The 34 University of California, San Diego, and San Diego State University students who won 1995-96 Achievement Rewards for College Scientists scholarships have been announced by the ARCS Foundation.

The winners were honored Nov. 7 at the foundation's 10th anniversary awards luncheon at the Le Meridien Hotel in Coronado.

ARCS scholarships, in the amounts of $5,000 and $15,000, help support UCSD and SDSU graduate students in scientific fields. In the past 10 years foundation members have raised $1 million to fund the scholarships.

UCSD students honored were Scott Arouh, Ann Cass, Keisuke Juge and Royce Kam, physics; Linda Martin, Stefanie Nunez and Chad Palmer, medicine; Trevor Carson and Scott Crass, mathematics; Lakshmi Chilukuri and Jennifer Nauen, marine biology; Craig Clark and Estelle Siau, bioengineering; Kerry Hanson, chemistry; Daniel Herron, cognitive science; Audrey Ichida, biology; Philip Janey, earth sciences, and Thomas Primosch, mechanical engineering.
