

Pianist Cecil Lytle to comment and perform on the influence of ragtime on February 10

January 22, 1991

Contact: Cecil Lytle, Third College Provost, 534-4002 or Alixandra Williams, 534-3120

PIANIST CECIL LYTLE TO COMMENT AND PERFORM ON THE INFLUENCE OF RAGTIME ON MODERN MUSIC

At 3 p.m., Feb. 10, in Erickson Hall at the UCSD Mandeville Center, pianist Cecil Lytle will perform the music of Scott Joplin in a program titled, "Rags to Other Riches," while also commenting on the history of ragtime throughout jazz and contemporary music. This concert is free and open to the public. Lytle's repertoire includes not only the classics (he's one of the world's leading proponents of the music of Russian composer Alexander Scriabin), but blues, jazz, boogie woogie and the happy sound of ragtime. This event is one of many celebrating the 20th anniversary of UCSD's Third College, of which Lytle is provost.

(January 22, 1991)