Power-sharing

PM Outlines Autonomy Agenda At Leaders' Summit...

The Somare-Temu Government expects to unveil a political and administrative power-sharing blue print for Papua New Guinea during the launch of the 40-year National Strategic Plan on the eve of the 34th independence anniversary celebrations in September this year.

And Prime Minister, Sir Michael Somare has directed the Working Committee headed by Secretary for Inter-Government Relations and Acting Chief Secretary, Mr Manasupe Zurenuoc to immediately finalize options for the country in readiness for the launch.

In response to calls greater autonomy by several provinces, the National Executive Council endorsed in June this year, the establishment of a Working Committee to be Chaired by Secretary for Inter-Government Relations to work in consultation with the National Strategic Task Force to design and formulate a national model of legislative and policy framework.

This framework will be used by the National Government to negotiate with provinces requesting greater autonomy.

In addressing the National Leader's Summit in Lae on 14 August, Sir Michael said:

"It is my intention that this national legislative and policy framework will not be designed along the same lines as Bougainville, but must be a model that is acceptable to all provinces.

He says the ideal framework encompassing policy and administrative arrangements must be accommodating, embracing and inclusive.

Sir Michael told the Summit that proper and meaningful sharing of powers can only be achieved through a three-tier system of government, comprising national, provincial and local-level.

"In this three-tier system, there must be clear separation of powers between provincial and national governments. And at the same time, there must be provision for transfer or delegation of powers between the two.

"There must also be allowance for a provision to enact provincial constitutions to implement their powers and responsibilities decentralized to them.

"The responsibility of local-level governments must be vested in the provincial governments, whose Assemblies must be made up of elected Members," he outlined.

The Prime Minister said it is his firm conviction that only through this system of government, PNG will be able to maintain and sustain national unity.

He said the national model for administrative and policy arrangements should be framed to accord greater financial control and increased revenue base, and for provinces to plan and implement provincial development activities and administer services with minimum interference from the national government.

"Substantial changes need to be made in the organization of the public service, where the level of administration conducted from the national government be reduced and increased in the provinces.

"Our biggest challenge since independence is how we maintain national unity.

"This can only be achieved through meaningful and participatory sharing of power at the national, provincial and local levels," Sir Michael expressed.

He said the national agenda is the maintenance of national unity, within which there is meaningful power sharing and participatory democracy.

Sir Michael appealed to elected leaders for their unequivocal support to progress this power-sharing proposal through Parliament. ■

Private-Public Partnership Vital For Agriculture

Deputy Prime Minister, Sir Puka Temu talking to Executive Director of PNG Mining Water Group Inc. Mr. Patrick Lombaia at the State Function Room after opening the National Development Forum.

Deputy Prime Minister Sir Puka Temu says the agriculture sector has a significant role to play in providing broad based income and employment opportunities to the vast majority of the population in the country especially those in the rural areas.

He said the sector has been the backbone of the country supporting eighty percent of the population for over seventy years although the mineral and petroleum industries have become leading contributors to GDP in recent times.

Sir Puka made this bold point when addressing the National Development Forum organized by the Consultative Implementation Committee (CIMC) at the State Function, Parliament House in Port Moresby early this month.

Sir Puka told the participants of the road map of challenges that hinders the development of agriculture sector in the country such as the diverse groups of farmers and their geographical locations.

"Developing the agriculture sector PNG is very challenging because of the diverse group of farmers with their diverse needs and expectations.

The challenges are made more interesting with greater diversities in climate, environment, economic, social and cultural settings', he assured farmers and participants of the forum.

Sir Puka said close analysis of the rural development scenario of PNG suggests that infrastructure; social, economic, governance and political factors are important obstacles preventing the agriculture sector from operating at close to its maximum potential in PNG today.

The Deputy Prime Minister said there is an avenue to overcome these trends and that is the Private-Public Partnership is a way forward to develop the sector.

"Therefore, a major challenge for us is to find innovative and effective ways to encourage and support private-public partnerships in developing the agriculture sector in rural areas of PNG.

"I believe that this approach will not address to some degree the issues of poor infrastructure and social issues but may also encourage multi-sectoral participation.

"This approach will also motivate the rural farmers to think the 1000 hectares as opposed to the current 1 to 2 hectares," Sir Puka said.

He said innovative incentive systems are based on a win-win concept are critical for the proposed partnership. ■

Carbon Trade Not Understood: Academic

An academic says a carbon trade is a complex issue that taken Papua New Guinea by storm.

Research Fellow and author at the National Research Institute, Mr Nalau Bingeding told a recent seminar that the allure of financial benefits, form a mechanism that is so complex and so poorly understood has created all sorts of problems for landowners and the recently established Office of Climate Change and Environment Sustainability.

"Carbon trade is a difficult concept for ordinary Papua New Guineans to grasp. Proper awareness and consultations need to be carried in order to promote the concept.

"It was developed to address global warming and climate change. However, it seems that Papua New Guinea is more focused on the financial benefits of carbon trade and not at the bigger picture," he said.

Mr Bingeding discusses these issues in his publication; 'Carbon Trade: Do we know what we are doing?' which was launched on August 13.

The publication argues that in order to make carbon trade a sustainable development issue in Papua New Guinea, a coherent REDD policy must be developed before the United National Framework Convention on Climate Change in Copenhagen in December.

He says benefit-sharing arrangements needs to be addressed properly with customary landowners, who own most of the forest resources in the country.

He says PNG also needs to look at developing other carbon trade alternatives to involve individuals and corporations, as well as a generic awareness.

Mr Bingeding also said PNG has no international obligation to reduce greenhouse gas emissions, however about 20% of greenhouse gases emitted into the atmosphere come from deforestation and degradation of forests in the developing world.

"We have forests, municipal waste and renewable energy that can be developed for carbon trade.

"However, we have concentrated more on REED and have not looked at other alternatives for carbon trade, which also contribute to the mitigation of greenhouse gas emissions and the resultant climate change.

"Thus, they should be given equal attention and developed for carbon trade," he said. ■

More Research Needed For Agriculture: Forum Reveals

The 2009 National Development Forum has revealed that more research and development in the Agriculture sector should be promoted to boost the sector.

The forum said the whole of government approach is very much required and taken into account on broader issues such as climate change, land shortage, HIV/AIDS, gender equalities and the Millennium Development Goals.

The three-day forum said there is a greater gap and lack of proper consultations that lead to no ownership of agriculture plans in Papua New Guinea.

It also revealed the department of agriculture and livestock needs to be appropriately structured for the benefit of monitoring and implementing of the national agricultural plan and must legitimise the policies in institutions already in place.

It also raised concerns that funding for agricultural projects have not filtered to appropriate levels of government institutions and land issues and disputes hinder agriculture development.

The forum also recommended that agriculture and rural development should focus on eighty percent of the rural people in order to alleviate poverty and raise living standards.

One of its recommendations, it revealed that the current private - public partnership approach is very poor with no or poor coordination in the provinces and right down to the districts all round the country.

It also recommended that there is a greater need to rethink and rewrite the existing legal framework to changing agricultural environment and practice. ■

We'll Work Together: Forum Told

Acting Chief Secretary to Government Mr. Manazupe Zurenouc told the recent National Development Forum held in Port Moresby that they must all work together to achieve maximum results.

When closing the three-day forum he promised participants that he will take into account the recommendations made and will recommend to the National Executive Council.

But he told them, "we will all work together as a team to make these recommendations a reality in the livelihoods of our people and our own benefits".

High on the agenda was the agriculture sector with the theme of the forum 'Opening Up Opportunities for Agriculture and Rural Development' Mr. Zurenouc said work is back at the village and all should work together to make it work.

He said the National Agricultural Development Plan recently is not going well but all concerned must find ways to work the land and get tangible results.

He said there is also no proper management of the National Agriculture Development Plan as viewed by donor partners.

He assured farmers that PNG has a bright future through them if they are provided with accessible opportunities where they must armed with tools to fight crop diseases affecting crops.

He said there is a greater need to maintain roads and bridges and lack of awareness drive in the communities is far more a need to need concern.

"Communities and infrastructure are vital elements for rural farmers and agriculture development in Papua New Guinea".

He said agriculture sector as said sustains the livelihoods of ordinary citizens and we must all make our hands meet to get the best out of it.

He told them that there are avenues like the corporative society, which is vehicle available in the agriculture sector which is vital to focus on rural development. ■

Two Hundred Houses For Public Servants

Public Service Minister and Member for Ialibu-Pangia, Hon. Peter O'Neill chatting with PM Somare recently.

O'Neill Outlines District Authority Role

Minister for Public Service, Hon. Peter O'Neill said the proposed District Authority will promote accountability and improve service delivery.

