

UC System Reacts to Berkeley Violence

UC San Diego

UCSD is now entering the third day of a strike that was called by the students in an open assembly Tuesday night. A large crowd, numbering about 800, crowded into the Revelle Cafeteria to discuss the appropriate reaction to the situation at Berkeley. After many speakers and speeches the crowd overwhelmingly approved a strike, with more substantive demands to be formulated later.

Wednesday night this body met again in the Revelle Cafeteria. This time the room was even more crowded, probably 1000 persons. After consideration of various demands and proposals, two demands accompanied by a preamble were approved. These demands called for the withdrawal of all National Guard from the Berkeley community and of all outside police forces from the Berkeley campus.

Wednesday at noon some 2000 persons assembled in the gymnasium at a convocation called and chaired jointly by AS President Tom Shepard and Chairman of the Academic Senate Walter Munk. The speakers on the program included Chancellor McGill, Sheldon Schultz, Linus Pauling, Herbert Marcuse, Angela Davis, and Jeff Benjamin.

Picketing and rallies have been the order of the day in the Revelle plaza the last several days. By Thursday the teaching process had nearly been brought to a halt. Most classes were cancelled, half-empty, or were discussing Berkeley and the strike.

The Academic Senate Wednesday called for "the immediate withdrawal from the Berkeley campus off all National Guard and off-campus police." They also urged their colleagues "to devote all regular classes to a discussion of the events on the Berkeley campus."

Dean Murphy stated that as long as the strike didn't involve coercion or disruption of those classes that wished to meet, he knew of no violations of university regulations. The mechanics of the strike are being coordinated by a Strike committee, the composition of which is often in flux. An original committee was disbanded yesterday and replaced by another of 15 members elected by those present in the plaza yesterday afternoon.

UC Santa Cruz

It appears certain that Santa Cruz will join in the Monday and Tuesday boycott of classes, although there is some confusion concerning the demands that have been agreed upon. The Strike Coordinating Committee there issued demands earlier in the week (printed in Strike Daily), but later reports indicate that, at a larger meeting of the general student body yesterday, new demands were formulated.

A meeting of the Academic Senate is scheduled for Monday to discuss the strike.

UC Davis

At a rally held on the Davis campus yesterday students voted to join the university-wide boycott currently scheduled for this coming Monday and Tuesday. About 2000 students gathered in the quad and more than half this number joined in a march to the administration building shortly after.

Chancellor-designate Meyers, who will replace the present Chancellor, who is leaving in July, addressed the students and presented proposals that related to various Davis issues, such as ethnic studies programs, in addition to expressing their support for Berkeley.

In the dialogue with Meyers that followed his address, he finally took a stand in support of the boycott of classes. He also agreed to send a telegram to Chancellor Heyns at Berkeley asking that the National Guard be pulled out.

A Steering Committee, consisting of the AS President, Aggie editor, and representatives of other campus groups such as BSU and SDS, planned yesterday's rally and will co-ordinate next week's boycott.

The Legislative Assembly, the student governing body, met last night to discuss the issue. The Davis Academic Senate meets today.

UC Irvine

On Wednesday students on the Irvine campus wanted to lower the flag to half-mast and to have classes called off on Monday. The administration declined to grant either, stating, according to AP News Service, that "only one student was killed in Berkeley."

The Freedom Fighters and the American Legion threatened to come on campus if the flag was lowered; one member did and got in a fight with a student.

At a noon rally yesterday some 500 persons, according to an L.A. Times estimate, voted to strike. An official conclave has been called by the administration for 10:00 a.m. today.

UC Santa Barbara

A rally attended by 1500 to 2000 students was held on the Santa Barbara campus yesterday morning. Although no real decision was reached, the general feeling of those present seemed to be in support of a two day boycott of classes next Monday and Tuesday, and a march into Santa Barbara for informational purposes.

The Chancellor has called for a convocation today and has called off classes after 3:00 p.m. He has also sent a telegram to UC President Charles Hitch asking him to remove the troops from the Berkeley area, and has asked the faculty to discuss the issues in their classes today.

