OCEANID ART SHOW CANCELLED

It was with deep regret that the Associated Student's committee for "Fiesta de la Genté" cancelled that event planned for May 24. The fundamental conflict of issues concerning the strike on campus was of such magnitude that no other decision could realistically and unselfishly be reached.

Of course, the student's committee was no less disappointed than the art show committees. A large number of entries had been received and the committee for children's creative activities was prepared for many children. A worthwhile and interesting show was anticipated. Because response to the enlarged show was positive, the committees hope to have a second chance during a more settled time.

OCEANID HOSTESSES

Following the graduation on June fourteenth, OCEANIDS will act as hostesses at the reception in Revelle Plaza for graduates, their parents and guests. Mrs. Henry Booker, Mrs. Harold Urey, Mrs. Alan Batchelder, Mrs. Paul Saltman, Mrs. John Stewart, Mrs. William Nierenberg and Mrs. Richard Weinberger will assist in receiving the guests and serving.

FROM OUR PRESIDENT

I am most appreciative to all OCEANIDS who made this year a success. We had fun in our new ventures as well as the old established ones. My wish to Adalaide Booker and her new board on a wonderful year. It's been enlightening, educational and I must say enervating for me----see you all in October. Cordially,

Rosalie Weinberger

EMPTY THAT CLOSET !!

The International Center fund raising event, the International Fashion Festival, scheduled for September 26th, needs your support. If you have any folk art items-from around the world-that you can part with, please donate it/them to the International Bazaar to bolster its stock. Call Susan Chamberlain, 454-5627.

FOUR FROM UCSD HONORED

Four scientists from UCSD have just been elected to the National Academy of Sciences, bringing the total of members on campus to 31. They are: Dr. George E. Backus, Professor of Geology; Dr. Keith A. Brueckner, Director of IPAPS and Professor of Physics; Dr. Walter Kohn, Professor of Physics; and Dr. Jonathan S. Singer, Professor of Biology. They were elected at the 106th Annual Meeting in Washington.

Election to this prestigeous organization of 846 members is one of the highest honors that can be accorded a scientist. The National Academy of Sciences was founded in 1863 to further science and its use for the general welfare, and to serve upon request as an official advisor to the Federal Government.

FIVE FROM UCSD HONORED

Five UCSD professors were elected to membership in the American Academy of Arts and Sciences at the group's 189th annual meeting in Boston.

They are Dr. James Arnold, Professor of Chemistry; Dr. E. Margaret Burbidge, Professor of Astronomy; Dr. Stanford S. Penner, Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs and Professor of Engineering Physics; Dr. Herbert Stern, Chairman of the Department of Biology; and Dr. Bruno H. Zimm, Professor of Chemistry.

There were 106 Americans elected as academy fellows and 29 leaders from 13 other nations were elected to foreign honorary membership.

The Academy, one of this nation's oldest learned societies, was founded in Boston in 1780 by John Adams and other leaders of the Massachusetts Bay Colony who patterned it after the French Academy and the Royal Society in London.

STATE SCIENTIST OF THE YEAR

Dr. Walter H. Munk, Director of the Department of Geophysics at Scripps, was honored with the California Scientist of the Year award of the California Museum of Science and Industry. Dr. Munk believes the award was given for the work he did on measuring progress of ocean swell in the Pacific in 1965. The research established the progress of wave action from one end of the ocean to another, starting with storms down south, and continuing all the way to Alaska. The award included an honorarium of $5,000.

INTERNATIONAL FASHION FESTIVAL

The International Fashion Festival will be held on September 26, at 6:00 o'clock, in the Court Yard of the Salk Institute. It's purpose is to raise over $10,000 to finish and furnish the first phase of the International Center at UCSD. It is being given by a special committee of International Center, Inc. organized for this purpose-this is a joint Town and Gown project with student participation. Over 50 women will be working hard to make this a gala affair-the expected guests number over 1,000. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Solon Palmer, Jr. and Mrs. Walter Munk. Tickets will be $9.

The entire theme is International. People will be seated around cafe tables and International booths will surround the Court Yard. There will be International refreshments (representing the food of 10 countries), International models, door prizes and decorations. Foreign students, dressed in the costumes of their native countries, will act as hosts.

Early in the evening there will be wine tasting, to be followed by a no-host bar. An orchestra will play for dancing-and during intermissions, performances will be given by the Highland Bagpipes and Dancers, the Gypsy Dancers, and others.

