

Art critic Max Kozloff to lecture at UCSD

May 21, 1974

Art critic Max Kozloff will discuss "Moral Consciousness in 20th Century Art" in a lecture at 8 p.m. Thursday, May 23, at the University of California, San Diego.

The Department of Visual Arts is sponsor of the program which will be held in Room 2622 of the Undergraduate Sciences Building on the Revelle College campus. It is free and open to the public.

Currently a contributing editor for Artforum magazine, he has served as the art critic of The Nation and as the New York correspondent for Art International.

(May 21, 1974)