to me absolutely impossible for the few blacks such as Angela Davis, who have "made it" in white society, not to turn their energies towards helping their poorer brothers. And it seems equally understandable that if those blacks are victims of sadistic violence which is simply ignored by a complacent white society, that educated blacks and some of their white allies should go beyond conventional accepted political means in struggling for some modicum of racial

Core Problems

In summing up, I should say that I agree with those who feel that the university is too politicalized, and I know from my personal experience how both my work and my relationship to students and colleagues have suffered from this politicalization. But I do not think that the primary problem lies in the attitudes of the radical students. I think that before we can reverse the dangerous trend of politicalization, we will have at the very least to reconstitute as a truly non-political governing body the Board of Regents; we will have to end the university's dependence on federal funding from specific agencies with specific missions; and we will raises several questions. runs a laboratory at Los Alamos which is The ease with which the devoted to the production of lethal weapons. have to move towards truly equal justice for minority peoples in the United States.

Catholic Student Center Masses each Sunday at University Lutheran Church

La Jolla Shores Drive & Torrey Pines Rd. North

Phones:

8:30 a.m. 5:00 p.m. Catholic Chaplins:

Religious Affairs Office Home 453-3850 453-2000 X 1943

Father Bill McAmliffe Father Ed Donovan

The Third World—a Definition

Carlos Monje

I have personally found the university to be a is alone in the world and that everyone is out to Third World. Not because, as a racist theory and conquers. taught here states, we are "genetically inferior;" not because we are unprepared or unqualified as some (including Dr. Jack Douglas) have claimed without evidence; but because all true Third World people possess a strong determination to resist all forms of colonization by to colonize us. We shall forever be united. western culture.

I could just say we are all colonized within the white educational system, but I fear those whites and those colonized people who have not yet realized what they have become might just charge that I am full of rhetoric. Because of limited space in the TRITON TIMES, my attempt to defend my statement will be somewhat superficial, but if you are interested in examining the entire argument, read every issue of the soon-to-appear Lumumba-Zapata news-

Little in Common

A rather fast sketch will show that the ethnic groups within the Third World in their natural settings have little in common with White culture. I am not one of those who claim that the Third World is "all" right, but I feel the West is almost "all" wrong. Communal, or if the word offends you, tribal living is part of our heritage. This is not ideal, but it is much better than what the white man would make us. The West would have us only look out for our personal interests and completely disregard the welfare of our

This is our dilemma. The university is structured, along with the rest of the school system, to produce a highly "trained," highly "motivated" individual. Just how "individual" he may be is debatable, but through this process he learns he most demanding experience for the people of the beat him to his just reward. The system divides

We of the Third World refuse to be this type of "individual" which the system is structured to produce. We care about our brothers and sisters and we will continue to do so. We will try to

Many Methods Subtle

There are many methods of colonization, and some are quite subtle. In contrast to a grading system which obviously pits everyone against each other, there is a less obvious method of giving a Third World person a position of giving a Third World person a position of authority. It appears that the Third World has won a battle, but if this Third World administrator tries to do anything for his people, he finds himself completely neutralized by a bureaucracy-a bureaucracy whose sole reason for being is to serve itself and the ruling class.

Our hero now has the option of resigning or doing what most Third World people do in this situation, co-opt. This is because the rewards of colonization are tangible and material while those of the Third World are intangible and spiritual. This reward is called "love of one's ellow man.'

What I have written is a rather indirect definition of the Third World. I shall now stick my neck out and do it directly. It is the people of the non-western world who use the technology of the First (Western) World and the ideology of the Third. For no matter what the Second World (The Soviet bioc) says, the heritage of the Third World is resplendent with our own ideology, which has always been our own, and will always

Dying of Boredom

Heavy Metal Kid

Hendrix-Joplin: their deaths span a universe—the compressed and vacant world of the "counter-culture." As the polar-pillars of unlimited sensuality, orgasmic outrage, and cosmic enlightenment, their individual disintegration illuminates a collective condition.

They lived dangerously. Pressing against the paralyzing contours of American culture is always dangerous, even where it is blind. Perhaps their sudden demise illuminates the pat of suicidal consciousness, which the children of ecstasy tend to minimize and repress in their scrabble to purchase the latest trinkets that the culture-industry hangs out for them. It is not surprising that the symbolic manifestations got choked off first-not by the "pig," but by the poisonous needs of the junkies who were addicted to them-who made them into the willing hosts of needy parasites.

Tenuous Hold on Life

Part of Janis' attraction was her tenuous hold on life. Her situation can be expanded to include rather, lack of it, parallels Janis' lack of life.

Symbols compress the displaced energy of men's dreams. As stars, Jimi and Janis compressed the displaced energies of the movement. There is no question that their activity both sublimated and substituted for the activity of their hysterical lovers. Once their lives had been transformed into the archetype of the role, both they and their audiences became transfixed-a hypnotic symbiosis in which life leaked out like a moldy cantaloupe.

King of the Electric Guitar

But, you will say, "their music...OUR music..." Hendrix was the absolute, primal prince of the electric guitar. And Janis, well, everybody who ever heard her knows she got behind the blues as much as a white lady ever could. They had both reached the peaks of accomplishment-they united both worlds. Indeed they embodied the idea of hip—just as they also embodied the idea of success. Jimi got $100,000 for one gig, while Janis could hardly await her

As individuals they harmonized opposites-they were the exaggerated selfcontradictions of everyday life. In an earlier period we could say that the madness their originality created was a limit of incoherent, subversive activity; if they had gone crazy we could have said that their "madness was revolutionary freedom confined to the self." (John Berger Moments of Cubism). As it is, they died of bore-

They were consumed, and, in turn, consumed themselves. They broke through to the other side-to the emptiness of exchange. . .well-paid commodities, but commodities nonetheless. As packaged productions, the utter poverty of their lives came alive in the space separating their acts from their spectators. In the end, Hendrix kept returning to "Purple Haze," his first bigtime success, with all the nostalgia of the museum curator who said, "I wouldn't be caught dead with a piece of live art!" And Janis never could reconcile ripping the blues off.

White Skin Disadvantageous

Being white, in her case, was definitely not an advantage. In the limelight of stardom, they basked in the birdlime of their proud culture's gaze. The suffocating atmosphere of rock and roll, sponsored by Ed Sullivan and Bill Graham, enabled the stars to treat their audience as wha they, in actuality, were-paying customers. The self-contradiction of the symbol encompassing the entire scene, and the people digging the action which they denied themselves, the better to consume. It's Daddy's world with tinsel. Exploitation with the humiliating addition of the subjects organized their mutual passivity—as if boredom shrank, rather than expanded, with the issues and not the students, faculty, and addition of drugs and numbers.

Hendrix, Joplin Became Useless

One day Jimi and Janis turned around and discovered the movement sitting row on row, waiting, expectant, inert. That was the moment they really became the useless foreskin on the blind worm of pseudo-revolt. They were offed in Editor, TRITON TIMES the deadly reconciliation of the poisonous We wish to thank the charges of those who attempt spectators that made them a spectacle, as much TRITON TIMES for its to gain acceptance of their as by the spectacle that paid them off for their outstanding techniques of social control.

The movement reveals itself as the movement Jack Douglas and for placing Directors from baseless ecstasy to senility. Its cultural his charges in proper manifestations merely underline the more profound poverty of its "political" imagination: the dull-witted vanguard of the new bureau-imagines Third College as the Nuts Under cracy, who lack not only life, but even the relief of music. They replace it with their own UCSD, has launched a smear "sounds:" the resurrection of monotonous campaign from La Jolla to Editor: chants swiped from mainline cheerleaders, and Sacramento. The weakness of As a newly-arrived freshman displaying about the same level of awareness. his charges is indicated by his I am rather disappointed in the the ones who write the Later for it. Rock on.

