

Neal Lane, the director of the National Science Foundation, will conduct a Town Meeting at the San Diego Supercomputer Center, Oct. 25

October 21, 1994

MEDIA ADVISORY

EVENT: Neal Lane, the director of the National Science Foundation, will conduct a Town Meeting at the San Diego Supercomputer Center.

DATE/TIME: Tuesday, October 25, 8 a.m-9:30 a.m.

LOCATION: San Diego Supercomputer Center Auditorium on the campus of UCSD. Take 1-5 to Genesee Ave. west, Northview entrance of campus to Matthews Drive, left on Hopkins Drive, past recreation area to SDSC on right (building with satellite dish on top).

LOGISTICS: Lane will present a brief talk on the "Future of Scientific Research" in the United States, and then will answer questions from the audience (including the media).

Please RSVP and submit your questions in advance by 9 a.m., Monday, August 24 to Ann Redelfs at SDSC or Warren Froelich at UCSD. If time permits, Lane will respond to questions directly from the audience.

BACKGROUND: The San Diego Supercomputer Center is one of four such centers established in 1985 with the support of the National Science Foundation. Its mission is to advance computational science and engineering within the academic and industrial research communities.

SDSC, located on the UCSD campus, is administered by General Atomics, a research and development firm.

CONTACTS: Ann Redelfs, SDSC, Tel: (619) 534-5032

or FAX: (619) 534-5113 or redelfs@sdsc.edu

Warren Froelich, UCSD, Tel: (619) 534-8564 or FAX: (619) 534-1407 or wfroelic@ucsd.edu