BANK OF PAPUA NEW GUINEA KINA FACILITY RATE FOR JUNE 2003

After careful assessment of the current economic conditions and inflation outcome for March 2003, the Central Bank increased the Kina Facility Rate (KFR) by 1.0 percentage point to 16.0 percent for June 2003.

The inflation outcome for March was much higher than anticipated and recorded an annual headline consumer price index increase of 20.7 percent in March 2003. The increase in inflation was attributed to a number of factors: the rapid depreciation of the exchange rate last year, the increase in school fees paid by parents as a result of reduction in education subsidies this year, the increase in excise on tobacco and cigarettes, significant increases in the prices of fruit and vegetables and the injection of liquidity into the financial system that has occurred due to continued issuance of domestic debt by the Government.

There are some indications of positive developments with respect to the developments in the agricultural sector. With the recovery in international prices, export volumes appear to be recovering in many sectors. The mineral and crude oil prices have also improved. The improvements in these sectors play a significant role in supporting the exchange rate and mitigating inflationary pressures.

The major threat to favourable inflation outcome and price stability for the rest of 2003 remains the fiscal operations of the National Government. The increase in KFR should be interpreted as a signal to the Government to restrain expenditure and lower its recourse to domestic borrowing. The commitment of the Government towards fulfilling the 2003 Budget, including the timing of the drawdown of the US$35 million from the Asian Development Bank (ADB), bringing to fruition the sale of assets, and continuation of the structural reforms to enhance economic efficiency are essential for lowering future inflation and ensuring macroeconomic stability.

Nominal interest rates on Treasury bills in PNG are currently very high mainly because the Government continues to borrow from the domestic market. Since the Government competes with the private sector for funds, increased Government demand for funds has crowded out private sector lending and investment. The increase in Government debt may thus be adversely affecting the Government's export growth strategy, which relies on private sector participation.

The Bank of Papua New Guinea remains committed to the objective of price and macroeconomic stability and will implement monetary policy for the benefit of all Papua New Guineans.

Catholics, Anglicans to sign historic covenant

On Sunday July 20 at St. Martins Anglican Church in Boroko, the Anglican Church and the Catholic Church in PNG will officially sign a special Covenant during an ecumenical prayer service starting at 4 PM.

In 1988 the bishops of the Anglican and Catholic Churches in PNG formed an Anglican/Roman Catholic Commission which has been meeting regularly to strengthen a growing respect for one another, to discuss their differences and to share their common faith in Christ. In 1995 this commission began to write a covenant expressing their desire to continue to work toward full visible unity.

While both the Anglican and Catholic Churches work closely with other Christian Churches in PNG, there has been a long tradition of a special relation between Anglicans and Catholics in PNG, which is expressed and strengthened by the Covenant.

The Covenant begins: 'believing in the will of God that all Christians are called to be one' encouraged by many years of dialogue' and wishing to respond to the pastoral needs of our people' we the bishops of the Anglican Church of PNG and the Catholic Bishops Conference, in the name of our clergy and people, enter into this covenant.' They go on to affirm that 'the Holy Spirit, having revealed a rich diversity of gifts in the Anglican and Roman Catholic communions while never ceasing to draw these communions into the fullness of ecclesial unity in Christ...now prompts us to overcome the separation which exists in doctrine and ecclesial life in order to achieve that full visible unity which Christ wills for his Church.'

While this Covenant does not mean that the two Churches have become one or that intercommunion is permitted between these Churches, it does represent an important step toward a fullness of unity.

The Covenant will be signed by Archbishop James Ayong, the Primate of the Anglican Church in PNG and Bishop John Ribat, the Catholic Bishop delegate for ecumenical affairs.

Christian media draw bigger numbers

A study by an evangelical Christian organisation shows new - and for some, troublesome - trends in how people encounter Christianity through the media. The Washington Times reported that the number of U.S. adults who encountered Christianity through mass media was more than the number who encountered it through organised religious gatherings

According to the study, 141 million Americans experienced Christianity last year through various forms of mass media such as books, movies and television, while 132 million people attended organised Christian services. The study, conducted by the National Religious Broadcasters (NRB) in 2002, reported that 52 per cent of the nation's adults listened to Christian music or other program on the radio, while 43 per cent watched Christian TV programs. Among evangelical Christians, 96 per cent counted themselves in the regular Christian TV or radio audience.