Letters To The Editor

The Issues

Personal vilification, when employed in a defensive posture, represents one of the more jejune debating methods. Usually such devices are reserved for quacks or ideologues. That Women's Liberation conducts its "reasoned discussions" in that way is unfortunate, or at least predictable. And to compound the backhandedness, the WLF article condemning me for my stand on day-care centers was not even signed. Notice the great pomposity of WLF's first line: 'morality is shown to progress through (sic) wellthis point on, the anonymous authoress uses terms like 'neanderthal me-firstism' and "egotistic self-interest" to ridicule my argument by insisting that my moral development is at stage two (pre-civilization). Lengthy refutation of the personal attacks issued by WLF are, I trust, unnecessary. Anyone who believes them is beyond hope already.

Ladies, please refrain from as a last resort, stick to the roughly half of the members of editorial about Professor Jack level of government if a lower extensive discussions with the trying to divide and conquer. level of government can

Third College planners here at

Gentlemen, gentlemen; must sufficiently handle the situation .... With this, I hope received the plan for Welch? As head of the John the whole issue will be dropped and that our feminine liberationists have realized the errors of their ways. And I trust that future "differences of opinion" will concern the personalities.

Thanking The TT

tenacity in trying to obtain views by maligning others. clear answers from Professor Third College Board Of Professor Douglas, who bespoiler of the integrity of indiscriminately running to workings of the TRITON editorials.

triton times

Editor-in-Chief. . . . Haywood Gammon City Editor . . . . . . . . . . . . . Rich Heimlich Managing Editor.......... Mike Klayer Copy Editor . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . Chuck Graham Business Manager. . . . . . . . . . . . Jeff Fried Editorial Director . . . . . . . . . Raoul Contreras Associate City Editors. . Owen Joyner, John Maxwell Arts Editor . . . . . . . . . . . . . . Terry Barak Sports Editor . . . . . . . . . . . . . Rocky Halfon Photography Editor . . . . . . . . . . . John Zaller

The TRITON TIMES is officially recognized and supported as a student newspaper by the Communications Board of the University of California, San Diego, Building 250, Matthews Campus, La Jolla, California 92037 Publication is twice weekly on Tuesdays and Fridays. Offices are located in room 117, Blake Hall, on the Revelle Campus. For Advertising phone suspicions.

Professor Douglas's charge that the Academic Senate of plan of Third College out of fear of the "Panthers and UCSD before The Regents consideration. Third College is committed to high academic standards and to increasing minority participation in all spheres of the University and society. The administration of Third College welcome discussions on the Karl Keating goals and programs of the College with any men. ber of the University community.

and their results, and not by the nebulous and undocumented

Contributing Editor . . . . . . . . . Steve Landau

453-2000, X1017; for editorial or news phone X1016. individuals specifically asking TIMES. I had anticipated for negative information on finding here a roughly Third College. His questionable objective college newspaper intentions are indicated by the one that could look at issues fact that he has never spoken to without undue hysteria. For the Provost Watson (or, to our most part, in news and feature defined stages." Love it. From knowledge, any other member stories, the TRITON TIMES of Third College) about his conducts itself in a fair manner. But in editorials the paper seems to act as if the editors believed that there UCSD approved the academic were right-wing nuts under every bed. Granted, some beds have Angela Davis" is an affront to right-wing nuts under them. the integrity of the faculty and but lately we seem be getting a the members of the Board of lot of other nuts writing official Regents. The faculty and The policy stories. In the issue of Regents approved the Third Oct. 9, the editors have an College Academic Plan article which advises students because they believed in its to watch out for narcs because name-calling; if you are so academic integrity and the they are running around all sure of your positions, please, goals of the College. In fact, over campus. Then in an issue. The major thrust of my the Board of Regents were well Douglas and the CSU, the article was this: no action acquainted with the academic editors imply that Professor should be taken on a certain plan and its developers through Douglas and Company are

Birch Society, Mr. Welch insists that everything is a commie plot. The editors of the TRITON TIMES seem to think that everything is a plot by the non-radical faculty and the police.

One reason why most students I have talked to seem to think the TRITON TIMES is a poor newspaper is that the All that we insist upon is that editorials so often seem to rely we be judged by our actions on scare tactics and innuendos. It sounds like something out of a left-handed Joe McCarthy hearing Since this is my first year at

UCSD, I have no idea of what the TRITON TIMES was like in earlier years, but I have been told that it was worse. The situation must have been really bad back then: the staff members of the paper must have all been paranoid. It seems that the only people on about right-wing plots now are

Triton Times October 16, 1970 Page 7

Triton Times October 16, 1970

WHATEVER HAPPENED TO THE GOOD OL' DAYS ?"

'Muir Conspiracy' Wins Council Seats

Steve Clark, Jon Collins, Don Bright and Diddo Clark will represent Muir students this year as the Muir Council. The four, along with the alternates Ian Boase and Jannett Klinke, were elected this Wednesday

Known as the "Muir Conspiracy," the four new council members were successful in their joint campaign objective. Their posters, displaying a four-legged animal, dotted the campus calling attention to their campaign.

However, this election was not without its problems. Some elements of controversy and disagreement tainted the selection of this year's Muir Council.

Sign-up Deadline Extended

The original sign-up deadline had to be extended five days because only five out of the necessary six needed to fill out the Council had signed-up by the regular deadline.

Dean Baltschaulder's office wanted to extend the sign-up period for an additional week, but the "Conspiracy" felt that they were being dealt with unfairly. The four, including Council incumbants Steve Clark and Jon Collins, said they had gone through all of the proper procedures and they should not be penalized by student apathy.

But the Dean's office felt there was not enough publicity to inspire participation. A compromise was reached whereby sign-ups would be extended until this Wednesday and elections would be held the following day. The accusation that there was insufficient publicity was denied by Wendy Velleau, the chairman of the election committee. She said there were several large posters displayed around Muir and Matthews campuses publicizing the election.

"But because it was so early in the quarter and everyone is naturally concerned with class changes, etc., it was hard to stir up enthusiasm,'

Increase in Petitions

Yet with the added time five more petitions were submitted. With all of the disagreement involved, the "Conspiracy" expressed happiness over the addition of more candidates. They felt the original five candidates were not enough.

It is strange, however, that with the additional time alloted for candidate petitions there was such a significant increase in sign-ups. And it is unfortunate that the additional five candidates started off with the handicap of less time to campaign than the eventual victors, the "Con-

This situation points up the need for either holding the elections a little later in the quarter when everyone is settled, or during the previous quarter. Since the Muir Council is in its infancy, and is responsible for establishing the traditions and precedents that will govern its future sphere of jurisdiction, it is important that those elected represent as much of a consensus of the Muir student body as is possible

'Who ya' votin' for?'

talking about the upcoming will usually vote for the more election, so it must be crucially glamorous personality, usually important, or else maybe no paying no heed to what he may one has anything better to talk represent. For instance, the about. Well anyway, even other day in the supermarket, I though the void around us is overheard this conversation by filled with the emotions of this what must have been two election, it seems as though highly intellectual housewifes: most everyone has absolutely no idea as to actually how for? many candidates are running, and how they differ (if in fact "For Governor silly! You

Everybody seems to be And so, as a result, people 'Hey Maggie! Who ya' votin'

"For what?

about it? 'No. It seems to me that either all the candidates are half-crazy or have the same actor and one's a politician." 'But there are four candidates though. 'How about that!' 'So anyway, who are votin' for Harriet?"