A meeting of the minds occurred at Wednesday's Convocation as noted Professors Linus Pauling

Eight Receive Year's Probation

The fate of the eight students implicated in the blockade of the Marine recruiter on February 21 was revealed by Chancellor McGill this week. In a letter to each of the students the Chancellor announced that he was prepared to accept the findings of the Committee on Student Conduct and their recommendation for discipline.

Enclosed with the letter from the Chancellor were copies of the report from the Committee on Student Conduct, a minority report from the Committee chairman Dr. George Backus, and a letter from one of the students which qualified his position even though he had concurred with the majority.

The majority of the Committee found that the eight students "were present on the steps...with the intent of blocking the access to that building for Captain Stout, a Marine recruiter...and that the attempt at blockage was successful." Beyond that the Committee found this conduct violated Sections 3 and 11 of the University Standard of Conduct.

These sections define misconduct as: "obstruction or disruption of teaching, research, administration...University activities, including its public service functions..."; and "failure to comply with directions of University officials acting in the performance of their duties."

The disciplinary actions recommended by the Committee was probation, until June, 1970, and was accepted by the Chancellor. The students had until May 22 to appeal any of the findings or recommendations of the Committee. Having not heard any reply by that date the Chancellor will assume that they waive appeal and he will formally accept the advice of the Committee by placing the eight students on one year's probation.

STRIKE

The Strike made several important decisions at a meeting called last night at 6:30 by the new Strike Committee. The meeting attended by about 500 strikers, began with information reports from other campuses and a statement by President Hitch.

Then Craig Starr asked for striker support for a proposal that each of the UC's send a 100 member faculty-student delegation to Sacramento to present our demands to Governor Reagan. The proposal would be worked through the Associated Students. He got that support.

Linus Pauling again talked to us, putting the strike into an entire social/moral context.

The proposal to move Berkeley students, faculty, and classes to the other UC campuses until the National Guard and police are kicked off Berkeley was defeated after extended debate.

Another significant vote was to nonviolently demonstrate by forcing the Marine recruiter to pass through a mass sit-down in order to reach his recruiting station. The SDS announced it would abide by this decision and allow the Marine to recruit. "This vote is the only time the strikers have taken a stand on an issue that was not specifically related to Berkeley."

Perhaps the most important vote, however, was that to add another demand: "That the People's Park in Berkeley be reconstituted and restored to the people."

UC Berkeley

Berkeley was the scene of mass arrests today; at least 300 persons were arrested by the afternoon. National Guardsmen and observations helicopters were very much in evidence, but there was relatively little tear-gassing during the day.

Another confrontation occurred when several thousand students symbolically attempted to carry soil to the top of an AS co-op parking lot structure to build a park. Sheriff Madigan, who earlier stated that he was going "to bust anything that was attempted," quickly sealed off the area.

Outside of this, most demonstrators stayed in the Sather Gate and Sproul Hall area. Most of the stores in the surrounding area were closed.

KSDT reporters Steve Clark, Jim Johnson, and Dian Smith reported numerous beatings during the day. Clark and Smith narrowly escaped the police, but Johnson is thought to be in jail, as is ASUC President-elect Dan Segal. The ASUC is desperately trying to raise the $10,000 in bail necessary and is soliciting contributions from all campuses.

Meanwhile, various and sundry police are guarding the fenced-in People's Park.

UC Los Angeles

On the UCLA campus students are currently trying to decide what course of action to take after having occupied the administration building, Murphy Hall, for some twelve hours. After a noon rally Wednesday, students moved toward the hall and some 1200 crowded inside the building.

However, all persons were allowed to enter and leave, and no attempt was made to disrupt the normal business. The administration stated that as long as students conducted themselves in this manner no regulations were being broken.

At 11:00 a.m. Thursday, the students emerged and regrouped in Royce quad to discuss matters with BSU and Coalition members. An Academic Senate meeting was scheduled for 2:00 p.m. and many students crowded into the meeting or listened to the audio set-up in the quad. Some 600 faculty members attended the meeting and appeared to be almost evenly divided on supporting any boycott.