A representative for the 1,700-member NRB said the difference in numbers between people consuming Christian media and actually attending Christian religious services is "a wake-up call" for both congregations and producers of such media, the Washington Times said. The survey, conducted by California-based Barna Research Group, also found that 25 per cent of people who describe themselves as atheists, agnostic or non-Christians "had some degree of exposure to Christianity through the media." In other studies, Barna found that Catholics tend to encounter their religion less through media than through mass attendance and other activities. Of those that listen to Christian radio, only 10 per cent were Catholic while 75 per cent described themselves as Protestants. Likewise, 41 per cent of Protestant teens purchased a Christian book in the past year while only 25 per cent of Catholic teens indicated they had done the same.

Communicators meet in Fiji

Fr Martin We-en writes

Twenty-one communicators representing thirteen countries from around the Pacific recently gathered in Nadi, Fiji for a SIGNIS Pacific meeting and workshop.

SIGNIS, the World Catholic Association for Communication, arose out of the unification of UNDA and OCIC in 2001.

The workshop focused on priorities that SIGNIS had previously set itself: Advocacy Media Education Women in Communication, Theology and Communication Production and distribution Communication and spirituality

Facilitators for the workshop were Fr Jerry Martinson an American Jesuit based in Taiwan, known throughout Asia as

"Uncle Jerry" from his television programme which has been running for many years in that part of the world and Mr Augustine Lorthusamy from Malaysia, the vice president of SIGNIS International.

Fr Geoffrey Lee, the National Secretary of the Commission for Social Communications represented Papua New Guinea at the meeting. Fr Martin We-en, from the Diocese of Aitape, accompanied him.

Celebrating a life of service

by Zelia Cordeiro, SSps

A wonderful celebration in thanksgiving for a life spent as a Holy Spirit Missionary Sister in PNG.

In a solemn celebration, Sister Walfridis Walter, along with the Holy Spirit Sisters' community of Goroka, celebrated her Diamond Jubilee of Religious life. The ceremony took place at St. Mary's Convent on May 8.

Sister Walfridis was born in the Philippines in 1915. She joined the Congregation of the Holy Spirit Missionary Sisters in 1940. After initial formation in Religious life and teacher training course she was missioned to Papua New Guinea.

Sister Walfridis is a very gifted person. She is a teacher, an artist and musician, a very creative person indeed. She said that music is her special way of thanking God for the beauty of life and also for the mission experience she has had in PNG.

In 1952, she came to Papua New Guinea and her first mission appointment was to Alexishafen where she taught Religion in the catechists' school for six years while also looking after the library.

For the next 11 years of her life, in the Land of the Unexpected, Sister Walfridis taught Religion and Home Economics in Mingende - Vocational school. From Alexishafen, Madang and Mingende she has in numerous stories to tell her friends and community. Since 1992 she has been based in Sr Walfridis Walter with two of the Holy Spirit Sisters' celebrate.

Goroka.

Even though Sister Walfridis is 87, her memory is still very good. She is able to recall many things from the past, especially poems, riddles and jokes.

The liturgy was a Mass of Thanksgiving and joy. Fathers Patrick Hogan, John Ryan, Bill Siefert and Philip Gibbs, all SVD's based in Goroka, celebrated the Eucharist. Philippino friends were also invited to celebrate her 60 years of Religious Life.

Papa's association launched in Lae

A new Papa's Association has been launched in the Diocese of Lae.

The launching was celebrated at St Martin De Porres Parish, Papuan Compound with a Mass celebrated by Bishop Henry van Lieshout CMM, Bishop of Lae and co-celebrated by Fr Ansgar, the parish priest.

During his homily, the Bishop encouraged the Papa's to become more involved, to take a more positive and constructive role in the family, the Church and in society.

After the mass all those present shared in a roast pig and other food prepared by the Mama Klub of St Martins.

Treasurer and Member for Lae, Bart Philemon in his speech took up the theme of the bishop and challenged the Papas to become actively involved in helping to build a Papua New Guinea, which they could all be proud of.

The Lord Mayor of the city, Boyamo Sali urged the Papas to work with youth to help teach them to be constructive members of the community.

The idea of The Association of Katolik Papas came out of the endeavor of the Catholic Bishops' Conference held last year, to focus on Papas and their role in the Church, the family, the community and society.

