The victors - Tom Shepard and Trish Cunningham - two-thirds of the votes in last week's run-off election for AS President and Vice President.

Undergrads Elect Shepard President

Tom Shepard and Trish Cunningham received more than two-thirds of the votes in last week's run-off election to become the new officers of the Associated Students for the year 1968-1969.

In lighter turn-outs than in the previous Wednesday's General Election, Revelle students also elected Jeff Benjamin, William Eastman, and Paul Ricks as their representatives to the AS Senate.

The election culminated two and a half weeks of intensive campaigning by 21 candidates for ten AS offices. The new AS government will take office at the second annual Installation of New Officers banquet Monday. Chancellor Galbraith, Dean Murphy and the College Provosts, among others will attend.

A significant feature of the outcome of the two elections is the proportion of power that each college will now control in AS government. When President Shepard transfers to Muir College, five senators will be at Revelle, 3 at Muir, and both officers at the Second College.

A breakdown of class representation also signals the continuance of sophomore control in the Senate next year. Half the Senate will be sophomores next year, three will be juniors and one will be a senior. This year the Senate consisted of 4 sophomores and 4 juniors.

The election of Trish Cunningham marks the second time a girl has been elected Vice-President. Senior Janet Albin served in the same capacity four years ago.

UCSD has never had a junior as President. The first two years, senior Larry Baker was president (Albin served to as well) and the last two years the Presidents, Rick Moncreiff and Rich Altenhoff, were seniors.

Election Commissioners Jim Magill and Bruce Borden this past weekend released the official results of the voting, reprinted on page 8

Students Meet Provost

Provost Saltman admitted that UCSD has not yet reached the goals set for it by those who first thought of creating a new university based on entirely new concepts. The Circle K sponsored the question and answer period Monday night at 8 p.m. in USB 2722. One of these goals is the creation of a true collegium where the university administration, faculty and students would settle common difficulties in an atmosphere of mutual trust and respect. However, it seems to Dr. Saltman that the student body accepts confrontation as the only way to solve problems. He would like to see the creation of a government which would unite the administration, faculty, and student body into one unit.

To a question concerning the proposed seminar on the draft, Provost Saltman replied that the administration and faculty are very interested in the Selective Service problem. He said that the university has invited important national figures to come to UCSD late in May for a series of symposiums and seminars, which would last for a week or so. The names were not revealed because they have not as yet given any reply to their invitations.

Further discussion on draft problems created for the university revealed that anywhere from 3.8% to 70% of male first-year graduate students and graduating seniors will not be returning to any campus next year because of the draft. The wide range of these figures is due to the uncertainty of what the needs of the draft will be and because of the differences between local draft boards.

The discussion then turned to the general curriculum at UCSD. Provost Saltman announced that a full-time Department of Sociology will definitely be created next year and that a department chairman has been hired by the

Students Sue University

The University's student body presidents plan to sue the University Board of Regents by challenging the constitutionality of the new fee increase passed last Friday.

The suit will be filed by San Francisco attorney William Bennett, who will act on behalf of the UC Student Body Presidents' Council and the California Public Utilities Commission. He will also sue as a parent.

San Francisco campus ASUC President Dennis Michaud said he contacted Bennett about the matter four months ago.

"Bennett will take it all the way to the state supreme court if he has to," he said. Michaud is spokesman for the UC Student Body Presidents Council.

Michaud said the constitutionality of the fee increase was being questioned on the grounds of "taxation without representation, since the Regents are insisting on using student fees for administrative expenses." He added that $675,000 out of the $81 increase would be used to fund the dean of students office.

He explained that the student fees were not to be used as tuition, and were supposed to cover only incidental student services.

Michaud said Bennett would approach the Regents on the basis that they don't have the right to tax the students for educational expenses at a state supported institution.

According to Michaud, only $3 million of the increased fees will be going towards scholarships.

Governor Reagan has indicated that the fee increase is only "the first step in the University's acceptance of their own fiscal responsibility," Michaud continued.

The constitutionality of the fee increase will also be challenged by the fact that at present a $738,000 laboratory fee is now diverted from tuition to incidental student fees.

Referring to the outcome of the last Regents' meeting, he commented, "This just shows the hypocrisy of some of the Regents who were opposed to tuition, but supported the increase in fees."

Beahrs said he objected to the student fees being used to cover educational expenses, but that he was not opposed to the percentage of the fee increase which would go towards student aid.