Speaking at the Public Service Commission Stakeholders conference in Port Moresby last month, Mr. O'Neill said there was a need for a re-structuring of our system, of government to address failures in service delivery.

The Minister said it was imperative to establish a system of District Authorities to satisfy all constitutional, political, organizational and service delivery requirements.

The proposed District Authority will devolve decision-making and implementation to the level closest to the people, Mr. O'Neill said.

He said it also clarify and strengthen the role of the 89 Open Electorate Members of the National Parliament in local decision-making and implementation.

The proposals also necessitate a further restructuring of the role of the provincial government and will require a down sizing of the national and provincial public service, he said.

The downsizing will ensure the new district structure maximise spending on actual services and that the overall costs of the public service is actually reduced and not increased.

He said the objective of the reforms must be to reduce drastically the costly, time consuming duplication of decision-making systems and structures we have today.

"That can best achieve the number one goal of government; delivery basic community services and that is unquestionably district administration.

"The proposal will replace current Joint District Priorities and Planning Committees," he said. ■

The National Government has assigned an agreement with Strongbond International Limited for the construction of the first 200 houses under the Public Service Home Ownership Program (PSHOP).

The signing was executed by the proponents of the project with the Governor-General, Sir Paulias Matane on August 11.

The Somare Government approved funding in the 2007 third Supplementary Budget and the 2008 Budget towards the commencement of the Public Service Home Ownership Program.

The plan was to construct 1,000 homes initially in Port Moresby beginning with the first batch of 200 houses.

In December 2007 the Central Supply and Tenders Board (CSTB) called for public tenders and nine companies bid for the project.

Cabinet at its meeting on June 3rd 2009 awarded the contract to Strongbond International Limited.

The two directors of Strongbond, Sir Mogan Lourdenadin and Sir Frederick Reiher have committed the company to delivering the first 200 houses in an affordable and efficient manner and in the shortest possible time frame.

Sir Mogan, a British citizen is the owner of W.R. Carpenters Group of Companies.

Strongbond will build a factory in Port Moresby to manufacture insulated steel building panels, and other house components, needed for the construction of the homes.

The manufacturing plant, and the construction phase will provide significant job opportunities for Papua New Guinea, and work for suppliers and contractors.

They said the acute shortage of proper and affordable housing is a national problem: It is especially critical in the NCD where public servants, and police and other key personnel, have to live in squatter settlements or with relatives.

Both urged the National Government to free up residential land within the NCD and areas immediately beyond the NCD, so that affordable housing can be more widely available.

"We hope the Government will especially look at undeveloped urban leases and free up land which is clearly not going to be developed in the near future by existing urban development lease holders.

Sir Mogan and Sir Frederick hope the government will extend the PSHOP scheme beyond the 200 houses contracted to build. The programs goal of 1,000 homes in the NCD can be achieved in the medium term, they said.

Work will commence as soon as possible on the company's 200 allotments at Moitaka, on the other side of the airport on the Sir Hubert Murray Highway, and hoped to take the first lot of houses to be completed by early 2010.

The features and prices of the high-set houses are:

- K175,000 for two-bedroom
- K192,000 for three-bedroom
- K195,000 for four-bedroom
- K240,000 for another feature of a four-bedroom house. ■

Zurenuoc Commends SRC Leadership

Acting Chief Secretary to Government, Mr Manasupe Zurenuoc has commended the leadership of the Student Representative Council at the University of PNG for their conduct in presenting a range of demands to the Government.

Mr Zurenuoc said he was encouraged by the professional manner in which the SRC leaders had gone about in making their views known to the Government.

"This is a drastic shift from the early days at our university days where students became rowdy and disruptive as a means of making known their views," he said when receiving the petition at the Morauta House on August 19.

He said for the student leaders to have initially written to the Government and gone about quietly and presented their petition showed maturity and responsibility on the part of the SRC executives.

"I encourage our student leaders to continue raising their concerns in such a constructive and orderly manner.

"This positive trend also signals the type of leadership PNG is developing for our future," he said.

Mr Zurenuoc gave an undertaking to the students that he would ensure the petition went to the relevant government authorities for them to study and respond.

"As soon as the relevant agencies of Government provide their responses, I will inform the student leadership accordingly," he said.

The students had given the Government a week to provide answers to their set of demands, including governance and political issues.

Meanwhile, the Prime Minister, Sir Michael Somare who was away in Malaysia undergoing medical check-up, when the students presented their petition arrived back in Port Moresby on Tuesday, August 25.

He was met by Deputy Prime Minister, Sir Puka Temu, other Ministers and Departmental Heads.

Sir Michael was expected to give some answers to the students demands after being briefed by the Acting Chief Secretary, Mr. Zurenuoc.

The UPNG Students had given a one week ultimatum to the government to reply to their petition or they will take strike action.

The students eight-point petition had call on the government to act on several controversial issues including the early adjournment of Parliament, Moty aff r, $30 million Taiwan diplomacy scandal, $40 million secret logging account and 50% sale of BeMobile. ■

Build Your Knowledge Through Books: GG Urges

Public institutions in Papua New Guinea have been challenged to develop and establish modern libraries with trained personnel to run and manage them.

This is the message the Governor-General, Sir Paulias Matane delivered to the nation when he launched the National Book Week, themed: 'Building our Own Knowledge Society' in Vanimo in the Sandaun Province on August 3rd.

"We need to ensure our people are literate, educated, have greater access to information to build our knowledge to make the right choices and improve our quality of life.

"We need to develop a culture of reading for our children and citizen and ensure our people achieve a high literacy rate," Sir Paulias said.

He said the community obligation of every institution is to collaborate in partnership with local government authorities and community-based organisations and the private sector to establish and develop libraries, community information and resource centres.

To the children who had gathered for the occasion in Vanimo, the Governor General said them: "I urge you to read as much as you can and participate meaningfully in the activities that your teachers have asked you to take part in.

"I urge you to create, share, preserve and use knowledge for the prosperity and well-being of our country.

He said this cannot be achieved unless we ensure our children have greater access to quality library and information services, and developing the culture of reading to get more knowledge.

Sir Paulias said knowledge has become the most important capital in the present age and the success of any society lies in harnessing this resource.

"The slogan; Books, Building our own Society reminds us that our own knowledge is the most important commodity today," he said. ■

PIF Focuses On Climate Change

Leaders of the Pacific Islands Forum have committed to working intensively to achieve an effective agreement on climate change at the World Summit on Climate Change in Copenhagen in December 2009.

The Pacific Islands Forum Leaders have recognized that climate change in the region, is threatening, not only the livelihoods and living standards of the people, but the very viability of some of the communities in the region.

Leaders attending the 40th Session of the PIF in Cairns have recognized that the impact of climate change is great, in terms of access to water, security and health of the populations, and some habitats and islands disappearing under sea.

The Pacific Leaders' Call to Action on Climate Change, which is also incorporated in the Forum Communiqué, calls on all leaders of the global community, for their support to address this grave threat.

"Many actions are needed, but a strong global agreement is vital. We, therefore seek redoubled efforts from all States to secure a successful agreement at Copenhagen," the Leaders said.

"With 122 days to go, the international community was not on track to achieve the outcome they need unless we see a renewed mandate across all participating nations," the Leaders said.

The 16 Leaders further called on world leaders to urgently increase their level of ambition and to give their negotiators fresh mandates across all participating nations.

They also called for a post-2012 outcome that sets the world on a path to limit the increase in global average temperatures to 2 degrees celsius or less, and for States to reduce global emissions by at least 50 percent below 1990 levels by 2050.

The Forum Leaders called on developed economies to take the lead by setting ambitious and robust mid-term emissions reduction targets—consistent with the agreed directions embraced by the Major Economies Forum Meeting in July 2009.

According to the Leaders, to defeat deforestation and forest degradation, they also acknowledge that finance, technology and capacity development were necessary to underpin a step-wise process necessary to increase emissions reductions and carbon sequestration.

"We call for increased financing through carbon markets and other channels for climate change, adaptation and mitigation action in developing countries, including technology development and diffusion, and we welcome initiatives by G20 Leaders to develop financing options.

"We also call upon world leaders to recognize and act upon the threat climate change poses to our marine environment, particularly its effect on coral reefs, fisheries and food security," the Leaders said. ■

Marape Out To Achieve Excellence

The Education Department has ended a week-long seminar for leaders and senior public servants to come up with answers to the Government's long term vision of building a 'happy, wealthy and united Papua New Guinea' by 2050.

The seminar, opened by the Education Minister, Hon. James Marape at the PNG Education Institute in Port Moresby, ran from August 24-28 on the theme; 'Developing a Conceptual Framework for Achieving Excellence in Education within the Government's Development Strategy 2010-2030 and the National Strategic Plan 2010-2050.'

