Caritas PNG to conduct first SOCIAL JUSTICE SUNDAY programme

'Let the Children come to me' is the theme for this years Social Justice Sunday.

Caritas Papua New Guinea will host its first Social Justice Sunday program this year on November 18th. The program will have its theme as "LET THE CHILDREN COME TO ME" which will reflect the 2007 Year of the Children.

The Bishops have written about the 2007 Year of the Children and have sent Pastoral letters to the children and the Adult people during their Annual General Meeting in Mendi (Southern Highlands Province) this year.

The Social Justice Sunday will be an avenue where issues affecting children can be discussed. Caritas PNG has produced a booklet that will discuss children's issues such as the rights of children, children and the natural environment, Children and gender roles and many others. There are other activities that are being planned to ensure the intended message does get out to the people.

The program is scheduled for the 18th of November so the Social Justice Sunday falls on the Sunday leading to the Universal Children's Day. This will ensure that people are reminded about Universal Children's day before hand.

This is the first Social Justice Sunday program initiative of Caritas PNG and Thanks to Caritas Australia for supporting this program.

New Bishop for Aitape Diocese

By Tracey Paliou

The people of the Diocese of Aitape celebrated with hearts full of joy during the Episcopal Ordination of their new Bishop, Most Reverend Otto Separy.

Bishop Otto will be taking over from Bishop Austen Crapp ofm, who has served the diocese since 1996.

The Episcopal Ordination was held at the St. Ignatius Cathedral in Aitape on Tuesday 30th October.

Hundreds gathered to witness the occasion, traveling from as far as Vanimo, East Sepik, Port Moresby and from areas in the Aitape, Lumi and Nuku Districts. Bishops from various Dioceses in the country as well as the Nuncio Bishop Francesco Padilla was also present. Prime Minister Sir Michael Somare along with the Minister for Finance and Treasury and Member for Aitape-Lumi Patrick Prauitch and his wife also attended the occasion.

Bishop Otto originates from Tanguro Village No. 1, in the Sassoia of East Sepik Province. He has served in his ministry as priest for 16 years mostly in the Wewak Diocese. On June 20th he accepted his appointment as the Auxiliary Bishop of Aitape, and on Tuesday 30th October was his Episcopal Ordination.

The day was full of singing with colourful processions during the Mass until the closing of the ceremony with a feast for all to share.

Bishop Austen and Bishop Otto being escorted out of the Cathedral during the final procession.

Spiritual Directors from PNG and Solomon Islands Gather at Xavier Institute

Sr. Marie Turner DW

There is a great hunger in our Church for help in the spiritual life. For several years now there have been training sessions held in PNG for Melanesian Spiritual Directors. After the training they have tried to put into practice, both with religious and lay people, what they have learned.

The recent workshop, held at Xavier Institute, Port Moresby, was an attempt to gather these Directors and others for some peer support and ongoing formation.

The workshop was held last month. Seventeen persons attended, 9 were Melanesians and 8 were missionaries working in PNG. We represented 9 Nationalities.

The input came from the group itself with 7 Directors contributing from their expertise and experience. There was a lot of group sharing especially based on experience.

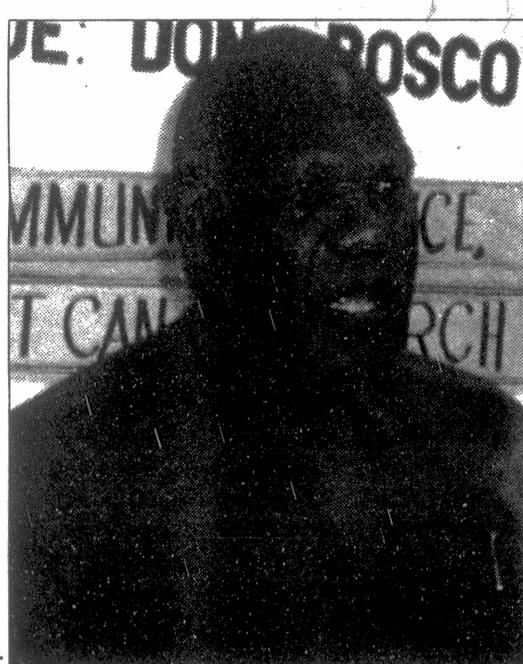

This was the first gathering of its kind and was greatly appreciated by all. There was a decision made at the end to continue networking with each other and work towards another such gathering in 2009.

There will be a three month training workshop for a small group of new Spiritual Directors at the beginning of 2008 at the House of Prayer in Madang.