The College: Hope For The Third World

freshman students to build upon," and that the charges have been "low in quality."

Sociology Professor Jack Douglas has been the most quoted critic of Third College. "The man has never come to me with his charges," says Provost Watson. "He has general opinions, not based on facts. I think all his talk about high academic standards and Third College is his effort to gain influence with the Regent's in the

One question raised was the possibility of Third College becoming UCSD's ghetto because job this year is "to get a firm foundation for our of the 2/3 Black-Brown student ratio while having only 1/3 Anglo. Provost Watson answered that this step was taken to insure "integration at UCSD and opening the University of California to those who otherwise, through no fault of their own, could not get in. The only way Third College could become a ghetto is if Revelle and Muir don't open their doors too.

Watson cited the fact that locally, La Jolla selection of a conservative chancellor at High will send as many as 80 per cent of its UCSD." "Douglas is a lame-duck critic, where graduating class to college while Lincoln High" was he in the planning stages?" the Provost (in Southeast San Diego) will only send 20 per

(continued to page 11)

Page 10 Triton Times October 16, 1970

OCEANOGRAPHIC RESEARCH will benefit from a new .$763,800 Sea Grant award from the National Science Foundation to the University of California. Here two graduate students (left) from UC's Scripps Institution of Oceanography at La Jolla retrieve marine biological samples with the help of high school students studying and working at Scripps under an NSF summer science training program.

Jensen Theory

Guerrilla Theater Trial Slated For Munsinger

evening of the SDS chairman was teaching racism in the announced that the meeting classroom, and lending had been called to consider ways to "take action against" speaker used the words "fight Munsinger." Then those in meeting was called. defense of Munsinger presented their arguments and the long evening began. SDS had called a tactical meeting to deal with a professor who was attempting present the nationallyfamous Jensen report to his developmental psychology class. (Some allege that the report claims negroes are genetically inferior; some say it isn't that at all.) SDS was

The first words Wednesday concerned that Dr. Munsinger academic legitimacy to a racist report. His guilt was Munsinger. The next assumed by SDS before the

> Once it began, that assumption was attacked. The defense for Munsinger's right to teach his class as he saw fit was surprisingly strong. Moves to switch to a tactical discussion were held off by the ideological battle for over an hour, and calls for disruption of the classroom or reconstitution into a discussion of the social implications of the Jensen report were talked down. One student from the class stated that he thought 70 per cent of the students in the class would oppose any action that interfered with psychology; others said that effective action against ideas must be with ideas.

In the end, no in-class activity was organized. But gradually, as the defense went home; the do-ers remained. When a guerrilla theater trialwas suggested, there was no effective resistance.

The script will be written in Lower Blake lounge Friday at 2 p.m. The "trial" is tentatively scheduled for next Tuesday at

Race To Oblivion;

York And The Arms Race

"The power to make life-and-another, in the nuclear arms Kennedy and as an advisor to race, Chancellor Herbert York President Johnson. of the Arms Race, which has completely since the onset of been recently published.

'Ever since Germany years in Washington during disarm. invaded Poland and started which York said he "tried to World War II just two weeks make sense" of a changing before I entered the University situation. York became one of of Rochester in September, the arms race's and notably the 1939, my professional life has ABM's most consistent critics. been completely dominated by the nuclear arms race," York death decisions is passing from notes in the book. the hands of statesmen and

In the early 1940's York was politicians to lower-level among the nuclear physicists officers and ultimately to who developed the atomic computing machines and the bomb. The following decade he technicians who program, " became director of the York writes. Livermore Radiation York, however, does not see Laboratory, and in the 1960's the solution to increasing served as a top official of the armament as simply a total US Chancellor York's first book.

As a result of his long-time Defense Department under disarmament. This action, he participation, in one role or Presidents Eisenhower and feels would lead to nothing more than half as many weapons in the world. Rather, has written a book, Race to His overall view of the arms York commented, the US Oblivion: A Participant's View race however has changed should take the initiative unilaterally in the hope that it WW II. Following the first few will stimulate others to

> A still better solution would be joint disarmament, through negotiation of the major world powers. Along these lines, York sees the SALT talks as a step in the right direction, even if a small step. The best he feels these talks can accomplish will be a slowing down or possibly stopping of the arms race. These talks have little possibility reversing this growth.

Race to Oblivion

The Middle East Without Nasser

What effect does Nasser's death have on the future of the Middle East? General M. Peled, a former Israeli major general, Peter von Sievers, an assistant professor of history, and Michel Nabti, an Egyptian authority from the Hoover Institute of War, Revolution and Peace, offered their differing views on this question in the third meeting of the Issues Now class.

Nabti and General Peled sat at tables on either side of the podium in USB 2722.

Somewhat similar to the attitudes of their respective countries, never was a direct word exchanged between them. The closest they came to direct communication was when Mr. Nabti referred to General Peled as, "the former

Dr. von Sievers, who functioned as the straight man on the panel, indicated that without Nasser, the Arabian countries will fall apart." He stated that Nasser's death "is a tragic corollary to the spiritual exhaustion in the Middle East." Dr. von Sievers feels that Nasser's death will provide a desperately needed hiatus, but since the basic ideologies of the Middle East are unchanged, this will be only a temporary rest before the resurgence of controversy.

Two Sides to Every Argument

Nabti was the next to speak. Sensitive to the fact that the audience was inclined to be unsympathetic to his viewpoint, he prefaced his presentation with the warning that "every issue of controversy happens to have two sides. It is a challenge to all to understand both sides.'

Nabti explained that the Palestinians feel that they have been pushed out of their own country without their consent, and that "they cannot forget it."

Nabti felt that the ultimate solution of the Middle East crisis would be bound by the young. He stated that "the young people were causing a fermentation in the Arabian community that will eventually explode." Yet, he concluded his argument by saying that the young Palestinians were talking to the young Israelis. The Palestinians recognized the right of Israelis to live in Palestine, and only asked that the Israelis recognize theirs.

General Peled felt that the Palestinians looked to the outside, especially Egypt for their leadership. He then went on to an analysis of Nasser's actual merits and faults as opposed to his world wide reputation. In regard to being a unifying element of the Arab world. Peled indicated that Nasser had strained relationships with the other Arab leaders. "He wouldn't accept any other person in the Middle East as an equal or a partner." For instance, Nasser has been quoted to refer to King Hussein as "the prostitute king."

Britain Replaced by Russia

Nasser has been credited with removing foreign powers from Egypt. General Peled explained that ultimately, Nasser replaced the dying British imperialism with a "growing vigorous empire (Russia) that at present has no interest in Peled felt that Nasser had honestly wanted the peace talks, despite the contrary views of the Russians. It was an indication of his political weakness that the Russians were able to build missiles in Egypt during the cease-fire.

During the questioning period, General Peled indicated that Israel will return the occupied territories in return for negotiations and reliable promises from the Nabti gave the Arabic view by stating that "Israel, in its short history, is not accustomed to waiting for negotiations. Arabs know that sitting around the conference table, Paris-style, is a laughing matter.'

