Heather hope you can figure this mess out -
Tim

To the alternative media:

Here are the budget totals for 1983-4 as approved by the AS Council on Wednesday, June 9:

Birdcage Review	$ 6228.00
California Review	4050.00
Koala	5310.00
L'Chayim	1892.00
new indicator	14478.00
People's Voice	6927.00
Polit Journal	1769.00
Roadwork	2133.00
Sapho	1072.00
KSDT	12500.00
La Voz Fronteriza	6135.00

One problem--some of these final totals are not line-itemed. The AS Clerk, Heather Barrett, and the AS accountants, Nora and Josie, need detailed line-items. Using the Media Board line-items as a base, I have tentatively suggested that funds be added or subtracted from the printing costs as necessary. This leaves the operational and other costs intact. The differences in the final AS budget and the Media Board recommendation look like this:

Birdcage Review	subtract	$ 54.00	from printing
California Review	subtract	450.00	from printing
Koala	add	110.00	to printing
L'Chayim	add	35.00	to printing
new indicator	add	859.00	to printing
People's Voice	add	2378.00	to printing
Polit Journal	subtract	31.00	from printing
Roadwork	subtract	367.00	from printing
La Voz Fronteriza	subtract	1227.00	from printing
Sapho	how about a whole new line-item?
KSDT	" " " " " " " "	" "	" ?

The AS Council seemed most concerned with the printing costs of each organization, which is why I am suggesting that the additions or subtractions take place in that area. If your organization would like to see the additions or subtractions affect other areas of the budget, let me know so that we may inform the accountants.

October 19, 1983

Submitted by: Greg Hemperly

Subject: ASUCSD Coors Boycott

ASUCSD OPEN ROLL VOTE on Coors Boycott Resolution reading as follows:

Whereas, the Coors Boycott was established at U.C. San Diego Campus to oppose the alleged wrong doings of the Coors Brewery.
Whereas, the allegations have been stated: discrimination of females, minorities, and gays; personal questions relating to ones private life on the polygraph test; personal search and seizure on the premises of the brewery; miserable working conditions for elderly employees; inadequate benefits for employees, etc., etc.
Whereas, these allegations may have been true in the past, they do not exist today at the Coors brewery.
Whereas, the puepose of a boycott is to change the wrong doings of a group or organization.

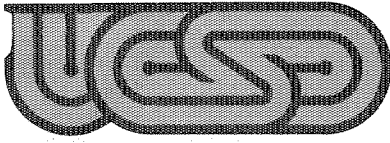

Therefore, be it resolved that there is no longer the need to continue the Coors boycott at the U.C. San Diego campus.
Furthermore, be it resolved the Resolution #21 9/30/81 calling for the boycott and any other legislation pertaining to the boycott be repealed.

Subject: Opposing Simpson/Mazzoli Bill

- WHEREAS, the Simpson-Mazzolli bill would serve to increase discrimination by authorities against all Mexican, Latino, Black, Asian and non-white persons on the job or at service agencies;
- WHEREAS, it could require all Americans to carry a nationally controlled identification work permit;
- WHEREAS, it extends to local police, sheriffs, state or local authorities the power to enforce immigration laws, detain and turn over to immigration all persons suspected of being in the United States without documents or visas;
- WHEREAS, this legislation authorizes employers, foremen, labor contractors, union hiring halls and employment agencies to fire, suspend refuse to hire or dispatch, and refer to the authorities persons believed to have no visas;
- WHEREAS, it reduces or eliminates many of the provisions by which refugees, fleeing from brutal persecution or oppression, could seek asylum in the United States;
- WHEREAS, it changes U.S. immigration policies from the unifying of families to the persecution and denial of rights to immigrants and their families;
- WHEREAS, this legislation severely limits court appeals and constitutional rights of persons detained by immigration agents on the job, in the streets, or in homes;

WHEREAS, three out of four women in the United States can expect to be sexually assaulted, showing that rape is a serious problem both in our society and in the UCSD community; and

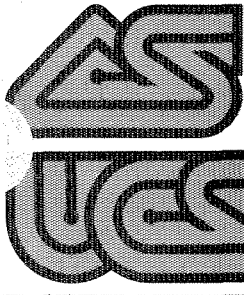

WHEREAS, the California Review, a student-run campus publication, stated in their May 1983 issue:

"The sexual liberation movement scored another victory on March 6th in New Bedford, Massachusetts when six brave men in an effort to break down taboos, inhibitions, and self-repression, gang raped a woman in Big Dan's Tavern while patrons watched and cheered, showing that they too were liberated."

