Queer Drum Circle

LGBT Resource Center, Family Room

-- Thursday, February 26th, 2009, 5:00 - 6:30PM

The Queer Drum Circle is a place where we gather to drum with others from the surrounding community. The drum circle offers equality because there is no head or tail. The event is open to all in the UCSD community. The main objective is to create and share rhythm in order to get in tune with each other as well as forming a group consciousness. As a group the goal is to build community by encouraging new and collective voices that emerge from the group as we drum together.

Friday Night Movie: For The Bible Tells Me So

February 20th, 2009, 4:30 PM

We meet five Christian families, each with a gay or lesbian child. Parents talk about their marriages and church-going, their children's childhood and coming out, their reactions, and changes over time. The stories told by these nine parents and four adult children alternate with talking heads - Protestant and Jewish theologians - and with film clips of fundamentalist preachers and pundits and news clips of people in the street. They discuss scripture and biblical scholarship. A thesis of the film is that much of Christianity's homophobia represents a misreading of scripture, a denial of science, and an embrace of quack psychology. The families call for love.

2009 Transgender Leadership Summit Registration

University of California, San Diego

-- March 27th - 29th, 2009

The 2009 conference theme is "Stonewall to Today: Building Powerful Transgender Communities". We recognize the importance of creating a space for transgender people and their allies to learn how to advocate for their communities through workshops, skill building, networking, and leadership development opportunities. The cost of this event is $25 and is open to individuals of all skill levels who are involved or interested in advancing civil rights for transgender people in California. No one will be turned away due to lack of funds. We look forward to seeing you there! Registration and more information is available here.

4th Annual Queer People of Color Conference

University of California, Davis

-- April 3rd & 4th, 2009

This is a call for workshops to be held at the conference. The theme of this year's conference is "Building Communities through Art, Action, and Resistance." We highly encourage workshop proposals that break away from traditional ways of thinking and embrace somewhat unconventional, nonconformist ideals of community. In your proposals, we would recommend that you involve or incorporate an interactive task between the people involved in the workshop. This can be done before, after, or during the workshop. Your Proposal should include the following: A 200 word/abstract/summary to appear on the conference program, an outline of the workshop, names of presenters/organization. To submit proposals and/or if you have any questions email the conference organizers at qpocc2009@gmail.com.

The image features a central painting of a tree. The tree's trunk and branches are rendered in dark brown and black tones. Within the branches, a human figure is visible, appearing to be part of the tree's structure. The background of the painting is a vibrant red circle, which is itself set against a larger, textured blue and purple background. The overall style is expressive and somewhat abstract.

Friday Night Movie: Kinky Boots

March 13th, 2009, 4:30 PM

Charles Price may have grown up with his father in the family shoe business, but he never thought that he would take his father's place. Yet, the untimely death of his father places him in that position, only to learn that Price & Sons Shoes is failing. While in despair at his failed attempts to save the business, Charles has a chance encounter with the flamboyant drag queen cabaret singer, Lola. Her complaints about the inadequate footwear for her work combined with one of Charles' ex-employees, Lauren, leads to a suggestion to change the product to create a desperate chance to save the business: make men's fetish footwear. Lola is convinced to be their footwear designer and the transition begins. Now this disparate lot must struggle at this unorthodox idea while dealing both the prejudice of the staff, Lola's discomfort in the small town and the selfish manipulation of Charles' greedy fiancée who cannot see the greater good in Charles' dream.

"While we have come a long way since the Stonewall riots in 1969, we still have a lot of work to do. Too often, the issue of LGBT rights is exploited by those seeking to divide us. But at its core, this issue is about who we are as Americans. It's about whether this nation is going to live up to its founding promise of equality by treating all its citizens with dignity and respect."

"Artability" Art Show & Reception

Cross-Cultural Center

-- Saturday, March 14th, 2009, 5:30 - 8:30 PM

The heart behind this art show is to challenge stereotypes about disability and blur the lines between what culture calls "disabled" and "able-bodied" people. Through the unifying medium of art we can come together and celebrate all human creativity. We will be featuring multi-media artwork from people with and without disabilities from all over San Diego. Featuring free food, music and interactive art-making! All are welcome.