As for Israel returning land to the Arabs and ultimate peace, Nabti countered with the statement that Israel would have to give a great deal, and that "Israel is not accustomed to being on the giving end; Israel so far has been on the receiving Next week the "Issues Now" class will be on "Hard Core Pornography. Pornographic films will be featured.

lattityahu Peled, a recently retired major neral in the Israeli army, is currently orking toward his Ph.D. in Arabic Litera-

Third World

(continued from page 1) "The students," he says, "are not encouraged along the same lines as the Anglo is." "The trend has to stop somewhere. The need for such a radical divergence in the their first year at Third College would have 75 per cent. been earmarked for the junior college system. Third College was designed to change the and to instill a sense of racial pride amongst themselves on the University level. Notes Provost Watson, "Not all students here have uneven high school preparation. Some could have gone anywhere. But they selected UCSD."

Third College Dean Pascual Martinez noted that many, too many, applications have been received from students at Revelle and Muir to transfer to the college.

Indeed, the just released Scranton Report on campus unrest arguing the need for a position of racial strength that the university can offer, stated that "Integration as the ultimate goal for America to pursue is not disavowed, but there is insistence upon the fact that America today is a 'pluralistic' society and not a melting pot and that equity and parity for Black Americans will be achieved not from a position of weakness, but only from a position of strength."

"Hence," the report continued, "there is a preoccupation with the strengthening and developing of Black institutions and the celebration of Black history and culture - a heritage of which Black Americans are proud and which they are prepared to honor and defend." "Ultimately, the goal of Black activism and of Black student leadership is to transform America into a society characterized by justice, equity, freedom, and fraternity for That too, is the goal of the Third World and UCSD's Third College. Getting there, though, there's the rub.

Michael Nabti discusses the Arab side of the Neareastern Crisis with students of th Issues Now extension class.

Linguistic Department Claims

U.S. Superiority Affects Language Learning

learn our language but we don't feel it from the structure of the program. He necessary to learn other peoples' languages." This attitude, claims Dr. Leonard Newmark, is that say that the program takes a great amount what causes much of the disenchantment in of time. Newmark claims that the program is learning a foreign language. Dr. Newmark is designed to take ¼ of the student's time based the director of UCSD's language program and is responsible for most of the innovations in the program over the years

When UCSD's charter faculty was deciding on requirements for graduation they came up with an unusual language requirement. Instead of a year of courses or a standard examination, the faculty decided that the student should demonstrate a proficiency in a foreign language and continue to use it as a tool thus retaining the proficiency. True, the proficiency has usually been demonstrated by an oral examination and language program are often very vocal. Many of Master Plan of Higher Education of California program is 90 to 95 per cent successful. The for those who do not wish to learn a language. is clear. Normally, students such as those in actual figure for the 1970 summer program was language program. Dr. Newmark says the "This Nation is so powerful that other people biggest problem comes when students depart acknowledges the complaints of many students great number of students who make a great bugaboo over the language program. Because of this, alternatives have been initiated. The first proficiency to understand the lectures.

Many students have problems with the

Dr. Newmark Linquistics

Dr. Newmark says that the opponents of the these vocal opponents drop the language saying There are several programs which are they cannot do it. Tom Caryl, Revelle College designed to assist the students in attaining Representative to the AS Council, is leading an proficiency in a language. The facilities are effort for a more viable alternative than the open to all of the University community and self Literature 10 program. Caryl says that 90 per instructional materials and equipment which cent of the languages that the students take the student can use to advance his proficiency at (French, German and Spanish) are so close to his own optimum speed. The program of our own culture that our understanding is not tutorial instruction by native speakers is the one broadened to a world view. He has suggested an which is most commonly employed to gain in depth study of the history, and traditions of proficiency. The program is supposed to assure another culture by natives of that culture, so that proficiency is acquired in a year's time. that the student can interact by understanding There is a summer program which is an the other culture. He suggests emphasis be intensive 9 week immersion in a foreign placed on the African, Asian and Amerindian language. There is more contact during the cultures as they affect the US. Caryl claims it is summer with 6 hours per day 5 days a week for ineffective to coerce the student into learning a a total of 270 hours for the nine week period foreign language. Those who don't wish to learn, versus 90 hours during the regular year. Thus it learn with more difficulty. Caryl has nothing is approximately equal to three years of normal against learning languages for those who wish tutorials. According to Dr. Saltman the to learn, but says there should be an alternative > Newmark is amused by this attitude which he claims reflects the superiority feeling of many Americans. The feeling that we have something languages as well. He is amazed that the students hate the dominant role of the US in the world but reflect the dominance in hating foreign languages.

> Newmark states that the only way to change this attitude is to change the environment. putting more motivation into the program. Dr Newmark has had many ideas and dreams for the program many of which have been tried and were somewhat successful although many have been discontinued. Among those which have been dropped are the upper division requirement, the film series, the language suites in the dorms, and language clubs.

> Some of the dreams come true are in Language 19, where the proficient student can learn another language. Over 140 students are enrolled in languages from Hindustani, Persian, Modern Greek to Japanese, Mandarin, Afrikaans and the European languages. Dr. Newmark says that aiienation often leads to more interest in other languages and cultures. Here Tom Caryl agrees. Tom says that attitudes of most Americans dictate that those cultures which do not produce material goods are inferior and should be destroyed. Both Newmark and Caryl are trying for a deeper understanding of other culture but each is looking for his own method to attain this understanding.

Triton Times October 16, 1970 Page 11

Law, Order, and J. Edgar Hoover

Jay Gillette Arts Writer

Hoover's FBI: The Men and the Myth by William W. Turner, Sherbourne Press, $7.50

Remember the Palmer Raids of 1919 when some 10,000 persons were rounded up (most without warrants) and thrown into "detention centers" for alleged radical activity? No? Then maybe you will recall the vicious gun battles between dedicated G-men (read "Government-men," young-sters) and Prettyboy Floyd, Babyface Nelson, Machinegun Kelly and John Dillenger?

Doesn't ring a bell? Well, try the forties, when the liberty of us all was protected by the airest of former Lincoln Brigade soldiers (Americans who fought for the loyalists in the Spanish Civil War), and the apprehension and execution of submarine-landed German sabateurs Or, recall the late forties and early fifties, when the "Atom Spies," Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, were found out and officially murdered, despite world-wide pleas for mercy, led by the Pope himself.

Coming to the Recent Past Finally we come to the recent past, when Martin Luther King was murdered while his phone was tapped; when the Kennedys were killed; when H. Rap Brown and Angela Davis grace the Ten Most Wanted criminals list; and when that straightlooking student or newsman on campus next to you may be a government agent. What is the common denominator of all these dramatic events? Why, J. Edgar Hoover and his untouchable FBI!! (Music for accom-Prokofiev's "Love for Three Oranges" March). Yessir! J. Edgar Hoover, or Edgar J. Hoover as Marcuse calls him, has been on the firing line of crime for 51 years, and has headed the Federal Bureau of Investigation since its incep-

Mr. Hoover was 75 years old last January 1, and still has not indicated any desire to retire. FBI is, today, America's first, if undeclared, national police force, with its electronic the Los Angeles FBI office. snoopers and lock-picking agents into most everybody's Turner's Book Destroys Myth doors on a petty, inefficient his office to enrich himself. But the music. bureaucracythat is exactly how when (if) he does retire, he will Eugene McCarthy character- have laid enough aside to live ized it in 1968; a personal fief- quietly in his beloved La Jolla, dom of Hoover. Advancement granting interviews to loyal within the ranks is based more reporters, and visiting Del Mar upon personal ties with the and Caliente. Turner has done the public a ruling clique than upon dedigood turn with his book, if only cated public service. And perhaps most discouraging of to alert us to the tremendous danger that the current makeup all, the FBI, perhaps the only organization with enough of the FBI presents. His viewmuscle to do the job, has conspicuously avoided coming to grips with organized crime (a resignation from the Bureau ment of our freedoms.

