SLIDE LECTURE ON THE GRAY WHALE

Learn about the behavior of the California Gray Whale. They migrate along our coastline from November through May. They are often spotted from our coastal bluffs and Point La Jolla; you can see their exhaled breath, the "blow", from quite a distance.

Al Pentis, will give a slide lecture at the International Center on Monday, January 5th, 6:30 PM. All are welcome to attend (no charge).

If you are planning on going on the "whale hunt" with Newcomers, this is a great opportunity to sharpen your "hunting" skills, especially if you want to take photographs—anticipating whale behavior is the secret to a great shot.

Or, if you just want to learn how to spot them from shore, join us. Al will also tell you where the best shore viewing places are. §

27th ANNUAL Newcomer Event

WHALE WATCHING TRIP Saturday, January 10th

Join Newcomers & friends for our annual Whale Watching trip off the La Jolla coast — 9:00 AM, Saturday morning, January 10, 1998.

We set sail from Seaforth Landing in Mission Bay, for our two-hour excursion along the San Diego coastline to hunt for the migrating California Gray Whale. This is the 27th year Al Pentis, Gray Whale behaviorist, has led our trips.

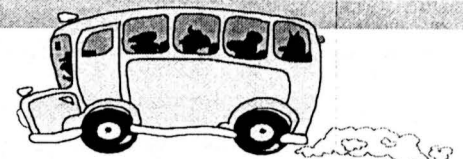

Since the trips are a sellout, you must reserve early. Mark your calendar now and call Georgina Sham for details and reservations at 619-459-1336. §

DON'T MISS THE BUS IN JANUARY 1998!

GARMENT DISTRICT TRIP

Don't forget the Oceanid's bus trip to the Garment District in Los Angeles January 20. Those of you who enjoy bargain shopping as well as just browsing around interesting shops should plan to join in this fun trip. There should be some fantastic after-holiday sales to discover. The cost is only $20 and includes snacks on the bus. Lunch will be "on your own" in one of the many ethnic restaurants in the Garment District.

The times will be approximately 8:00 AM 'til the bus returns us at about 4:30 or 5:00 PM. The Reservation deadline is January 15th. Sign up as soon as you can (coupon page 7). In the meantime, if you have questions, please call Margaret Acampora at 459-8123, or Maxine Bloor, 459-7665. §

OUR TEAM LEADERS

Barbara Starkey

Maxine Bloor

Co-Presidents work in harmony

AN INTERVIEW WITH THE "DYNAMIC DUO"

by Susan Chadwell

They are dynamic and multifaceted! Both have been successful in their careers and with their families. Oceanid co-presidents Maxine Bloor and Barbara Starkey are remarkable indeed.

Maxine, who is married to Colin Bloor, is a "workaholic" nurse with three grown children. Barbara, a splendid cook, is married to Robert Starkey—they have two grown children. Maxine and Barbara's lives center on their families as their most important goal, and both have traveled extensively with their families. Barbara believes that it was very important for her children to see the world and gain valuable experiences and perspective. Maxine finds that traveling often gets in the way of her commitments. Both see their lives enriched by their involvement with Oceanids. Working together as co-presidents and helping this organization is a role they both enjoy.

Barbara loves the "Cooking in America" classes she organizes for the Friends of the International Center. "Maxine represents the instructor who makes cook FUN!", says Barbara. "Maxine can make scrumptious multibean recipes from colorful bouillabaisse packages, and recently prepared four different chicken recipes in three hours! The presentation was beautiful, yet the chicken was cut and served in "millions" of bite-sized pieces."

Maxine also loves to go antiquing. She's always looking for that special piece of red glass - the criteria: it has to be fantastic and inexpensive. In addition to cooking and antique hunting, Maxine absolutely loves fimo! "Don't get her started, she won't stop," exclaims Barbara. "Maxine's ability to conceptualize patterns or "tessylations" is incredible. Fimo (clay) is definitely Maxine's niche!"

Maxine envies Barbara's leadership abilities. Barbara has been a Girl Scout leader for 13 years, in addition to her involvement with Oceanids and Friends of the International Center. She writes training programs for different levels and she is an energetic trainer, especially with her "Fun with Math and Other Puzzling Things". Barbara's main interest is math history, however, with its advanced development of physics and geometry. She believes mathematicians figured out a whole new and exciting world, and she wishes UCSD had more to offer in the extensions programs. Like a sponge, Barbara absorbs all the world has to offer, but she claims that she is not a feminist. She says she is too independent to follow anyone and doesn't want to be tagged with a label; although intelligent and focused are two labels which could apply.

