Season '86 — Issue Number 23 — ends 13 August

Hello, hello! What's this?

by RONALD BULUM

AT 2pm on Friday, August 1, Kumul prop Robert Jakis received a telephone call at his office in the PNG Banking Corporation's headquarters in Port Moresby.

The voice that he heard on the phone was a familiar one and it often meant good news. But not this time.

It was a sour note that he got. Dave Ross, PNGRFL secretary, was the speaker of the dreaded message.

Jakis was told that he had just been dropped from the Kumul training squad that takes on the Kiwis in Goroka this Sunday and in Port Moresby the following weekend.

And naturally, he was shocked. "I was really downhearted and shocked when Dave told me about it," he said this week.

Jakis is regarded to be one of the best props in the country.

The cause of his exclusion was because he played in the Bankers league for PNGBC last Wednesday night contrary to instructions from Kumul officials.

Jakis's Paga Panthers' team coach Ian Gray is a very unhappy man. Mentor Gray described the move as 'absolutely ludicrous'.

"They are crucifying their own team. Robert is the best prop in the country," declared Gray.

"I am not happy. The guy had commitment to his employer — he did an honourable thing. The officials, apart from Brian Rosanowski, are jeopardising rugby league. They are trying to prove their importance.

"By the way, who did more damage, Robert playing for his employer or the Kumul players drinking (beer) on the grandstand?

"The best thing they could have done was to fine him, like Rosanowski said."

Jakis will be sorely missed. Although replaced by an up-and-coming youngster Peter Peng, Jakis's experience as a long time player at the top level of Rugby League in the country will not be available to match those of Kiwi forwards Ronald O'Regan, Adrian Shelford, and Brent Todd this Sunday.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

'Brothers coach not performing'

Dear Sir,

Being a supporter of the greatest game of all and a dedicated fan of Twinsties Brothers of Port Moresby I am disgusted in the manner the A grade coach has gone about in handling the team in the weeks leading up to the Brothers West game two weeks ago in which Brothers were dumped unceremoniously 22 to 8 points.

There are a couple of players who happen to be in the A grade line up who are not worthy contenders of the respective jerseys they are wearing. These players have not proved to us, the supporters and the club, that they are capable and competent footballers.

It is obvious to us that the selection criteria used by the coach are not based on the individual merits of the players.

As a direct result of this, the team has not been able to function effectively as a unit.

The coach has not been able to assess individual players with respect to the various positions they play.

The pivot (wearing No 7) who took the field against Hobart West is one case. His reading of the game and organisation of play on field was non-existent. In other words he should not have been on the field in the first place. In fact that was the major factor behind the Brothers' downfall.

There were a couple of other players who need to be shown the exit door out of A grade football and banished to the lower grades.

It is obvious that Brothers is entertaining refuse from other clubs while the home grown talent has been completely forgotten.

John Komane,
14-Mile,
Port Moresby.

Missing champs

Dear Sir,

As a Rugby League supporter, I would like to make a ten comments about the junior league selectors and players.

There are a number of junior stars in the senior divisions like Kepi Saea of Air Niugini, Tati Ivara of West, Koivi Pirika of DCA and so many others in the senior divisions throughout the country.

These promising juniors could have been selected for the recent junior Kumuls tour of New Zealand. If they were selected, I believe they could have done a little bit better than what our juniors did in the two tests.

Waim Dekemba Tangigi,
Boroko, NCD.

Better ties

Dear Sir,

I would like to express my disgust at recent allegations made against Rugby League in North Solomons province.

The players have to mix on and off the field in order to get to know each other better. This also means that they have been seen together at social gatherings.

Playing sports like Rugby League, soccer and aussie rules need team spirit and that comes through understanding, sharing and knowing each other.

North Solomons Rugby League has four new clubs — East, West, Air Niugini and Royals. The four are playing good football in the province.

Yapakon Parange,
Royals Club,
Arawa.