Hot Tuna Comes to UCSD ENTERTAINMENT-FOOD

Sunrise Productions, will present the first major concert of the quarter on Sunday. The concert, being held at the brand new intercollegiate baseball facility on Miramar Road east of Highway 5, will highlight HOT TUNA and Leon Russell.

HOT TUNA is a relatively new group which is composed of Jack Cassady and Jorma Koukonen, both members of the Jefferson Airplane. The group has one album out on RCA, "HOT TUNA," and plays acoustic delta blues. Next month they will release their second album, "ELECTRIC HOT TUNA," which was recorded live at the New Orleans House in Berkeley.

Leon Russell has been on the music scene for years. Originally a free-lance session man for groups such as The Byrds and Delanie and Bonnie, he has since made a name for himself as a songwriter, record producer, arranger and performer. When Joe Cocker suddenly found himself desperately in need of a back-up group last year, Leon Russeull assembled some of the best musicians around into Mad Dogs and Englishmen. Russell is currently producing Joe Cocker and has written such songs as 'Delta Lady" and "Space Captain." He now has his own album out on Blue Thumb records. This Sunday he will be appearing with his own band and chorus. Also featured in this Sunday's concert are, PINK FLOYD, one of the first English psychedelic rock groups, and DRY CREEK ROAD, a new San Francisco progressive rock group.

Sunrise Productions, which is co-producing the concert, is a new organization which was formed to make up for the inadequacies of the existing San Diego promotional firms. Former SDSC Student Body President Ron Breen, and SDSC Cultural Arts Board Chairman David Oleson feel that the promoters in the San Diego area are dedicated entirely to making money-not music, and thus created Sunrise Productions in order to bring music to people at a low price. Last summer Breen and Oleson approached Dan Spellans, ASUCSD program director, and discussed plans for possible concerts. After talking with Vice-Chancellor George Murphy, plans were made for this Sunday's trial concert. The concert will be held on the grass in the new intercollegiate baseball facility. A stage is currently being built by the program board, and the sound system is being supplied by Tycobrahe, a Los Angeles-based firm which Spellans characterized as having "the best sound ever in San Diego for an outdoor concert." The only security personnel within the concert will be easily identifiable students. Outside the gates there will be 50 privately-hired Tipton Police in pairs. Each pair of Tipton Police, equipped with hardhats and clubs, will be accompanied by a pair of student monitors. The Tipton Police assert that no student will be physically touched, unless they physically attack a policeman. San Diego police will not be present. Spellans wants to make it clear that this is a trial concert, and that if anyone allows it to get out of hand, there will be no more concerts this year-indoor or outdoor. Sunday's concert will be watched not only by the UCSD administration, but also by those at SDSC and Grossmont and Mesa Junior

The concert will begin at noon, with the gate opening at 10 a.m., and will be over about a half hour before dusk. Tickets can be purchased in advance for $2.50 with a student ID at the Student Activities Office in MC 250. To get to the concert take Miramar Road east, just past Highway 5. People are encouraged not to drive.

Alice In Wonderland— Friday Nite Flick

Tonight the Walt Disney version of Alice In Wonderland will be shown in the gym. According to the posters, this will be the last time Alice can be shown, before Disney's people take it out of circulation. It may be safe to guess that the rather conservative people at the home of Mickey Mouse became alarmed at various double-entendres throughout the film. The caterpillar smoking the hookah and wearing the shades knows something they don't know. Appropriately, we are told to bring pillows, blankets and munchies. Hmmm.

Alice, as she may be seen in the UCSD gym.

Thoreau On Stage

onizing to our own age "The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail" curr playing at the Old Globe Theater in Balboa park (student tickets for $1.5

explores the matter from the perspective of Henry David Thoreau. Thoreau, noted early New England naturalist, writer, and thinker, objected to an evi law—the law requiring fugitive slaves to be returned to the South. He also objected to the unjustified Mexican War and refused to pay his war tax, which Ronald Heller, as Thoreau, faced a complex role. However, he managed create a vividly human portrayal of a warm individual, following only his own conscience, which luckily, was very well developed. The play centered on human qualities involved, rather than on the philosophic problems concern with whether one should always-government be damned-do what one thinks right, and only that. These problems, which all thinking individuals must grapple with, tend to produce bad drama if over-emphasized. There is nothing m deadly than a play where characters get up on soap boxes and make 10

The Jerome Lawrence-Robert E. Lee play does not deal with the complexity of the historical Thoreau (nor is there any reason why it should addressing itself to the aspects we can most empathize with currently. The may have been more to the character than Heller captured, but he managed capture the central individual with its warmth and vigor. He even looked like

The action takes place in the Concord jail, with a series of well-structu flashbacks presenting key incidents from Thoreau's life. The other character have only a limited being in their own right, serving merely to interact

Thoreau. The others in the cast are at least adequate. Cindy Smith ga sensitive interpretation as Mrs. Emerson. Thoreau's harmless and rather sit cell mate was well sustained by Robert Ramsey. Patrick Hubbard ga powerful characterization of Ralph Waldo Emerson, creating another for character-perhaps too forceful. One major flaw in an otherwise well made is the trite arguments given Emerson against Thoreau's position. Anyon

I would recommend the play to all of those interested in problems of disobedience and in good theatre. This is a good production and has a lot to 0 smart as Emerson could have done better than that.

how he came to be in jail.

speeches throughout the last act.

would imagine Thoreau to look.

Peggy Seeger Concert Goes Little Attended

Carl Neiburger Staff Writer

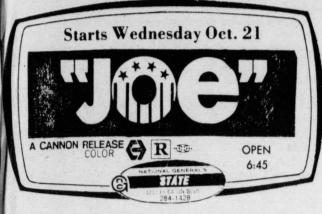

The mixed blessing of practically no publicity permitted slightly over 100 people to gather cozily around folk balladiers Ewen MacColl and Peggy Seeger for their concert in the gym Friday night. Shunning the microphones as impersonal, the pair took chairs on the floor and the audience gathered around their feet; they sang an ethnomusicological mixed bag of old English and American ballads and contemporary English folk songs.

and the other to quaint La Jolla in August (when Del Mar's racing season is going full dulcimer. MacColl sang, often with no accompaniment, in a strong melodic Scottish Hoover stays at the Hotel Del voice that compelled the audience to join in on Charro (#6) for $100 a day, using choruses and repeat lines. Between songs, they sine (one of four he uses England where they live (Miss Seeger was born throughout the country) from in the United States) and gave interesting explanations of the ethnic background of the songs.

During the intermission, they chatted with But though it is reputed members of the audience, answering questions, Reading William Turner's Hoover has done well in the taking song requests, and discussing song book on the FBI destroys many stock market it must be collecting. Miss Seeger's father, Charles a myth about this most famous of all police forces. It opens the used the considerable power of UCLA, sat in the audience, listening intently to

> The small amount of publicity given to the concert was apparently due to the concert being set so early in the year, so that the Program Board headed by Dan Spellens and Public Relations Director Barbara Butler were not able to coordinate publicity plans. Spellens characterized the lack of information prior to the concert being given as an oversight, and Miss Butler explained that she had not been informed that the concert was to take place until Wednesday prior to the event.