The seminar focused on discussing new strategies, methods, approaches and best practices to address many of the challenges faced in delivering education services in PNG.

It also gave participants the opportunity to look broadly at the national education system and explore all dimensions of quality in education.

In newspaper advertisements during the week, Education Secretary, Dr Joseph Pagelio outlined numerous aims of the seminar, focusing on identifying meaningful quality indicators to help achieve excellence in education.

Dr Pagelio said thinking broadly and systematically about efforts to improve quality education in the country should be in everybody's mind in planning for education services.

At the conclusion of the seminar, an agreed conceptual framework for achieving excellence in education development over the long term was expected out of a select group of Education Department team of officials. ■

FOREIGN AFFAIRS

Fiji Still A Concern For PIF

The outgoing Chair of the Pacific Islands Forum, Hon. Toke Talagi says the situation in Fiji remains a concern for the Pacific Islands Forum, as Leaders gathered for the 40th Forum in Cairns, Australia, from 4 to 7 August 2009.

In his address at the official opening of the Forum at the Cairns Convention Centre, Premier Talagi, said much had happened in the region in the last year during his tenure as Chair of the Forum.

He said the regime assumed power illegally and clearly refused to adhere to the Leaders' requirements imposed on Fiji when Leaders met in Port Moresby in January 2009.

"As a direct consequence of non-compliance, Fiji has been suspended from participation in any Forum meetings as of May 2, 2009.

"We are deeply concerned for the welfare of the citizens of Fiji and remain ready to assist Fiji return to democracy soon but will not accept a prolonged rule by the regime.

"The self-imposed roadmap for elections to be held in 2014 is unacceptable and is strongly denounced.

"Perhaps citizens of Fiji must now rise up to challenge the undemocratic rule of the military regime and restore democracy for the sake of their children's future. After all, the people of Fiji must be responsible for constructing their own destiny," Mr Talagi said.

Australian Prime Minister, Mr Kevin Rudd, however said, the people of Fiji deserve better, and the Forum looks forward to their return to the family of democracies across the region.

Meanwhile, Premier Talagi said the onset of the global financial crisis imposed on the region is a new challenge to Governments and peoples of the region.

"This is a crisis with potentially devastating implications for our national and regional prosperity," he said.

Premier Talagi added that any assistance by development partners would constitute direct budgetary support, as this year's Forum focuses on the global economic crisis, which will hopefully pave the way for increased attention to the necessity of collective actions to effectively address the crisis. ■

Somare Commends NZ Relations

Prime Minister, Grand Chief, Sir Michael Somare has paid tribute to his New Zealand counterpart, Mr John Key, and commended the bilateral relationship between the two countries, adding that it has been excellent.

Sir Michael and Prime Minister Key met on the eve of the official opening of the 40th Pacific Islands Forum Leaders Summit in Cairns on August 5.

"This relationship had been hugely fruitful under past New Zealand leaders and the Key administration has ensured this positive trend continues," he said.

Trade and economic issues, including the two PNG LNG projects, were also discussed during their bilateral meeting.

Sir Michael said the InterOil/Petromin and Exxon Mobil/Oil Search LNG projects were complementary to each other, which also provided enormous spin-off businesses for investors to explore.

"Papua New Guinea would need assistance to cater for the skilled workforce required for the two LNG projects and their associated industries," Sir Michael said.

The Pacific Agreement on Closer Economic Relations PACER Plus issues were briefly discussed, and stressed the need for Fiji to be involved in the PACER-Plus negotiations.

PACER Plus provides the basis for negotiations for a trade agreement between Australia and New Zealand on the one hand and the Forum Island countries on the other.

It also seeks to develop an innovative trade and economic agreement, while logically taking into account the different stages of development for countries in the region.

Sir Michael said the PACER Plus concept was not only limited to market access, but also provides an avenue through which the specific development situations and needs of all island countries were captured.

Meanwhile, negotiations for a 'full agreement' were ongoing between the Pacific African Caribbean Pacific (PACP) States and the European Union for an Economic Partnership Agreement (EPA) for conclusion by the end of 2009.

On the Fiji situation, Sir Michael says Fiji remains an issue of concern for the Pacific region and his intention was to remain engaged rather than doing nothing and risk pushing Fiji to the extreme end of isolation.

The Melanesian Spearhead Group (MSG) Leaders' Summit in Vanuatu also discussed ways to progress the Fiji issue.

Member countries of the MSG are, Fiji, Papua New Guinea, Solomon Islands, and Vanuatu.

In the meantime, Papua New Guinea will play host to the upcoming visit by the Governor General of New Zealand, which is scheduled to take place later in the year. ■

EC Funds Pacific Trade Initiatives

The European Commission has allocated 95 million Euros to the Pacific ACP States to promote the region's five-year (2008-2013) trade initiatives.

A statement released during the 40th Pacific Islands Forum meeting, in Cairns early this month states that a further 10 million Euros has been allocated to what it termed as the 'non-focal sector'.

The Pacific African Caribbean Pacific (PACP) States Leaders meeting at the Forum, acknowledged the two focal sectors of cooperation are; the Regional Economic Integration with a funding allocation of 45 million Euros, and Sustainable Management of Natural Resources and Environment with 40 million Euros funding for the period.

The final signing of the 10th European Development Fund Pacific Regional Indicative Programme took place between the European Commission and the Regional Authorising Officer in November 2008.

The Forum Leaders, while appreciating the signing, also noted developments and issues surrounding the implementation and broadening of the Pacific Island Countries Trade Agreement (PICTA), to include trade-in-services, as well as the progress on the pre-feasibility study to assess the establishment of the Pacific Single Market and Economy. They have directed the PIF Secretariat to work closely with member countries to progress the process.

In the meantime, Leaders also noted the developments in progressing the PACP - EU Economic Partnership Agreement (EPA) negotiations and reaffirmed the PACP region's commitment to the conclusion of a comprehensive EPA that acknowledges the unique circumstances of the Pacific ACP States.

Other trade issues discussed included the Aid for Trade Strategy for the Pacific region.

Leaders have directed the PIF Secretariat to facilitate the transfer of the Office of the Chief Trade Adviser from PIF Secretariat in Suva to Vanuatu as soon as possible.

The Leaders further directed the Forum Secretariat to engage in discussions with the EU on the establishment of a regional Pacific Office in Brussels.

The meeting was attended by Leaders from the Cook Islands, Federated States of Micronesia, Niue, Nauru, Papua New Guinea, Republic of Marshall Islands, Samoa, Solomon Islands, Tuvalu and Vanuatu. Kiribati and Palau were represented by senior government officials.

Timor Leste and representatives of Regional Organisations also attended the meeting which was chaired by the Premier of Niue, Hon. Toke Talagi. ■

Timor Leste Govt Commits To Forum

The Government of Timor Leste has committed itself to working closely with the Pacific Island Forum member countries and the Secretariat to defend the interests of the region and further strengthen cooperation.

Vice Prime Minister of Timor Leste, Mr Mario Viegas Carrascalao, at his address to the Pacific Islands Forum Dialogue as Special Observer, said his country has defined national priorities, which are in line with the four pillars defined in the Kalibobo roadmap on the Pacific Plan.

The four pillars include, economic growth, sustainable development, good governance, and security.

Mr Carrascalao said his government intends to build stronger ties with each of the PIF countries beginning with those closest to Timor Leste.