Send your letters to Rugby League News P O Box 1982, Boroko, NCD.

We will publish your letters if it is signed as a token of good faith.

● Hobart West winger Pukari Ovasuru normally scores tries with bursts like this but not so last weekend when Defence kept a close eye on him. Here he makes a clear break for the tryline but Defence's cover denied him a scoring chance. Defence caused the upset of the weekend by also dumping the competition leaders 27-18.

Mighty Wests looking good

by HENRY MORABANG

PORT Moresby league giants Hobart West will have an easy win when it takes on Hawks in the main Port Moresby Rugby League match on Saturday.

It will be a one sided affair with West set to take out this year's minor premiership for the second time running.

It will miss thinking players Joe Mirisa and Isa Mai

Despite its loss last weekend to Defence West is still leading the competition with 32 points. The other man Hawks should watch out for is pacy winger Pukari Ovasuru.

Ovasuru looks dangerous when given room to move.

Hugo Hawks will be led by utility forward Heni Heni who should put up a good show.

Last weekend's match Hawks drew with East 42 all. East is now the wooden spooner of the season. Both teams were equally matched with players and the high score revealed lack of defence by both sides.

The other match to watch out for this weekend is the Defence-Air Niugini clash.

Defence dumped West 27-14 last Sunday and is out to repeat the performance this Sunday.

The soldiers gunned down the heavy giants with Londari Minape and Iosefa Falaniko. Father Crocodile Henry Miro had no answer for this duo.

This weekend's battle will determine whether they can make the final five. Defence can make it provided Brothers lose against DCA.

Air Niugini can cause an upset provided it plays 80 minute football and makes more use of the heavier pack, something which it failed to do last weekend against Brothers.

Last week Bob Tolick was all by himself and found the going too tough for him although he made some good runs and defended well.

The game between Brothers and Air Niugini was really PX's game but it gave the game to Brothers so easily because of lack of co-ordination in the first half.

My tip for Saturday's game: Air Niugini to beat Defence and Hobart West to thrash Hugo Hawks.

DCA keen on victory

KIS DCA, secured on second spot, does a torrid but entertaining battle with Twisties Brothers during the main Port Moresby Rugby League game this Sunday.

Although DCA will be dearly missing the services of centre Dairi Kovae, and rampaging lock Arebo Taumaku, it should be able to gather enough fire power to have a win.

Kovae and Taumaku are in the Kumul team that takes on the Kiwis at Goroka on the same day.

But their absence should not wither DCA's hopes of a win in the last game of the season before the semi-finals the following week.

Kovae's place will be filled by his big brother Helangi. Helangi can do as much damage as his brother if the flexible Koivi Pirika spins the ball out from the five-eighth position.

Up front, veteran and skipper Tara Gau leads the pack. His younger brother Kin should give him enough support and also rake enough balls to set open play rolling.

Nohokau Lohia, who normally leads the offensive should put in the performance he usually does. If not, DCA can expect something nasty from Brothers.

After thrashing Air Niugini 32-26 last weekend, Brothers are keen to gather another two points for the competition ladder.

Centre-cum-five-eighth Bire Kimisopa is in peak form and if not contained could cut in for incisive moves. And that should happen because Kevin Yore at five-eighth is an equal distributor of the ball. He did that last week to win the man of the match award.

Magani hops aheads

THE Magani mean machine let loose with a 42-10 thrashing of United in last Sunday's Kiunga Rugby League.

Despite muddy conditions Magani ran in eight tries and kicked five goals against United's two tries and a goal. Magani half Fred Lifu scored five of Magani's tries in a brilliant effort.

United tried its best for the game but was defeated by Magani's physical fitness.

United opened the scoring when inside centre Yass Mugiar kicked a penalty goal after a Magani infringement.

But Magani soon retaliated with half Lifu scoring the first of his five tries with lock Gawi Irie kicking the first of his five goals.