Seventeen participants attended the workshop for Spiritual Directors held at the Xavier Institute

Be a part of the solution to the many issues
affecting the country

Mr ToGuata makes a point to his Caritas audience at the opening of the conference.

There are so many issues affecting the country every now and then and people tend to ask what the government is doing about the issues. But not many people tend to ask what they can do about the issues.

This was a reflection made recently by Ombudsman John ToGuata at the opening of the annual Diocesan Caritas Coordinators Conference. He said, as workers of the Church we have to rise up against evil of all injustices and fight to address issues affecting us. He went on to say that Church organizations, like Caritas PNG, has unlimited influence as the Church networks extends right down to the communities and people. He further went on to say that Caritas has unlimited influence because the status of the organization has a spiritual foundation and is grounded in the Church principle. He challenged Caritas coordinators and all people of goodwill to be weary of issues happening in the country and understand them so you can be a part of the solution.

Draft English translation of Liturgy completed

Commission Chairman Estimates Final Text to be Ready in 2008

Zenit News Agency

The draft phase of the process to translate the 2002 Roman Missal from Latin to English has been completed, announced the chairman of the International Commission on English in the Liturgy.

Bishop Arthur Roche of Leeds reported this in a letter sent, confirming that the last instalment – the appendices – of the draft version of the English translation was sent to the bishops of its 11 member conferences.

Bishop Roche said in the letter: "The draft phase of the commission's work of translating the missal has been brought to completion, some five years after the publication of the Latin original."

The draft translation, known as the "green book" due to the colour of its cover, will be reviewed by the conferences. The bishops will then submitted changes, which will be incorporated into a final proposed version, to be released as a "grey book."

Comments will also be solicited from the Congregation for Worship and the Sacraments, said Bishop Roche.

The final version will then be resent to the 11 bishops' conferences for approval before being sent to Rome for recognition. Bishop Roche estimated that the process will be completed by the end of 2008.

The chairman of the commission said: "The importance of this process of consultation in shaping the new English liturgical texts now in preparation can hardly be overestimated.

"A wide range of issues, both theological and linguistic, have been brought to the attention of the commission, who in response have sought to shape texts that will meet the needs of the worldwide English-speaking Catholic community."

Bishop Roche added: "The introduction of a new translation of the Mass will be an opportunity for renewed catechesis. Plans for this are already under way."

The 11 member conferences of the international commission include Australia, Canada, England & Wales, India, Ireland, New Zealand, Pakistan, the Philippines, Scotland, South Africa and the United States.

This new English translation will determine very much how the new edition of the proposed new Buk Misa to be used in Papua New Guinea will be translated.

VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Archbishop Sir Brian Barnes ofm of Port Moresby writes:

It is disappointing to hear that Parliament has so far not responded suitably to the petition regarding Violence against Women and Children presented to it some weeks ago by Dame Carol Kidu, the sole female Member of Parliament.

The petition, made on behalf of the women of PNG and numbers of concerned

males, stresses

the very serious nature of the widespread social problem of domestic violence.

Many

women are being targeted regularly and frequently,

normally by their husbands or partners, who claim the right to do whatever they wish to their wives in order to sort out real or perceived problems.

Children too are being subjected to violence in their own families.

Women are being seriously assaulted by men all over PNG on a regular basis. This is against the law. Many police, however, do not get involved to the extent of enforcing the law.

Many cases of domestic violence do not come to light. Numerous high-profile members of the community are also involved in domestic violence. It is an injustice that must be addressed.

A major part of the Churches' pastoral activity concerns marriage and domestic counseling, attempting to find solutions to individual problems, ideally involving both husband and wife in a genuine search for solutions.

These joint sessions are time-consuming, emotionally demanding and dependent on trust between pastor/counselor and each of the partners in the marriage, if not between each other. Progress, when achieved, is worthwhile.

Many aggressors are not willing to down this road.

Domestic/family violence is a most serious social issue in PNG. It must be addressed. Women must be heard. Children must be protected. Existing laws must be very much strengthened -- strengthened and enforced.

Domestic/family violence is a most serious social issue in PNG. It must be addressed. Women must be heard. Children must be protected. Existing laws must be very much strengthened -- strengthened and enforced.

This serious issue is the responsibility of Parliament to address and to put high in their agenda. So far, Parliament's response has been miserable.

Let Parliament show us that it is a responsible body, prepared to deal seriously with a serious PNG issue.