Saltman Announces Revelle Gov't Plans

Provost Saltman has announced that Revelle College will hold its first open meeting next Tuesday at noon. Classes will be cancelled for the duration of the meeting which undergraduates, graduates, faculty, and administration will participate in.

The topic will be the future government of Revelle College. After two quarters' work COSA (Committee on Student Affairs) has come up with a proposal, which will be presented. In anticipation of a large turnout Saltman said that USB 2622, USB 2722, and HL Aud will be used, with a closed-circuit TV linkup between the three rooms.

The establishment of a Revelle College government has become crucial this year since UCSD's multi-college system has become a reality. Muir College already has set up a provisional government, while Revelle, in operation since 1965 (for undergrads) as yet has done nothing.

The COSA plan will be distributed to the University community and the following week - May 13, 14, and 15 - there will be question and answer discussion sessions held.

Representatives will be elected to participate in the Revelle government before the year is through. However, it was stressed by the Provost that they will be the ones to actually write the constitution; COSA's plan is only a suggestion.

Petitions will be available for students who are interested in running for the Revelle offices.

Saltman said that the government would have representatives from all the groups that comprise the university community. It would be an advisory body to the Provost and would hopefully have constructive ideas to offer him.

Two Faculty Members Receive Top Honors

Two members of the University of California, San Diego faculty have been elected to membership in the National Academy of Sciences, one of the highest honors which can be accorded to an American scientist or engineer.

They are Dr. Henry W. Menrad, Professor of Geology at UCSD's Scripps Institution of Oceanography, and Dr. William Prager, Professor of Applied Mechanics in the Department of Aerospace and Mechanical Engineering Sciences. The announcement of their election was made Tuesday, April 23, by the Academy at its 105th annual meeting in Washington, D.C.

Drs. Menrad and Prager were elected for their "distinguished and continuous achievements in original research." Their election brings to 21 the number of National Academy of Sciences members now on the UCSD campus.

Dr. Menrad's chief field of study is the floor of the sea, particularly that of the Pacific Ocean and he has contributed greatly to the understanding of the ocean bottom. His research findings have been the topic of numerous scientific papers. In June 1964, Dr. Menrad was instrumental in discovering where an ocean rise had existed in the mid-Pacific, 100 million years before.

Historically

Enthusiasm Fails

Now that Tom Shepard and his new Senate have taken over the AS, it is time to look to the future and the significance of a new government. For three weeks, AS affairs have been on the minds of students more than at any other time of the year. Historically the new officers enter office with great enthusiasm and determination to get things done. As months pass by, however, we hear less and less from our elected representatives.

Next year, with almost 3700 students at UCSD (including about 2800 undergrads) the Senate will have a greater responsibility to reflect student opinion. They must not fall back into the traditional habit of forgetting the students. Next year, hopefully, more than just a handful of students will know their Senators.

With representation by colleges now in effect, the Senators should be able to meet more often with their districts. The College Senators-at-Large should make it a point of visiting all the dorm suites at least once a month. These six Senators have the duty to be informed of the status of their college governments at all times so that close cooperation with the AS is maintained.

As for the president and vice-president, we feel that they should utilize the resources of student organizations to carry out Senate programs. They should create an effective network of communications between the colleges and the AS Office and a monthly newsletter to all the students should be instituted to keep all undergrads informed of the Senate's latest actions.

Finally Senate meetings must be publicized to attract student participation and interest. Minutes should be circulated and Senatorial articles for the Triton Times should be encouraged. Only with such wide-ranging efforts can the ten AS officers be truly responsive and representative of the students.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Can You Accept The Challenge ?

I do not wish to thank you for electing me. I wish only to tell you what I expect from you in the coming year. Any student who wishes to ignore his responsibilities as a member of the University community, any student who believes that his education lies only in the classroom, any student who is satisfied with his present role in the Associated Students, will find the next year a very uncomfortable one.

We live in a world in which no thinking individual can isolate himself from the realities of his environment. If we are to assume our roles as responsible citizens when we leave the University, we must begin by involving ourselves in the affairs of the society of which we must soon become the leaders.

If we do not accept this responsibility, there may not be any society to become a part of.

The A.S. must and will be an organizer, a director, and an inspirer. The A.S. can no longer wait for the students to come to it; the A.S. must go to the students.