United looked classy when, in a backline move, right wing Dewaiya Bidula dodged some pathetic Magani tackles to score an try which was unconverted.

Magani's defence tightened up and United could not score of rest of the first half. But Magani scored two more tries through Lifu and left wing Sair Gorgom which were both converted by Irie to have Magani leading 18-6 at half time.

In the mud, the ball was very slippery and Magani lock Irie picked up an United dropped ball to score a try. He failed to convert his own try.

Magani fullback Willie Jagara, who was very quiet in the first half joined up with his backline to score a try which Irie converted to have Magani leading 28-6.

The individual brilliance of United's Sagi Usa was rewarded with a try.

On Saturday, Royals shrugged off a determined K&T Country to win 36-24.

Medics, NGI on top

TOP teams Medics and NGI fought out a 4-all draw in the UPNG league competition last weekend.

Both teams now lead the competition on five points each while Southern, Northern, Lae-United, Blue Spiders on 2 points each.

NGI was the first to score when right winger Nobert Kubak touched down for their only try. Conversion attempted by former Island Zone fullback Ben Kamil failed. At half time the score remain 4-0 in favour of NGI.

In the second half Medics running against the win was able to mobilise and Joe Garap made a break in the centre to send Peter Fasu for a unconverted try. At fulltime the score remain 4-4.

Best for Medics were Garap and Jacob Pius while for NGI Jeffrey Puipui and Wesley Esau stood out. In the other two games Southern, with the leadership of former Air Niugini coach Adrian Genolagani was able to record their first win in the competition by defeating Blue Spiders 32-26.

East secures final spots

WITH four more games remaining before the finals in the Rabaul Rugby League competition, newcomer PTC East (Kaivuna) seems to have jumped all its hurdles to comfortably secure itself on 25 points in front of the other eight clubs.

All its three grades now look certain of an entry into the finals, the A grade leading, B grade running third, and the juniors on second spot.

Said club president Joe Aramana: "We are confident of seeing all three grades going to the grand finals. Last year our senior grade got robbed of their right to meet Sea Eagles in the grandfinal because of some minor technical errors which were raised against us by the league and the Brothers club.

"This year we intend to avenge that misgiving by ensuring that all three grades enter the grandfinals and win as well."

East has gone through the competition with a string of marginal wins and three losses. Twice it scored record points of over 70 points against clubs like NGIP Muruks and Balanataman, and registered more than 20 points against the other senior teams like Sea Eagles, Royals, Tarangau, Brothers and Crusaders.

A contributing factor that is obvious in the East camp is the composition of its young and talented players in all three grades. East has some of the youngest footballers in the competition. Many of them were either junior players in previous years or left on the reserve benches by other clubs through underestimation. Their talents were never tested until PTC "discovered" them.

Brothers is East's only problem in the finals if their players can only control their cool and settle down to play serious football.

Supporters also need to be told what crowd behaviour is, and the fact that Brothers cannot be expected to win all the time.

Otherwise, Brothers has a strong side that can take out the grandfinal title this year.

Royals (formerly Zulu Raiders), is still looking for the right combination that once game it a name in the Rabaul competition. After being suspended for two years, the team has re-entered the competition this year, with a change of name.

Fans brave Kimbe rain

KIMBE: More than 10,000 rugby league fans braved the rain in Kimbe on Sunday to watch the touring New Zealand side play against the Island zone.

Unfortunately for the Papua New Guinea side, the Kiwis won 26-6.

Port Moresby referee Tom Pelis took control for the first time in an international match and received high praise from both PNG league officials and the New Zealand side.

On their arrival in this idyllic centre last week, the New Zealanders were given a warm reception by the townspeople and the West New Britain provincial government led by Premier Bernard Vogae.

Various singing groups gave performances to entertain their football guests and they were given a tour of the surrounding area and villages, including the Bialla timber project and the Hoskins oil palm resettlement scheme.

Many of the tourists went out of their way during the four day stay to buy artifacts and gifts for relatives and to meet the enthusiastic league crowd.