The Catechism of the Catholic Church

Bishop Francesco of Goroka writes:

Let's continue the exploration of our faith taken from the Catechism of the Catholic Church

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

God revealed the Ten Commandments to the people of Israel through Moses. They reveal who God is and the obligation that every human beings must have towards him and neighbours.

The Decalogue in Sacred Scriptures. Decalogue means 'Ten Words'. God revealed these words on the holy mountain establishing a close relationship between himself and Israel. These commandments indicate to the people how they should behave in order to be free from the slavery of sin and be in good relationship with God. Such relationship is called covenant. Covenant means that God takes the initiative to call people to be his own and that people in faith respond fully to such an invitation.

There is a grave obligation to follow the commandments because they express the fundamental duties of all human beings towards God and to wards their neighbors. They cannot be changed and we cannot run away from them.

"YOU SHALL LOVE THE LORD YOUR GOD WITH ALL YOUR HEART, AND WITH ALL YOUR SOUL, AND WITH ALL YOUR MIND" (Mt 22:37)

These words of Jesus express what it means to have a relationship between God and us. We have to respond to his love by loving him with all our strength.

The first Commandment:

"You shall worship the Lord your God and him only shall you serve".

The first command demand that all human beings accept God as the only one God and that they must worship him only. God revealed himself by letting the people of Israel know that he was the one who liberated them from the slavery of Egypt. By asking to be recognized as the liberating God he demands that homage and adoration be given him. To adore and recognize God as God is the vocation of all human beings. People have to acknowledge that God is the only one with the power to save us and therefore to him only belong reverence and worship. To know and love of God, the first commandments demand that we grow always in faith, hope and charity.

Faith. Faith has to be protected and nourished. Faith helps to know God deeper and to believe in him and bear witness to him.

We may fail against the first commandment by disregarding or refusing to believe the revelation of God and what the Church proposes for belief.

Hope. We are not able to respond fully to the invitation of God. But we firmly hope that God will help us with his blessings and so we may grow in knowing and loving him more and more.

We may fail against the first commandment by cultivating an attitude of despair. To despair is to think that someone may not be saved because of his sins and refusing to hope in the goodness and forgiveness of God.

We may also fail when we presume (presumption) or think that we can be saved without the help of God.

Charity. The first commandment demands from us to love God above everything and to love all creatures for him and because of him. To love God totally and to love creatures without other motivation but because of him.

We may fail against the first commandment by our indifference, ingratitude and hatred of God.

Him only shall you serve. To serve God is to recognize that we depend totally on him and it is essential for us to express it by

● Adoration: is to acknowledge him as God, Creator, Lord, and Saviour. It is to praise him and to humble oneself in front of him. In adoration, human beings become free of selfishness, sins and idolatry.

● Prayer: is a lifting up of our mind to God expressing our praise, thanksgiving, intercession, and petition.

● Sacrifice: is the giving of oneself in union with the total sacrifice of Jesus Christ offered to the Father for the salvation of the world.

You shall have no other God but me. The first commandment demands that no other god may be honored replacing the God who revealed himself to his people. It demands that forms contrary to God's adoration must be avoided like:

- Superstition: is to attribute to objects (ex: amulets for protection) or practices as having in themselves the power to protect or help people.

- Idolatry: is a form of worshiping many gods

- Divination: is to believe that by consulting horoscopes, astrology, palm readings we may be able to control events or situations of our lives. These forms are contrary to the faith and trust in the Providence of God guiding our life.

- Magic and sorcery: is a way to manipulate occult powers believing that they may be used by some people as supernatural powers against others.

- Irreligion: has various aspects: it is tempting God by not trusting in his goodness; it is to profane or treat unworldly sacred objects or persons consecrated to God (sacrilege); it is to believe that spiritual benefits may be bought with money (simony).

- Atheism: is a way of believing that human beings can live, act and die without God.

Next week: the Second Commandment: 'You shall not take the Lord your God in vain.'

Thank you all Caritas people for conducting election awareness

Caritas Coordinators report on Election Awareness

Caritas PNG as the Caritas PNG, the Justice, Peace, Relief & Development Agency of the Catholic Bishops' conference of PNG has conducted election awareness activities in the past elections and did so for 2007 National Elections.

Caritas had its intentions clear and that it was engaged in doing election awareness activities to empower and educate the people with the right kind of information so they could be able to decide for themselves the type of leaders they want when voting.

The election awareness program was extensive as it covered all provinces of the country. Much of the awareness activities were done by the Diocesan Caritas Coordinators and so during the annual conference in early October the coordinators gave reports on how they conducted the awareness activities in the different provinces. Many have commented that Caritas PNG had good network and its awareness did get down to people in communities. The coordinators also reported on the many challenges and problems that they faced trying to conduct awareness.