Alphonse Palang, the vice president of the association commented that the formation of the Association of Catholic Papas of the Lae Diocese was timely, especially as its launching coincided with the year of the General Assembly. The new association is now challenged, he said to address the question of: ol man insait long sios: ol i sanap lukluk tasol, o ol i mas wok bung tu?.

Pentecost - a new spirit movement?

Rose Mary Harbinson, RNDM

If one were to go around Moresby and question people about the meaning of Pentecost, most would find it difficult to answer. However, if they were asked about the meaning of the Holy Spirit the answers would be anything from: 'The Holy Spirit movement?' or 'Yu tok long dispela Holi Spirit mi bin kisim long konfirmasio?' There would be an affinity, a familiarity with the term 'Holi Spirit' with most people because of the association with new churches and their ideologies of being 'slain in the Spirit', and the sacramental conferring of the Holy Spirit at baptism and later to confirm one's faith.

Yet if one were to say that this same Holy Spirit that they received at confirmation was the same we pray for at Pentecost, many people would not see the connection.

This feast of Pentecost has for many become overshadowed by Easter. With the so-called Spirit Movement, and transportation of the true meaning of the work of the Holy Spirit to some kind of a new 'religion', Christians have not been helped to fully appreciate this wonderful time of the Liturgical Year.

'Pentecost is at the same time an ending and a new beginning, in the sense that now the age of the Church begins'. This has been the understanding of the Christian Church for many centuries, that the sending of the Holy Spirit completed Christ's work of salvation, thus the beginning of the era of the Church, whose task it was to build up the reign of God on earth. The Holy Spirit, as the building force, fired and empowered the early Christians to go out to the world and eventually, through their missionary zeal, landed on these shores. Early missionaries came not to create a Spirit Movement, but to fire the hearts of women and men of Melanesia to work towards building the Reign of God.

The Liturgy over these weeks from the Ascension to Pentecost, and for the following weeks, reminds us how the first Christians were fired with this Holy Spirit. We learn of their model of community and faithfulness to the gospel. Those engulfed in the Holy Spirit did not develop a new religion or run into the bush or alienate themselves from the community but rather, worked together. i They devoted themselves to the breaking of the bread and the prayers' (Acts 2:42); 'day by day they spent much time together in the Temple' (Acts 2: 46). It was this witness to the work of the Holy Spirit among them that exerted a strong attraction i without any high-pressure salesmanship, or any external force or Prayer Crusades. The Acts of the Apostles tells us that from the very beginning they were praising God, and that 'day by day, the Lord added to their number those who were being saved.' (Acts 2:47)

Pentecost is a feast to celebrate, not only the coming of the Holy Spirit upon the Church, but to celebrate the Spirit within us since our baptism. The indwelling of the same Spirit who 'hovered over the waters' at creation, who led the Israelites to freedom, who overshadowed Mary, the Mother of Jesus, who led Jesus into the desert, who rose Jesus from the dead, came to us as a free gift at baptism. It is this same Holy Spirit who leads us now, revealing to us the God within.

If we could just believe that the Holy Spirit was hovering over the whole of creation, including Papua New Guinea at the beginning of time, then we would not have to import the Holy Spirit from another source. From the day of our baptism, we embraced the source of life and captured its fullness.

Maybe the problem today is that the Christian churches have allowed themselves to become fragmented, and fail to work together. Baptised Christians are all too readily exposed to many new ideologies. It is the purpose of the Liturgy during this time to give people a new focus and a chance to rekindle the first spark of belief and conviction that made them a community of believers. If communities would work and pray together, they would witness the presence of God here in Papua New Guinea, so that we wouldn't need to import the Reign of God from overseas!

It is only when 'God's Holy Spirit dwells within our hearts, work on behalf of God's reign, will succeed.' That is why we must pray for the renewal of the gifts of the Holy Spirit, and ask for an increase of wisdom, understanding, right-judgment, courage, knowledge, reverence, wonder and awe in God's presence. (Catholic Catechism, 1229).

Today, Pentecost is clearly seen as the culmination of Easter by celebrating the fact that 'Jesus was raised from the dead by the power of the Holy Spirit in order that through him, now seated at the right hand of God, the same Spirit might be released to all who believe' Pentecost is the day when we recall our baptism when we entered fully into the passion, death and resurrection of the Lord. On this day the gifts of baptism were given to us and we rekindle, set a flame again, that same commitment on Pentecost Sunday.