The inauguration of Chancellor Young is scheduled for today and he had previously cancelled all classes between 10:00 a.m. and noon. Now, in light of later developments, he has decided to forego the regular format of inaugurations, and address himself to the Berkeley issue. Classes are now cancelled for the entire day.

McGill Writes Open Letter

I have received several protests from representatives of the campus and San Diego press and broadcasting media alleging that participants in or persons observing the student demonstration of Wednesday, May 7, at the Registrar's office impeded or attempted to impede press coverage of that incident. Allegations have been made that cameras and reporters were threatened and that one reporter's notes were twice forcibly taken from him and destroyed. These reports, from all I can determine, appear to have considerable substance.

Such a state of affairs is intolerable in any community and can be neither defended nor excused when it happens in ours. UCSD must be committed, absolutely, to the principle of freedom of one's person. Threats, intimidation and verbal or actual assaults directed against anyone on this campus violate everything we stand for as a rational, community of scholars seeking truth. I will not abide such conduct.

Any future interference, attempted or real, with individuals properly on this campus and carrying out legitimate activities, including press duties, will open the offending persons to immediate separation from the university.

William J. McGill
Chancellor

Medical School

PRESIDENT HITCH:

The majority of students of the UCSD School of Medicine feel that the present situation in Berkeley is so intolerable that we are not attending classes in order to support and act upon the following positions:

(1) We deplore the present violence of both police and students in Berkeley.

(2) We condemn the overreaction of authorities in the indiscriminate use of firearms and tear gas against the Berkeley campus and community.

(3) We demand immediate removal of all troops and outside police from Berkeley to enable resumption of the normal functions of the University, schools, hospitals and general community. Following withdrawal, we urge peaceful negotiations between faculty and students over the issue of the people's park.

Faculty Needs a Little Jolt

Dear Editor:

The letter criticizing the bias of the Academic Senate meeting article was perhaps quite justified. However, I would like to point out that by-lined articles do not necessarily reflect the views of the paper. Furthermore, the intent of the article was to project the general mood of the students. These meetings provided a rare opportunity for good faculty-student communication on important issues and the faculty conduct could hardly be called commendable.

Perhaps a little jolt would induce the faculty to seek out better student relations.

Sincerely,
Paul Emus

Students in Season

The vast majority of students on this campus indicated unequivocally last Wednesday their support for the demands that police and troops be removed from Berkeley and the reign of terror instigated by the Governor ended.

We must realize that what has been occurring at Berkeley is nothing less than naked political oppression. The police have fired upon an unarmed crowd of people. The police have dropped noxious gasses from helicopters onto the Berkeley campus. They have beaten bystanders and newsmen. The Governor has applauded this barbarism.

As Linus Pauling said at the Wednesday Convocation, "We are tired of sending telegrams to those in power begging for justice." There is no such thing as rational discussion with those having a vested interest in exploiting people. Reagan has seized upon the park issue as a subterfuge designed to increase his support among voters in his bid for re-election. That people have been killed and maimed by this does not bother him.

However, the public outrage generated by this terrorism indicates that his actions may have backfired.

Every campus of the University of California is either striking or holding massive demonstrations to protest the police violence in Berkeley. Many state colleges have done likewise.

The secretaries employed at Berkeley are on strike. The Academic Senate at Berkeley has voted to close down.

Parents of Berkeley students have joined in the demonstrations. A Berkeley citizens' committee is demanding the removal of National Guardsmen, outside police, and the reinstatement of the Peoples' Park.

Many National Guardsmen threw down their arms rather than continue the violence.

The Chancellor of UC Davis, Dr. Meyers, has publicly proclaimed his support of the strike at Davis.

Such unilateral action demands our continued support. We must strike until Berkeley can breathe again.

