CAMPUS HOSTS WORKSHOP FOR WOMEN AND MINORITY CONTRACTORS

The University of California, San Diego will hold a construction workshop for minority and women contractors Friday, February 20, from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. at the Institute of the Americas Building on the UCSD campus.

The purpose of the free workshop is to inform minority and women-owned contracting firms about UCSD's Affirmative Action programs in construction contracting.

Advance registration and additional information may be obtained by calling Jacque Sherman-Rustin at (619) 462-4711 by February 13.

Among the topics to be discussed will be Sole Source Contracting, Contracting Dollar Values, Bonding, Insurance, Working Capital, Bidding as a Subcontractor, and UCSD's Bidder's List.