There will be a reason for participating in the A.S. because as a collective force it can wield the power and direct the enthusiasm of its members into channels which constructively affect the University and the San Diego communities.

The A.S. must and will be the agent for student action and expression. It will be not only the catalyst but also the executor of new ideas, ideas which may startle even the most progressive. And still, the A.S. will remain a responsible body which cultivates student opinion.

Whether you like it or not you will be hearing from the A.S. in the coming year.

Letters to the Editor

Editor, The Triton Times,

Student organizations should refuse to pay the "Profit" Company fee for use of Revelle Cafeteria until the use of this fee can be ascertained.

When I signed for Revelle cafeteria for the S.F. Mime Troupe, I was told of the ladder of fees charged, ranging from $12 to $47. For $47, the Profit Company would remove all furniture and then replace it and mop up. They wouldn't set up the chairs. So I "chose" the $35 fee which meant we would remove all furniture and set it up and Profit would put it back and clean up.

The justification for this fee is that it covers the costs of the janitor and any extra work he must do.

This seems logical. But when one discovers that none of this fee ever reaches the pockets of said janitor, that he receives a fixed daily wage which doesn't alter even if extra work or hours are involved, then one must refuse to pay this fee.

The Grad. Lit. Assoc. was astounded to discover this gross deception practiced on us and all student groups by Profit. We hope that an investigation will take place and that no one will pay the fee until the matter is cleared up.

Sincerely,
Sandra Dijkstra
Chairman Grad Lit Assoc

Editor, The Triton Times,

As you are aware, the UCSD undergraduate resident students have recently voted for a new type of cafeteria arrangement for next year. Although a significant number of students were involved in this action, there seems to be no student representation following up the vote. Aside from any economic or other benefits that may result from the new approach, one of the major advantages (and responsibility) is that there is now something to negotiate when the contracts are out for bid. That is, there is a great degree of flexibility and control that can be built into the operation of the food service. If the operation is to be optimally run for the students, it will require their representatives to get this information to the business office. The exact group may not be crucial, but the timing is. It must be organized FAST. The preliminary screening bids have been received and in the next three weeks the final details and selection of the contractor will be essentially completed. As far as I know, there has been no effort on the part of the students to supply any help in working out the contracts. (If the administration pushes for such help too hard, are they then "dominating" the students?)

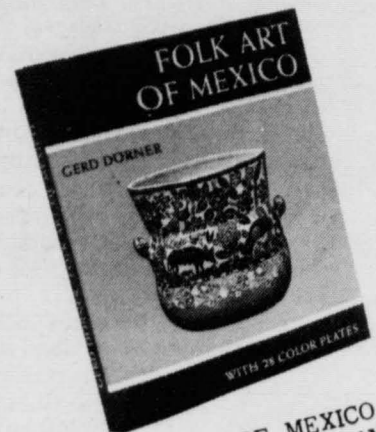

Let me make it clear that the job is not a trivial one, either in concept or in time. The cafeteria business is much bigger than most students realize and it will require getting into all the hard facts to make an intelligent inquiry. Representatives should be prepared to meet for 4-7 hours preparing their analysis and then allow approximately 3-4 hours/company, with perhaps four companies, say around a 20-hour minimum. This group should then continue as a followup group to see that the contract is implemented properly and to serve as a representative body to approve those changes which may be desirable, as experience dictates. Inasmuch as the cafeteria will also be open, a reasonable group might be: one student as a commuter, one graduate student, two Muir dorm representatives, two Revelle dorm representatives, one member Revelle Food Committee, and perhaps, an AS delegate as well.

At the moment, the question is not "how much power" the students can have with respect to the food services, it's how much work and responsibility are they willing to assume. I am aware that compared to the big problems in our society to which students are rightfully devoting so much time, this problem is a trivial one; nonetheless, the job must be done. If there is no student representation to fill this need, the administration will fill it by default. Are the students really up to it? I am writing this letter in the hope that it will stimulate a positive answer and a real response, LIKE NOW!

New Marijuana Laws Forseen In California

The Assembly voted yesterday to ease the penalty for marijuana possession, after hearing that judges and prosecutors evade the current law because it is too harsh on young people.

At the same time, the lower house approved a toughening of penalties for possession of dangerous drugs such as LSD.

Both provisions were in the same bill, sent to the Senate on a 50-23 vote.

