HEPI NAMBA 10 ANIVESARI RD TUNA CANNERS

RD Tuna, running a business with a social responsibility

A congratulatory message from the Philippines Ambassador to Papua New Guinea, Shirley Ho-Vicario, to RD Tuna, on the occasion of their 10th Anniversary this year.

On behalf of H.E., Madam Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo, President of the Republic of the Philippines, I wish to convey my sincere felicitations to the Management and Staff of RD Tuna, on the occasion of their 10th Anniversary Celebration.

From a medium-scale business operation in Madang with just a few local employees ten years ago, RD Tuna rose to become one of the leading employers of Papua New Guinea, with 3,500 employees.

As a Filipino owned and operated company, its management affirms the Filipino philosophy of running a business with a social responsibility. Its commitment to the socio-economic development of Papua New Guinea remains unchallenged, which has led to a more equitable distribution of wealth. It may be noted that poverty incidence in Madang is low. Similarly, crime against property and person has always been low. The fisheries sector, especially the tuna industry where RD Tuna leads, has contributed to Papua New Guinea's economy from year to year.

RD Tuna's continued presence in Papua New Guinea for the past ten years reflects the confidence and support of the successive PNG governments to Filipino entrepreneurship and ingenuity. For this reason, I would like to convey the Philippine government's support and cooperation to its endeavors. Rest assured that under my term, there would be a renewed vigor for the conclusion of negotiations on the bilateral agreement on fisheries cooperation, which will be pursued to further enhance the RP-PNG fisheries resource sector.

Districts Empowered

The National Government has increased funding to the administrative Districts with a K356 million allocation in the Supplementary Budget passed by Parliament on Tuesday, October 9, 2007.

In handing down the budget, Finance and Treasury Minister, Hon. Patrick Pruaitch said this level of funding is the biggest support his Government has ever given the Districts.

"This is the Government's commitment to the rural people of Papua New Guinea, who make up 87% of the population.

"This is to improve service delivery at the Local Level and District Government levels,"

Govt Allocates More Funds

Minister Pruaitch told the House. Each of the 89 Districts will receive K4 million towards the Districts Services Improvement Program.

In the past, Districts were allocated K400,000 under this program.

"This allocation of K4 million per District is saying that Districts must now consolidate in terms of improving service delivery facilities, and becoming key service centers for Government programs and policy intervention in rural development.

"This is substantial sign to the people of PNG that the Somare-Temu Government is very serious about consolidating service delivery at the District level and empowering ordinary Papua New Guineans in the rural areas", he said.

And he has cautioned all MPs that there must be corresponding increase in accountability of the funds by the Districts.

Mr. Pruaitch said Members of Parliament who are Chairmen of the Joint District Budget Planning Priorities Committee must ensure that their District administrations are organized to deliver on projects and report on them, as well, to meet public accountability requirements.

"As part of the accountability measure, I have instructed the Secretary of Finance to ensure that the Finance Instruction's governing public expenditure compliance for such funding is enforced.

"I must inform this House and the people of PNG that this increase to K4 million from K400,00 to the Districts is a true and substantive commitment to improve service delivery and really contribute to empowering ordinary Papua New Guineans," Minister Pruaitch told Parliament.

The Government's K1.6 billion Supplementary Budget for this year was passed unanimously with a vote of 84 to nil. ■

Rubber Producers Urged To Improve Quality For Export

Suppliers of rubber in Papua New Guinea must continuously improve the quality of rubber they produce for export.

The most frequent quality issues exist today include consistency, contamination, undried rubber and packaging. These problems can be overcome by using suitable processing facilities and managing the process correctly, so as to meet the stringent international standards.

In retrospect, it is imperative that production and marketing of rubber destined for overseas markets must be in the "processed form". By definition process form means rubber that has been processed through a factory thus producing technically specified rubber (TSR) which is a modern marketable form of rubber demanded by major consuming countries.

Under the Association of Natural Rubber Producing Countries (ANRPC) Convention of which Minister for Agriculture and Livestock, Hon. John Hickey.

Papua New Guinea is a member, all rubber being produced for non-dipped goods in a member country must be processed into technically specified rubber (TSR) to meet international standards, set by International Organization for Standards (IOS) responsible for technical grading for natural rubber.

Papua New Guinea has over the last twenty five years adopted and implemented the conventional practice of technically specified rubber (TSR) through factory processing. Since then Papua New Guinea has been processing and exporting rubber as Papua New Guinea Classified Rubber (PNGCR). To date there are four (4) rubber factories in the country producing TSR rubber.

These are Moreguina and Doa rubber factories in Central Province, Gavien rubber factory in Angoram, East Sepik Province and North Fly rubber factory in Kiunga, Western Province.

In order to meet stringent international quality standards and to compete and stabilize in the international market against synthetic rubber, only above-named factories which process TSR rubber are allowed to export rubber from Papua New Guinea as PNGCR.

Unprocessed rubbers in the form of cup-lumps are banned from being exported from this country, as cup-lumps do not fall under the classification of PNGCR.

Any individual or company engaged in exporting unprocessed rubber in the form of cup-lumps are to cease such practice immediately upon receipt of this directive.

Appropriate legal action would be taken against any individual or company for defying aforementioned directive, without further notice. ■

Dame Carol Hosts Public Policy Forum

The Department of Community Development hosted the first public forum at the Hideaway Hotel in Port Moresby to raise the quality and profile of discussions on its Integrated Community Development Policy (ICDP).

Cabinet endorsed the Integrated Community Development Policy making it the first national policy framework for community development.

The first speaker was UNICEF Director, Hammish Young who highlighted the need to ensure that children needs are properly addressed in development in PNG.

Minister for Community Development, Dame Carol Kidu, forecasted that 2008 will be the year of implementation of the Integrated Development Policy.

She said 2008 will see an increased implementation of the Integrated Community Development Policy, the Early Childhood Care and Development Policy.

"I am also keen to see the wider community debate, discuss and contribute to this wide social policy agenda which I describe as an 'empowerment agenda'.

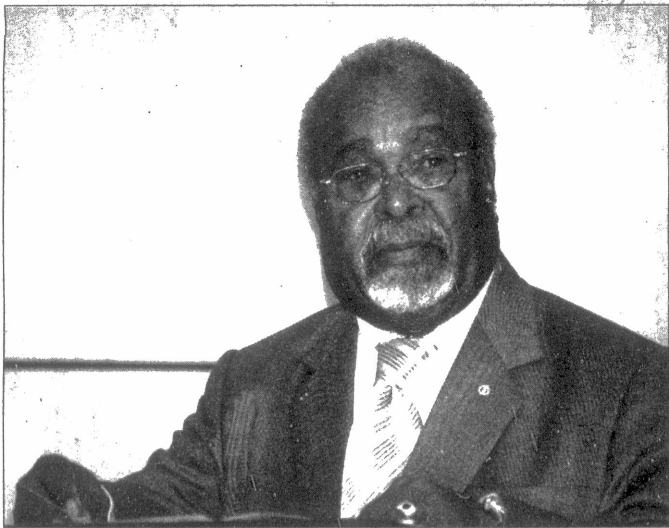

"An empowerment agenda brings a focus on addressing the barriers that limit all people, regardless of gender, age, disability and all other factors.", she said.

