NEW DIRECTOR OF INTERNAL AUDIT APPOINTED AT UCSD

Stephanie Peterson, formerly audit manager at the University of California Lawrence-Berkeley Laboratory, has been named director of Internal Audit at the University of California, San Diego.

She succeeds Miles Bowler, who retired July 1 under the University of California's early retirement program after 20 years on the UCSD staff.

In announcing the appointment John Woods, vice chancellor of Resource Management and Planning, noted that Peterson brings more than 17 years of audit experience to UCSD, including service as audit manager with the Department of Energy Contracts Audit Group at the UC Office of the President and Lawrence-Livermore Laboratory.