St Peter Erima Parish has taken the call of Bishop Cherubim Dambui seriously and has established a Catholic Fathers group. It is a group open to all married men and it aims to work side by side with other groups. About 30 fathers were commissioned at a ceremony led by parish priest Fr Paul Liwun SVD.

Remembering Fr Louis Ambane - 1944 - 21 May

A homily preached by Fr Michael McEntee rector of the Holy Spirit Seminary, at a Requiem Mass held for Fr Louis Ambane at the Holy Spirit Chapel

UNLESS A GRAIN OF WHEAT DIES

Texts: Rev 20:11-21:1. Jn 12:23-28

Louis Ambane was born in 1944 and received the sacrament of Baptism on 22nd January 1957. He received his first Holy Communion on the following day and was confirmed on May 31, 1957. He will be buried in the mission cemetery at Mingende just three days short of the 46th anniversary of his Confirmation.

The readings of God's Word that we heard remind us that our lives are in God's hands. His hands are ready to save us, to destroy all that would destroy us, named by Revelation as Hades, Death and the sea where the enemy Serpent lives. But, like a grain of wheat, we must die to many selfish things in ourselves if we are to produce much fruit and, in that way, give glory to God.

So, if we accept that the Word instructs us that Fr Louis is in God's hands in the hour of his death, should we not also spend a little time while we are gathered together as a community of faith in remembering how God's hands have held up Louis Ambane from his birth in Simbu 59 years ago until this day when we come together to pray for him?

To traverse the Simbu valley is to behold one of the specially beautiful places of this earth. The justly famed alpine regions of Europe do not outdo Simbu where the highest peak is the same height as the highest mountains of Europe. Picture yourself confined in the deep valley, your eyes always drawn upwards, first to the mountains and then to the startling blue of the sky that seems to soar ever upwards, even to heaven itself. Hear the rumble of the streams rushing down the sides of the valley and joining the river, see the people going to wash and refresh themselves in the clear waters. Admire the terraced gardens. The gardens built by the Simbu people in the volcanic craters of Port Moresby are faint reminders of the breath-takingly difficult terrain in Simbu on which the people have gardened for tens of centuries.

Imagine yourself coming to know every vista that appears as the high-way winds its way up the valley through Ombondo-Koglai, Goglime, Womatne, all the way to Denglagu. And always the massive stone face of the valley broods above you, hiding death itself in the caves that dot its surface. Here the earth's spine is bare to see.

Louis was born only 10 years after the first missionaries passed through the valley. One of our students boasts modestly that it would have been one of his uncles who, defending his community from the rash shooting of their pigs by a headstrong missionary, shot another through the neck with his arrow. It was December 16, 1934 when Fr Morscheuser died. Ten years later nothing much would have changed. The world described by Louis Ambane's mentor and friend, Ignatius Kilage, in his book, 'My Mother Calls me Yaltep', would have been the world in which young Louis grew up - the village arrangements, the initiation of the young boys, the courting and bride price rituals that Kilage tells about would all have been known by Louis. Perhaps that explains why his baptism took place at the age of 13 years. The faith community was still in its infant stage.

At the age of 16, at Kondiu, he passed grade 6. On his application to join the minor seminary in Rabaul, Fr John Wald wrote: "Having taught him in standard 6, I can say that he is a good boy, and has a good and pleasant character." Seven years later, after completing studies in Rabaul, the rector wrote, in Latin, about Louis: Character - moderate; judgment - sound; will - strong; piety - solid; application to study - excellent; intellectual ability - average; relationships - docile with teachers and warm with his fellow students.

Then followed six years here at Bomana. We can imagine how that dreaded evaluation - excellent application, average intellect - would have led him through many small deaths as each term's assessments approached. But in such choices, the grain of wheat that dies does produce fruit. Another dreaded combination - love and vocation - led to Bishop Cahill recommending Louis, at 27 years of age, to take a year to make a firm and clear decision for one of them. He was ordained priest, the second of his race, in Goglime on the December 10, 1973.

His priestly life continued until the day of his death. For almost 25 years he led the life of a tried and tested and talented diocesan priest. He was down to earth, never angry and always ready with a smile. His gifts of friendliness and patience, his firm will and sound judgment drew the gratitude of his parishioners and attracted the attention of his superiors. He was called to serve in national chaplaincies - to the Royal Papua New Guinea Constabulary, for eight months with the Papua New Guinea Defence Force in Bougainville, and here at the seminary as vice-rector of the Diocesan College in 1987 and 1988.