The public lectures are intended to occur every six months to start conversations that will create social change and bring new ideas and strategies, the Minister said. ■

PM Attends Tonga Forum

Prim Minister and outgoing interim Chairman of the Pacific Island Forum (PIF), Sir Michael Somare, attended the 38th Leaders' Summit in Nuku'alofa from 15th-18th October.

Sir Michael said the PIF is the "region's premier political and economic policy organization" which meets annually to develop collective responses to regional economic, political and social issues.

"We will have substantial discussions in Tonga, including the political situation in Fiji, RAMSI in the Solomon Islands, progress report on the implementation of the Pacific Plan, and country initiatives by Samoa and the Small Island States (SIS)", he said.

Sir Michael said Foreign Affairs and Immigrations Minister, Sam Abal took part in the Post Forum Dialogue with partners: Canada, China, the EU, France, India, Indonesia, Japan, People's Republic of Korea, Malaysia, Philippines, Thailand, UK and the USA.

PNG hosted the 36th PIF in Port Moresby and handed over the Chairmanship to Fiji in October 2006. However, following the December 2006 coup in Fiji, PNG was asked to retain the Chairmanship on an interim basis.

New Caledonia and French Polynesia are associate members while Tokelau, Wallis & Futuna, and Timor Leste have observer status. ■

PNG Hosts Auditor-Generals Meeting

Papua New Guinea hosted the 10th South Pacific Association of Supreme Audit Institution (SPASAI) Congress last month.

Around 40 Auditor-Generals from 24 Supreme Audit Institutions from Australia, New Zealand and Pacific countries, as well as the American-aligned island nations, attended the congress, which was aimed at strengthening audit capacity in three phases.

These include - training and common standards; creation of Offices of Auditor-General Federation, funding of regional training programs; and creation of regional panel of auditors that could audit national and Pacific regional agencies.

Auditor-Generals are key agents of the Westminster system of Government and enjoy an esteemed status in their respective countries.

PNG's Deputy Auditor-General, Mr Mac Pona Kawa, said the concept of the a Pacific Islands Regional Auditor-General was mooted following the memorandum of understanding, agreed to by the leaders, to cooperate and work for the mutual benefit of the island nations under the Pacific Islands Forum.

PIF strives to promote good governance, accountability, economies of scale, growth and trade and political stability amongst the member countries.

Mr Kawa said discussions focused on the need to strengthen and examine avenues of collaborating and conducting joint audits amongst the SAI's of the Pacific region.

SPASAI is the regional association for the Auditor-Generals among the Pacific Island nations, which is affiliated to the International Organization of Supreme Audit Institution, which meets every four years.

Auditor-Generals in the region meet once a year through SPASAI Congress to deliberate on issues common to their profession and share unique matters of interest which are experienced in their respective developing audit offices and countries.

SPASAI Congress is the first one to be held in Port Moresby since the establishment of this Office thirty years ago. ■

PM Invites Prince Charles

The Prime Minister, Grand Chief, Sir Michael Somare has invited HRH Prince Charles to PNG to promote the initiative on climate change.

Sir Michael met the Prince's Senior Advisor on the Prince's Rainforest Project, Andrew Mitchell, who was attending the high-level climate change meetings that took place in New York in last week of September.

Sir Michael said he is very happy to learn from Mr Mitchell that Prince Charles has been following closely over a number of years, PNG's efforts in ensuring that developing nations views are taken into consideration in addressing climate change and sustainable forestry.

"Mr Mitchell informed me that Prince Charles has been advocating business leadership on environmental issues and is encouraged by PNG's contribution to the climate change debate.

For this reason, I extend an invitation through Mr Mitchell for Prince Charles to visit PNG at a time convenient to him," said Sir Michael.

At the same meeting, Sir Michael also pledged PNG's support for Costa Rica's Foreign Minister, Hon Bruno Stagno Ugarte for his country's membership to the United Nations Security Council in order to gain prominence on PNG/Costa Rica rainforest nations' initiative on climate change.

Sir Michael said Costa Rica is the Co-chair and Member of the Coalition for Rainforest Nations and will fully support our intervention on sustainable forestry at the Security Council level. ■

Tipo Awarded Royal Victorian Order

Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II, has awarded Mr. Tipo Vuatha, the Official Secretary to the Governor General of Papua New Guinea, Grand Chief, Sir Paulias Matane, the Lieutenant of the Victorian Order (LVO) recently.

The Royal Victorian Order is sought as a personal gift to any foreign dignitaries and only her relatives by the Queen and not as nominated by the commonwealth countries.

Mr. Vuatha's award follows a letter by the Prime Minister, Sir Michael Somare to the Governor General in 2004 mentioning the recipient's name and the latter was forwarded to the Queen of England.

Mr. Tipo said he was asked by the Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II to travel to Buckingham Palace to receive his award but could not make it due to financial constraints.

The Official Secretary revealed this in an interview at his office at the Government House, Konedobu Port Moresby, on 1st of October 2007.

But he said it was good that the investiture took place at the Government House and was conducted by the Governor General,

EDUCATION

Course Enhances Literacy In Remote Rural Areas

Graduation ceremony held at Saidor, Madang Province which coincided with National Literacy Week.

Children and adults in remote areas are increasing their enrolments in community based literacy programs conducted by graduates of Strengthening Tokples Education in Papua New Guinea (STEP) course.

STEP courses are being organized to bridge the Tokples schools and the formal school system, and further strengthen literacy programs among adults in the rural areas.

The program commences with the foundation of literacy and math skills in their respective tokples or mother tongue, and then crossing over to class instruction in the national language.

The literacy programs are currently conducted in remote areas of Madang and Morobe provinces.

The STEP course and Orthotech Workshops were organized by the Summer Institute of Linguistics in Eastern Highlands and the Bible Translation Association of PNG.

More than 27 graduate teachers are taught basic literacy skills of developing programs and curricula in Tokpisin for their preschools, and how to coordinate Alphabet Design Workshops in communities where there is no written form of the vernacular language.

"Many children from ethnic minority language groups have to cross from their home language to the school language with little help.

"In this regard, STEP makes quality education possible by adapting conventional instructional methods and materials to fit a local culture. It makes a pathway across the cultural and linguistic barriers that prevent minority language speakers from learning and living within the wider language and culture.

"People learn best when they learn in a language they understand well," according to a statement from SIL.

In the meantime, SIL is currently working in many rural areas of the country, where formal elementary system has not yet been introduced. It is also consulting with language communities worldwide to facilitate language-based development through research, training and advocacy. ■

Students Sit For Final Exams

An estimated 139,000 students in Grades 8, 10 and 12 sat for their final national examinations this year.

10,064 Grade 10 students sat for the School Certificate examinations on 15th to 18th October followed by 34,198 Grade 12 students who sat for their Higher School Certificate examinations.

95,000 Grade 8 students sat for their Certificate of Basic Education examinations from 6 to 9 November.

Secretary for Education, Dr Joseph Pagelio said examinations were important to determine the future of each student.

He said results from the examinations will also determine whether the students can move on to the next level of education or not.

