UCSD ALUMNI ASSOCIATION ANNOUNCES NEW OFFICERS

The Alumni Association of the University of California, San Diego, in a June meeting, elected a new president and new members of the executive committee and board of directors.

"The Association is pleased to announce its new leadership. By developing programs that encourage alumni participation in the university, the Association serves as an important resource for UCSD. A strong, dedicated leadership is essential in building the UCSD Association," said Alumni Association director Bernie Farrow.

The Association's new president, Bob Kelly ('74), is assistant to the president for Sharp Health Care. Kelly received his undergraduate degree in communication from UCSD's Muir College. He has served as vice president of the association for the past two years.

Joining the 1992-94 executive committee are Martin Shapiro ('81), president of Wealth and Tax Specialists; Craig Maudlin ('75), president of ADAPSYS, Inc.; Karen Winston ('80), marketing director for Andersen Allen Insurance Agency; Susan Taylor ('77), director of UCSD Governmental and Community Relations; Pamela Coker ('70), president of Acucobol, Inc. and Steve Schreiner ('80), a partner with the law firm of Barnhorst, Schreiner and Goonan.

Elected to three-year terms on the board of directors are Cheryl Bray ('86), a Warren College Graduate, who is a broker with the real estate firm of Coldwell Banker, and Danny Martinez ('73), a Third College graduate, who is a professor of sociology at Grossmont College and San Diego State University.

Marc Reed Brutton ('79), a graduate of Muir College, who is a managing partner in the real estate development firm of Reynolds & Shidler, was named to a one year term.