Both women are brilliant, caring and conscientious, working together like "two peas in a pod", complementing each others styles and abilities. As co-presidents, Barbara and Maxine realize that one of the challenges facing Oceanids is the current state of volunteerism. They hope that by extending an invitation to all creative persons to start NEW Interest Groups in Oceanids, more members will become involved. Poetry reading and ballroom dancing have been suggested. Whatever your interest might include, all it takes is three to five members supporting an idea and presenting it to Barbara - the current Interest Group Coordinator.

Maxine and Barbara work hard at their task knowing that it is difficult to get members, especially young professors and their spouses, to participate these days. However, since young professionals are such a viable part of the community, Barbara and Maxine believe that they MUST bring more of them into our ranks. They believe the American cultural tradition of volunteering is one we just can't afford to lose. Maxine and Barbara are looking for any new ideas or suggestions you may have to involve more Oceanid members in activities as well as leadership positions. And, as dynamic as this duo is, they still need the support of all Oceanids. §

HAPPENINGS

PRESIDENTS' GREETINGS

Both Barbara and I are so happy to have such a wonderful team in place. The care, consideration, and commitment to getting the job done is always amazing. We want to thank everyone for all of the effort put into making our Holiday Party such a success, as well as for all of the other tasks undertaken throughout the year. Without you, Oceanids would not be the service organization it is today. Thank you all.

Our thanks also go to all of the newer members who have joined the team for the coming months. We encourage all of you to come to our Board meetings and get involved.

We wish everyone a joyous and fruitful New Year.
... Maxine

Jean Lindsley, chair

SOUNDING BOARD MEETING JANUARY 8, 1998

Mr. Dion Heller, a ranger at Penasquitos Reserve, will be our January speaker. He will talk about the BIG plans for the future—a 172,000 acre wild life habitat preserve including parts of Del Mar, Poway and El Cajon over the next three decades. The city of San Diego has approved of the idea and Mayor Golding has said, "This is a great gift for ourselves, our children and grandchildren."

We meet at the Faculty Club on January 8th at 12 noon for lunch followed by the speaker. Cost is $6:50 for members and $7:50 for non-members. Lunch is included in the cost. Everyone is most welcome to Sounding Board.

Our next meeting will be on the first Thursday, February 5th. ... Jean Lindsley

NEW DIRECTOR TAKES THE HELM AT SIO

Charles F. Kennel was appointed the new Director of Scripps Institution of Oceanography at UCSD, and approved by the University of California Board of Regents in November.

Kennel is a physicist and has been the executive vice Chancellor at UCLA. He succeeded Edward Allan Frieman who retired from the position in August 1996. Frieman will continue to serve as Scripps research professor, while Kennel will assume his new duties at SIO in the spring of '98.

"I am truly honored to be selected to serve as director of the world's greatest institution of its kind," Kennel said. "As I contemplate embarking on the challenge of leading Scripps Institution of Oceanography I do so with the full realization that its greatness lies in the intelligence, creativity, and dedication of

Recovery of a Species

SUCCESS WITH GRAY WHALES

by Mary Anne Pentis

Blowing winds and frothy seas arrive sometime in September around the Arctic Circle and the Bering Sea. Precious energy expended just to take a breath soon becomes too costly for the thousands of California Gray Whales which have spent the summer months gorging themselves on gammarid amphipods. Feeding now ceases and associated bodily functions shut down. Fat reserves must now sustain the grays for the next eight months. It is time for their arduous journey to begin.

Six thousand miles will be covered as the herd travels to protected lagoons, situated on the Pacific side of the Baja peninsula. The Grays are there to the calve and mate.

This will be the 27th year that gray whale behaviorist Al Pentis has led the Newcomers' trips to view the whales from chartered boats. Because the herd passes just offshore—often being spotted from Pt. La Jolla—sightings are almost guaranteed. The two-hour trip will leave from Mission Bay and head north into the inshore area known as the "migration highway". A unique view of SIO and the bluffs above is another incentive to join the cruise.

The recovery of gray whales from near extinction in the 1930s is quite a success story. They were hunted to an estimated population of only 300 for their stores of blubber which was rendered into oil. After being placed on the Endangered Species List, the herd has grown steadily to about 24,000 (pre-hunting population?) and their only real threat today is by insensitive and uninformed boaters who race out and harass them.

However, the saga of the gray whales and their recovery is not over. The Mitsubishi Corporation, in partnership with the Mexican Government, is proposing to build a salt works in San Ignacio Lagoon, Baja California, which some believe may put the herd in jeopardy. This is a significant calving and mating arena and noise, as well as activity, is of great concern.