Dr Pagelio urged all students to keep out of trouble and look after themselves well in preparations for the examinations.

He wished all Grades 8, 10 and 12 students all the best in their final examinations. ■

Sir Paulias Lauds TVET

Governor General Grand Chief, Sir Paulias Matane says Technical Vocational Education Training (TIVET) has a huge potential to contribute to improving the social and economic development of Papua New Guinea.

And he has appealed to leaders in the new government to make a difference for the people by allocating more resources to our TVET institutions.

Sir Paulias says there is a greater need in relevant skills training for our young people in the country.

He said this when he opened the National Education Week on 1st October 2007 at the Sir John Guise Stadium in Port Moresby.

He said the theme for this year 'Technical Vocational Education Training-Skills Development for Nation Building' is very timely, because there is need to educate the general Public about the important role TVET plays in the well-being of a person and the development of country.

He told students from various TVET institutions and schools in NCD who gathered at the Stadium for the occasion that the National Sir Paulias is being escorted to the podium by Education Secretary, Dr. Joseph Pagelio, Vice Minister, Hon. David Arore and Chairman of the Teaching Service Commission, Mr. Michael Pearson at the Sir John Guise Stadium, Port Moresby for the opening.

Education Week is usually held in the first week of October to promote the theme for education every year.

Sir Paulias added that this year technical vocational education and training - skills development for nation building was chosen as the theme for education to promote the importance of vocational and technical training.

"Skills training has been in existence for a long time however, support from the government has been declining over the years.

"There has been so much talk about TVET in recent years by the government and the Department of Education, but there has been minimum financial and political support," Sir Paulias challenged. ■

Literacy And Awareness Structure To Be Overhauled

The National Literacy and Awareness Council and the National Literacy Policy Review Task Force has recommended the establishment of a National Language and Literacy Institute (NLLI).

The current literacy structure, comprising the National Literacy and Awareness Council and its Secretariat, are believed to be inadequate to promote and advance the development of language and literacy in the country.

The Task Force resolved that, the proposed institute would respond effectively to the critical literacy development needs, as well as to review the National Literacy Policy.

A major policy for the National Language and Literacy Institute

(NLLI) was formulated and will be submitted to the Minister and the Department of Education when it is finalised.

The Task Force also recommended membership of the National Language and Literacy Institute Board, to set guidance and direction for the development of language and literacy in all sectors of the community. ■

OFFICE OF RURAL DEVELOPMENT

ORD Needs More Money: Sai'i

The Office of Rural Development (ORD) does not have adequate funds to coordinate the implementation of the Government's rural programmes.

The Acting Director of the office of Rural Development, Mr Paul Sai said at the Southern Regional Workshop organized by his office.

"K4.0 million budget a year is not enough to enable the Office of Rural Development to monitor all projects implemented in the 89 districts and 20 provinces.

"This money is not enough to enable the Office of Rural Development to initiate continuous consultations in addressing many of the administrative and capacity problems faced by the 89 district administrations," he said.

This Workshop is one of four which the ORD is conducting nationwide.

These Workshops are aimed at targeting public servants who have direct responsibility for implementing the Government's responses to rural issues and pressing problems.

Mr Sai says, everybody needs to have a coordinated approach.

We are here at the centre and all of you important people out there at the front line.

He acknowledged that his Office has an excellent working relationship with all District administrators and wants to see this relationship maintained in the next five years. ■

PNGIPA Focuses On HR Development

The PNG Institute of Public Administration is focusing on developing the Public Sector Human Resource and that has always been its charter since the early 1960s, the Director of the Institute, Mr. Yala Yatu said.

He said being the oldest training institute, it has produced and graduated many Papua New Guineans into good managers in the Public Service and leadership positions today.

Mr. Yatu was addressing more than 10 Office employees of Rural Development who attended various training courses ranging from public relations, time management and report writing.

The ORD officers graduated with certificates in the various training programs at the end of last month.

He said the many training institutions have mushroomed into the market lately and he warned the public to be wary about their training programs because many are established purely to make money without imparting proper and relevant training to Papua New Guineans. ■

Public Servants Must Be Accountable: Tiensten

National Planning and Rural Development Minister Hon. Paul Tiensten says Public Servants are required to account for the funding they receive for projects in their Districts.

He says all projects in each district throughout the country must be completed on time per their original scope.

"It is not the open member's responsibility to acquit funds. You administrators and officers are responsible.

"We expect you our public servants to do your job in acquitting the use of these grants as chief accounting officers," he said.

The minister said political leaders should not be held accountable for non-acquittal of funds nor should we allow districts to suffer from no funds because somewhere someone is not doing their job.

He was speaking on the occasion of a series of workshops organized by the office of rural development for district administrators, treasurers, provincial administrators and partners in rural development at the Hideaway Hotel in Port Moresby recently.

"If capacity is a problem, then fix it, if public servants lack skills, then they should be trained, but if they are simply not doing their job, then they need to be replaced.

"If political leaders abuse funds, they must be held accountable, not after but during the project implementation stages," he told the participants. ■

Namah Encourages More Carbon Trade

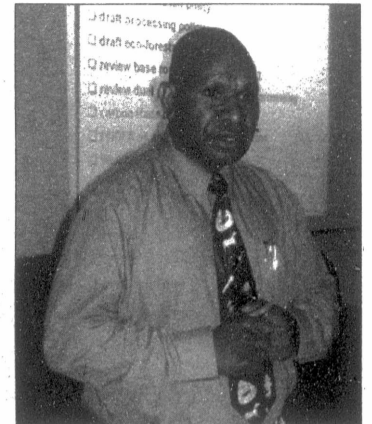

Minister for Forests, Belden Namah, has called on PNG Forest Authority to encourage resource owners to set up plantations that will tie in with carbon trade.

In addressing the senior management of the National Forest Service in Port Moresby in September, the Minister said he wants to encourage more plantation development.

Mr Namah said PNGFA should take ownership of carbon trade as these were widely talked about with Prime Minister Sir Michael Somare being vocal about it.

"I want to encourage more plantation development. Where there are logged over areas, we have to encourage resource owners to set up more plantations because that will tie in with carbon trade. It is my position that PNGFA should take ownership of carbon trade. They've been talking about it at Environment and Conservation and also at National Planning. They've been talking everywhere about carbon trade. This is one of the areas I want to give direction that we form a working team to look into - carbon trade. We have all heard prime minister being vocal on carbon trade.

I want to promote it as the Forest Minister for the Prime Minister -

Hon. Belden Namah, Minister for Forests that forestry should take ownership of carbon trade.

I've spoken to the Minister for Environment and Conservation and his Secretary just two days after I got appointed, and the position is that someone has to drive it, someone has to make a political decision about it, and get it moving. We cannot just talk on the street. We have to see the reality. So managing director, I give direction that we form a working committee to look into carbon trade," the minister said.

He has directed the Managing Director for National Forest Services, Mr. Kanawi Pouru, to form a working committee to look into the carbon trade issue. ■

Effective Education Is Paramount: GG

The Governor General, Grand Chief, Sir Paulias Matane says effective and efficient delivery of education services to the people of Papua New Guinea is paramount.

