

Student Job Center offers employment

September 20, 1976

Hundreds of UC San Diego students returning to campus are seeking part-time employment during the academic year in both technical and nontechnical areas. The UCSD Student Job Center can provide students for almost any job that individuals or employers in the community might have available.

The job center offers a referral service for employers at no charge. Students are referred directly to employers and in past years have filled a wide variety of employment positions.

Whether it be for one job or a dozen, in a business or at home, the UCSD Student Job Center would like to provide the person to fill the position. Information listing jobs can be obtained by calling the center at 452-4500.
