Aug 30 / 1912 -

It is with a satisfied feeling of accomplishment that I contemplate my return to the North,
for I have not only seen beautiful Southern California, at its best, with very appreciative companions, but I have had a chance to store away in my "dreamy" head a few "practical" rules of ideal housekeeping. During my visit of six weeks in this medieval castle on the cliffs I have lived the life of a fairy princess — listening to the murmuring water, seeing the splendor of the mountains, with their ever-changing lights and shadows, visiting quaint La Jolla, bustling San Diego, peaceful Miramar, and the artistic Torrey Pines.

Happily, lovingly,
Ruth C. Bennett.

We asked questions about every thing that we saw, or heard, or felt or smelled or tasted, but still our dear Aunt Mary and Uncle Ritter did not spank us. They were more patient and good and gave us a beautiful time that we will not soon forget. Believe us to be just as full as ever of that "satiabale curiosity."

My eyes are wet
With sad regret

While in this place

My name I trace

For we today
Goodbye must say

To friends so fond Beside the pond.

We've had a gay
And happy stay,

We've slept and ate,
And sat up late,

"Improved our minds"
With many kinds

Of stories wise-
And otherwise,

Of "infinite sagacity"
And "satiable curiosity".

We've watched the waves
And viewed the caves.

But best of all
Our host so tall

And hostess dear
With hearty cheer

Made all day long
"One grand sweet song".

ALICE - WARNER

"As the proof of the pudding is the eating, thereof" - So must the numerous visits we have had with you prove the joy we find in being in your home - set in this quiet but busy little corner by the sea. The home and life here and surroundings as well - have left their impress for as long as we shall live. God bless you both.

Blanche
Dear Aunt & my Uncle Peter,
We have found
what we came for:
peace and quiet, intellectual stimulus and spiritual inspiration and we learn to happily and more fully respond thereto in our life and activities.
A greater and better blessing could not be wished.
Bert.