There are certain dangers which must be guarded against in order to sustain the momentum of the strike. It appears at this writing that we have failed to develop a leadership which people can follow. This fact was manifested at the meeting Wednesday night. The group "in charge" was unable to either maintain unity or expedite the business on the agenda. The endlessly repetitive speakers were detrimental to the proceedings.

We feel that a reorganization of the Executive Committee is imperative. We suggest that it be constituted of at least 25 members, and that its meeting be open. Further, this committee should be empowered to make certain decisions, subject to review by the groups as a whole.

Until such changes are made, he strike is in danger of succumbing to all the usual maladies which afflict student movements.

In Sacramento yesterday Major General Glenn C. Ames, the state's National Guard commander revealed that there are 2,260 guardsmen in Berkeley. He also told a news conference that troops would remain there as long as the dissidents retained a capability of accomplishing their announced objectives.

When asked in Sacramento yesterday whether he was contemplating removing the guards as many have urged, Governor Reagan said, "No, I'm not."

Regents Hassled at UCLA Meeting

Last Friday's Regents meeting was perhaps the most tumultuous, comparing only with the Santa Cruz meeting of last October. Students succeeded in forcing the Regents to clear the room and recess for nearly a half-hour before they could continue with their business.

Nearly two-thirds of the 100 observers allowed into the meeting were members of Coalition, with a few members of right-wing organizations present. Immediately upon Chairman Higgs' gaveling the meeting to order, Lou Donaldson of the Coalition rose to demand that the Regents let him speak.

Higgs informed Donaldson that there were "proper procedures" for making such an address involving prior written requests. Higgs asked for a motion to wave the rules and Regent Dutton made such a motion. He commented: "I've criticized for a long time the failure of the Board to receive student comment. But as to interruptions, you're damn fools (the students) if you think this will get you what you want." In the voting on the motion Dutton cast the only "yes" vote.

The Regents went into a five-minute recess, the Coalition took a vote, and when the Regents went back to order, the students chanted, "We want to speak." The meeting continued with frequent interruptions until Hitch decided to order that the room be cleared.

One student was ejected forcibly and finally Chancellor Young addressed the galleries:

"No one regrets doing this more than I, but you must leave." The Regents recessed and the sheriff could be heard repeating, "I hereby declare this an illegal assembly; everyone except Regents, their guests, and the press must leave."

The students finally did leave and the Regents eventually got down to business, which was not much. They only item of interest was a discussion of the situation concerning People's Park, with UCB Vice-Chancellor Chidiet presenting the administration's case. Finally the Regents finally passed some sort of resolution supporting the handling of the administration and law enforcement officials.

Outside the Regents Meeting - or The Battle of Westwood

BY STEVE LANDAU

It is becoming increasingly difficult for the Regents of the University of California to conduct their business in their monthly meetings on the various UC campuses.

Student interest in Regents meetings began near the end of the last school year, when the Regents were discussing tuition; disturbances have occurred at nearly every meeting this year.

Last week's meeting at UCLA might just well be the last one on a UC campus; it will at least be the last without the continuous presence of the police forces.

As the Regents attempted to convene their open session inside the Faculty Center on the UCLA campus last Friday, a crowd whose numbers ranged between 1000 and 2000 gathered at the various entrances to the building, banged on walls and windows, ran across the roof, and finally faced the combined forces of campus security guards, LAPD, and Highway Patrolmen in tactical maneuvers.

A rally had been called for 12:45 p.m. by the Coalition, an umbrella organization for various campus activist groups. A crowd began to gather in the quad about half a block away from the Faculty Center and was entertained by the Guerilla theatre.

Shortly before 1:30 p.m., when the Regents meeting was to convene, they moved to the parking lot and street adjacent to the building. As the confrontation inside between the Regents and Coalition members among the 100 observers allowed in continued, chants of "ROTC off campus" from the crowd outside were quite audible to the Regents.

From the time when the observers were ejected from the meeting, matters quickly escalated. The police were able to hold most of the portions of the building's exterior, but on the east side students surged forward and started pounding on the walls and windows of the chamber in which the Regents were meeting.