With admission to the concert set at $1 ($2.50 for non-students), AS spent about $630 on the 50-billion-a-year, untaxed in- and his style is cramped by the event. Spellens explained, however, that the dustry). Hoover's Bureau has great mass of facts he presents. Program Board had originally intended that the even dragged its heels when Yet the book deserves to be concert be free, but they had followed the lead asked to participate with circulated widely and taken to of other campuses at which MacColl and Miss Federal Task Forces attacking heart, as another small defense Seeger appeared during their one week visit to Mafia operations. One wonders line against the rapid encroach- the United States, and charged a nominal in gym at 8:00 p.m.

Upcoming nightly specials

The Coffee Hut *

DRIVE-IN THEATER OPEN 6:30—SHOWTIME 7:00 — • SCHEDULE •

Easy Rider" shown twice 7:00 and 10:30 Let It Be" shown one time only at 8:50 an went looking for America.

couldn't find it anywhere... . Ever since Plato's "Crito" there has been considerable discussion of the problem of how much obedience a citizen owes a lawful government, a problem BERT PRODUCTIONS presents COSY RICER

TER FONDA DENNIS HOPPER NICHOLSON . COLOR . Released by COLUMBIA PICTURES ANNES FILM FESTIVAL WINNER! "Best Film By a New Director"

— 2nd COLOR HIT —

an intimate experience on film

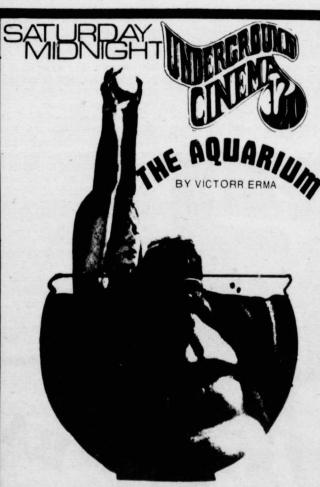

TECHNICOLOR United Artists

FINE ARTS ACADEMY

phone 239-2255 after or Central Box Office, phone 239-2255 after size of the size of t

"An extraordinary effort. . .vivid, intense, and experimental in the best, boldest sense of the word." -Arthur Knight of Playboy fame. "The continuing story of a particular girl who dominates and mocks a succession of men (with their eager cooperation), and finally finds a form of fulfillment during a gang rape."-V.E.

> FINE ARTS 1818 GARNET STREET 274-4000

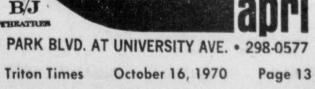

Saturday

blues, folk jazz, rock on record also: pottery, jewelry, hand made clothes 3753 india (corner washington and india)

The F.B.I. Director caught

One big reason is that Hoover, like many an entrenched politician, is more concerned with maintaining his position than the public good. Hoover has consistently shown himself to be a better publicist than policeman (he has never personally investigated a case in the field)

Yet, for all his long tenure in office, it cannot be said that J.

Edgar has made himself rich.

He lives a spartan life, with only two vacations a year: one to Florida at Christmas (when a bullet-proof Cadillac limou-

Hasn't Used Office

To Enrich Himself

Hialeah Racetrack is open)

sports

Flag football will offer something of fun. for everyone

Intramural Griders Set Free

Amid talk of Western European politics and Nixon's choice of deodorant, the Intramural department has managed to save the day with the start of the football season. Under much wiser supervision this year, Lee Johnson expanded the football program to include four leagues and thirty teams a vast mprovement over last year, which saw only 3 leagues and 22 teams. This success has been attributed to the devotion of the staff, and to the wide response which has made the IM rogram grow at a markedly greater pace than enrollment.

Lee has been helped this year by two people—the beauty and the beast, Dave Arter and Britta Griffin (not necesarily in that order). With the addition of these two, Lee has much improved his communication and managed to get more time in order to better the referee school, and other things.

The thirty teams have been divided evenly, (much to the dismay of the ghopher clan) into 4 leagues: Muir, Revell, Muir league features a plethera of possible champions. Del Mar degenerates with Sauders and Ahern will be tough to beat, but for that matter, so will De Anza with the De Mio's, or the Horizontal Exercices. In any event the Muir league will be one of the most bitterly contested, especially when the big teams begin to play against each other.

The Revell group will not be as powerfullas Muir's, but this will not take away any of the excitement. The Flagstaffers and Brand X are momentary leaders, but it remains to be seen who

The Red League seems to be the cage where all the animals have been thrown-gophers panthers, mudhens and dildos will all be pitting muscle and wit to see who will prevail. Rocky the Greek is not saying who will win, but odds will be given at a later date. The momentary favorite is the Dildo team, but only because they can jack themselves up for the big games.

Bio Chem and the Medi Maggots are the number one and two teams in the White, powder puff league. The Maggots, losing a heart breaker to the Bio boys are itching for a re-match, attributing the lose to the absence of the star Q.B. Rocky Halfon, who was religiously celebrating Yom Kippur. The Raiders and Rams petitioned to be in this group but were

The way that the leagues are lining up, it looks as if there will be more than one winner, as the playing and the enjoyment will provide reward enough for most teams.

So good luck world, here come the MAGGOTS.
MUIR	W	L	Т
Del Mar Degenerates SuperSpuds Horizontal Exercisers DeAnza Argo II Snoids Downers Creeping Crud	1 1	0 0 0 0 1 1 2 3	0 0 0
WHITE Bio/ Chem Media Maggots Phackowii Phoenix Mutual Life Grand Canonical Ensemble Turkeys Stumblers	0	0 1 0 0 0 1 1	1
REVELLE Flagstaffers	2	0	0

Stumblers	0	1	0
REVELLE
Flagstaffers	2	0	0
Brand X	1	0	0
Potatomen	1	0	0
F.U.B.A.R.	0	0	0
Meatiers	0	0	0
Orcs IV	0	1	0
Dungeeps	0	1	0
Yuba City Honkers	0	2	0
RED	X
Durale Conhore		0	0

RED
Purple Gophers	2	0	0
BOI Didos	1	0	0
Panthers	0	0	1
Dissectors	0	0	1
Toledo Mudhens	0	1	0
Rubberband	0	1	0
Quacks	0	1	0

ViewFromThe Roc

Sports Editor

1) That Physical Education activity courses regularly scheduled by that Department be given a 1/2 to 1 unit credit depending upon the context and requirements of the courses. Such courses will be under the jurisdiction of the Committee on Educational 3) A maximum of four Physical Education units may be presented by a student to satisfy electives required by his College toward graduation. Each College will determine supportative phase of our general education program for students to acquire physiological, psychological and sociological development through participation in selected and controlled physical activities. These activities have both immediate and continuing values for the individual participants.

2) Some students require Physical Education credit to further their career

a. Those who transfer to other institutions within and without the University of California system must present Physical education credit.

b. Those wao plan to enter elementary or secondary education, youth work and other social services and functions must also present Physical Education credit.

3) Justification for State funding for personnel and facilities: The State is reluctant to allocate additional capital improvement funds when they are not recognized as being used in the educational

4) The morale of the Physical Education staff would be improved and strengthened if their efforts were recognized by the academic community.

