Casa de Mañana
La Jolla, California

HOTEL BUILDING

"*B*EAUTIFUL as a dream of Andalusia, Casa de Mañana enshrines all that the most fastidious expect in a perfectly appointed modern hotel."

"*T*HE quaint but stately portal seems to breathe the warm welcome one meets in Spain: 'Pase usted, está en su casa'—enter, you are in your own home."

"AN AIR of quiet comfort and hominess pervades the spacious Lounge, giving one the assurance that everything at Casa de Mañana is indeed 'a disposicion de usted'—at your disposal."

"OF ALMOST wistful loveliness is the quaint stairway, luring one to ascend to promised beauty overhead."

STAIRWAY AND LOUNGE

DINING HALL

"PERFECT bits of old Spain are the cottages belonging to Casa de Mañana, with the same quaint atmosphere, the same 'feeling,' and the same view of the sea."

INTERIOR BUNGALOW

"THE dignified elegance of Spanish design and furnishing is found in the Dining Room, from whose opposing windows are had lovely glimpses of the ocean, the patio, and the garden."

"Todo cuidado abandone, aquel que entre aqui—'all care abandon, ye who enter here.'"

BUNGALOW

"FURNISHED with the same beautiful dignity and simplicity as the Hotel, the bungalows offer special inducements to such as prefer greater seclusion."

Casa de Mañana

"AN OASIS of old-world peace and seclusion—such is the Patio with its fountain, its tropical greenery, its arched cloisters, and entrancing balconies looking down from above."

PATIO

"ALTHOUGH provided with every modern requisite, the Bedrooms possess the charm of cloistered, monastic, simplicity."

BED ROOM

"WHILE 'Manana' suggests a leisurely do-nothing frame of mind, there are many things to 'do' at Casa de Mañana—golf, tennis, swimming, horseback riding, and motoring in that paradise of good roads and sublime scenery, San Diego County, California."