This priest with an eye for justice made the contestable decision to stand for political office. Archbishop Kurtz, who was Louis' bishop at the time, said in an interview in last Thursday's edition of Wantok newspaper that he had done his duty as bishop in warning Fr Louis of the consequences of this move. Despite this, the two remained friends and in contact in the years since 1997. Fr Louis explained his decision to many people, "Mi sori long ol pipel bilong Simbu."

He knew that his priestly service helped the people of his parishes and those to whom he was chaplain. Yet his statement that he had a heart for all the people was at the basis of his desire to see change for the better come about for all the Simbu people. He was as good as his word.

There was never any suggestion that one electorate or district was favoured by him over all the others. He was strict with the use of money in the provincial government and with those who came asking contributions from him. He would fire public servants whose worth or behaviour was doubtful, one was fired after being unfortunate enough to overturn his famous Suzuki. He was in the habit of feeling the hand of those who came seeking assistance. Those whose fingers were smooth, he would take to the didiman store and buy a shovel and grass knife for them. To those whose hands were worn and rough, he would give K10 for a PMV fare.

Once elected governor, he took care to be a spiritual guide as well. He would carry a Bible to his speaking engagements and quote a message, usually from the Book of Wisdom, on these occasions. Others have testified clearly to the impact he had on politics in Simbu. When the day comes that elections can be conducted without gifts, let alone bribes, and people will be cared for equally regardless of whom they voted for, that day will have been, at least in part, the fruit of Louis Ambane's decision to remain a priest in politics rather than to be one who might have abandoned his priesthood: to be in politics. Once, he spoke to Fr Luke Apa and me about the political atmosphere that pressured him to abandon his standards of fairness and truth, but he did not yield. He said to some, "I am living priesthood; politics is just the clothes that I wear."

He took us to a restaurant for lunch. It was a day of celebration. Bishop Kurtz had, on the previous day, given permission for him to celebrate Mass again, though in private. The last time I spoke with him was before his illness was diagnosed last year.

I spoke just now about the pressure he felt to abandon his standards. At the Kokopo camp after the 1997 election, while the others were socialising at the bar and joining in the dancing, he was in his room praying. He publicly declared that, were he successful in 2002, he would not stand again. He would undergo the mandatory two years suspension after leaving office and resume pastoral life. Last November, the seminarians reported to me after the end of year barbecue that he attended here that he had told them, "With me, it's enough. I don't want you going into politics."

The Catechism of the Catholic Church

Bishop Francesco of Goroka writes

Let's continue the exploration of the faith taken from the Catechism of the Catholic Church

THE TRINITARIAN EXPRESSION OF FAITH

Father.

The word 'Father' indicates that God is the origin of everything. Because he is the origin of everything it means that nothing existed before him. He created everything that exists out of his own power. It also means that as a Father he cares for everything that he has created. He cares especially for us human beings brought into life by his own will.

Son.

God sends his only Son to reveal to the world his plan of salvation. Jesus reveals God as Father to us by calling him Father, Abba. He also reveals that he and the Father know each other completely and that there is no secret among them. They are one in mind and purpose.

Spirit.

Jesus promised us the Holy Spirit. The Spirit who is together with the Father and the Son is revealed to us when Jesus sends him to the Apostles and to the Church in order to continue the work of revealing God's plan of salvation to all the people of the earth.

Father, Son and Holy Spirit form a unity called the Trinity. This unity is expressed by referring to them as ONE GOD. At the same time they have their own identity expressed by the names of FATHER, SON AND HOLY SPIRIT.

The Church professes her faith by saying that there is only ONE GOD in THREE PERSONS. When we are baptised we express this faith of the church by praying 'in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit' (Mt 28:19).

God the Almighty

God created everything and can do everything. His power is loving because he cares for everything that he created. At the same time a question may be raised when suffering and hatred are visible realities among people. "Where is the power of God? The answer is only in looking at the cross of Jesus as the sign of God. In pardoning the sins of humanity, God reveals his love and invited us to love him in return. Because Jesus followed what God wanted, he was exalted above everything in heaven and on earth.

The power of God is revealed in creation. 'In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth' (Gen 1:1). This first line of the Bible is a profession of faith expressing that in creating everything God has a plan to share his own life with all his creation so that everything becomes the glory of God.