One of the main problems that were reported was the issue of transport problem. It was a common problem given the geographical situation of the country and the lack of proper infrastructures. The awareness program was a very difficult one in which awareness needed to be done on the new system of voting (LPV) and the changes to ballot paper and candidate posters. Given the complexity of the awareness program Caritas PNG people strived to promote good governance and managed to do the awareness successfully and received a lot of positive comments from people in the communities and people from other institutions that saw the benefits of the awareness.

Rabaul celebrates the Arrival of the First Missionaries and Proclaims a Jubilee Year

Some of the local sisters, priests and brothers dressed in the old habits of the first missionaries, arriving on a boat from their ship. At the beachfront they were welcomed by a group of locals from the nearby Livuan community, dressed in leaves and holding spears.

Celebrations were recently held to mark the 125th Anniversary of the landing of the first Sacred heart missionaries at Matupit Island in New Britain.

For the people of the Rabaul Deanery it all began a week before the actual date of the 29th September with Novenas at each parish in the deanery. On Friday 28th September, a traditional garamut ceremony called the "takta" was conducted all night through until dawn. At around 5am a dawn service was held and wreaths were laid with the United, SDA, and Local Churches taking part in choir. Everybody gathered at the beach front around the monument of the missionaries landing and processed to the church lead by Volavolo parish community. In the background Mt. Tavurvur was belching out smoke and ash and rumbling.

The Apostolic Nuncio - His Excellency, Most Rev. Francisco Montecillo Padilla was the main celebrant of the Holy Mass. The Liturgy was led by parishes of Matupit, Vunavavar, Ipatapal, Volavolo and Malagunan including other parishes in the Rabaul Deanery. After the Mass, speeches, choirs, dramas and singing tumbuna followed.

The next day there was a re-enactment of the arrival of the Missionaries at Vunapau.

Some of the local sisters, priests and brothers dressed in the old habits of the first missionaries, arriving on a boat from their ship. At the beachfront they were welcomed by a group of locals from the nearby Livuan community, dressed in leaves and holding spears.

The Pomio people who were the next lot of people to hear the Gospel, took over from the Livuan community at Warner Shand building and brought the missionaries to the Sacred Heart Cathedral where the mass was celebrated - this was a sign of the "light of Gospel" brought to them by the first recipients - the Tolais.

The Eucharistic celebration started with a procession by Pomio community into the Cathedral with the Apostolic Nuncio, the Archbishop of Rabaul and priests processing into the church. The church was packed to capacity and many people had to stand outside. The Liturgy was lead by the Rapo, Vunapau and Ulapia students with the Archbishop of Rabaul as main celebrant of Eucharistic mass. At the conclusion of the mass, Archbishop Karl Hesse officially declared the beginning of the Jubilee Year (until 29th September 2008). Around 3,350 faithful were present.

After the mass a cultural ceremony by the Pomio community was conducted at the construction site of the new cathedral. This ceremony preceded a previous one which was conducted last year when the old cathedral was demolished - according to the Pomio custom when a boy house (haus boi) is pulled down the chief of the haus boi is presented with a pig. Likewise, when a new haus boi is being built another pig must be presented to the chief again. So the Archbishop as 'chief' of the Archdiocese was given this honour.

More activities followed: the raising of the Archdiocesan Flag while the General Assembly song "We are Church" was sung followed by speeches, choirs, dramas and singing tumbuna.

Divine Mercy Congress Planned at Vatican

Zenit News Agency:

The first world congress on Divine Mercy will have ecumenical and interreligious overtones, according to the secretary-general of the event.

Father Patrice Chocholski said this as he announced that online registration for the 1st World Apostolic Congress on Mercy is now open on its Web page www.worldapostoliccongregationonmercy.org.

The congress on Divine Mercy will held April 2-6, in the Vatican's Paul VI Hall. The date was chosen to coincide with the third anniversary of the death of Pope John Paul II, as Divine Mercy was a major theme of his pontificate.

Father Chocholski told ZENIT that the agenda for the congress will include more than talks, but also activities organized in conjunction with the Diocese of Rome. Activities will include workshops, adoration, a procession of light throughout the city and the Mercy Festival in which participants will go out to the churches and squares of Rome to host concerts and prayer vigils.

The motive by which they will include other religions is that "mercy is important to build new bridges between civilizations and religions," added Father Chocholski.

He added that the congress is "for the entire Church," and that "no one has a monopoly on Divine Mercy."