The bill's author, Republican Assemblyman W. Craig Biddle of Riverside, said he is uncertain whether the measure can pass the Senate. Gov. Reagan was asked about the bill Tuesday and said:

"It is true that there is an inelasticity in the penalty that has now a tendency to let some violators off because the penalty is so severe. That's what it is seeking to correct. I'm sympathetic to that approach . . ."

Assemblyman John T. Knok (D-Richmond), said easing the law may result in more offenders being sent to jail for the milder misdemeanor term.

Biddle, a former public defender and deputy district attorney, noted that many law authorities evade the current tough law by agreeing with the defendant to drop the marijuana charge if a guilty plea is entered to another, less serious offense.

"It's just like picking up a person for one offense and letting him plead guilty to spitting on the sidewalk," he declared.

Current law, adopted in 1961, requires that the first conviction for possession of marijuana must carry a felony penalty—that is, a term in state prison of from one to 10 years. The judge may suspend actual imprisonment.

Biddle's bill gives the judge a choice of imposing the tough penalty, or handing down a misdemeanor sentence. This has a maximum of one year in the county jail.

The current misdemeanor only penalty for first offense conviction on possessing a dangerous drug would be altered to give the court the same choice as it would have on marijuana -- imposing the tougher felony sentence, or the milder misdemeanor one.

UCSD Freshmen Tops In Nation

According to a recent San Diego Union feature article about the calibre of entering UCSD students, our student body represents a distinct departure from national norms as well as the standards set for all of the UC campuses.

One example sighted by Judith Morgan in her article entitled "UCSD Frosh Top National Norms" was that four out of ten UCSD freshmen plan to earn the PhD degree while the national norm indicates that slightly more than one out of ten plan to achieve this academic plateau.

Turning to past experience as a measure of ability, the survey, conducted by a University of Michigan psychology professor during the past fall and winter quarters, reports that 75% of the incoming freshman have high school grade point averages of B plus or higher. The national figure quotes a figure approximating 45%.

Similarly, UCSD freshman lead entering classes all over the nation in their interest in the sciences showing three times the national interest in mathematics and four times that in the physical sciences.

In other areas, the new UCSD college set shows less interest and ability in sports and a greater level of independence than their counterparts across the nation. As might be expected a similar lag exists in seeking business careers or the performing arts while if teaching is their chosen profession it will most definitely be in the college lecture hall.

Hershey Has Last Say in Graduate Draft

Despite mounting pressures, there is little evidence so far that there will be any changes in Selective Service regulations that threaten to depopulate graduate schools of their first- and second-year male students next fall.

Appearing before the House Special Education Subcommittee, Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey said the draft policy is under continuing review. Under questioning, however, he said it is unlikely that the policy will be changed soon.

The subcommittee called General Hershey to help clarify the impact of the draft on graduate schools so that the committee could make a better judgment on Administration-proposed legislation to strengthen graduate education. The general provided little clarification. Most people in the committee room felt the same frustration as that of Rep. James A. Scheuer (D-N.Y.), who said that while he listened to General Hershey he went from "confusion, to bewilderment, to perplexity."

After trying unsuccessfully for five minutes to clarify Selective Service appeal procedures, Rep. Frank Thompson, Jr. (D-N.J.) sarcastically thanked General Hershey for his "enlightening testimony" and left the room.

The general bathed questioners in a flow of words spiced with evasion, humility, and aphorisms. Mr. Scheuer said he had justly earned the title as "the Casey Stengel of the Administration."

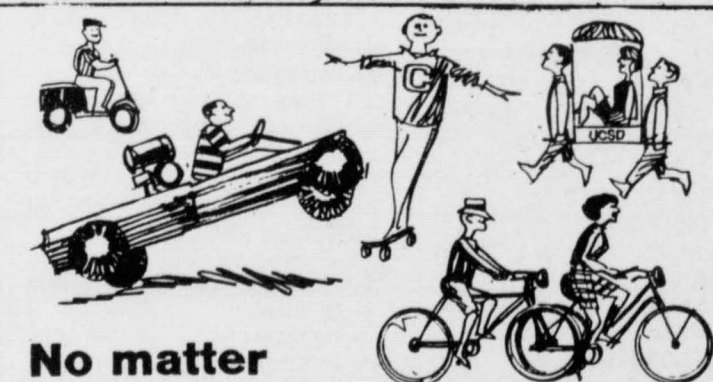

Last month, General Hershey informed local boards that there would be no more graduate deferments (except for people well along in study for a master's or doctoral degree); that deferments for critical skills and essential occupations would be suspended;

HYPOCRISY '68

Why do we continue to trade with the Communist Bloc while young men fight and die in Viet Nam?