God created out of nothing

Before God nothing existed. It was only because of his power that things came into existence. It means that everything is subjected to him. He created with wisdom and love. There is nothing evil in God and he cannot transmit evil into his creation; God saw that it was very good (Gen 1:4).

What did they do?

"They did ordinary things in an extraordinary way"

by Sr. Zelia Cordeiro, SSPS

The Holy Spirit Missionary Sisters and the Society of the Divine Word are full of joy as they look forward to the Canonisation of their founder - Blessed Arnold Janssen, and Blessed Joseph Freinadmetz, the first SVD missionary to China.

The Canonisation will take place in Rome on October 5, this year.

Blessed Arnold Janssen was a man of deep faith and prayer. He was a man with a great mission vision. He started three Mission Congregations (SVD- Divine Word Missionaries, SSPS Sisters, Servants of the Holy Spirit, SSPSPA - Sister, Servants of the Holy Spirit of the Perpetual Adoration) fully dedicated to the mission of spreading the Good News to the whole world.

One of the first SVD missionaries was Blessed Joseph Freinadmetz, who became a great missionary to China. He was from Italy but through dedication to his mission in China he became identified with the people of that country, something he had always wanted. He will be canonised together with his founder.

The first six Divine Word Missionaries arrived to PNG, in Madang on August 13, 1896. Three years later they were followed by four Holy Spirit Missionary Sister who arrived in Tumleo (Aitape) to work with women and children.

Today you will find SVD Fathers and Brothers, and SSPS sisters working in many places in PNG. You can find them in several parishes and dioceses, in the Melanesian Institute and in the National Catholic Family Life Apostolate. They established and run the Divine Word University. They are involved in the National HIV/AIDS Office and many other Health Apostolates. They started Word Publishing and they work in the National Catholic Bible Apostolate and in many other places and institutions.

Today there are still 152 Divine Word Missionaries and 89 Holy Spirit Sisters working and ministering in PNG.

The main canonisation ceremony in PNG will take place at the Holy Spirit Cathedral in Madang, on October 31. The SVD's and SSPS Sisters are more than happy to welcome you to join them in this great time of grace.

They ask for your prayers for the guidance of the Holy Spirit in this Year of Grace for all SVDs, brothers and priests, and SSPS Sisters in PNG.

Secular Franciscan Order pays a visit

FR CARL Schafer OFM, National Spiritual Assistant to the Secular Franciscan Order (SFO) has recently paid a visit from Australia.

Fr Schafer came to run workshops in Aitape and at the Franciscan House at Bomana, Port Moresby for Spiritual Assistants of SFO here in PNG.

"Spiritual Assistants", he said, "are persons appointed to accompany members of each fraternity of the Secular Franciscan Order in their spiritual journey. As such they are key persons."

"The Secular Franciscan Order", he went on to say, "was a union of all local Catholic communities or fraternities throughout the world who live the gospel way of life and follow the example of St Francis of Assisi. They are normally lay people but also secular clergy can be members."

Fr Schafer went on to explain that the SFO has a close relationship with the Franciscan Friars, although it is an order in its own right. The friars have a responsibility to the SFO in establishing local fraternities, appointing Spiritual Assistants and in making regular pastoral visits.

The Friars, he also said, are also responsible for the union of the SFO and ensuring their faithfulness to the Catholic Church.

Fr Carl Schafer ofm, National Spiritual Assistant to the Secular Franciscan Order, delivers a talk at a workshop at the Franciscan Friary, Bomana, NCD

Worldwide there are over 430,000 members of the SFO, which makes them the largest component of the Franciscan family. They are established in 57 countries

The Secular Franciscans are open to men and women, single or married, who are over 18 years of age and are practicing Catholics who feel attracted by the life style of St Francis of Assisi. Secular priests can also become members of the SFO.

In PNG there are eight local fraternities with over 200 members.

General Assembly bringing renewal

by Kia Nema

Bishop Doug Young, Bishop Deputy of the General Assembly, in presenting his report to the CBC meeting held recently in Madang, said:

"The aim of the GA is to celebrate the unity and the identity of the Catholic Church of PNG. We are on target, as a growing number of PNG Catholics feel they are part of a national program. When the Bishops decided to hold such an assembly at the Annual General Meeting of 2001. It was hoped that the assembly process would lead to the renewal of the church of PNG. I believe this is happening.