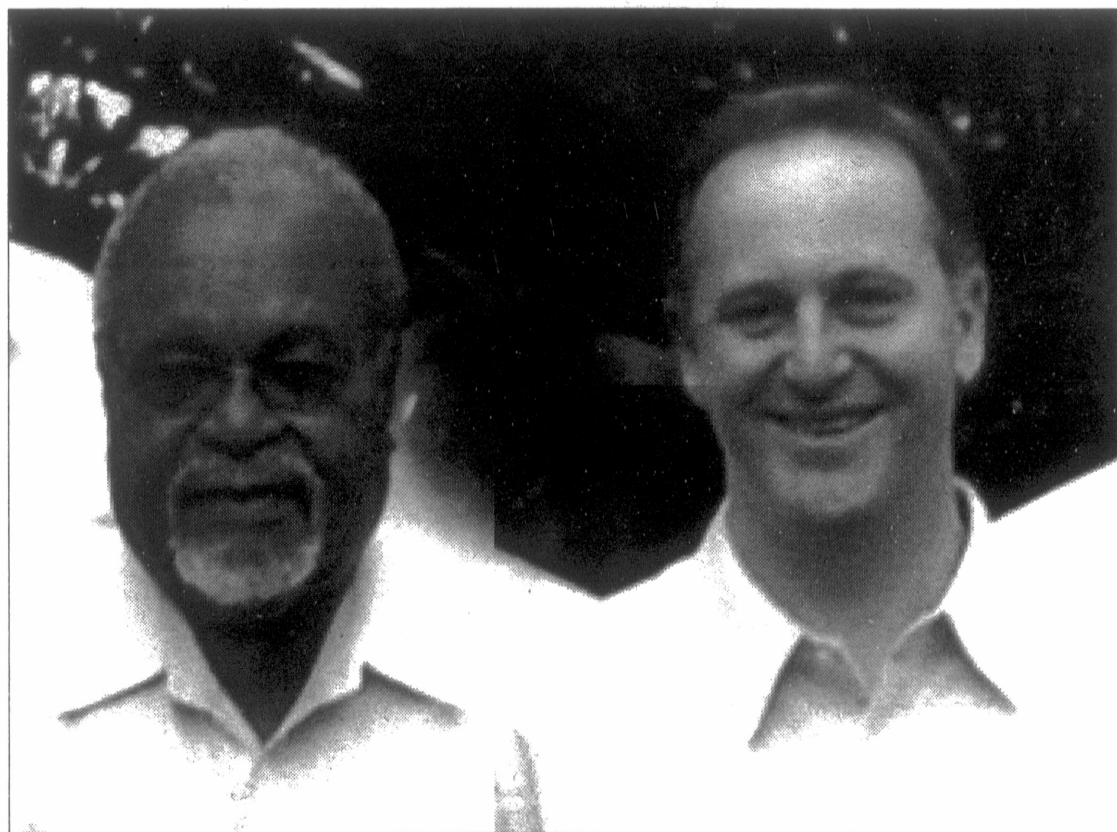

A Technical Working Team from Timor Leste undertook a successful visit to the PIF Secretariat in Suva, Fiji, and provided an opportunity for the government to interact with the Secretariat, in relations to the Regional Pacific Program funded by the European Commission, of which Timor Leste is also a beneficiary.

Timor Leste will be commemorating its 10th anniversary of the UN Recognized Popular Consultation which placed the country on the road to peace and self-rule.

Mr Carrascalao also paid tribute to Australia, New Zealand, Samoa, Fiji and Vanuatu, for their immediate response in stabilizing the country and prevented further violence, which enabled the drafting and adoption of the constitution and hand-over of power from the UN administration to an elected Timorese Government on May 20, 2002.

Mr Carrascalao further expressed his government's gratitude for the constructive engagement of the many Pacific Islands member countries in assisting them to overcome the challenges encountered in consolidating peace and nation-building. ■

Reflect On The Pacific Way: Sec-Gen Slade Tell Leaders

Secretary General of the Pacific Islands Forum Secretariat, Mr Tuiloma Neroni Slade has called on all Leaders to reflect on the proud moments and monumental achievements.

While addressing the Official Opening of the 40th Pacific Islands Forum at the Cairns Convention Centre on August 5, 2009, Mr Slade paid tribute to Leaders and Statesmen, who have led the region in the past.

He said: "While the changing and passing years have not left the Pacific untouched, what has not changed is the fundamental fragility of our region, the exposure of homelands and the vulnerability of communities."

"The Pacific environment that Leaders knew 40 meetings ago is no longer the same, and global natural systems edge towards dangerous tipping points, seemingly by the day."

While commenting on the global financial and economic crisis, Mr Slade, said its effects were also being felt in the Pacific region, in which small States would register most serious outcomes.

Apart from the global economic crisis, Mr Slade called on Leaders to focus discussion on the compounding H1N1 pandemic which is affecting countries in the Pacific region and the impact of climate change.

"The experience of the Forum in the past 39 meetings, points to the inevitability of togetherness."

"The Pacific is at its best when it acts as a region. In times of crisis it is the natural way. It is the very essence of the Pacific Way," Mr Slade said.

Mr Slade highlighted the Pacific Plan endorsed by Leaders at their 36th meeting in Papua New Guinea in 2005, which remained a guiding force of his Secretariat as well as other regional agencies.

"The work of the Secretariat now encompasses the full range of political governance and security, trade and economic, and development coordination issues."

"In the face of the global economic crisis, there is a declared determination on the part of the Council of Regional Organisations of the Pacific (CROP), to strengthen coordination of our institutional activities in every way possible," Mr Slade said.

He pledged on behalf of the Leaders, his full support to the new Chair and Prime Minister of Australia, Mr Kevin Rudd, and reminded him that there was a future for the Pacific - a future of infinite promise.

Meanwhile, the outgoing Chair of the PIF and Premier of Niue, Mr Toke Talagi, commended Mr Rudd for his leadership of the Forum Chair, and assured him that the Forum would rise to the numerous challenges in the Pacific, and continue to service the needs of the membership.

Leaders who attended the 40th Pacific Islands Forum included Australian Prime Minister, Mr Kevin Rudd; Cook Islands Prime Minister, Mr Jim Marurai; President of the Federated States of Micronesia, Mr Emanuel Mori; Fiji (suspended in May 2008) Secretary for Foreign Affairs of Kiribati, Ms Tessie Lambourne; President of Nauru, Mr Marcus Stephen; New Zealand Prime Minister, Mr John Key; Premier and Minister for External Affairs and International Relations and Aid Coordination, of Niue, Mr Toke Talagi; Vice President of Palau, Mr Kerai Mariur; Prime Minister of Papua New Guinea, Grand Chief, Sir Michael Somare; Foreign Minister of the Republic of Marshall Islands, Mr John Silk; Prime Minister of Samoa, Mr Tuilaepa Lupesoliai Sialele Malielegaoi; Prime Minister and Minister for Foreign Affairs and Trade of Solomon Islands, Dr David Derek Sikua; Prime Minister and Minister for Foreign Affairs of Tonga, Dr Feleti Vaka'uta Sevele; Prime Minister of Tuvalu, Mr Apisai Ielemia; and Prime Minister of Vanuatu, Mr Edward Nipake Natapei.

Aust. Funds Pacific Regional Climate Change Challenges

The Australian Government has provided funding of $150 million to assist Pacific Island countries to meet the immediate challenges of climate change, under the International Climate Change Adaptation Initiative.

Minister for Foreign Affairs, Stephen Smith and Minister for Climate Change and Water, Ms Penny Wong, announced during the Pacific Islands Forum meeting in Cairns, that the Government had previously announced the $150 million Initiative, which aims to meet high priority climate adaptation needs in affected countries in the region.

Of this $150 million initiative, $75 million has previously been allocated, with $50 million being allocated during the PIF meeting.

Of the $75 million previously allocated,

$14.8 million for the Pacific announced by Prime Minister, Kevin Rudd, at the PIF in Niue in 2008; $20 million for the Pacific Climate Change Science Program and $40 million for the World Bank's Pilot Programme for Climate Resilience.

The Ministers said, of this $50 million, $25 million would be allocated to help implement high priority, practical adaptation programs in the Pacific island countries, which include:

- working with the agricultural sector to address food security issues;
- protecting water supplies and essential infrastructure;
- improving coastal zone management to increase the resilience of coastal areas and community settlements to climate change; and
- supporting disaster preparedness and disaster risk reduction programs.

A further $12 million will be provided for the Pacific Adaptation Strategy Assistance Program to strengthen the capacity of Pacific Island countries to assess their vulnerabilities to climate change and develop adaptation strategies.

"This will help Pacific Island countries to build the skills and knowledge they need for long-term decision making to prepare for climate change," the Ministers said.

Australia will also contribute:

- $6 million to support Pacific regional organisations to undertake adaptation work on issues such as fisheries management and crop diversity;
- $4.3 million investment will be made to upgrading sea level monitoring stations in Pacific countries; and
- $2.7 million will be spent in partnership with non-government organisations working on adaptation in the region.