Undergraduate Affairs and C.U.A., who passed it members of the Physical unanimously. During all this Education Department would be pleased to meet with the Committee on Educational Policy to examine in more

So read the proposal presented by the Council on Undergraduate Affairs to the Committee on Educational Policy. This, as I later found out, was the culmination of work begun about one year ago by Dr. Ted Forbes in an effort to: (1) Enhance the PE program and facilities (which are at the present time already filled to capacity), and (2) Provide academic compensa-

the acceptibility of such units in their graduation

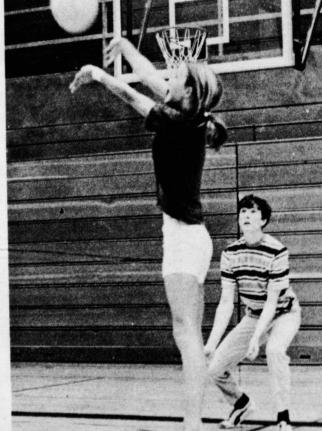

tion for PE classes.

The first steps taken, up and down the U.C. rigamarole pass the proposal. As of now started around October '69 when Dr. Forbes presented a 1) Physical Education is that McGill. McGill, who liked the time the proposal had already been approved by such people as Provost Saltman and Jack G. Blendinger, who is on the C.E.P. had this to say about it at a meeting on February 27: "The CEP sub-committee on undergraduate courses has met to consider the subject of P.E. for credit on the UC campus. The present voluntary P.E.

activities is a great success. Students participating in large numbers have the opportunity to receive excellent instruction in improving their own particular skills. After saying this, the council voted not to the question will be-Why?.

To be continued.

Volleyball Class

Open Season for Polo Men

The UCSD Water Polo team officially opened its season a week ago, the results being a mixture of disaster and success. The disaster came in two forms, one of which might be called 'Team shock''. On Friday the TRITONS discovered the difference between playing a team seasoned by seven previous games, and playing intra-squad games. UC Riverside, utilizing their swimmers to the utmost, took advantage of their floating goal, and floated it all the way back to the wall, extending the length of the field by 8½ yds. The UCSD splashers learned a basic lesson that day which was, simply, that sprinting 25 yds. on a break is rarely of value, defensively or offensively, if the other end of the pool is still at the other end of the pool when you stop The next day found UCSD in Pomona, where things started off on a very bright note. The TRITONS were matched with the host team in the intra-squad team round of the SCIA Tournament. Being in control most of the game, JCSD nabbed its first victory of the infant season with a score of 11-8. Having advanced to ne second round, UCSD once again encountered UC Riverside. Everything favored UCSD-until the opening whistle, that is. This time the pool was small and UCR was forced to swim in circles. Less than two minutes into the game, sophomore starter Jim Stoner glanced at the referee and sneezed. He was prompely thrown out of the game for his snotty attitude. Despite this blow to manpower and morale, the TRITONS found themselves leading 6-5 at the third quarter. Unfortunately, fourth quarters tend to be more critical in the end than the first three. The TRITONS continued to play an exceptionally rough defensive game (as opposed to Riverside's exceptionally dirty defensive game), and in the end piled up 37 team fouls, having fouled out everyone except coach Fred Becker, who was ready to play in his underwear if given the opportunity. The final score saw UCR (who eventually went on to win the tournament) up by a margin of two, which might have only been one, had Gary Becker not achieved the impossible by missing a penalty shot late in the game.

As the team travels to Santa Barbara this weekend for the All-Cal, there is an exceptional feeling of enthusiasm for the games with both Riverside and Davis. These teams should now be evenly matched with a UCSD squad that is working as a unit. UCLA, last year's number one team in the nation and NCAA champs, has again turned up its nose at the tournament, as has Berkeley. But UCSD should encounter what might be called "stiff" competition from UCSB, last years tournament champs, and UC Irvine, who has already beaten UCLA this year, and who no doubt regards itself as one of the best polo teams in the Milky Way. Next Wednesday the TRITONS will have the home pool advantage for the first time thi year. Keep your eye out for game time and come early to beat the crowd. If the team comes together this weekend as much as it did last weekend, you should see a well-oiled machine in action which will cause a lot of problems for other schools this year. If they don't, well at least you might see a well-oiled coach.

AMERICA! THOSE RUMORS YOU'VE BEEN HEARING ARE TRUE!

THE BEER WHICH BEARS THE LEGENDARY SNEDLEY FAMILY NAME IS HERE! KING SNEDLEY'S BEER! WHAT A FAMILY! WHAT A BEER!

KING SNEDLEY started it all. Yes, the kindly ruler of the Kingdom of HOPLAND devoted ten years to developing an incredible beer recipe. Ten years locked away in a room just two feet by ten feet...with only a seventy-five pound cat for company. He studied...he tested...he sampled...he perfected KING SNEDLEY'S BEER!

QUEEN LUCLEE is his wife, a young woman with two great assets...her beauty and her youth. In fact, a whole bunch of youths. PRINCESS FATOONA is their daughter, a sweet girl but one who has been left at the altar so many times she's developed an altar-ego. WEAKLING PRINCE STAN is their son. He received his unfortunate name some years ago during a duel. It seems that his adversary discovered, instead of taking ten paces, Stan had taken a powder...never to return.

THE SNEDLEYS...you may like them...you may not understand them...you may forgive them...you may fear them... they may fear you...but as strange as the SNEDLEY family may be...YOU WILL LOVE THEIR BEER!

KING SNEDLEY'S BEER ... a truly swell beer!

LOOK FOR THE ROYAL FAMILY ON THE CAN!

FRIDAY -- October 16

CONVOCATION—a convocation honoring the members of the first freshman class of Muir College and celebrating the college's move to a permanent campus will be held at 2 p.m. on the Muir College Greens. Former Chief Justice Earl Warren will be the main speaker.

LECTURES—12 noon, Sumner Auditorium, Marine Biology Seminar, Dr. Thomas Berman, "Lake Kinneret Limnology; An Integrated Approach."

MOVIES-Friday Nite Flicks, "Alice in Wonderland" presented by the Del Mar Assoc. in the gym at 8 p.m.

Sherwood Hall, La Jolla, "The Ritual," an Ingmar Bergman film is being shown along with two short films, "The Machine" by Wolfgang Urchs, and "Dialog" by Dirautin Vunak. Showtimes: 7 & 9 p.m. $1.50

Unicorn, a three-week tribute to director Orson Wells opens this week with "Macbeth" and "Magnificent Amberson". For more info call 454-7373.

MUSIC-Coffee Hut, entertainment for the weekend provided by Brian Steeger and Pam Clark, at 9 p.m.

San Diego Symphony opens its season with mezzo soprano soloist Janet Baker at the Civic Theater, 8:30 p.m. For more info call 236-6510.

Grossmont College-Dolmetsch Ensemble in concert, 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts Lecture Hall.

ART EXHIBITS-UCSD Art Gallery, "The Bocour Artist Colors Collection" thru November 1. Hours: Tuesday thru Sunday 11-4 p.m. and Wednesday evenings from 8-10 p.m.

Grossmont College, "Synchromies;" Smithsonian exhibit thru October 23.

Southwestern College Art Gallery, "Roots of California Culture" from the Smithsonian Institution thru November 15.

La Jolla Museum of Art, modern sculpture from the Weiner Palm Springs collection and paintings by James DeFrance, thru October 25.

Fine Arts Gallery, Balboa Park, Art Guild Exhibition '70, thru November 8. Also monumental sculpture of Arnaldo Pomodoro.

SPORTS & RECREATION-Bicycle Club meets 12 noon in the PE classroom.

Fencing Club meets at 3 p.m. on the north balcony in the gym. Folkdancing in the gym at 8

Synchronized swimming in the pool at 10 a.m.

SATURDAY — October 17

MUSIC-Coffee Hut entertainment by Brian Steeger and Pam Clark at 9 p.m.