There have been 3 meetings of the PrepCom, 2 Executive meetings and an opening gathering. The opening gathering of the Assembly was held in Banz in January 2003. There were 91 participants representing most sectors of the church in PNG. One important sector, education, was not well represented because of the time of the Assembly, so close to the beginning of the school year. The president of the Laity Assembly was also unable to attend because of his work in the education sector.

The aim of the opening gathering was to enable the participants to familiarise themselves with the issues presented in discussion booklets and to become motivated to promote the Assembly in their constituencies. The evaluations indicated that both these aims have been achieved. The success of these aims placed pressure on the Secretariat to provide the necessary materials, which proved very difficult due to unforeseen delays and the lack of staff to speed up the process.

The English and Tok Pisin videos are probably the best means of sharing with others what took place there. These tapes are excellent means of informing people of the General Assembly and stimulating discussion and participation.

There are indication that some people are beginning to tackle difficult issues such as land, localisation and the participation of the laity in decision making. Several dioceses are taking up the theme of sanguma / sorcery and this might be a significant topic for the coming year.

National institutions are beginning to integrate the Assembly into their national events. The recent Federation of Religious meeting took up the assembly as their theme. They commit themselves to participate in the GA process as congregations, apostolate and members of the parish and diocese. They will carry the discussion further at next years FOR meeting. The National Youth Pilgrimage will also be presented as the youth component of the GA.

General Assembly News from Around the Dioceses

Vanimo

Fr Tomy Thomas reports:

We are going ahead with the familiarisation of the GA to every parish in the diocese generally and in a detailed way to all the various associations operating at the diocese level. Also, majority of the topics in the discussion book are incorporated into our five-year-diocesan pastoral plan. The major seminarians of the diocese are also studying the booklet and discussing topics relevant to them. Also, most recently I spent a whole day with the Catholic Mothers explaining to them about the GA and the discussion booklet. They are happy and will make their effort to study further and celebrate the unity and the life of the church.

Aitape

Fr. Martin We-en reports:

The General Assembly was discussed at the Clergy Conference held from January 20-23. The priests were given the discussion booklets and ideas how to promote the GA in their parishes. In February, the Diocesan Team of Pastoral Animators allocated a day to discuss the GA in Nuku and Karaitem deaneries while giving a course on the Aitape Diocesan Pastoral Plan. GA was also presented and discussed in March, by 53 participants attending a six-week course on the Sacrament of Eucharist at the Pastoral Centre. Also, the English video was viewed. The DTPA newsletter 'Kaman Kirap' is giving regular updates for the GA in the diocese.

Lae

Fr Geoffrey Lee reports:

The Diocese of Lae, after a meeting of priests, laity and heads of departments set up a steering committee to look at how the diocese could best go about implementing The Year of the General Assembly. Consequently the Bishop issued a Pastoral Letter setting the process in motion. A workshop for facilitators was conducted with representatives from each parish are running various workshops looking at the discussion papers. There have also been workshops conducted with teachers and various student bodies.

Tok Pisin

The Tok Pisin version of the Discussion Papers which have been anticipated for are now ready at the General Assembly Secretariat at LCI, Goroka and Mount Hagen Archdiocese. Fr Albert Tuat and Peter Matbob were in Mount Hagen for a week to do the translation few months ago. Bishop Douglas Young did the final editing. The translation is now available in A4 sheets as well as on the GA web page.

The GA is looking into the possibility of doing a less than 10 minutes segment radio program with the help of Fr Marek from the Religious TV Association. Br. Michael Mc Manus Head of Communication Department at Divine Word University and Kewana Wickham have helped tremendously. Kia Nema was at DWU studio for a few days to do all the voice-overs late last month. Ms Wickham is currently preparing it to be aired shortly.

Pray for the soul of the dead to enter heaven

by Fr. Zdzislaw Karczewski SVD

The Bible speaks about heaven. It speaks about the existence of hell (Lk 12:4; Mk 9:43-44; Mt 25:41; Rev 14:11), but does it speak about purgatory? At first glance it might seem not. After having a second look, however quite a different discovery is made. The Bible does speak about purgatory, although the word "purgatory" is not explicitly mentioned.

Saint Paul, in his first letter to the Thessalonians speaks about body, soul and spirit (1 Thess 5:23), which are essential parts of every person. Jesus teaches about the immortality of the soul: Do not fear those who kill the body, but cannot kill the soul... (Mt 10: 28).