AND WHEREAS, the tragedy in New Bedford, Mass., received nationwide condemnation, providing graphic illustration of the severity of the problem of rape in this culture.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the ASUCSD Council deplores the decision of the California Review's editors to make light of a matter as serious as gang rape.

PROPOSAL: OFFICE OF THE STUDENT ADVOCATE

NEED:

The need for the new format of the Office of Student Advocate is primarily derived from the traditional lack of delineation in the job description and duties of the Commissioner of Student Welfare as currently defined in the A.S. Constitution. The Commissioner of Student Welfare's primary duty is to serve the function as the Student Advocate for the University. In this light, he/she represents the student in several different appeals processes; takes up selected issues that concern the general student body as a whole and to basically serve as an information center for students in need of counseling on their rights within the University.

In its present format, however, it is clear that the Commissioner of Student Welfare has continually lacked the direction to accomplish these most basic tasks associated with this office as defined above. The reasons for this concerns several intrinsic problems which I feel will be eradicated within the new format of the Student Advocate Office.

The most basic problem concerning Student Welfare is its lack of visibility and legitimacy within the UCSD Community. To effectively have an active working Student Advocate within the A.S. it first must be recognized and known to both the Student Body, Staff, Faculty and administrative bodies here on campus. Thus the Commissioner of Student Welfare is not. To be effective here, the Student Welfare Commissioner must work out a structured well known and legitimate office in which both students will seek out and use, and the administration will respect and deal with as a true representative on this campus.

PR

PROPOSAL:

What is being proposed here is the origination of the "Office of the Student Advocate" as an A.S. backed student service. In this format, the office will be structured by a charter with bylaws to clearly define the duties and tasks of the position. The office itself as defined is to serve as a framework within which one Commissioner of Student Welfare will serve from year to year, becoming the Student Advocate and head of the office itself. As a student "service", the A.S. Council will serve to retain some control over successive budgetary requests of the office from year to year. It is most effective in format as a service because it is designed to directly serve the students with workshops, pamphlets on student rights etc.- all of which will entail some monetary expenditure. Let it be remembered, however, that the A.S. will ultimately control this aspect as in any other service.

GOALS:

The goals of the Student Advocate Office are many, primary in importance, and as already stated, is the idea of contracting visibility and legitimacy to the Student Advocate position. I stress the word legitimacy because the whole power of the Student Advocate position is derived almost entirely from how the UCSD Community perceives it as a functioning part of the Associated Students. The visibility of course lends itself to the legitimacy factor, for to be legitimate one almost always must be visible first.

Secondly, it is the unique college system here at UCSD which adds to the need for a centralized advocate office. The goal of the office here is to attempt to coordinate the dispersed appeals process presently in use. Because of the four college system, each college has tended in the past to handle disciplinary and appeal cases independently, and without student input. Because each college does not have a student advocate on hand to counsel students on procedure and due process, gross injustices have occurred in the past. The A.S. backed and visible Student Advocate Office will serve to coordinate these separate appeals processes; by both having the students in question seek out the advocate, and having the colleges themselves refer the student to the advocate first for information on the process.

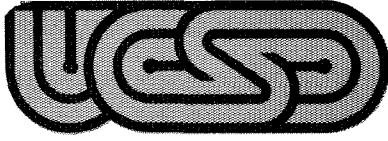

Thirdly, the goal of the Advocate Office is to allow for a smooth and effective transistion of powers from year to year. Through the framework of the office, it is hoped that a minimum of confusion from one advocate to another will be passed on, and a more effective A.S. will be possible at a much earlier date.

ADVANTAGE:

The advantages of the Advocate Office over the present format are numerous, and many should already be clear by this point in the proposal. To have such a service is of great benefit to the A.S. in its visibility to the Student Body and as a viable and truly worthwhile student service. To the student, one of the primary problems at this time is the lack of knowledge of rights and due process procedures. The ability of the office to get out information on these rights and general campus concerns will be invaluable. What the A.S. lacks most is direction. This is what the Office of Student Advocate intends to facilitate.