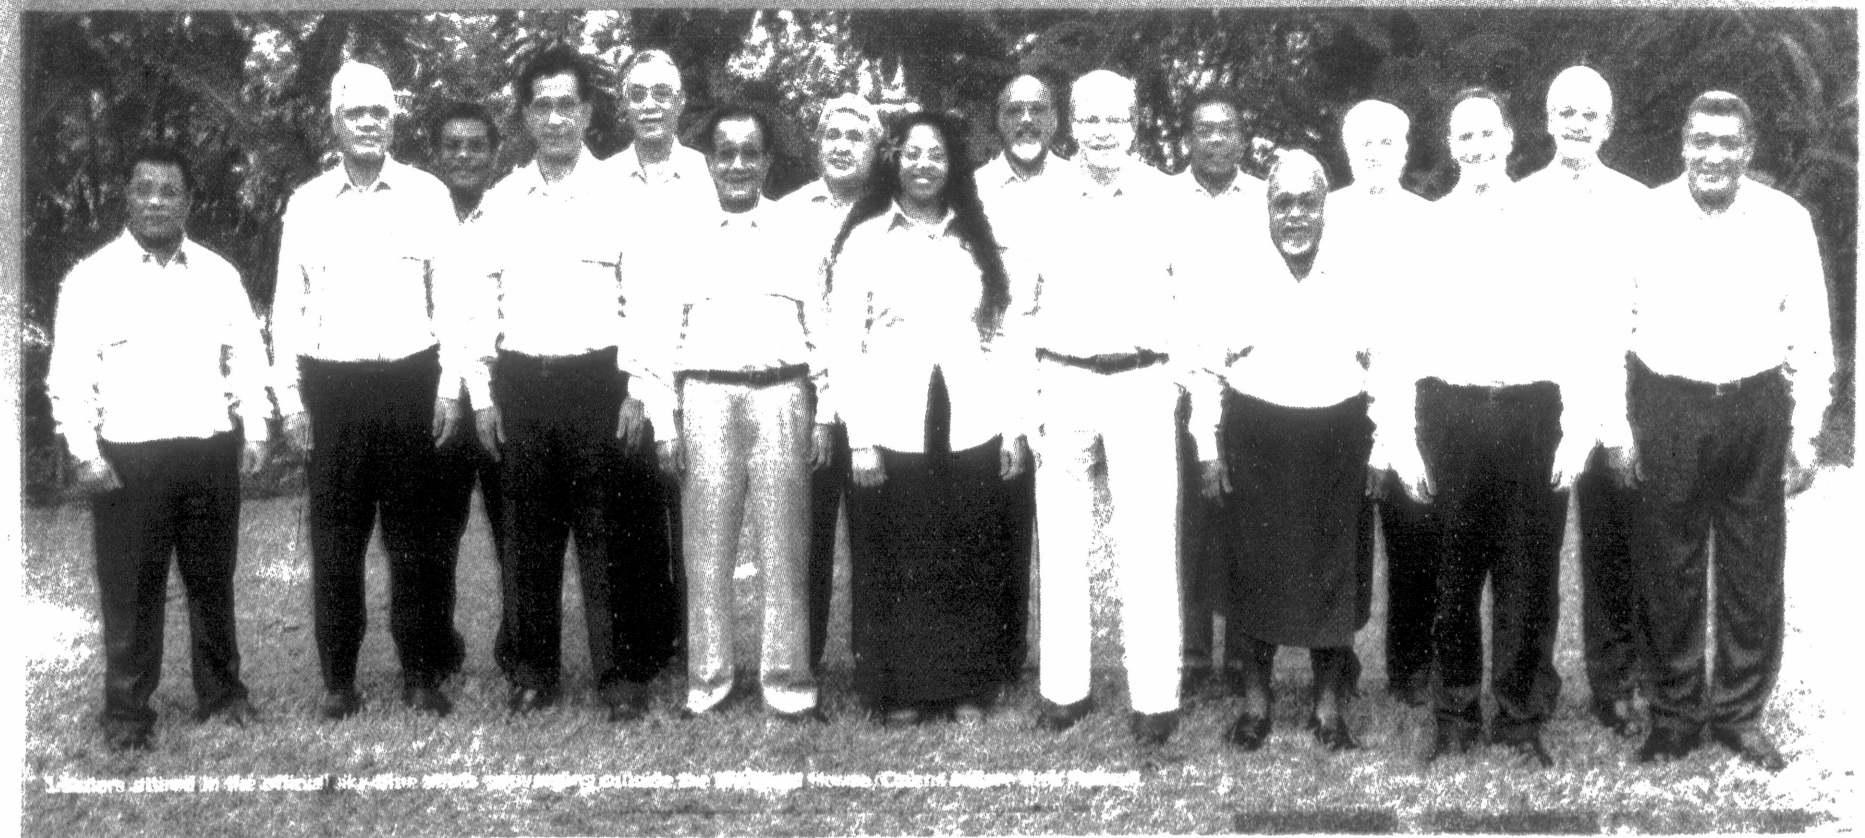

Both Ministers said Australia was committed to decisive action on climate change both at home and globally, and recognized that building resilience to climate change was important for vulnerable countries in the Pacific.

Meanwhile, Prime Minister Rudd reaffirmed his Government's commitment to assisting Pacific Island countries to adapting to the impact of climate change, and further incorporate climate change into the national development strategies of the Pacific Island countries.

His Government would ensure that the Pacific experience of climate change would be presented to the councils of the world when they meet in Copenhagen in December 2009.

In real situations, fifty percent of the population of the Pacific Island countries live within a kilometer and a half of the coast line, which is the main cause of concern when the sea levels rise.

LAW AND JUSTICE

Guns Committee Commented

More than 1400 individuals and their families have been hurt or traumatised in instances where guns were reportedly used to commit crimes in Papua New Guinea, the Guns Report says.

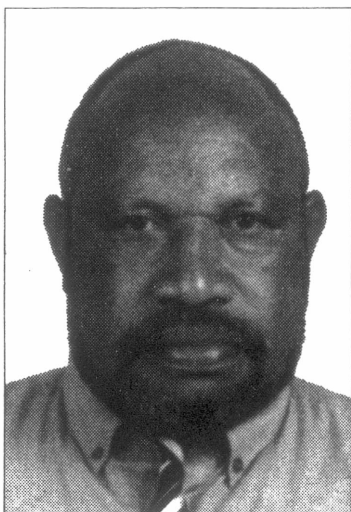

"Guns are used to kill people, commit rape, robberies, used in tribal fights and other violent crimes where these weapons play a major role.

"Many people in PNG are victims of gun-related incidents while many more have lost loved ones, family members and properties in gun-related incidents.

"The widespread increase of illegal guns within communities in PNG is destroying the nation and nothing is done to address this issue," it says.

This was revealed in the Gun Summit Report of 2005, tabled four years after it was compiled, by the Internal Security Minister Sani Rambai in Parliament. The Report was completed in 2005 by a committee headed by retired Army Commander, Jerry Singirok and was not tabled until recently.

Minister Rambai said: "Now is the time to resurrect the report, dust the covers and run with the document to give PNG a real hope for a safe and secure future. What is required is a collective effort from everyone.

"This gun issue goes beyond political and cultural divides and affects everyone so we must all put our hands together to get rid of illegal guns in PNG."

Mr Rambai told Parliament the Royal PNG Constabulary revisited the PNG Guns Control summit and identified the recommendations it could implement by itself using its own resources.

"The constabulary has even initiated talks with foreign mission representatives here in PNG and internal organisations to discuss ways to implement the recommendations of the Guns Control report," Mr Rambai said.

He has also made two overseas visits to seek international assistance in the form of funding and technical assistance in the campaign against illegal guns in the country.

Mr Rambai said one of the key issues he is looking at is a gun buyback strategy. "This is a costly exercise but worth every toea we can spare while requests have been sent to various international agencies and governments for possible financial assistance," Mr Rambai said.

But the Minister said the trial had to be in two folds. Firstly there was a need to block off the sources of entry where firearms were being smuggled into this country and secondly an amnesty be established nationwide to allow citizens to come forward and surrender firearms that they may have illegal possession. ■

PNGDF Enlists Women

Papua New Guinea Defence Force has recruited the first batch of 25 women to train as soldiers.

They have begun training at the Goldie Training Depot outside Port Moresby.

PNG Defence Force Commander, Commodore Peter Ilaq officially commissioned the new intake of cadets at Goldie before they started their training.

Their recruitment is part of a PNG Government initiative in ratifying the United Nation's convention on eliminating discrimination against women.

The initiative encourages equal employment opportunities in the three disciplined forces of police, defence and correctional services. ■

These women are among the first batch of female soldiers now undergoing training at the PNGDF Goldie Training Depot outside Port Moresby.

PIF Secretariat, with support from the Australian Government.

The five awardees were drawn from a broad field of candidates who were currently undertaking higher level academic studies as part of the Australian Leadership Awards scholarship programme.

Recipients will be awarded annually by the Forum to emerging Pacific Islanders in a range of fields, and provide them with the opportunity to gain professional experience in their chosen vocational fields through short term attachments and placements in relevant organisations.

Speaking during the Forum Leaders' meeting in Cairns, Mr Slade congratulated the recipients and added that these individuals provide a great example of the range of talents and potential that is available in the Pacific.

"We expect they will excel in their chosen careers and make meaningful and lasting contributions to their respective countries and the Pacific more generally," Mr Slade said. ■

Small Island States Voice Concern

Leaders of the Pacific Islands Forum Smaller Island States (SIS) have agreed on measures to address major long-term challenges, including, sub-regional shipping, labour mobility, renewable energy and bulk procurement, impacts of climate change and strengthening development financing options.