The soul of a dead person is very much alive. The event, which took place at Mount Tabor, proves it. Moses and Elijah two prominent figures from the past spoke with Jesus: And he [Jesus] was transfigured before them, and his face shone like the sun, and his clothes became dazzling white. Suddenly there appeared to them Moses and Elijah, talking with him (Mt 17:3).

Many souls of dead persons are already with God in heaven (Rev 7: 9-17; Rev 20: 4).

Paul has a great desire to leave his body, to die, and be with God: So we are always confident; even though we know that while we are at home in the body we are away from the Lord - for we walk by faith not by sight. Yes we do have confidence, and we would rather be away from the body and at home with the Lord (2Cor 5:5-8).

Saint Peter speaks the same language. He knows he will put off his body (he will die) in a short time ... Since I know that the putting off of my body will be soon, as our Lord Jesus Christ showed me (2Pet 1:14). God is the God of the living: Now he is God not of the dead, but of the living; for to him all of them are alive (Luk 20:38).

Every person is obliged to grow in holiness (1Pet 1:15). Without holiness no one will see the Lord (Heb 12: 14). Nothing unclean will enter heaven (Rev 21:27). All of us are sinners, all of us have sinned (Rom 5:12), although not every sin is deadly not everyone cuts us off from God: All wrongdoing is sin, but there is sin that is not mortal (1Jn 5:17).

After death, the soul of a person with no mortal sin is not ready to enter heaven yet. The soul stays in a prison, which in the Old Testament is called Sheol, state or a place for the dead: Therefore my heart is glad, and my soul rejoices; my body also rests secure. For you do not give me up to Sheol (Ps 16:9-10).

King Saul spoke to the soul of Samuel, which was called out of Sheol. (1Sam 28:7-20). Christ went in the Spirit to the prison to talk to the souls of those who died before (1Pet 3:19-20).

Christ suffered for us, died for us. He did so once and for all (Heb 10:10). But still He wants us to follow him, to imitate him. He invites us to share our sufferings with him: For to this you have been called, because Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, so that you should follow in his steps (1Pet 2:21). Whoever does not carry his cross and follow me cannot be my disciple (Lk 14:27).

God wants us to repent (Mk 1:15). Sufferings are an inseparable part of our lives. To accept them willingly is a sign of true repentance. We can use sufferings here on earth as expiatory means for our sins - that, which brings us closer to God. The Bible prepares us for this and for the sufferings, which await us after death. For everyone will be salted with fire (Mk 9:49). ... the work of each builder will become visible, for the Day will disclose it, because it will be revealed with fire, and the fire will test what sort of work each has done (1Cor 3: 10-15).

God might forgive sins but punishment remains. The Bible teaches us that the sin committed by David was forgiven him, but punishment remained; the child born of Bathsheba died. (2Sam 12:13-14). That story refers to every person: the punishment for forgiven sins remains. We have to do repentance for our forgiven sins while we are still alive (Heb 6:1), or we will have to do it on "the other side", after our death. The Bible bring us to that conclusion: Thus, when you go with your accuser before a magistrate, on the way make an effort to settle the case, or you might be dragged before the judge, and the judge hand you over to the officer and the officer throw you in prison. I tell you, you will never get out until you have paid the very last penny (Lk 12:58-59).

"It is a fact of divine revelation that the soul of every person who dies in the state of grace, but without having made sufficient expiation on earth for his forgiven sins, will undergo the punishment and purification of Purgatory before entering Heaven" (F. F.X. Schoupe, S.T. - Purgatory).

As God's family we are like branches of the same tree (Jan 15: 1-5). Our obligation is to help others; the law of love requires it. The souls of the dead are in need of our help, as the Second Book of Maccabees shows this: ...and they turned to supplication, praying that the sin that had been committed might be wholly blotted out. He also took up a collection, man by man, to the amount of two thousand drachmas of silver, and sent it to Jerusalem to provide for a sin offering. In doing this he acted very well and honorably, taking account of the resurrection (2 Macc 12: 42-45).

It is our duty to pray for the souls of the dead. God always listen to the prayer of the just: For the eyes of the Lord are on the righteous, and his ears are open to their prayer (1Pet 3:12). ...The prayer of the righteous is powerful and effective (Jas 5:16).

The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, which is the perpetuation of the same sacrifice made by Christ on Mount Calvary once and for all, is the most effective way to help the souls of the dead.