SPORTS—Hockey, San Diego Gulls vs. Salt Lake City in the Sports Arena at 8 p.m. For more info call 224-4171.

ART EXHIBITS—check under Friday's listings

MOVIES-Sherwood Hall, check under Friday's listings Unicorn, check under Friday's listings

SUNDAY — October 18

CONCERT—at UCSD, Hot Tuna (Jefferson Airplane minus Grace Slick), Pink Floyd, Leon Russell, and Dry Creek. Tickets: $2.50.

Civic Theater, Guy Lombardo and His Royal Canadians, 8:30 p.m. For more info call 236-6510.

CHURCH SERVICES-"One Non-Negotiable Demand" is the theme for Pastor Huber's homily. University Lutheran Church will present a folk mass beginning at 10 a.m. Child care is provided. 9595 La Jolla Shores

MONDAY — October 19

LECTURES-11 a.m., 2A-4218 Muir, APIS Seminar, Ronald Pogorzelski, "Invariant Imbedding and the Scattering of Electomagnetic Waves by Inhomogeneous.'

12 noon, Catamaran Hotel, Mission Bay, UCSD Men's Club, Ed Miller and Bob Thomas, candidates for district attorney, will discuss the issues as they see them. Price of luncheon: $2.70.

1 p.m., 307 Vaughn Hall, SIO, Applied Ocean Sciences Seminar, Cliff Schatz, Kennecott Exploration, Inc., "Deep-Ocean Search for Mineral Deposits."

2:30 p.m., 2A-2301 Muir, Professor James Arnold, "Structure of Meteorites."

4 p.m., 2A-2113 Muir, AMES Departmental Seminar, Dr. S. Penner, "Severe Storms (Hurricanes and Tornadoes)."

4 p.m., 2622 USB, Chemistry Colloquium, Dr. Ed. O'Neal, San Diego State College, "Ther-mochemical Kinetics of Small Ring Compounds and Polycyclic Systems."

CAREER SEMINAR-Northwestern University School of Law will have representatives on campus to conduct a career seminar. For more information call CEPC at ext. 2401.

SPECIAL-Cid Corman, noted poet and Regents' lecturer will highlight this month's Guest-in-Residence program with an informal discussion in the Informal Lounge in the Revelle Commons at 7:30 p.m.

TUESDAY — October 20

LECTURES-12 noon, 2622 USB, AMES Fluid Dynamics Film Series, Title of film: "Deformation of a Continuous Media."

4 p.m., HL 1148, Solid State Physics Seminar, Dr. J. L. Beeby, Harwell, England, "Atom-surfact Scatterings." 4 p.m., 2622 USB, Chemical

Physics Seminar, Dr. Bruce Mahan, UCB, "Ion Molecule Reaction Synamics."

6:30 p.m., Dr. James R. Nelson, Professor and Vice-Chairman of the Department of Neurology, School of Medicine. will be guest on "Topic," KF-MB-Radio (760) to speak on "Drug Abuse and the Nervous

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Please return the contents of wallet stolen Tuesday to HL 1502. Money doesn't matter but the identification is important. Return to HL 1502 or through campus mail.

toft, ext. 1482.

PACIFIC

penton

norton

1556 garnet ave

pacific beach

LAW SEMINAR

The PE Department is now in the process of starting a UCSD Tennis Club to include staff, students and faculty for the purpose of recreational play. This is to include all levels of players. For information about membership contact Jens Birk-

LHAMAYA

complete sales

& service

Two practicing attorneys will be in Conference Room 111A, M.

C., from 9 to 10 a.m., Monday,

October 19, 1970, to talk with students interested in careers in law. They will describe the law-school experience, the kinds of work performed by lawyers,

some of the pleasures, frustrations, hazards, etc., law students and lawyers, may experience.

Following the seminar, Mr.

William Levinson, from a law firm in Chicago, will be available to talk with students who may be interested in the Northwestern University School of Law. He will be available until approximately

HONDA CARS

2 or 3 p.m.

husqvarna

274-6343

Classifieds

For Sale

GARAGE SALE

Sat. & Sun. Oct. 17 & 18: bedroom set, riviera couch, tables, chairs, refridg, dishes, sewing machine, living room set. T.V., pool table, odds & ends. 7529 High Ave., La Jolla -454-5867-

Surfboards-6'8" Nuuhiwa Team board $50. 6'8" O'Neill $20. 7'8" Del Sol Gun $50. Rick-308 "B" S. Cedros, Solana Beach.

Personals

Attractive senior male would like female company on weekends. Interviews available. Call Winston, 453-8867.

LOST-Girl's blue 3 sp. bike outside gym on Monday eve. Desperately needed for physical disability reasons. I can not afford to replace bike. Please return. Phone 453-0183 or to campus police.

Serious Seekers of Truth Meeting Every Friday Nite 8 p.m. — 931 26th Street.

Services

Baby Sitter wanted-Wind and Sea beach area. 2 or 3 afternoons a week - 454-0985

Folk guitar teacher. Experience and patient adult. Walking distance from campus. 453-7647

Typing: Reasonable rates for students and teachers. Thesis, etc Venice 272-1013.

Typing...Experienced typist...tern papers, thesis. Electric typewriter Will do rush jobs. 453-6835.

Roommates Wanted

WANTED: someone to share lrg 3 BR house in North Clairmont with two students. Your share, $77/mo. includes rent. utilities, washer, phone, TV etc. Call 279-8811 after six.

Share 2 br furnished apartment in Clairemont, $80/mo. Prefer staff member. Call Sandy, ext. 1226 or 273-6296.

Female roomate needed, on the ocean, South Mission Beach. $100. Call 488-8273.

Job Opportunities

The NAVAL UNDERSEA RESEARCH AND DEVELOP-MENT CENTER is interested in Bachelor's and Master's Degree candidates in Physics, Mathematics, Information Science. Mechanical and Electrical Engineering for employment in analytical work, applied research, and mechanical or electronic design. A few positions are also available for graduates in Aeronautical Engineering, General Engineering, and Oceanography.

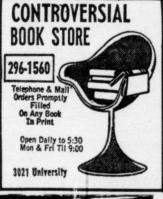

Positions are in their Pasadena and San Diego Laboratories. Interviews will be conducted at the San Diego Laboratory on $139500

Wednesday, October 21, 1970. Arrangements for interviews may be made by calling the Career Planning Center, ext. 2401.

Candidates for these positions must supply the Career Planning Center (250 M.C.) with a resume or complete a Student Information Form by 4:30 p.m. Monday, October 19.

laboratories and these career positions are available at the Career Planning Center. We recommend that candidates read this information before their

the fine arts store

formally (hamlins art supplies)

complete line of art supplies custom and stock framing 'new' poster cubes $1.98 posters and prints art books candles

> 15% discount to students (good during October only) > > hrs 9-5:30 m-f 9-5 sat

488-5350

4683 cass pacific beach

October 16, 1970

Pacific Honda—1269 Garnet

Mr. William L. Wheaton of the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies will be on campus Monday, October 19, 1970, to describe the Institute's programs to interested students.

The basic purpose of the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies is to provide a better understanding of other nations and cultures.

Master's degrees are offered in Language and Civilizations. Humanities and Social Sciences, Linguistics and Education.

Careers for which the curriculum prepares its students include: Foreign Service, Teaching, Translation and Interpretation, International Communica-

Mr. Wheaton will be in room 2148 Bldg. 2D Muir Campus from 9 a.m. - 3 p.m. October