WHY DOES THE GOVERNMENT IGNORE THE FOREWARNING OF LENIN?

"When the capitalist world starts to trade with us—on that day they will begin to finance their own destruction."

WHY DO GOVERNMENT LEADERS TELL US THAT TRADE IS LIMITED TO NON-STRATEGIC MATERIAL, WHEN THIS IS NOT TRUE?

HERE ARE JUST A FEW OF HUNDREDS OF ITEMS APPROVED BY THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE* FOR EXPORT TO THE USSR AND OTHER EASTERN EUROPEAN COMMUNIST COUNTRIES: *For a comprehensive list see U.S. Department of Commerce Current Export Bulletin 941, October 12, 1966. 71142—Aircraft engines as follows: (a) jet engines of 5,000 pounds thrust or over, and (b) turbo-prop and turbo-shaft engines of 2,500 horsepower or more with residual thrust of 1,000 pounds or more. Other jet, turbo-prop, turbo-shaft, and gas turbine aircraft engines. Parts and accessories, n.e.c., specially designed for jet, turbo-jet and turbo-shaft aircraft engines. 72499—Ground and marine radar equipment. 73202—Military and nonmilitary vehicles. Military trucks, truck chassis and truck tractors, etc.

WHY DO IBM AND OTHER COMPANIES SELL ELECTRONIC COMPUTERS TO THE COMMUNIST BLOC?

The "Frank McGee Report", NBC News, January 7, 1968, featured a special story on the extent of Soviet educational and scientific achievements since October 1957, when the first Sputnik was launched. During this news feature, Mr. McGee commented: "The heart of research . . . is the computer. Here the Russians frankly admit they're behind the United States by 5, even 10 years. But the Soviet scientists have come a long way from the days when Stalin decreed that computers were a wicked capitalist invention. Without the computer there would be no Soviet space program." Eugene Lyons, senior editor of the Reader's Digest, reports in his recent book "Workers' Paradise Lost": "It is easy to understand why the Kremlin is so eager to import Western and Japanese equipment in this field. By its own admission, the Soviet Union has not yet learned to make dependable electronic devices."

WHY ARE GOVERNMENT LEADERS INTERESTED IN SELLING OUR WHEAT TO THE COMMUNIST BLOC WHEN IT MAY SOON BE IN SHORT SUPPLY?
WHY DO THEY PUSH FOR THE UNITED STATES
TO SELL IT ON LONG TERM CREDIT?

The U.S.S.R. never did pay off "Lend-Lease" debts or pay for goods stolen from its satellites. It is significant to note that on April 6, 1964 the Assembly of Captive European Nations presented to UN Secretary General U. Thant a claim for $8,098,000,000 against the U.S.S.R. for "illicit gains the Soviet Union has made from 1955 to 1962 by overcharging exports and underpricing imports." If this is how they treat their "friends," how will they treat us?

WHY ARE GOVERNMENT LEADERS TRYING TO SELL THE IDEA OF "BUILDING BRIDGES" AND INCREASING TRADE WITH THE U.S.S.R.?

Do the Communists trade to "build bridges of understanding," or do they trade to strengthen their power for world conquest? In March, Congressman Melvin Laird disclosed that since October 1966, Soviet aid to North Viet Nam has been running at a rate of more than a billion dollars annually. Goods supplied include supersonic aircraft, surface-to-air missiles used to shoot down American aircraft, from 5,000 to 7,000 anti-aircraft guns with shells, jet bombers, transport aircraft, troop carrying trucks, petroleum, bridge repair materials, rockets and small arms.

HOW AN AMERICAN FIGHTING MAN FEELS—

Lt. Leslie Lewis from McLean, Virginia—after 11 months in Vietnam, reported in an interview:

"Even though it's rough, I'm proud to be here. It's for the country, after all, isn't it? I'd like to get into politics and really tell the people what it's all about. You know, we keep picking up Russian guns and other equipment. It sort of makes me mad that Americans are still doing business with the Russians the same time as we're fighting them here. No, I never saw any Russians here, but that doesn't matter. It's the gun that's even more important than the guy who fires it. And they are Russian guns. It doesn't seem to make much sense, does it?"