He said since 1975, our education system has grown to a stage where it is employing over 37,000 teachers and over one million students in 4,000 elementary schools, 3,300 primary schools, 170 secondary schools and 140 vocational centres.

Sir Paulias made this known to members of parliament at the national Parliament Chambers during the opening of the 8th National Parliament on 18th September 2007.

"In the last fifteen years under the national education plan 1995 - 2004 and 2005 - 2014, we have made significant progress but much remains to be done.

"The government must ensure that every child must have access to education, the quality of education is improved and the education provided is relevant", he said.

He said the vocational technical education and training is being reformed to make the program competent based on industry standards and needs, and linked to community needs, and the government must support these reforms so that the quality of vocational and technical education is improved.

Sir Paulias told the MPs that the critical areas the government must give its priority attention to include: adequate housing for teachers, maintenance of school buildings and facilities, support services and more school classrooms with adequate funding.

"I encourage the government to continue the education subsidy policy for the foreseeable future, so long as it is affordable by parents and families", he said.

He said the government must ensure that there is resource availability so that the traditional core functions of teaching, research and community services are achieved.

"I believe that investing in higher education can contribute to the government achieving its goals to improving community livelihoods and empowering all Papua New Guineans to benefit from the development process in the communities where they live.

He said the future directions in higher education must emphasise, and embrace, new and stronger partnerships with other government, non-government and faith organizations. ■

2007 Supplementary Budget Focus

The Somare-Temu Government, presented its 2007 Supplementary Budget of K1.6 billion in Parliament early this month, with the aim of strengthening delivery of basic services to the rural areas.

Minister for Treasury and Finance, Mr Patrick Pruaitch, when presenting the Supplementary Budget, said the budget was formulated within the Government's medium-term framework, and consistent with the Medium Term Fiscal Strategy, the Medium Term Debt Strategy and the Medium Term Development Strategy 2005-2010.

The framework identifies the Government's spending priorities to promote economic growth and development, which he said, continues to improve in 2007.

In addition, he says, the Government is spending more money on priority areas such as maintenance of public infrastructure in education, law and justice, health and developing wharfs and roads.

Meantime, the Government's decision to allocate K893 million for Public Infrastructure Maintenance reflects a substantial investment for the future.

The allocations of the Public Infrastructure spending are as follows:

Activity	Allocations (K240 million)
Education infrastructure	K80 million
Health infrastructure	K80 million
Law and justice infrastructure	K80 million

District Service Improve Program

A further K356 million will be allocated to support the District Service Improvement Program, of which K4 million will be provided to the 89 Districts:

Major improvements in infrastructure will be allocated an additional K297 million. These include:

Debt Servicing

Mr Pruaitch added that the Government has also allocated a further K297 million to retire public debt. Government debt is expected to be around 34.5 percent of GDP, and an additional K250 million to reduce the Government's liability for superannuation, as the employer of public servants with Namibawan Super Limited.

He highlighted that the 2007 Supplementary Budget set the foundations for national prosperity using prudent fiscal management, and committed to strengthening the private sector.

Lives of many children like these will improve with the funding of water supply projects under the Budget.

People will see more facilities opening up in the rural areas under the Infrastructure Improvement program announced by the Government in its Budget. Here, Deputy Prime Minister, Hon. Puka Temu is on his way to open a development facility.

The Government is committed to addressing its major objectives in prioritizing rural development and poverty reduction, in its supplementary budget handed down early this month.

In handing down the 2007 Supplementary Budget of K1.637 billion, Minister for Treasury and Finance, Hon. Patrick Pruaitch, says the Government will ensure that the entire population shares the windfall benefits from mining and rising commodity prices.

He said that the allocation of substantial infrastructure improvement funds directly to provinces indicated the determination of the Government to ensure the delivery of better services at the community level throughout the country.

He said from the K1.6 billion, the Government will allocate K893 million for the maintenance and development of public infrastructure.

"This represents a large investment in providing for the future capability of PNG and that these funds will add substantially to the unspent funds of around K700 million currently in trusts that are available for infrastructure improvements in the country.

"Of the K893 million allocated to infrastructure, the Government has allocated K356 million to all provinces. Each of the 89 Districts will be given K4 million to supplement the District Service Improvement Programs for health, water supply, law and justice, and education. This compares with the initial allocation of K400,000 to each district," he said.

Mr Pruaitch said that these funds would allow people at the grass roots level to determine the priority areas in relation to infrastructure improvements in their own districts.

"With such a large increase in funds available to the Districts, there must be a corresponding increase in accountability by the Districts, to ensure the funds are well spent," Mr Pruaitch added.

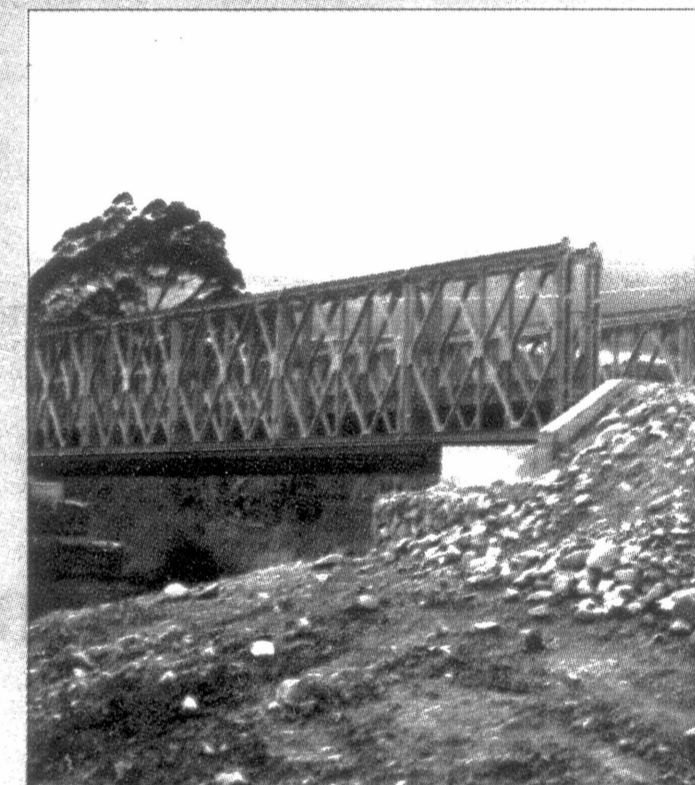

Mr Pruaitch also urged Open Members of Parliament to ensure their district administrations are organized to both deliver on projects and report on them as well, to meet their public accountability requirements.

"The funds are currently placed in trusts, to be drawn down as spending plans are gradually developed and implemented," he said.

Mr Pruaitch said the spending would be spread out over time, depending upon the capacity of districts to effectively spend the money.

Road maintenance and up-grading has been allocated more funding in all the districts.

