

Calendar Item: Reconsidering Little Rock

October 3, 2007

Pat JaCoby

The 50th anniversary of the attempt of nine Black students to desegregate Central High School in Little Rock, Ark., will be marked with a Nov. 13-15 symposium at the University of California, San Diego. The meetings will include talks by Terrence Roberts, one of the original nine students, and Julian Bond, noted civil rights activist. All events are free and open to the public. For information call 858 534-1709 or visit <http://marshall.ucsd.edu/lr/9>.

Media Contact: Pat JaCoby, 858 534-7404