UCSD Hosts PCIYRA Soccer Has Arrived

UCSD's Sailing Team hosted the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Yacht Racing Association's eliminations for the National Leyman 10 Championships last weekend. The national championships will be sailed at Yale University this summer. Only the top two contenders will be sent to the nationals and they are USC and San Diego State. Other colleges and universities vying for the chance were UCSD, UCI, Cal State at Long Beach, Claremont Men's, and UCLA.

UCSD placed fourth in the fleet with skippers Ken Holmes and Rich Reineman outslaying many of the other skippers. Crews Cathy Topping and Chris Pendleton had quite a job holding the boats down, particularly on Sunday when the fleet was met with moderate winds and at least five other classes of boats racing causing rough water.

On individual scoring, UCSD's Rich Reineman was lead only by one man in points for racing victories. UCSD's Argyle Campbell led Rich by only three points (49-46) with San Diego State's Tom McLaughlin and Cal State's Eric Conn close behind with 44 points.

Final results were: (1) USC, (2) SDS, (3) CSLB, (4) UCSD, (5) UCLA, (6) UCI, (7) CMC.

Coming this weekend are the PCIYRA single-handed championships to be sailed at Santa Clara Point, San Diego State is hosting the Regatta which involves each skipper sailing the

Spikers Vie at Invitational

21 men from the UCSD track squad will represent the Tritons this Saturday at the Annual Orange Invitational Track Meet. 39 events are scheduled, so a number of athletes will be doubling up. Tom Wolf, the only Triton to qualify for the NAIA Nationals so far this year, will be present in his specialties: the long jump, triple jump, the 100 yd. dash, and the 440 relay.

The thinclads hope to bring back more medals than last year and the possibility is very good as shown in some events. Warren Kumley has come on strong in the distance events the last couple of meets, and will try to place high in the grueling mile run. Steve (Bullet) Garfalo and Roy Dimon will be in the field with the discus, shot and javelin. Tom Gatlin may improve his time even more in the 440 yd. hurdles, in which he broke his own record two weeks ago. The team hopeful of the year, Marc Rothman, will set his sights on a medal and the school record in the 440 yd dash, which has so far eluded him this season.

The Tritons have finished their dual meet schedule for the season, and will spend the next few weeks at invitationals in preparation for the NAIA District meet on May 18, and the All-Cal Meet the following week.

Soccer Has Arrived

Soccer has finally come to UCSD on the undergraduate level. Through the efforts of Randy Kaul and Bill Bartells, and the assistance of athletic director, Howard Hunt, UCSD will field an intercollegiate soccer team, under the coaching of Dr. Gian Sarolli. The team presently has a roster of 18 players, four of whom have previous playing experience. Randy Kaul, Bill Bartells, and Fred Grunewald have played together last year for the Hilltoppers in the San Diego County Junior Soccer League. The other veteran on the squad is Mike Moss, the team's left footed booter. However, Doctor Sarolli's great coaching is quickly shaping up the rest of the squad. In his training program, much emphasis is placed on conditioning and development of well-rounded players. To attain this goal much of the work-out consists of vigorous calisthenics, special soccer drills, and running. Sarolli expects each team member to exercise by himself and run at least two miles each day.

Another major goal which Sarolli is trying to attain is to teach his players to use their heads, not only to think, but to propel the ball. According to coach Sarolli more than 50% of the scoring is done with the head. In order that his players attain maximum proficiency in the use of their heads, Sarolli conducts numerous heading drill at every practice.

The team is quickly getting ready for its first practice game which will be held early in May. By that time, the 11 starting players will have undergone rigorous training in the basics of the sport. Hopefully, when the team starts league competition next fall, the squad will be bolstered

Racquet Men Become City Champs

The UCSD Tritons took the official city championship Tuesday by beating powerful San Diego Mesa College in a scrimmage match.

Mesa had a season record of 20 wins with 1 loss this year, and had just come from winning the JC Championship at Ojai this last weekend.

The Tritons defeated Mesa 5-4, with the deciding match being the first doubles match. The team of Terre-Hoffman defeated Logan-McLoughlin in a major upset 10-8, 0-6, and 6-4. Logan and McLoughlin won the Ojai doubles.

