The American Broadcasting Company has decided to devote two showings to a television program featuring Carl L. Hubbs, Professor of Biology at the University of California's Scripps Institution of Oceanography.

The program, called "Meet the Professor," will be presented over the ABC network on Sunday, May 12, and Sunday, May 19. The Network officials said that the unusual nature of the work depicted brought the decision to devote two half-hours to the program. Much of the program was filmed on a trip aboard a Scripps Institution research vessel.