SIS includes, Cook Islands, Kiribati, Nauru, Niue, the Republic of Marshall Islands, Tuvalu and Palau. Observer at the Forum included Tokelau.

The SIS Leaders expressed gratitude with the commencement in June this year of a regular SIS sub-regional shipping service to Kiribati, Nauru and Tuvalu, using vessel from the Kiribati Shipping Services Corporation Limited.

The same service will be extended to Wallis and Futuna soon.

The feasibility and viability of a similar arrangement for a second sub-regional shipping service to include Samoa, Niue, Cook Islands, Tokelau, Tonga and American Samoa is being assessed.

Meanwhile, on the bulk procurement of petroleum products, the SIS Leaders, noted the launch of the first phase of the Pacific Petroleum Project with the tendering for the establishment of the Project Implementation Unit which is expected to be set up by September this year.

Four countries have so far signed a memorandum of understanding, formalizing the bulk procurement initiative. These States include Cook Islands, Nauru, Niue and Tuvalu. Other SIS members and Forum countries who have not signed the MOU for the project are being encouraged to do so.

With the pilot labour mobility scheme, the SIS Leaders also commended Australia and the New Zealand Regional Seasonal Workers Scheme, noting the increase in the quota of seasonal workers from 5,000 to 8,000 as a result of demand and the success of the scheme.

SIS Leaders urged Australia and New Zealand to consider extending the temporary labour scheme to include sectors other than just the horticultural sector and also to extend the duration of employment to make it more cost effective for temporary labourers.

On climate change issue, SIS Leaders expressed their deep concern of the serious and growing threat posed by the climate change to the economic, social, cultural and environmental well being and security of the SIS countries.

They reaffirmed their commitment to the ongoing development and implementation of the Pacific-tailored approaches to support the national adaptation, mitigation and if necessary, relocation measures to combating climate change.

They commended the work of the SIS Unit within the PIF Secretariat, which includes the deployment of SIS Desk Officers who assist with the implementation of the Pacific Plan initiatives at the national level.

They urged the PIF Secretariat to maintain the budget support towards the SIS Unit and the SIS Desk Officers. ■

HIV/AIDS Rate Still The Highest: Zibe

THE country's HIV/AIDS rates remain the highest in the Pacific region, and the battle to grapple this scourge must remain the top priority of the National Government.

"Papua New Guinea must take a vigilant stand against the scourge of HIV/AIDS to address the issue," Health Minister Sasa Zibe said in Madang recently.

"Politicians must also take a proactive stand and ensure their political will sustains efforts because it is of paramount importance that the battle against HIV/AIDS must not subside," he said.

"Although efforts have been positive, we must not lay down our arms; we must rekindle and revamp our resolve to address compelling and very important issues that are reaching deadly proportions.

"It must start from the top leaders, politicians must take the lead to fight the war against HIV/AIDS."

He was concurring with Deputy Health Secretary, Dr Paison

Dakulala that PNG must not rest on its laurels but continue to be focused and steadfast in the fight against this deadly epidemic.

Dr Dakulala said during the final session of the 8th Pacific Islands health ministers forum that HIV/AIDS, including sexually transmitted infections, was becoming more rampant and flowing into the rural communities.

"We are now seeing the epidemic moving from urban to rural areas, and therefore, we need to grapple with these challenges in the rural settings, especially the use of condoms."

Dr Dakulala, who heads the national health services standards division, said there were many challenges ahead but PNG must have a strong resolve and desire to move on.

The challenges posed included coordination and management of the many partners supporting the national response, and the capacity of human resources at the provincial and district level.

Others included the available infrastructure at hospitals and districts, logistics and the distribution of condoms and vital drugs for the treatment of STIs and the need to strengthen health systems.

The bright side of life on the battle against HIV/AIDS included the success of programmes in voluntary counselling and testing (VCT) and the STI and HIV/AIDS rollout programme that is gaining momentum and moving into its second phase.

Figures showed that last year, nearly 120,000 tests were conducted at the 150 testing sites throughout PNG.

Last December, figures showed that there were now an alarming cumulative total of 28,295 HIV/AIDS reported cases in PNG.

This was from 1987 until last December.

Last year alone, about 5,000 cases were diagnosed with the majority being young adults aged between 20 and 24 years old. Of this, 40% were males and 60% females. ■

Fight HIV/AIDS: Sode Urges

Chief Executive Officer of PNGSDP Mr. David Sode has urged participants of the Community Conversation Initiative (CCI) to ably take into considerations the rules of preventing the spread of the HIV/AIDS pandemic in the country.

And he says fight must be a good one that has to come from all citizens and at all levels of the community.

Mr. Sode made this bold point at the CCI graduation ceremony graduation of 34 participants who had completed a weeklong training on Community Conversation Initiative (CCI) in Kikori District of Gulf Province recently.

"There are good fights and bad fights.

"We must learn to fight the good fight and that is the fight against the spread of HIV and AIDS in the country," he told the participants with those who gathered to witness the ceremony.

Mr. Sode heavily stressed the need to fight against the spread of HIV and AIDS the country where the spread of this pandemic is the highest in the Pacific region.

"There is a bad fight and good fight. We need to fight the good fight and the good fight is to identify this enemy call HIV and fight it from all angles until it loses.

HIV will destroy us if we don't take action against it. With the certificates you are getting, is us helping you to fight the good fight better," he said.

Mr. Sode and his delegation were among several distinguished guests who attended the graduation ceremony and also to sign a funding agreement to support St. Joseph Technical School and also to witness the graduation of the Community Conversation Initiative participants.

Minister for Labour and member for Kikori Hon. Mark Maipakai and the bishop of Kerema, Patric Taval also attended the ceremony.

Minister Maipakai echoed similar remarks before he presented the certificates to the participants.

He said the workshop is important for Kikori district as the district has many logging and exploration activities and the risk of spreading HIV would also be high.

CCI is a program supported by PNGSDP to address especially the spread of HIV and AIDS in the country.

The program trains facilitators to help communities discuss and identify ways of preventing the spread of HIV and AIDS in their respective communities. ■

PNG Keen On Cyprus Cooperation

Papua New Guinea is keen to see bilateral arrangements on technical and development cooperation with Cyprus.

This interest was relayed to the Cyprus High Commissioner to PNG, Mr Yannis Iacovou by the Governor-General, Sir Paulias Matane when receiving his letter of credentials at the Government House on August 11.

"It is also Papua New Guinea's conviction that the relations between our two countries be further consolidated and intensified.

"Enhanced bilateral cooperation in trade, tourism, investment and development cooperation are some areas of opportunity that both our countries could explore to develop," he said.

He said this was in view of the recognition by PNG of Cyprus comparative advantage in the area of tourism, where cooperation in capacity building could be pursued.

"I trust that this possibility can be explored during the term of your duty, with a view of reaching some concrete results," the Governor General said.

Sir Paulias said relations between the two countries remained warm and friendly based on the principles of peace, mutual respect and trust.

He said both countries being parties to the Cotonou Convention between ACP and EU and the United Nations and its agencies, and the Commonwealth; have continued to uphold a multilateral approach to issues affecting both countries.

PNG, like Cyprus, upholds the principle of the UN Charter and the primary of the rule of law and respect for human rights.

In the context of Cyprus, PNG remains supportive to resolutions of the UN Security Council on Cyprus, and is pleased to note the positive developments that have since progressed with the Cyprus problem and more so with the developments towards the reunification process., Sir Paulias said.

"Papua New Guinea acknowledges the support we have received at the level of the United Nations and the Commonwealth in our efforts to resolve our own situation regarding the island of Bougainville," he said.

In response, High Commissioner Iacovou said since the establishment of bilateral relationship, both countries have cooperated in international fora including the United Nations and the Commonwealth.

"We stand ready to broaden and enhance our bilateral ties to the mutual benefit of our two countries and peoples. I intend to devote all my efforts towards this end and I am confident that given the excellent state of our relations, I am assured of your valuable support.

"A just, viable and functional solution to the Cyprus problem is the primary goal of the President of the Republic and his government.

"A solution that will reunite the territory, the people, the institutions and the economy of our country will restore and safeguard the human rights and fundamental freedoms of all Cypriots and put an end to the occupation," he said. ■

DOMESTIC AFFAIRS

PSC Corporate Plan Review Begins

Governor General, Grand Chief, Sir Paulias Matane has commended the Public Service Commission for its efforts to formulate the commission's corporate plan for the next five years, 2009 - 2013.

Sir Paulias said a corporate plan is a strategic management tool that guides an organization, whether its government or private in the future direction.

The Grand Chief made this known when he officiated at the public services commission stakeholders' consultation workshop on Thursday 30th July 2009 in Port Moresby.

He told the workshop that the National Executive Council in its decision no. 131/2001 requires all government departments and agencies to have a corporate plan to guide its directions.