Wednesday the netters played Cal Western, which should have proved no problem, and will finish up their regular season next week on Tuesday and Wednesday with matches against Chapman and San Diego State.

May 11 will find the Tritons competing at Cal Lutheran in Thousand Oaks in the NAIA Regional Championships.

Crew Wins

The Tritons won their first crew match of the year last Saturday by edging UC Santa Barbara in an excellent showing by the UCSD light weights.

Held last Saturday, April 27 on Lake Cachuma on the Santa Barbara campus, the meet was quite a morale booster for the first year team. This was the first win for the UCSD crew in this, their first year of rowing. In comparison, UCSB did not win its first race until this year, their third year of competition.

UCSB opened with a 40-stroke per minute start and jumped to an early 3/4 boat length lead. UCSD, rowing at 32 strokes per minute closed the gap to 1/2 boat length at the 500 meter mark of the 2000 meter race. By then, UCSB had dropped to 36 strokes per minute, and UCSD pulled even at the halfway mark. (1000 meters), still stroking at a steady 32.

During the second half of the race, UCSD pulled ahead to a 1/2 boat length lead at 1500 meters and finished about 3/4 lengths ahead. Both crews raised their strokes to 38/minute in the final 100 meters.

The freshman race saw UCSD pull ahead by 2 seats on the first start, but the race had to be stopped when a power launch inadvertently pulled in front of the shells. The second start was even, with both crews stroking at 32. UCSB pulled ahead by 1/2 length at 500 meters, 1 1/2 at 1000, and finished 3 boat-lengths ahead of the Tritons.

The Light-weight Varsity Race saw UCSD finish first in the time of 6:54, with UC Santa Barbara caught in 6:57:3. The Heavy-weight Freshmen race had UCSB on 6:58, while the Tritons finished with a 7:13 clocking.

MEET DENNIS BARR.

He read all these texts the first 15 days of the semester, with excellent comprehension . . . and,

HE STILL HAD TIME FOR A NIGHT OUT WITH THE BOYS.

OUR GRADUATES CAN READ AN AVERAGE NOVEL IN 30 MINUTES

You'll probably say that anyone can skim through all those books. But Dennis reads every word. By using the Reading Dynamics technique, he reads over 3000 words a minute. At the beginning of last semester Dennis decided to read all of his class texts to improve his grades and to have more leisure time during the semester. No it wasn't a "cram" marathon. Dennis still had time for his personal reading and social life. Even in his law texts, Dennis rarely falls below 1500 words a minute. His comprehension is excellent. The statistics and details are not overlooked. Dennis Barr learned this amazing reading method at the Reading Dynamics Institute.

WHO HAS TAKEN THIS COURSE?

Over 300,000 students have benefited. Graduates represent members of President Kennedy's staff, Senators, businessmen, housewives, high school and college students, and busy people from all walks of life . . . people who like to read but don't have time.

TIME MAGAZINE SAYS

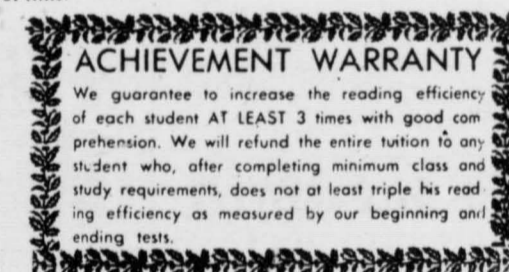

TIME MAGAZINE, in referring to Reading Dynamics' impact on our nation's legislators said: "Washington has seen nothing like it since the days when Teddy Roosevelt read three books a day and ran the country at the same time."

SENATE LEADERS PRAISE METHOD

SENATOR TALMADGE, Georgia, "... the greatest single step which we could take in educational progress." SENATOR PROXMIER, Wisconsin, "... one of the most useful educational experiences I ever had."

EQUAL OR BETTER COMPREHENSION

With the Reading Dynamics method, you read every word. You do not scan. You learn a technique, a skill, that permits you to read faster with equal or better understanding than the average reader. Our average graduate reads 4.7 times faster without sacrificing comprehension. Mrs. Wood says, "My students do not read 5 times faster by reading every 5th word, but by reading 5 times as many words in the same length of time."

FREE DEMONSTRATION AND LECTURE

- You will see a documented film that includes actual interviews with Washington Congressmen who have taken the course.
- You will see a Reading Dynamics graduate read at amazing speeds from a book he has never seen before and then tell you in detail what he has read.
- You will learn how we can help you to read faster, with improved comprehension and greater recall.