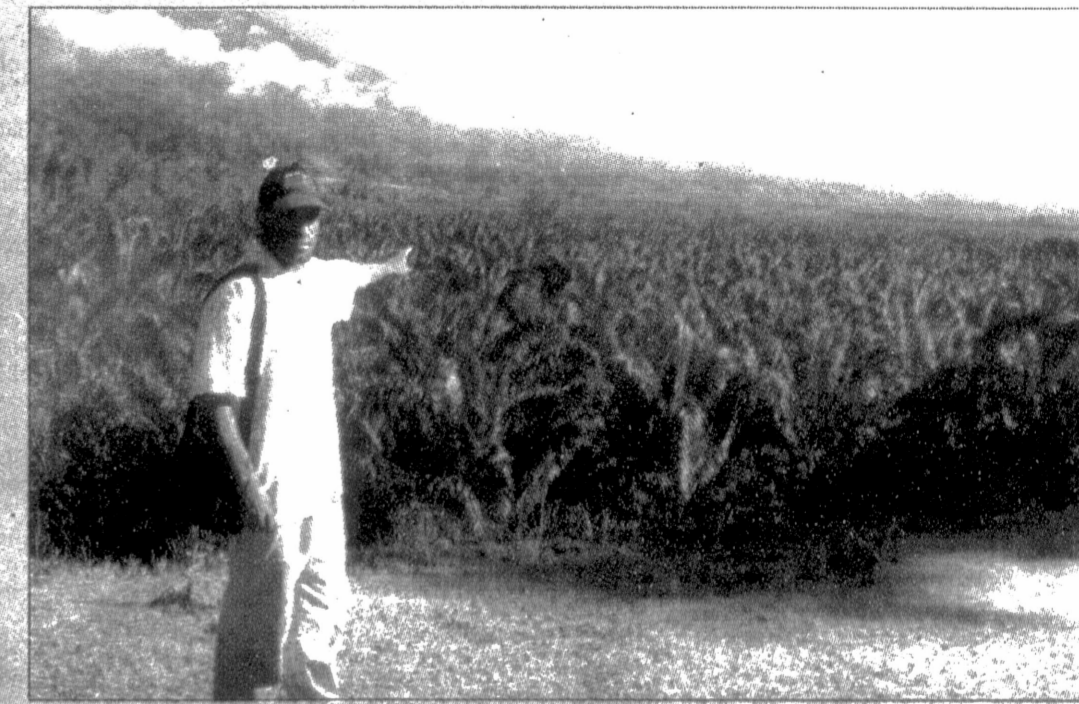

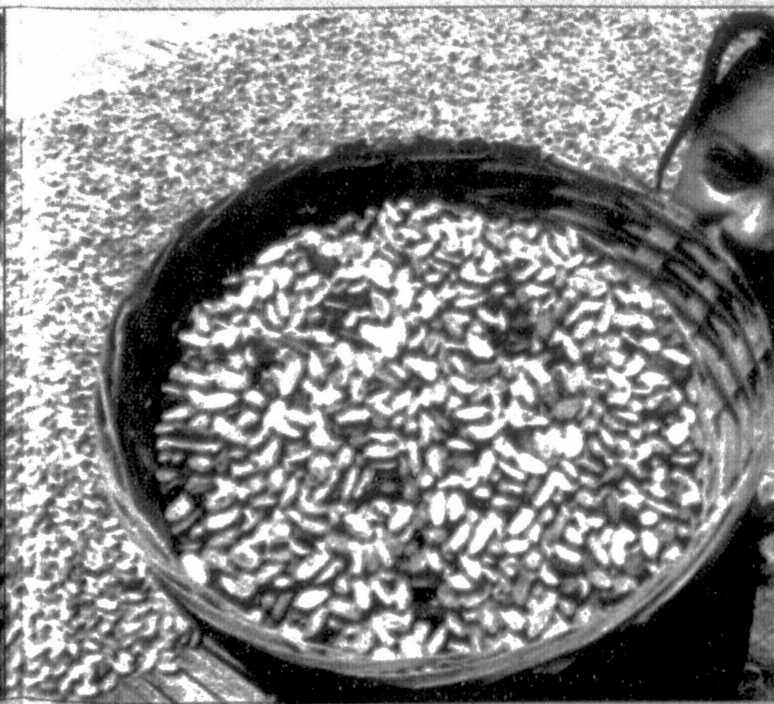

Construction and maintenance of bridges has also received funding.

Deputy Prime Minister and Minister for Lands and Physical Planning and Mining, Dr. Puka Temu at the ground-breaking ceremony for a new oil palm estate at Onogo, Kairuku District of the Central Province.

Reviving cash-crops such as coffee, cocoa, vanilla, copra is another priority of Government.

Existing oil palm estates will also receive funding for rehabilitation.

LAW AND JUSTICE

Ningerum Jail Down But Not Out

Ningerum jail like many others in the country is struggling to make ends meet in its daily operations.

It has no communication links (phone & fax) with Correctional Service headquarter and the outside world.

It has also been without a vehicle for two years and also does not have office equipment.

Regardless of that Commanding Officer, Senior Inspector Dickson Kokoyan and his six officers have continued to uphold their oath of office. As a testimony to that, drop in anytime and you will be surprised to see that the institution is kept in tip top shape all year long – with beautiful cut lawns, neat flower beds, well maintained staff houses and clean detainee cells.

“I encourage my men to continue working under the trying conditions with the belief that there will come a time our work will be recognized and the tap will open for us.

The greatest problem faced by both members and detainees is with water supply during the dry season. Even though we have water pump, when there is no fuel the pump remains idle and we face water shortage,” the officer said.

According to Commanding Officer Kokoyan, everybody has the perception that Ningerum is well off because it is located in a mining area.

“That is not the case; Ok Tedi Mining only assists us upon request,” he said.

He also acknowledged the Fly

Inmates of Ningerum jail, Western Province, engaging in community work.

River Provincial Government for their annual allocation from the Law and Order component of the budget which is from K40, 000.00 – K60, 000.00. These monies are used mainly for the essential items needed for administration purposes.

Although the soil is not really good, Commanding Officer Kokoyan has initiated some agriculture projects from home grown ideas such as farming of taro, corn, and aibika from some of the monies allocated to them by the Provincial Government. Whatever is harvested is used to sustain detainee's diet apart from staple rations – tinned fish and rice. Excess produce are sold to members and their families. The only problems faced from these initiatives are natural factors such as dry season and taro beetle.

He was also proud to state that Ningerum had a very low rate of escapes compared to other institutions. In a year they have only one or two escapes and the motive behind these were mainly family problems. However, escapees don't remain at large for long because the community is very supportive so they bring them in themselves.

“The role of a Commanding Officer is to visit the compound every morning and listen to the detainees' problems. In that way they know you have concern for them and they will refrain from escaping” Senior Inspector Kokoyan said.

Detainees in Ningerum do not undergo rehabilitation programs because the institution does not have facilities to cater for them. They only work in the vegetable gardens but they are enriched in spiritual rehabilitation because they have faith based organization visiting them every week.

The Commanding Officer stated he had a good working relationship with the Police and Magisterial Service. He went on to commend Magistrate Patrick Monoluk and the Police of Tabubil for timely prosecution and hearing of cases which relieves him of costs associated with maintaining remandees awaiting their cases to be heard.

According to Commanding Officer Kokoyan, life there is very hard with the limited assistance from Correctional Service Headquarter, but he has the support of the community, the Fly River Provincial Government, Ok Tedi Mining and his warders.