The efforts of one cop to direct a water sprinkler onto students scaling the ice plant-covered slopes proved more humorous than effective, although the men in blue (and gray and black) were later able to regain their superiority in this strategic area. Some damage was done to the walls here and five plate glass windows were smashed in a faculty lounge in another part of the building.

After order was restored inside the building and the meeting resumed, further confrontations were limited to minor skirmishes in front of the building. One student was arrested after he staged an impromptu sit-in on the rooftop, as was another girl.

During the course of the day, two students were arrested according to official police reports. One student was booked on suspicion of assaulting an officer and another on suspicion of trespassing and resisting arrest.

By the time the meeting had ended and Reagan was holding his second press conference of the day in the north end of the building, the sound of police pursuing demonstrators across the rooftop made his comments almost inaudible.

As Reagan and the Regents attempted their exit, around 4:00 p.m., the crowd surged back and forth trying to find their cars, but were restrained by the police. Finally, the Regents were in their cars and ready to go, but one minor hang-up developed—they had forgotten the keys to the cars. This was taken care of and the Regents made their getaway.

Meanwhile, inside the building, UCLA Chancellor Young and the campus police were directing police operations. Initially a force of some 50 campus policemen were present, contingents having been flown in from Santa Barbara, Riverside, and San Diego. After a load of helmets had been brought in, the police were equipped in full battle regalia, but Young wanted more help. He called in the LAPD, and after a considerable delay they arrived—70 of them—with a contingent of 30 Highway Patrolmen (numbers according to a L.A. police sergeant), making a total force of 170 men in uniform.

Persons milling around the parking lot just outside the press entrance were greeted, at about 4:20 p.m., with the sight of an advancing column of some 30 LAPD, nightsticks drawn. Thus began the numerous police movements that continued for nearly an hour.

About 10 minutes later a panicked crowd stampeded down the street at the sight of advancing forces, several columns deep (followed by a police van) whose purpose was to clear the immediate area in front of the Faculty Center.

Student maneuvers were directed by bullhorn and the crowd regrouped in the quad after the cops had cleared the street and taken up positions along the sidewalk. After several other complicated maneuvers the police withdrew about a hundred yards. One campus policeman, when asked about the logic behind the police tactics commented, "I really don't know; I've never seen anything like this."

Throughout most of the police confrontation, the familiar cry "pigs off campus" was heard, but at this point the Bruin spirit reared its head. The demonstrators chanted "push 'em back, push 'em back, way back" and "go, Bruins." All in all, this more or less typified the mood of the crowd, with bongos setting the beat throughout the afternoon. The police were also more restrained than has often been the case; at least their action did not escalate as at Berkeley to tear gas and beatings.

Some cars in the area were damaged—mainly dented roofs that resulted from persons trying to get a better vantage point from which to view the action. One car was turned sideways in the street and used as a barricade for a while.

Taking into account the peculiar character of the UCLA campus, it was a most extraordinary day. Many of UCLA's 27,000 students are commuters and the campus has gained the nickname "the factory." From talking to persons beforehand, the general impression was that no mass student action had or could come off really well at UCLA. Furthermore, in-fighting between radical groups had destroyed the necessary unity in the past, and this rally was the real test for the Coalition, which was only formed this year and has not yet been too effective.

From the viewpoint of the Coalition, as expressed at a meeting after things had quieted down, the day was a success. Certainly what had happened during the course of last Friday was a new experience for the campus sprawled in the midst of plush Westwood Village.

Hitch Statement Defends Heyns

May 22, 1969—

All of us are saddened and disturbed by what has happened in Berkeley this past week, and I have thought very carefully what I might say to you to help ease the situation. One of the things that we all can do is to make sure we have the facts; on many campuses rumor has outstripped reality.

There have been rumors that Chancellor Heyns called in police forces outside Berkeley and the National Guard. This is not true. The outside forces were called by civil authorities.

There have been rumors that students have been killed during the demonstrations. This is not true. I am profoundly sorry that a young man visiting Berkeley died from injuries incurred on Thursday last, and that some students, law enforcement officers, and others have been injured, but no students have lost their lives.