Governor General, Sir Paulias Matane at the Workshop.

"Through this plan, the organization or agency will set clear corporate directions and activities consistent with Government's Medium Term Development Strategy (MTDS) in which the organization is appropriately resourced in order for it achieve its corporate objectives," he said.

He said the commission's functions are focused on good governance, which is about transparency, accountability, integrity, effectiveness and efficiency in the National Public Service.

Sir Paulias said in order for the commission to carry out these functions effectively, it must have a corporate plan that clearly specifies its future directions.

He assured the participants and the commission of his confidence that the workshop will be of more beneficial to the commission as it embarks on its review plan that is consistent with the medium term development strategy.

"I am confident with the variety of speakers and participants in this workshop, that many good ideas will be discussed and adopted, which will help the commission in the review of its Corporate Plan for the next five years, 2009 2013", he said. ■

Satellite Distributed System Launched

State-owned National Broadcasting Corporation is now equipped with a state-of-the-art satellite distribution system to enable high quality broadcast signals throughout Papua New Guinea and across the Pacific region.

The satellite distribution system worth K7.5 million was funded by the Australian Government through the ABC-NBC Satellite Project, and was officially launched on August 4 by the Minister for Communication and Information, Hon. Patrick Tammur and Australian High Commissioner to PNG, Mr. Chris Moraitis.

"This marks yet another milestone achievement for NBC, and reflects the genuine working relationship between NBC and ABC to improve broadcasting communication, not only in Papua New Guinea but across the Pacific," Minister Tammur said.

Under the satellite system, signal will go from the 4.9 meter uplink from NBC Headquarter in Port Moresby, up to the TelSat 18 satellite from where it beams down across the whole area of the satellite's footprint.

The satellite signal will be captured by a smaller dish at each provincial sit, then decoded and sent to the local transmitters.

All of this is more or less instant and guarantees no loss of quality on the signal transmission across the country.

It is important to note that the signal from the satellite cannot be received directly by a radio but through the downlink dishes with the necessary decoders, that can be set up in the provinces.

The Minister said a piece of equipment known as a Codec will be installed at every provincial radio station which will allow audio to be fed down through an ordinary telephone line in good quality.

He said provincial radio stations will be able to share programme materials in broadcast quality with NBC headquarters and with each other.

He also said several provincial stations will be upgraded to the existing system of the Studio Transmitter Links to improve the quality and reliability of the signal going from the studios to the transmitters.

"Under the GoPNG funded NBC Rehabilitation project with support from Ausaid through the MDI program, NBC is restoring and replacing its network of shortwave, medium wave and FM transmitters.

"This will mean that clear signals sent from NBC in Port Moresby via the satellite to the provincial stations is then sent on to listeners reliably and in good quality

"With the use of satellite, NBC will no longer face the issues of land compensation claims and vandalizing of physical structures of the old analog system," Mr Tammur said.

Training on the various elements of the system has been provided as part of the contract and three of the NBC technical staff have already spent a week in Perth, receiving training on the Codec units.

Further training on the satellite communication system will be provided by the ABC/MDI and United Group Industries to ensure that the NBC Officers are equipped to maintain the system once it is installed and commissioned. ■

Bamu Gets PNGSDP Support

The people of Bamu, a river community in the Middle Fly district of Western Province will soon benefit from a community timber project.

This is following the financial support and assistance provided by the Papua New Guinea Sustainable Development Program Limited.

The company through its Community and Social Investment Program (CSIP) has provided over K250, 000.00 worth of machinery and equipment.

Chief Executive Officer of PNGSDP Mr. David Sode and his senior program officer Sam Tupou were in Daru in mid July this year to officially hand over the machinery and tools for the Bamu community timber project.

The Bamu River Mission's own contribution towards the project is K60, 000.00, bringing the grand total of the project to K310, 000.00.

The small-scale community timber project is scheduled for 24 months, which involves milling of timber to sell locally and also repair and building of vital infrastructures such as classrooms and aid posts while some of the fitch timber will be sold overseas to generate income for the community itself.

"I'm delighted today to present to the Bamu River Mission critical equipment to help them mill their own timber and to maintain key infrastructure such as Health and Education.

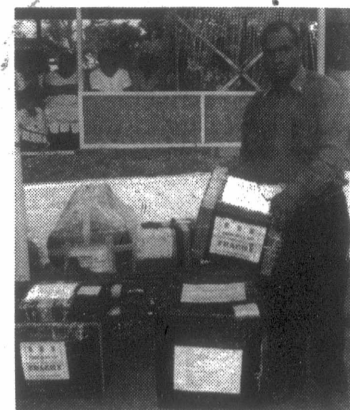

"Take care of it. We see our community projects as an important part of our multiple commitments to development in the province," Mr. Sode said.

Vice Minister for Foreign Affairs and Member for South Fly, Hon. Sali Subam acknowledged the support by PNGSDP.

He said 2007 and 2008 had been the beginning of a strong partnership between the South Fly District and PNGSDP.

"May we continue to brace this partnership for the good of the people in bringing development to our people of Bamu, as Bamu had been an area for so long had been missing out on this kind of assistance," he told the people who gathered there for the occasion.

There are over 11 communities in the Bamu area served by the Bamu River United Church Mission and the infrastructure condition of the community is largely dependent on the physical capacity of agencies to support rehabilitation and repair of infrastructures.

Many of the schools, aid posts and community amenities suffer from poor upkeep where Teachers and nurses can be particularly disadvantaged by poor housing, lack of clean water and isolation.

By addressing these challenges, the United Church in Bamu River Mission can use the community timber project to improve community facilities and also improve their standard of living.

Under PNGSDP's Community and Social Investment Program (CSIP), the company has committed, through the United Church a total of K1.8 million to the people of Western Province.

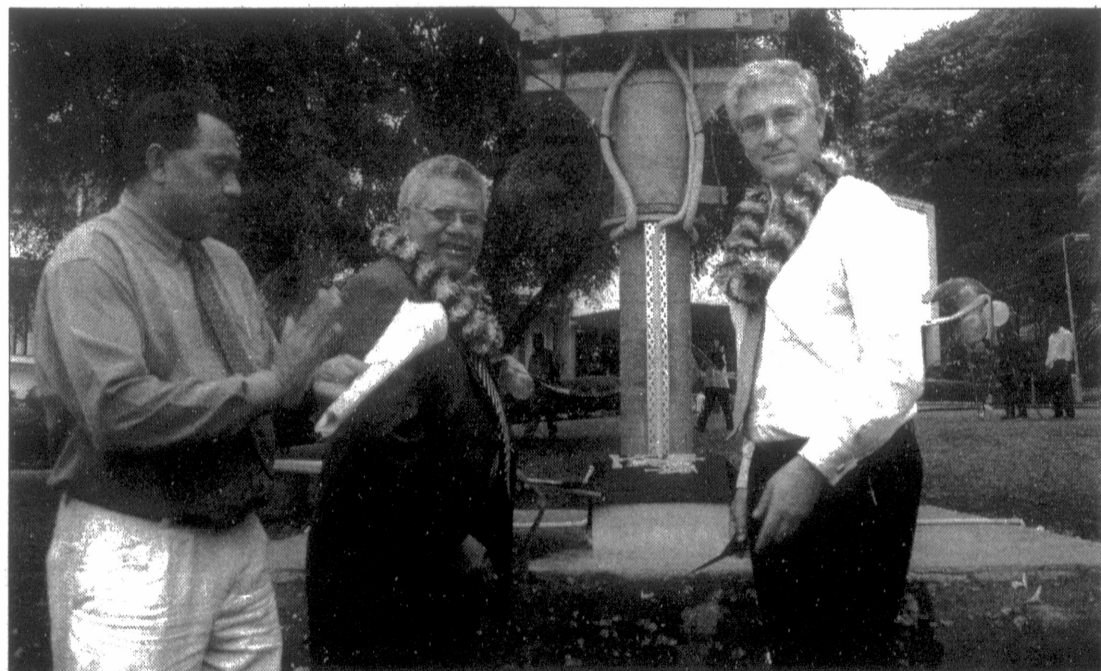

The new regional office of the United Church in Western Province is an example of the commitment by the company (PNGSDP), which is in addition to further a K3.4 million contributed through other agencies.

The company is also making significant contribution through its other programs in the province, especially in the area of rural electricity; rubber development, barramundi farming, road infrastructure and improvement, and transportation.

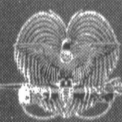

In 2005 the company agreed to support a United Church Health Project in South Fly Region and this included the creation of a transit accommodation for the United Church Health Workers.

In 2007, the company agreed to provide a further K250, 000 to expand the transit accommodation so that the social development officers of the United Church could be adequately housed.