Ningerum Correctional Institution is located in the Western Province, nestled halfway between Kiunga and Tabubil. It has a holding capacity of 50 detainees, and its population consists of people from all over PNG (including females), sentenced for various minor and serious crimes. Also on occasion expatriate detainees are admitted. Although female detainees are admitted there, the irony of the matter is that; there are no female Correctional Officers there to take care of them and it is left up to the male warders. ■

CIS Minister Aimo To Visit Manus Jail Soon

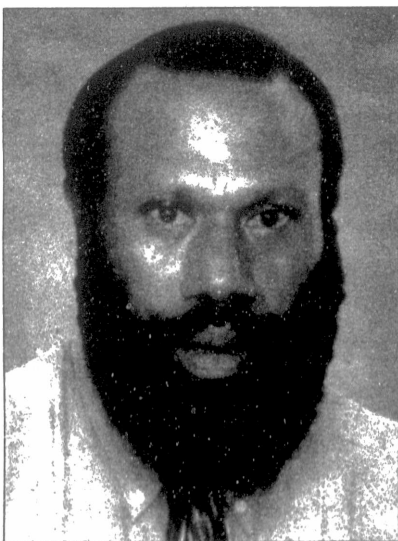

Initial negotiations are underway between the Manus Provincial administration and the Correctional Services Minister, Hon. Tony Aimo to construct a new jail for Manus.

The proposed project is in line with Mr. Aimo's undertaking during his welcome parade this month at the Bomana Training College outside Port Moresby recently.

The Manus jail is among other projects that include construction, demolishing, reconstruction and re-opening of closed prisons and rural lock-ups as part of the implementation of the Correctional Services fifteen-year plan.

Mr. Aimo has commenced talks with the Manus Administrator to secure land to cater for the new prison site.

The Minister said once all the necessary arrangements are in place, tenders would be advertised for the construction.

He said he has received a Brief on the situation in Manus, however he has yet to receive a submission to construct the new prison.

The prison at Lorengau was forced to close several months ago following orders from a National Court Judge because of over-crowding and unhygienic conditions.

Mr. Aimo will soon visit to Manus to see the closed down facility and get a briefing from the Manus Provincial Administrator, Mr Wep Kanawi on the land site for the proposed prison.

“I believe that a detainee will acquire maximum rehabilitation when they are detained in their home province and close to their families and relatives,” Mr. Aimo pointed out.

Meanwhile, the Minister has expressed sympathy to the families and friends of the late Lawrence Kiapin Pasiu, a detainee who died from acute asthma at Kerevat jail after being transferred from Manus whilst awaiting court appearance. ■

PV Course Boosts Rehabilitation

The full potential of the Correctional Service's rehabilitation objectives looks set to reach fruition under new initiatives introduced recently.

The latest is the conducting of the Personal Viability Course for some of its long term detainees; and warders as well.

The recent course at Port Moresby's Bomana jail was a huge success attracting an onslaught of renewed interest as well as calls for its replication.

Conducted by the Entrepreneurial Development Training Centre, the course scored a huge hit with prisoners and warders alike.

“This is the best training we have had in so many years. Detainees have received it with very high spirits and its impact is tremendous.

“It has a lot of potential and it should be introduced to other parts of the country. The course contents suit many of our detainees,” says Superintendent David Melengi.

Mr Melengi who is acting Jail Commander also commended Non Governmental Organisations, churches and community based groups for new innovations to the jail's programs.

He added that budgetary restrictions have limited some crucial skills training, although outside assistance has boosted the jail programs.

“Changes in time have demanded new forms of training and courses like Personal Viability have a huge impact. They can revolutionized the prison's training if it were to be introduced to all jails,” said Mr Melengi.

At its graduation ceremony a lot of testimonies were echoed by participants, many felt the course had enabled them to rediscover themselves.

Representing the Entrepreneurial Development Training Centre, Sam Tan Jr said this was the third series of training conducted in Bomana.

Mr Tan added that the training targeted those that were interested in improving their lives.

“These trainings are about putting words into actions. We start from the bottom and change our participants,” said Mr Tan. ■

Worst Health Indicator: Sir Paulias

Governor General, Grand Chief, Sir Paulias Matane says statistics show that Papua New Guinea has some of the worst health indicators in the Asia/Pacific region.

He said recent health indicators strongly signal that the national Government must change the trends in some of these key indicator in areas of infant mortality rate, maternal mortality ratio and birth rates.

Sir Paulias made this statement when he opened the 8th National Parliament last month.

"The deterioration of rural health services, ineffective implementation of national policies and guidelines, defined channels of communication between central and peripheral levels of government, ensuring financial commitment gets to the provinces for action, and low morale of health workforce are some of the specific areas that the government must give priority", Sir Paulias said.

He said the challenge for the government is that it must address these social issues ultimately aimed at turning the current situation around.

He said consolidating the existing service programs the previous government initiated would be the step in the right direction.

"I urge the government to give priority with specific action to enhance service delivery to the rural majority and the urban population.

"The critical review of existing legislations and regulations relevant to health service delivery, critical review of facilities throughout the country that need immediate repair and maintenance with budget support, and overhaul of medical supplies requirements and delivery of basic supplies and equipment to the people must be given priority,"

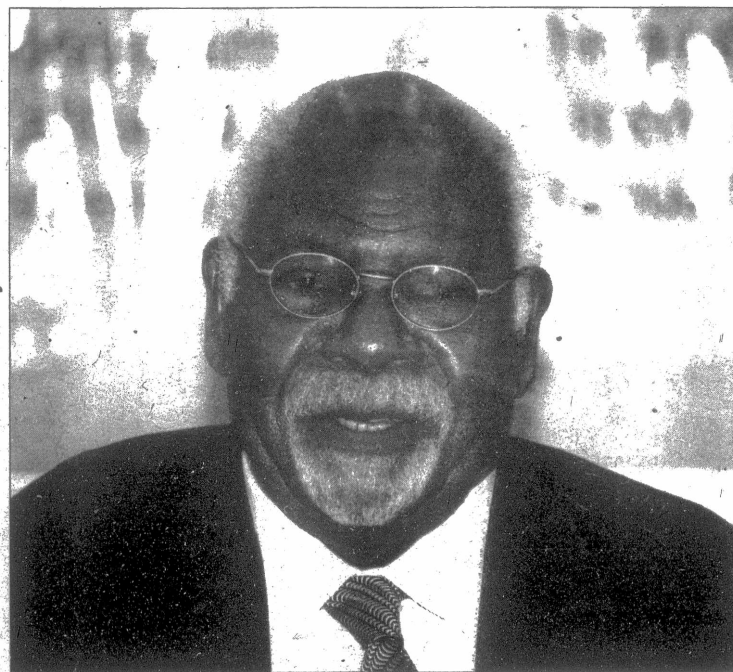

Sir Paulias emphasised.

He said the supply of hospital equipment and maintenance especially for rural health services such as aid posts and clinics is another critical area that must be given priority.

Sir Paulias said it was now a fact that PNG has the highest rate of HIV/AIDS and sexually transmitted infections (STI) in the Pacific Islands region.