There have been rumors that Chancellor Heyns is responsible for determining the tactics used by police and National Guard forces in controlling disruptive behavior. This is not true. I deeply regret that those in authority decided that certain tactics were necessary to protect persons and property, but these and other tactics are not the responsibility of university authorities. The outside forces are under the direction of the sheriff of Alameda County.

I have the utmost confidence in Chancellor Heyns. He is pursuing the solution to this terribly complex problem in all good faith, but he cannot do this job alone. The university's ability to survive and learn from this crisis will depend on all of us: students, faculty, staff, and community. We will need the goodwill and sympathy and constructive ideas and actions from all sides. We will need to be self-critical and understanding of all views. We must have a lowering of the scale of violence, and it is the responsibility of each of us as individuals to refrain from inflaming the situation at Berkeley or at any other campus.

RCG - - Vote May 28

APPELATE JURISDICTION:

The Committee shall hear all appeals of decisions of the Inter-hall Judicial Committee. Any defendant has the right to appeal. An appeal must be filed in writing within ten (10) days must be filed in writing within ten (10) academic days from the date on the letter sent to the defendant notifying him of the action taken. The appeal must be based on one, or a combination of, the following reasons:

1. There was a procedural error in his hearing that prejudiced his case or led to an improper conclusion by the administrative officer or committee.

2. The action taken was too severe in response to the violation committed.

3. There was an improper finding of fact based on the information available at the original hearing.

New Evidence

If a convicted defendant has new evidence that was not available at the original hearing he may request a new hearing. If the request is refused he may appeal within ten (10) academic days. REVIEW JURISDICTION OF THE COMMITTEE:

The Committee shall have the power to study decisions made by any lower judicial body in the College to determine whether or not their decisions are equitable and are consistent with the rules and regulations contained in Procedural Fairness. Findings shall be reported to the Revelle College Executive Committee and the Committee on College Affairs. Decisions of lower judicial bodies shall not be changed except under appellate jurisdiction.

At Berkeley a referendum was conducted on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday by the Associated Students. Turnout was heavy, with about 10,000 students having voted.

Two different items concerning the People's Park and the fee increase to support the Third World College were printed on each ballot for students to vote on as follows:

"We the Associated Students of the University of California endorse the preservation of the land currently known as People's Park as it was prior to Monday, May 12. We support the principle of its continued use and development by the citizens and students of the Berkeley community."

"We the Associated Students of the University of California at Berkeley approve a $1.50 fee increase per quarter for the specific purpose of supporting the interim department of Ethnic studies and the future Third World College. Should the establishment of the department be prolonged, the ASUC Senate has the power to divert the funds to the Educational Opportunities Program."

"This fee increase shall begin in the Fall Quarter, 1969. It shall be up to the ASUC Senate to see that the funds are appropriated for the general purposes stated above."

The American Civil Liberties Union of Northern California, Berkeley-Albany chapter, urged last night the immediate suspension and removal from office of Alameda County Sheriff Frank Madigan. The ACLU statement asked who was responsible for the massive and deliberate use of governmental force now on the campus area. The ACLU is informed that Madigan is acting as chief law officer in control of all forces in the area.

As such ultimate responsibility for the issuance and use of armaments and weapons and the employment and control of troops must rest with him. Excesses of the past week have demonstrated conclusively that he cannot safely be trusted with this power.

The ACLU statement also called for a complete investigation of all events of the past week and emphasized that this investigation must be made by a competent and impartial agency. The ACLU does not feel that the Alameda County Grand Jury is qualified by to conduct this type of investigation.

All-Cal Intramurals Attest Triton 'Skill'

Last weekend, May 16-18, UC SD participated in the seventh annual All-Cal Sport Festival held at UCSB.

Some 336 students from the eight UC campuses competed. All competition was round robin. UC SD did very well considering the calibre of competition they faced.