New offices have now been created to cater for education, human capacity building, health and HIV ministries of the United Church in Western Province. ■

Forum Communiqué Highlights

The final communiqué of the 40th Pacific Islands Forum was released in Cairns following the Leaders Retreat at Whitfield House, Cairns, on August 6, 2009.

Major issues outlined in the Communiqué includes: strengthening development coordination in the Pacific; the Pacific Plan which includes the bulk procurement of petroleum; climate change; fisheries; trade liberalization and economic integration, regional security and the Regional Assistance Mission to the Solomon Islands (RAMSI); sport; health; Fiji situation and renewable energy.

Leaders noted the steady progress made in implementing various initiatives of the Pacific Plan, and committed to developing effective policy and practical responses to the global economic crisis, with the objective of stabilizing the economy, as well as boosting national competitiveness and strengthening development coordination.

The Pacific Plan was endorsed by Forum Leaders at their Madang meeting in 2005, as a framework that promotes greater regional cooperation and integration, under four main pillars of economic growth, sustainable development, good governance and security.

The Pacific Plan is now entering its fourth year of implementation.

Under the Pacific Plan, Leaders have also committed to supporting action in the fisheries sector which would see commitment to implementing the direction offered by the Forum Leaders through the Vava'u Declaration and Forum Fisheries Committee, in progressing among other things, the development and implementation of fisheries management and development, fostering of coastal fisheries and strengthening the sector's governance.

Leaders resolved to build on existing marine protected areas and initiatives by providing greater support to tourism, improving access to Pacific destinations by air and sea and continuing to build the capacity of small and medium service providers to cater for current and emerging international markets and generate employment opportunities; improving the livelihoods and the well-being of the Pacific peoples.

The Leaders are also committed to implementing, among others, the directions provided by the region's Ministers for Information Communication Technology (ICT) place by the first quarter of 2010.

The Governments of the Cook Islands, Nauru, Tuvalu and Niue, have signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU), which outlines the responsibilities of Forum members who sign up to this initiative under the auspices of the Pacific Petroleum Project.

Leaders have expressed their appreciation to the New Zealand Government for its assistance in facilitating the meeting of national petroleum authorities, the Council of Regional Organisations of the Pacific (CROP) agencies, sectors experts and industry in October 2008.

and maximize economic returns from the long-term utilization of this resource to the enhancement of sustainable development and food security.

Leaders have also welcomed the initiative of the FFA to develop a Regional Monitoring, Control and Surveillance Strategy, in an effort to control illegal fishing in their respective 200 mile exclusive economic zones.

With the trade issues, Leaders have agreed to the recommendation from Forum Trade Ministers to commence PACER Plus negotiations soon.

According to Australian

However, Leaders have directed that the Trade Ministers should discuss a framework for PACER Plus negotiations, including timelines, identification of issues and issues in respect of which the Chief Trade Adviser could negotiate.

Leaders welcomed the decision by Trade Ministers to establish the Office of Chief Trade Adviser (OCTA), and welcomed the offer by the Federated States of Micronesia to host the meeting of Forum Trade Ministers in November 2009.

It was further resolved that the Fiji military regime would not participate in the PACER Plus negotiations but agreed that Fiji officials would be briefed by a representative of the meeting following each negotiation meeting and convey back views from Fiji.

On country initiatives, Leaders welcomed the Pacific Oceanscape concept and its companion Pacific Ocean Arc initiative tabled by Kiribati, which is aimed at increasing marine protected area investment, learning and networking.

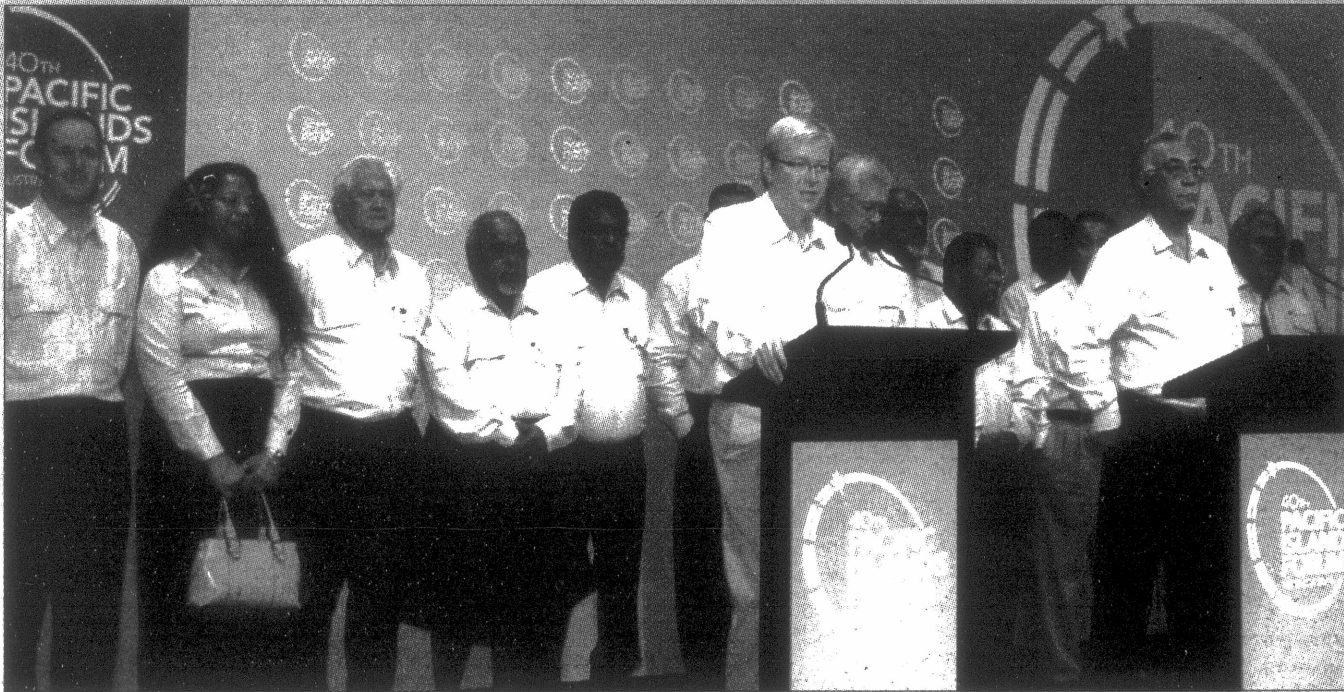

Meanwhile, Leaders have observed that renewable energy offers the promise of cost-effective, reliable energy services to rural households and will provide a contribution to global greenhouse gas mitigation efforts.

Leaders have resolved to immediately drive the development of projects to bring to reality the promise of renewable solutions to the region's energy needs, with appropriate technology and expanding carbon markets.

Tonga and Tuvalu have incorporated renewable energy targets into their respective national energy strategies.

Leaders have welcomed the Australian Government for providing a further $25 million over a four year period for initiatives in clean and affordable energy in the Pacific region. ■ and in particular, revising and updating the Regional Digital Strategy.

Surrounded by Forum Leaders, Australian PM and Chair of the 40th PIF, Hon. Kevin Rudd announcing issues absorbed in the Forum Communiqué' after the conclusion of the Leaders Retreat in Cairns on August 6, 2009.

Leaders have noted the progress made in implementing the bulk procurement of petroleum initiative, since the 2008 meeting in Niue, in which a number of key achievements have to be met in 2009.

They include, among other achievements: the commencement of a feeder shipping service, serving Tuvalu, Nauru and Kiribati, with potential for expansion and use of this model in other sub regions around the Pacific to better support energy security which progresses the bulk procurement of fuel initiative with its development framework for implementation, and tendering for commercial arrangements to be in

In the fisheries sector, Leaders noted that fisheries resources of the Pacific represent a major source of food and income for Pacific Island countries and for many Pacific people is the main prospect for sustainable economic development.

Leaders are committed to working collectively to ensure that the Western and Central Pacific Fisheries Commission adopts and implements effective measures to address over-fishing of highly migratory fish stocks that are critical to the development opportunities of many Forum members countries.

They have also committed themselves to working with the Forum Fisheries Agency (FFA) to ensure coastal States in the region are able to manage tuna resources Minister for Trade, Mr Simon Crean, the Pacific Agreement on Closer Economic Relations and its extension is not just a trade agreement, it is also concerned with developing the capacity of the Pacific region.

He said PACER Plus could address a number of issues common to the whole region, such as complying with the quarantine requirements into Australia and New Zealand, developing rules of the origin within the region, improving aviation links to encourage greater tourism, and liberalization of the telecommunication industry.

He added that there is potential to develop a region-wide labour mobility and skills development program for the Pacific.