The Fashion Show will take place about 7:00 o'clock. The fashions and fabrics are being designed by two countesses from Sweden: Countess Ebba von Eckerman and Countess Eleanor von Schwerine. The fabrics are handwoven in Swedish homes and the fashions are to be designed for San Diego living. They are something very special! The countesses also design mens' sports jackets so there will be some male models in the show.

Plans are snowballing. The Zonta Club of La Jolla is going to ask other Zonta Clubs from all over the world (over 30 countries) to send things for the International Bazaar. Plans will continue to formulate as the various committees meet during the summer.

Editors note: Judy Munk said recently, "Plans concerning the site of the International Center (see May BEAR FACTS) are progressing, but we are the first to be hurt by unruly activities on the Campus because our plans seem to have such a low priority."

THE BOOK DISCUSSION GROUP by Sally Kroll

The Book Discussion Group has just completed another stimulating and rewarding year of discussions of contemporary literature from a wide and varied background of material, works from the American literary scene (Norman Mailer, William Styron, and Frederick Douglass) plus works from Mexico (Carlos Fuentes), Japan (Kawabata), France (de Beauvoir), Germany (Gunther Grass), England (Orwell), South Africa (Dan Jacobsen). Most important to our many lively discussions has been the guidance and participation by a very interested, well-informed, and well-read membership.

Thinking ahead to next year, we plan to continue reading and discussing works which represent the literature of different countries, the works of new authors, the new works of well known authors often as seen in relation to their previous writing, works on topics of immediate and long range concern from such fields as sociology, psychology, education, etc. with emphasis on the literary point of view.

We hope that all old members and any prospective members will have an exciting, fruitful reading experience this summer and come to our first meeting next fall to share these ideas and to join in our first discussion on "Portnoy's Complaint" by Philip Roth.

FROM THE GOURMETS

Reminiscent of the previous May, when they were in West Berlin, was the German dinner the Richard Weinbergers served eighteen Gourmets. To set the pace for the meal Rhine Castle-Champagne punch and pretzels were served on the patio.

MENU

Salute Speck
Kummel und Fleisch
Kartoffelklosse
Lebkuchen
Frukt Suppa

Flower Mints (molds brought from Germany)
A keg of beer kept the guests busy drawing their own beer and made the conversation lively.

KUMME UND FLEISCH

1 lb. ground beef
1/4 c. cracker crumbs
1 tsp. salt, dash pepper
1/4 tsp. poultry seasoning
1/4 c. milk
1 egg
1 can beef broth
1 3 oz. can mushrooms
1/2 onion
1 c. sour cream
1 tbsp. flour
1 tsp. caraway seeds

Combine first 7 ingredients; shape and brown in small amount of fat. Add broth, onion and mushrooms; simmer 30 minutes. Blend in sour cream, flour and caraway seeds just before serving and only cook until thickened.

YOGA TEACHER AVAILABLE THIS SUMMER

A Frenchwoman versed in Yoga is ready to conduct a summer class or classes in Yoga. What's more she is prepared to do it in the French, Italian or English language depending on the group's preference.

She is Hélène Laperousaz from the Haute-Savoie who is preparing for her Ph.D. in French literature at UCSD. Miss Laperousaz studied yoga for ten years at the Ecole de Yoga (Anne Brugger) in Geneva, Switzerland. Because she has a strong enthusiasm for yoga-and needs also to defray her tuition and living expenses while here--she is offering to conduct classes in the art this summer.

Interested persons may reach Miss Laperousaz at her Del Mar residence (1667 Stratford Way; telephone 755-3173), or leave a message for her at the Literature Department of UCSD (Ext. 1226).

SUMMER SLOWS DOWN ART SHOWS

Summer in the art galleries and museums of Southern California will, generally, be on the quiet side. Campus galleries will be more or less dormant until the universities and colleges begin the new academic year in September. And so far as we know now, the museums have no blockbusters or mindbenders scheduled.

There will be, however, a number of good things to see this summer over in Balboa Park at the Fine Arts Gallery and the Timken, and here in La Jolla at the Museum of Art, as well as in Los Angeles at the County Museum. The BEAR FACTS Calendar, this issue, has all the details we have been able to gather before going to press.

Additional exhibits maybe scheduled later on, and dates given as tentative may be firmed up or altered. You can always check with the museum concerned-or refer to the weekly "Calendar," in the Los Angeles Sunday Times which covers the territory from San Diego to Santa Barbara.