We were not one of the top four schools in the eight-school gettogether. However the Tritons did do well in such areas as women's tennis, in which Vicki Hogan and Sandy Bille place third. Women's basketball was really a gasser, as was women's volleyball. The girls really gave their all in these two team activities.

Men's team competition was hurt by the lack of a Triton Intramural soccer team. The volleyball was as well as could be expected, since the team members had had no chance to work together. Men's tennis won some and lost some. Fred McClair and Dennis Murry, the tennis representatives for the school, both played well.

In badminton Suda Rangnekar was the only male participating, and he played well against some real fine competition. The full results of this event will not be available until the summary sheet is sent out by UCSB.

Co-ed softball, which we really hoped to win, got out of control when the Tritons encountered "Woman Power"—the girl PE majors of other schools, that is. Women's badminton did exremely well for two girls that were brought together in the hours before leaving for UC SB. Edith Whitlock and Kathie Hoffer were the very fine women's badminton players for UCSD.

Intramurals at UCSD:

Changing the subject back to the everyday world of intramurals around campus, one notices that men's softball is now in full swing. The Toledo Mud-hens of C league lead the field with a 4-0 record. No one else has compiled such a record thus far—perhaps if we wait until the other teams have played four games the picture might change.

Men's water polo is going slowly, as according to the information sheet there has been no action at all. Threeman basketball has been quite popular with most of the gym crowd lately. Games are played almost every night of the week. Leaders of each league will be posted as soon as all teams have reported in the results of their games.

Co-ed softball playoffs are still in the second round, but they are heading into the third round as this week ends. One game will be replayed under protest after having gone ten innings, due to some alleged misjudgments by the umpire. This was a real hot game and will be played again Sunday at 12:00. Spectate at your own risk!

Tennis

The Triton Netmen made an impressive showing last weekend at Redlands where they competed in the NAIA District III Tennis Tournament.

UCSD took third place, with an 11 point total, competing against 12 other schools. Redlands, the National NAIA Champions for the last three years, finished first and Clairemont, the favored national champions, placed second.

UCSD's Steve Terre, a Junior from Englewood, beat the 3rd seeded singles player—Robbie Moore from Pomona College, and Triton Goedel defeated Cal Lutheran's 6th seeded player. Tritons Jim Hoffman and Steve Terre went into the semi-finals doubles matches.

Coach Bill Yeomans praised the team stating that "Everyone played their best tennis of the year, competing against the top 6 teams in the country." He also said that the Tritons will have a good team next year with returning Freshmen—Steve Terre, Dave Goedel, Mernie Gerlach, Bill Adams and Sophomore—Winston Potts.

Track

Tom Wolfe will represent UCSD in the Small College Track Nationals in Montana if his leg injury has improved by the date of the event. Wolfe is the Triton long jumper, and hopefully he will be able to cap off his successful season by competing in the Nationals, for which his performances have qualified him.

Head-Busting

The Alameda County Sheriff's head busting team turned in one of their best performances of the year last weekend. Taking one of the most trivial of excuses available, they got in an unscheduled weekend game.

Success of their workout was indicated by the notable rise in patients at the nearby hospitals, and the action was climaxed by a stirring death.

The spectators really got their money's worth in this one, being actually invited to participate in the event. An unidentified member of the team scored a Big Kill (5 points), with a memorable use of the old I-didn't-know-it-was-buck-shot—but-I-lucked-out-and-plugged-him-as-he-ran-away trick. The California governor, who ultimately threw out the pitch of the season, was overjoyed at the results of the sporting event. The lucky governor, of course, has a season ticket.

Just when things were getting dull, and the spectators were starting to leave, the coach had the water boy fly over in a helicopter and GAS THE CROWD! If you don't think that renewed the crowd's interest in the game, you should have been there when they were taking their showers. Head-busting fans throughout California expressed their deep interest in this most trivial of games, and from the looks of things the Alameda County Sheriff team may play again this weekend. If all goes according to the governor's plan, this will not be the only weekend game. Other games will be held at Davis, Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, Irvine, Santa Cruz, and San Diego.