Election Results

For President, 826 (40% of the undergraduate student body) voted; 413 votes were needed for a majority:

Thomas C. Shepard	(66%)	543 votes	(57% Muir, 68% Revelle)
John Mishler	(34%)	286 votes	(43% Muir, 32% Revelle)

For Vice President, 799 (39%) voted; 400 votes needed for a majority.

Trish Cunningham	(67%)	533 votes	(56% Muir, 67% Revelle)
Ron Hetrick	(33%)	266 votes	(44% Muir, 31% Revelle)

For President and Vice-president, 155 students voted from Muir and 671 voted from Revelle.

For Upper Division Senator, 521 (46% of sophomores, juniors, seniors) voted; 262 needed for a majority:

Thomas Baer	(67%)	349 votes
Gary Curtis (write-in)	(33%)	172 votes

For Lower Division Senator, 378 (40% of the freshmen) voted; 189 needed for majority:

Tom Peiffer	(56%)	211 votes
Kathi Hoffer	(44%)	167 votes

Students Meet Their Provost

university. A department of Anthropology may also be created next year, however, the Revelle provost could give no answer as to who will head this department. The professor in question has not as yet accepted the university's offer. The Department of History is to suffer the loss of two professors, Mr. Barraclough and Mr. Peters. Saltman said that both were very fine professors and that their departure would be a considerable loss to that department and the university. Questions concerning the effects of cuts into the budget of the UC system touched a very sensitive nerve. Provost Saltman is definitely bitter over the fact that although the university voluntarily cut its request for positions for new full-time professors from 78 to 56, the legislature cut that number still further to 15. According to Saltman, this severely limits the ability to continue its planned expansion and is also very unfair when it is considered that UCLA can at any time hire 120 full-time professors because of absences which have not been refilled and new positions given to them. Provost Saltman added also that the number of T.A.s the university could hire next year had been cut from 77 to 70 in what he considered an act of revenge by the legislature because of the participation of T.A.s in the disturbances on the Berkeley campus. Finally, Saltman stated that the UC administration is attempting to redirect students to the smaller branches of the UC system such as the San Diego campus. This is to be accompanied by increased in the budgets of the respective campuses.

SD Gymnasium Open By May 15

Barring any unforeseen difficulties, the UCSD gymnasium will be opened by May 15. The dates given to the Triton Times were between the 15th and the 1st of June, but P.E. Chairman Dr. Forbes is confident that the building will be usable for the Cal Tjader concert the 17th.

Much still has to be done on the gym, and it will not be completely finished until some time this summer. But Dr. Forbes said that it will be usable for the activities planned for the rest of the year if the contractors don't go on strike, or an earthquake develops or something. If you have gone and looked at the progress, you will see that the floor is far from finished with no bleachers up on the court. Two weeks is what they have to finish the floor surface, so good luck.

MEMO FROM WARD BEECHER:
A student committee is currently discussing a student center. Either adjacent to it or connected with it will be the International Student Center. Committee members are trying to find out at this point what items should be included or what portions of the Center should be included which would be either exclusively for foreign students or where foreign students would have priority of use. There is some urgency in this, so your suggestions will be appreciated.

In 1969 this campus is going to participate in the International Week in connection with the 200th anniversary of San Diego. Any ideas as to how we may best do this on this campus will be welcomed. Also in connection with that same program, we are going to be asked to participate in an international parade. Any suggestions for floats, costumes, etc. will be appreciated.

THERE ARE THOUSANDS OF summer and full time jobs available in Europe through the offices of the American Student Information Service.

Wages range to $400 a month and provide an opportunity to go along with the President's plea to bring those dollars back to the U.S. and at the same time avoid putting off that yearned for trip abroad. Young Americans working in Europe receive the same wages and work under the same conditions as the Europeans with whom they work. All necessary working papers, accommodations, etc. are taken care of by ASIS.

The vast job selection includes resort work, office work, sales work, factory work, farm work, shipboard work, construction work, hospital work, child care and camp counseling.

Interested students may write directly to Dept. VIII, ASIS, 22 Ave. de la Liberté, Luxembourg City, Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, for job applications and an illustrated 36-page booklet giving full details about available jobs. Each inquiry must be accompanied by $2 to cover the cost of the material, handling and air-mail postage.