Many people were awe struck at the size of some of the Maoris that were in the side like James Leuluai and Joe Rapati, younger brother of well known former Port Moresby league identity Peter who has since returned home.

The Kiwis returned to Port Moresby on Monday (August 4) to play the Southern zone side in the second leg of their PNG tour.

According to Kimbe rugby league officials, a record K17,200 was made from gate takings in the first ever international match held there.

LEAGUE METTAS

Puksy's neck on the line

SOMETHING is liable to break soon if West's colourful flanker Pukari Ovasuru persists with his antics when racing in for tries.

The pacy winger is revelling in the crowd's appreciation of his antics and is become one of his trade marks to dive for a try, despite the lack of defence anywhere near.

It has been recorded that collar bones have gone as a result of such antics, not to mention people knocking themselves out after resorting to dive scoring.

Perhaps Puksy imagines a swimming pool in his opponent's in-goal area everytime he runs in to touch down.

A report from Kimbe tells of several old timers from a remote village fronting up at the Kimbe Rugby League grounds to see the Kiwi-Island Zone game last Sunday.

They did not understand the game but their interest was inflamed by the publicity that the New Zealand Kiwis — those New Zealand birds that look like a cross between a cassowary and a heron were in town.

One of the oldsters had apparently seen the picture in one of his grandson's National Geographic magazines. He must have spread the word.

The Kiwis dished out their home made brew last Thursday during the reception at the New Zealand High Commission chancellery in honour of the touring Kiwis.

One guest remarked the brew tasted rather sweet. Another downed six and wondered why he did not get that funny, familiar feeling that comes every time he reached that number with PNG's own local brew.

He promptly switched San Mig.

Could be news for our official sponsors.

A recent US study has concluded that when it comes to health, fizzy drinks fall flat.

According to the study, soda weakens white blood cells of infections fighting capabilities and nullifies effects of antibiotics; sugar compels the body to excrete calcium which loosens teeth, make bones fragile and weakens the heart; caffeine irritates kidneys, raises blood pressure, cholesterol levels and blood sugar; and artificial flavourings and colours trigger allergies and interfere with metabolism. One bottle of soft drink a day means 7kg on the waistline in one year, according to the study. And sugar free drinks can still cause tooth decay because of acids.

Doesn't sound very encouraging for footballers who go through at least 20 crates of soft drink a weekend in Port Moresby alone.

Perhaps plain milk and water is called for. Cheers,
Jack Metta

Tougher Kiwis trash Islands

by STEVEN KADIKO

NEW Zealand proved too tough for New Guinea Islands when they walloped them 26-6 at the Kimbe Rugby League Oval on Sunday.

The Kiwis displayed top quality football that kept the crowd on their toes from start to finish.

The opening minutes of the game saw both sides guarding their tryline strongly not allowing each other to penetrate.

However, Islands could not keep up with the stronger pressure from the Kiwi forwards allowing fullback Darryl Williams who outran NGLI winger Kama Nalusi to score the first try of the match in the corner.

The conversion was unsuccessful but the Kiwis set up another try through Tea Ropati under the post. It was converted by forward Peter Brown and the Kiwis led 10-nil at half time.

The second half started with the first try for Islands when captain David Gaius made a break and was backed up by young David Tommy who received the pass to score between the posts.

Vice captain Ngala Lapan converted to bring the score to 10-6.

The Kiwis retaliated with strong running to allow Mark Elia to score between the posts.

Kiwi coach Graham Lowe said before the game started that, "We must make sure that we go through Papua New Guinea undefeated".

Lowe said after the game that he was impressed with Islands team who put up a tough display with the Kiwis.

He said that he would be expecting to meet tougher sides when they come to meet the Kumul side in the test.

After the game Adrian Sheelord of New Zealand and Joe Gispe of Islands were named the winners of the West New Britain Building Supplies man-of-the match award. Each player collected K50.