Crew

The UCSD lightweight eights rowed a fabulous race at the Western Collegiate Sprints on beautiful Mission Bay this weekend, finishing third in a field of seven. The lightweight eights nosed out San Diego State for third place, with an impressive 6:36.8 time. Long Beach State took first in this race, and UCLA took second.

The Triton lightweight fours won their event on Friday, in a three shell race. This gave UCSD a win and a third of the three races they entered. The other Triton entry, the heavyweight eights, gave a good account of themselves but finished out of the money.

The discussion of words as "tools" aroused my initial interest in Lexicon. Statistical tools implement my job in data processing, and I was concerned with the concept of a correlation between high vocabulary and logic.

I feel now that my participation in the vocabulary building program has made all forms of communication more meaningful to me. Command of an adequate vocabulary almost assures better means of expression and all of us want and need to be understood.

More of the words on the fringe of my vocabulary level are useable in daily conversation, and I am reading considerably more, not only for pleasure but to reinforce my present levels of achievement.

ARTHUR W. CHILDS
Data Processing

Lexicon offers a practical and proven plan for vocabulary building using Non-Linear Systems' new audio-visual equipment.

The fifteen programs range from elementary school level through the highest levels and are the results of 46 years of research.

Each student starts at his own level and proceeds at his own pace. The average improvement has measured in excess of four years (or grade levels) for the ten week course.

Memorial Day

Dr. Paul Horsch will be a Guest in Residence this Friday, May 23. Two informal discussions are scheduled: at 4:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m. in the Galathea guest apartment. Also a reserved dinner has been planned.

Dr. Horsch is chairman of the Religion and Eastern Studies Department of the University of Zurich, Switzerland, and an outstanding scholar and leading Sanskritist in Europe. He has an impressive number of publications in German, French, and English.

He is both an orientalist as well as a psychoanalyst who studied under L. Renou at the Sorbonne and C.G. Jung. For ten years he has been lecturing to American graduate students at the C.G. Jung Institute in Zurich. His voluminous (6th) book on the "Vedic Gatha Literature" (in German) has just come on the market.

The discussions are open.

The "Rejoice" folk mass with guitar accompaniment will be featured in the celebration of Pentecost at University Lutheran Church in La Jolla this Sunday.

UCSD students Bev Lintvedt, John Mattson and Kathy Shappee will serve as musicians. Campus Pastor John George Huber will preach on the theme, "The Whole Gospel for the Whole Man," based on the fifth Mission Affirmation of The Lutheran Church--Missouri Synod.

Worship begins at 10:00 a.m.

The chapel is located on the western edge of La Jolla's University of California campus, at the junction of La Jolla Shores Drive and North Torrey Pines Road. All are welcome. Child care is provided.

Plans are crystalizing for a dialogue with pastors and laymen who have concerns about the Lutheran ministry at UCSD. The open meeting is scheduled for Sunday afternoon, June 1, 3:00 p.m., at University Lutheran Church. Telephone 453-0561 for details.

An abbreviated "retreat" is set for the weekend of June 7-8. The event will include contacts with the black and brown students at UCSD who are interested in establishing the Lumumba-Zapata College, a talk by Rev. Provost Paul Saltman, and a sermon Sunday morning by former pastor Warren Timmermann, "A Radical Faith for a Turned-Off Generation."

CAMPUS STRIFE TO BE DISCUSSED AT BETH TEFILAH

The current wave of demonstrations, protests, and riots on American college campuses will be among the topics covered in a talk by Paul Hamburg to be given at Congregation Beth Tefilah at Sabbath Evening Festival Services on Friday, May 23.

The service will coincide with the second evening of Shavuot, the Pentecost Festival celebrated by Jewish people all over the world in commemoration of the Revelation of the Ten Commandments at Mt. Sinai three thousand years ago.

All student lockers in the Gymnasium must be cleared by Thursday, June 12. Personal items found in lockers after June 12 will be discarded. All equipment and clothing borrowed from the Department of Physical Education must be returned to the Equipment Issue Room by that date or reimbursement made to the department.
