Oppression of Our Identities: Hate Crimes and Suicide

Wednesday Oct-20-2010

5pm-7pm, at the UCSD LGBT Resource Center Conference Room

We all have identities that are oppressed, and at the same time, without thinking, we oppress the identities of others. Dynamics of privilege and oppression lead to groups and individuals feeling devalued and at times worthless. Although each person is fundamentally valuable, oppression leads to incidences of hate, and, as can be seen through the five incidences currently in the news, can lead to suicide. What can we do to remedy this?

How do we heal our communities? How do we make each individual understand theirs and others fundamental worth as human beings?

Come learn and discuss. Snack and refreshments will be provided. For questions, comments, or concerns, contact cklemmer@ucsd.edu

Friday Night Movie presents...

The Rocky Horror Picture Show on Friday, October 22nd
4:30pm at the LGBT RC, Conference Room

Summary: It's the weird and wonderful as newlywed couple Brad and Janet encounter a problem when their car halts in the rain. They both look for contact only to find themselves at the castle of Dr. Frank-N-Furter a transvestite. A place to stay is offered, but will Brad and Janet want to remain there? Especially when a large group of Transylvanians dance to the 'Time Warp', Dr. Frank-N-Furter builds his own man and a whole host of participation for the audience to enjoy. (provided by IMDB)

“WTF Happened Last Year and What Was the Big Deal?”

WTF is going on at this University? Why is there so much talk about “campus climate?” What does the “Compton Cookout?” have to do with being queer? Is there really a problem of racism at this school and within the LGBT community? If you find yourself asking these questions or if you are looking for a space to talk about the events of last year within a queer context then “WTF Happened Last Year and What was the Big Deal?” is the program for you! Come see what the “Compton Cookout” and other subsequent events were all about and UCSD participates in the perpetuation of structural oppression. Also, come to discuss how queer people can contribute to anti-racist practice at this campus and at the LGBT resource Center.

When: Wednesday October 27th 2010, 5pm-7pm

Where: LGBT Resource Center Conference Room

Snacks and Refreshments will be provided. For any inquiries or concerns feel free to e-mail Albert Orona at aorona@ucsd.edu

Dear Shaun and Anthony:

I'm delighted to congratulate you for the UC San Diego LGBT Resource Center's most recent accomplishment: the 2009 San Diego Pride Parade "Spirit of Pride" award. Our campus center was honored as the best entry from a non-profit organization.

The "Spirit of Pride" award is a well deserved honor and one that your UC San Diego campus community colleagues recognize as particularly fitting.

On behalf of everyone at UC San Diego, I offer our sincere thanks for your efforts and our best wishes for your continuing good fortune and success. Congratulations!

With warm regards,

Gender Blindness

And

Attraction

Monday November 1, 2010

5pm-7pm, at the UCSD LGBT Resource Center Conference Room

Is love blind? For some, it might be. What does it mean to identify as pansexual or omnisexual? How does pansexuality differ from bisexuality? Where do you fall in the continuum of sexuality? Questions and more questions...but answers and insight will be provided, as well as snacks and refreshments! Hope to see you for an enriching and interactive exploration of identity and its many variations.

black./womyn.: conversations with lesbians of African descent black./womyn.: conversations with lesbians of African descent is a feature-length documentary focusing on the lives and views of lesbians of African descent from various backgrounds. The documentary is structured by interviews—"conversations"—the director had with each of the women. It features candid interviews with black lesbian women discussing coming out, sexuality and religion, love and relationships, marriage, patriarchy, visibility in media, discrimination and homophobia, activism, gender identity, Black lesbian youth and elders, balancing gender/race/sexuality, and, finally, what it means to call oneself a Black lesbian today.