He said the current figures show that the overall number of HIV infected Papua New Guineans could be around sixty thousand and this could reach over 127,000 soon.

"Our leaders must unite and work together with a strategic focus to make a difference in reducing the spread of the epidemic that can demobilize the nation's development path, and future uncertain for our generation," Sir Paulias said. ■

More Work Needed On HIV/AIDS: Pantumari

More work is needed to sensitize our leaders on HIV and AIDS so they can take the lead in the national response program.

Acting Deputy Director for National AIDS Council Secretariat and Senior Medical Advisor, Dr Joachim Pantumari highlighted this recently during the Specialists Meeting for Sexual Health and Public Health Societies in Port Moresby.

In a brief presentation on NACS and the overall HIV response in the country, Dr Pantumari highlighted how far PNG has addressed HIV and AIDS in terms of Prevention and Education, Care and Counseling, Home-based Care and Support, Legislative and Policy, and the national government's response.

While PNG has moved ahead in addressing this issue, he said there are still some challenges that need to be resolved, stating lack of ownership as one of the major constraints.

"We need political commitment and funding from all tiers of government so we can be able to improve community focus. Serious limitation in government's capacity to effectively delivery goods and services affects sexual health services," the Acting Deputy Director said.

Meanwhile, Dr Greg Law from Department of Health also gave an overview of sexually transmitted infections in PNG during the gathering.

He said the department has designed new STI reporting forms which now includes syndromic diagnosis, age and sex of cases.

"The STI Patient Record Form has been updated to accurately reflect the information needed. The STI Clinic Supervisory check list form has been updated to ensure more uniform results of supervisory visits," Dr Law said.

He said another positive step NDOH has taken to tackle STI is by appointing regional medical officers for SH/STI/HIV who will now be conducting more frequently supervisory visits and coordinate programs well.

Dr Law said although these were some of the improvements, issues such as drug shortages, counseling and rapid test training for clinic staff, training in sexual health for health workers are some of the challenges that need consideration. ■

Formal Mechanisms Needed For Trade

Formal trade mechanisms are needed to be put in place between Papua New Guinea and the People's Republic of Bangladesh to promote trade.

At the present, there is no formal mechanisms to promote trade economic, technical and investment cooperation between the two countries.

This was revealed by the Governor General, Grand Chief, Sir Paulias Matane when receiving letter of credentials of the Bangladesh Ambassador to Papua New Guinea, H.E. Salma Khan at the Government House last month.

"As there is none, I propose that proper framework arrangements be concluded between the two countries to facilitate the development and further their trade cooperation," he said.

He told Mrs Khan he would also urge governments of both countries to explore the prospect of entering into formal bilateral arrangements, such as economic and trade cooperation, technical cooperation, double taxation investment promotion and protection agreements.

Sir Paulias stated that this would provide a catalyst for increased trade, investment and cooperation between the two countries.

He also assured the High Commissioner that PNG stands ready to welcome potential investors from Bangladesh who wish to invest in major resource sectors.

The major resource sectors, he said include science and technology, textile, mining and petroleum, forestry, agriculture, fisheries and human resource development. ■

More PNG / Russia Trade Relations Encouraged

Governor General, Grand Chief, Sir Paulias Matane says he will encourage trade and bilateral relations with the Russian Federation to promote bilateral interaction.

He said though relations between the two countries remained friendly and harmonious since the establishment of diplomatic relations in 1976, but slowed down since the closer of the Russian resident mission in Port Moresby in 1992.

Sir Paulias said this when accepting the letter of credence from the Ambassador of the Russian Federation to PNG, H.E. Mr. Alexander A Ivanov at the Government House in Konedobu early this month.

"I acknowledge your excellency's views to strengthen friendly and practical interaction with Papua New Guinea.

"And it is also Papua New Guinea's firm conviction that the friendly relations between the two countries can and should be further intensified.

"I would therefore encourage promoting bilateral interaction emphasising on economic, trade, investment and cultural relations and other meaningful engagements," Sir Paulias assured Ambassador Ivanov.

He said PNG and Russia both belong to the Asia-Pacific region and with this strategic location in the region, PNG provides a crucial link into the Asian and eastern European markets including Russia.

Sir Paulias stated that PNG like Russia, shares the same ideals to strengthening peace, security and cooperation, not only in the Asia-Pacific region but globally. ■

Sir Paulias Turns 76

Governor General, Grand Chief, Sir Paulias Matane turned 76 years old on September 23rd, 2007.

His birthday cake was a surprise to him by his staff at the Government House.

Sir Paulias could not express his surprise but said aging and celebrating birthdays is just like ordinary days.

He said his age does not stop him from doing more for Papua New Guinea, especially the youth and the rural population in informing them about developments and the government.

Associate Professor and Chairman of PNG Red Cross Society, Mr Winston Jacob, media representatives, his great grandchildren and staff of the Government House were present to celebrate his birthday.

Sir Paulias was notified of his birthday cake just before he began his official engagements. ■

GOOD GOVERNANCE

Danaya And Kondra Meet Breen

The 32nd independence anniversary celebrations in Tabubil would be remembered for a long time as it brought together the 'think-tank' of the North Fly District to re-ignite relationships.

Governor Bob Danaya and newly elected MP for North Fly Hon. Boka Kondra paid a courtesy call on Ok Tedi Mining Limited's Managing Director, Allan Breen in Tabubil before addressing the crowd.

The visit was the first of its kind in several years and was welcomed by both the provincial leaders and OTML.

Governor Danaya and Mr Kondra were warmly received by Mr Breen, who described the visit as very important for the people of North Fly and the Western Province.

The Governor told Mr Breen that he and his fellow parliamentarians as well as the provincial administration looked forward to having a more cordial and constructive relationship with OTML and other stakeholders as they network to ensure goods and services reached the 'little people.'

North Fly MP, Mr Kondra called for more open dialogue between OTML, the mine-affected communities and the government while Mr Breen appealed for more action than talk.

"Let us talk but let us also follow through with action so that our words bear fruit in terms of tangible development for our communities," Mr Breen said.

The three men agreed that with only six years to go before Ok Tedi closes its current mine pit, it is vitally important that all stakeholders synergise to create sustainable projects for the people, especially those in the mine-impacted areas. ■

PNG Ports Launches Five Year Strategic Plan

PNG Ports Corporation Limited recently launched its Five Year Strategic Plan at the Managers Conference held in Vanimo, Sandaun Province.

The Strategic Plan provides a clear overview of the organization's plans for the next five years.

From the onset, a rapid growth is projected on the cargo volume in and out of all ports throughout the country.

The average total cargo volume will have increased from 5.2 million to 7.2 million tons by 2011.

It is also projected that the number of vessels coming into and out of all ports will have increased in numbers by 2011.

These increases will thus, contribute towards the organisation's revenue growth which is also projected to increase by 2011.

PNGPCL has come a long way since its establishment 44 years ago as Harbours Board.

The name change over the years with a recent one just a year ago has not impacted the organisation in any way but has faced challenges as the regulator and licensing authority of general port services in all maritime ports within Papua New Guinea.

Those changes have paved the way to 'shaping the future' and focusing on the ever changing needs by the stake-holders/customers.