Community Concerns
Thartin Stern will speak on recent developments in the new University

SEMI-ANNUAL STUDENT POT SALE

Whether a creator or a consumer of ceramics, many an OCEANID will be sorry to hear of the passing of the old pot stand at the La Jolla Museum of Art. It is to be dismantled in June. The Museum has announced that it can no longer accommodate the University Extension art classes that have thrived there for the past five years.

Nevertheless, there will be the traditional summer sale of student pots in the garden patio of the Museum, on Saturday, June 7, beginning at 9 a.m. This one will be BIG (aren't they all?) with a special end-of-an-era flavor, Rhoda Lopez, long-time instructor and well-known potter, tells us.

As for the future of University Extension's enormously popular art program, Martin Chamberlain, U. E. director, assures us it will be continued. The problem is where if not how. He and his men are currently combing the mesas and canyons for accommodations for the classes and equipment: acquiring space for painting easels is one thing; space for fiery furnaces (kilns) and throwing equipment (wheels) is quite anotherespecially when University Extension is strapped for funds (receiving not one dollar of the taxes we pay for education). Suggestions, anyone?

DR. HARTZOG ADDRESSES CONTEMPORARY AFFAIRS GROUP by Judy Haxo

The Contemporary Affairs group met this month with Dr. Ernest Hartzog, the newly appointed principal of Lincoln High School. The original topic for discussion was the Inner City Project, a federally financed project designed to aid schools with a significant number of minority students. Dr. Hartzog has been actively involved in this project as Vice-principal of San Diego High, one of the schools participating in the program.

However, the dramatic events at Lincoln High leading to Dr. Hartzog's immediate appointment as principal there, made a discussion of his plans and aspirations for Lincoln High an important part of the evening's topic.

Dr. Hartzog commented that Lincoln, despite its possession of an excellent physical plant and student body, had developed the image of being a poor high school, not only to those on the outside community, but to those within Southeast San Diego, as well. He feels that all the qualities exist to change this image and that this is his first task as principal. He commented on the vast problems of educating minority youth and on the fact that present systems of tracking and testing seem to hamper rather than aid their education. He is searching for imaginative and new ways to approach the problem. One idea he suggested was involving the students, at all levels and abilities in the teaching process more fully, as he believes one of the best ways to learn is by teaching. He also hopes to introduce new curricula into the high school and would like to make Lincoln the district center for ethnic studies. He would like to establish closer ties between Lincoln and UCSD. There are also plans for in-service training during the summer of teachers and staff who will be at Lincoln next year.

Dr. Hartzog's approachability and his enthusiasm and confidence in the future of Lincoln prompted those present to ask what they could do to help the success of his projects. He explained that the associated student body had pitifully small funds and that he plans a fundraising banquet, called "Friends and Parents of Gompers and Lincoln" for the A.S.B.'s of Gompers Junior High and Lincoln High. This will be held on June 14th at the William J. Oakes Boys Club, 2930 Marcy St. Anyone who would like to help may do so by buying tickets for the banquet at $2.00 or by sending contributions to the fund. Tickets are available at Lincoln High. (264-3171).

SPEAKING OF RATTLESNAKES-

This is the time of year that the wild flowers, the desert, the back-country beckon us for picnics, hikes, and over-night trips. It is also the time of year that we hear reports of snakes and snake bites. Newcomers to the area are either badly frightened by the reports or completely unaware of the situation. When asked about the presence of rattlesnakes, a Ranger at Torrey Pines Park said that there were snakes in the park, but a few sensible precautions would prevent any problems. He suggested that hikers keep to the paths and trails. If a rattlesnake is seen, it should be reported to one of the Rangers. Remember, too, that a rattlesnake does not always give a warning before striking. The snakes, however, are no more eager to see you than you them and they are not out hunting for you. His other words of advice were as follows:

- Wear proper clothing for hiking--shoes or boots and pants with legs (bare feet and shorts do not give any protection).
- 2. While climbing, never reach up and put your hands where you cannot see.
- Look before you leap or jump over a log or rock.
- 4. Don't pick up snakes. Non-poisonous snakes also bite.

No statistics are kept on the number of people bitten by rattlesnakes in the county, but a doctor at the San Diego County Health Department said that the number is very small. He also said that many bites are not serious--it depends on the amount of venom in the wound. There are many greater hazards in life, but it is well to be aware of the danger and avoid it by taking a few simple precautions—so don't go running around barefooted and barelegged in the snake's home territory.