This is also in line with the Managers' Conference theme for this year: Shaping Our Future Together.

The changing needs refer to the current existing port facilities around the country which are in dire need either for rehabilitation or further extension to cater for the increase in cargo volumes either as an export or import commodity or service into the country which is just one component of the organisation's key findings.

PNGPCL is at a critical stage as a monopoly in the industry to strategically re-evaluate its common findings and address these issues seriously. ■

Leadership Participants Return To The Capital

Sixteen participants of the Leadership PNG (LPNG) program have returned to Port Moresby, after a successful study tour of village communities and organizations in the Southern Highlands, Gulf, Morobe and Madang Provinces over the last two months.

The participants were divided into two teams; with team one visiting the Southern Highlands and Kikori in the Gulf Province, while team two visited various communities and organizations in the Morobe and Madang Provinces.

Team two of LPNG also visited Highlands Kainantu Gold and the Wankun village community in the Markham Valley.

They also visited Ramu Sugar Ltd and met its Chairman, Mr. Peter Colton and Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Michael Knight.

Mr. Colton expressed pleasure in having the leaders visit Ramu Sugar Ltd and briefed the participants about the company and its recent major agriculture initiatives.

He also encouraged the participants to be considerate of the welfare of the rural population in their capacity as future leaders of the country.

Team two also visited Erap Boys town, a rehabilitation center for boys and South Pacific Brewery in Lae before traveling to Madang.

The excursion was described by the LPNG participants as 'enlightening' as they had the opportunity to learn and discuss with different communities and organizations about the various leadership issues and challenges facing individuals, communities and organizations.

The Leadership PNG (LPNG)

program provides leadership training and opportunity for Papua New Guineans who are in their mid careers, or on the part to senior leadership roles and believe they can make a difference in their respective communities and organizations.

It aims to provide structured and focused learning programs that will place emerging and current leaders through life changing and learning experiences.

The ultimate goal is to significantly contribute to the development of PNG's leadership culture, promoting the ethics of hard work and establishing a national network of 'like-minded' people who espouses the values of integrity, honesty and service to communities. ■

Implement MTDS At District Level: Tiensten

National Planning and Rural Development Minister, Hon. Paul Tiensten says the Government's Medium Term Development Strategy (MTDS) must be implemented at the district level.

He said the people are there at the districts and the implementation process must take place at that level to improve the development progress of this nation.

The Minister made this statement at a press conference at the Hideaway Hotel in Port Moresby on 27th September 2007.

"Our people are there in the districts. They must start from there for the development progress.

"The focus must be there and later on you will realise that other social problems are eradicated. Entrepreneurialism would take lead to the progress in the community," he said.

Minister Tiensten said implementing the Medium Term Development Strategy at the district level would target key areas such as education and law and order.

The Minister officially handed over cheques totalling K1.3 million to him by the Acting Director of the Office of Rural Development, Mr. Paul Sai'i.

This followed Minister Tiensten's Pomio District acquittals of the 2005 and 2006 District Development Grants.

The Office of Rural Development was able to release the grants for the district following a Pomio district meeting in the acquittal process in compliance with the relevant grants, guidelines and financial instructions, including directives from the Ombudsman Commission.

The Minister said his Vice Minister and Member for Lagaip Porgera, Hon. Philip Kikala also received his grants following proper acquittal of funds.

He said K400,000 will go to health and education, K400,000 for infrastructure and improvement programs and K250,000 as discretionary funds, a total of K1.3 million.

ORD Acting Director, Mr. Sai'i said the grants will go to the district treasury and will be handed over to district administrators for use in new and approved projects by their Joint District Planning Budget Priority Committees in the districts. ■

Look Beyond Horizon: Sir Julius

Sir Julius Chan (centre) admires his bust erected at the Parliament grounds. Looking on are Member for Kavieng Open, Hon. Martin Aini and Namatanai MP, Hon. Byron Chan.

Former Prime Minister and Regional Member for New Ireland, Rt. Hon. Sir Julius Chan has urged all Papua New Guineans to look beyond their horizons in serving the nation.

Sir Julius made the call after his bust was unveiled at the entrance of the National Parliament in Port Moresby in September.

Sir Julius said the bust is a joy of a lifetime experience and signifies the contributions of the leadership role he played to serve and shape PNG.

"This is a lifetime experience and is worthy of this place. It is a great right for me to stand here", Sir Julius told mostly New Irelanders and those who gathered there to witness the occasion," he said.

And he says his leadership role does not end here but a continuous journey and will work with the Prime Minister, Sir Michael Somare and other elected MPs.

"I have worked with Sir Michael in the past and will continue to work with him and other elected representatives in the country and in my province as well", he said.

He said the experience is a great challenge for the people of New Ireland and Papua New Guinea as a whole.

"You must look beyond what is expected of you with a heart that is set to serve and shape this beautiful country Papua New Guinea and its people," Sir Julius said.

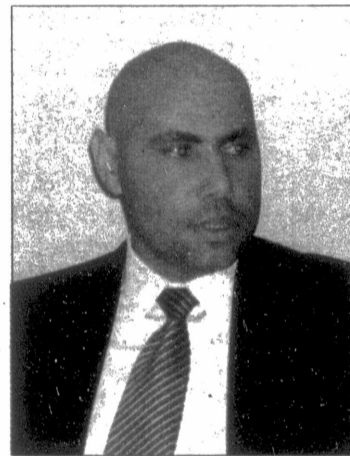

He called on Papua New Guineans especially the people of New Ireland to work extra hard to become models of their province.

Traditional rituals and dances were performed by New Islanders to indicate that Sir Julius is also a respected maimai (chief) of New Ireland before the unveiling of the bust.

Present to witness the occasion were opposition MPs led by Opposition Leader, Sir Mekere Morauta and Chimbu Governor, Hon. Fr. John Garia.

Sir Julius' bust is the third to be unveiled after those of Sir Michael and the late Sir William Jack Skate. ■

Abel Moves To Revive Museum

Tourism Minister, Mr. Charles Abel.

Member for Alotau and Culture and Tourism Minister, Hon. Charles Abel has promised to revive the National Museum and Art Gallery for tourist attraction.

Minister Abel told journalists at a press conference in Port Moresby recently that the museum is an important institution to be proud for tourism and other activities.

He said the museum is in a ridiculous situation and would give a new shape and look where his ministry will rebuild for the interest of nation.

"The museum is a vital institution to attract revenue for the country's economy through tourism, but it is now in a ridiculous situation. The art gallery should also change pace.

"This is an institution to be proud of and I as the minister responsible will make sure that it changes its shape to a modern museum", Mr. Abel said.

The Minister said the national museum and art gallery is a roadmap to many visitors and tourists where PNG's cultural and historical treasure sites tapped.

He said there is real need for the revival of the museum for the interest of the nation and the people of Papua New Guinea.

He told journalists that a modern historic museum is needed in PNG to house things like war relics, the swamp ghost and other prominent historical discoveries.

Chairman of the board of Trustees of the National Museum and Art Gallery, Mr. Arthur Imbori also shared the same sentiments stating there is a real need to revive the museum. ■