By March, the herd is ready to begin its return journey to their Arctic feeding grounds. Half of the females have given birth and their calves are now about two months old. The rest of the females are pregnant; they will give birth the following year when they return to the lagoons. Since the groups traveling north are more sporadic, they are harder to locate and the whale watching season tapers off. § its men and women. I look forward to working with them in the area of global environmental science, which I came to love while at NASA. From 1994-96, Kennel served as associate administrator for NASA's Mission to Planet Earth program, the world's largest environmental science program.

Kennel, 58, will become the ninth director of Scripps, as well as UCSD vice chancellor of Marine Sciences, dean of the graduate school of Marine Sciences, and a professor in the Scripps graduate department. He was born in Cambridge, Mass., and received his bachelor's degree in astronomy from Harvard College in 1959 and a doctoral degree in astrophysical sciences from Princeton University in 1964. §

OCEANID INTEREST GROUPS

AVI SET

The Avi Set (Oceanids bird watching group) meets on the fourth Monday of each month during the academic year. Once you have signed up, our committee will phone you each month to tell you where we will go. We meet at the home of Teresa Lein, 8653 Dunaway Drive, La Jolla, or at the home of Lou Bowles, 13040 Caminito Mar Villa, Del Mar.

We plan trips to sites visited by the Audubon Society or to those where interesting birds have been reported. We have seen the endangered Light-footed Clapper Rail at San Elijo Lagoon, spent the day at Silverwood Wildlife Sanctuary and watched Tri-colored Blackbirds at Lindo Lake.

For information, phone Sidney Bagley, 455-1477, Lou Bowles, 755-7102, or Joany Mosher, 454-0017.

For AVID READERS

The Oceanid Book group has planned their schedule of readings through June of 1998. This will give you a chance to start enjoying these well-known authors. The chosen books are as follows: f o r January 13, The Color of Water by James Mc Bride, Barbara Penn will review; February 10, How the Irish Saved Civilization by Thomas Cahill, reviewed by Elibet Marshall; March 10, Good Scent for Strange Mountain by Robert Owen Butler, Zella Brown reviewing; April 14, Corellis Mandolin by Louis De Bernieres, Isabel Voss reviewing; May 12, Swan's Way by Proust, reviewed by John Halprin; and on June 9, Angela's Ashes by Frank McCourt, Ruth Stern reviewing.

Call Zella Brown for time and place at 619-453-0340.

CAFÉ FRANÇAIS

MERCREDI 7 Janvier 1998 a 13 heures (1:00 PM) chez Arlette Helary, 1001 Genter St. # 2J, La Jolla, For more information call Arlette Helary at 551-9229, or Denyse Haney at 929-9120.

CINEMA SOIREE

Our movie group "Cinema Soiree" goes together (couples and/or singles) to the announced film, or when they can, and then we meet at a member's house for coffee and conversation.

Our Soiree meets on the third Saturday of each month. (We think it's a nice way for husbands to participate in an Oceanid's activity.) It's social fun and we can all add to our understanding of the films we see. Please call Zella Brown at 453-0340 or Laurette Verbinski at 453-4699 for film information and meeting location & time.

CRAFTING WITH FIMO

The versatility of Fimo clay is explored in the craft class taught by Mary Dashen. A variety of projects have been created including intricate jewelry and eggs that resemble those of the Ukraine. If you'd like to give it a try, the classes will start in November. They are held every first and third Monday evening at 7:30 PM in the International Center Kitchen. Contact Mary for a supply list or more information at 456-7848.

DAY BRIDGE

We meet the first and third Tuesdays of the month at the various member's houses. Isabel Wheeler, co-chair, 459-7461. Being a congenial bunch, we get along well together. Our group plays a standard, unsophisticated game of bridge. This makes it easy for new members. We welcome your participation.

EVENING BRIDGE

We are a convivial group that meets to play party bridge on the fourth Friday of the month at 7:30 PM. At that time the hostess serves her favorite dessert.

We commence playing cards at 8:00

GARDEN GROUP

Our January meeting is a change of pace and sounds good. In the planning last September, this meeting was planned with rain in mind. Mr. John Richardson, a Mastergardener, will tell us about fertilizers, color in your garden year round, soils, container gardening and pesticides. In fact, he said he would answer any questions about gardening we can bring with us. He sounds great!

We will meet at 10 AM on Thursday, Jan. 18, at 2611 Inyaha Ln., La Jolla. (Jean Lindsley's house.) Everyone is invited for lunch—a big pot of something warm. For info. and RSVP's call Laura Norris at 272-3299 or Jean at 453-4043.

KITCHEN EXCHANGE

Our Kitchen Exchange is open every Wednesday from 10:00 AM to 12:00 noon at the International Center. We continue to serve many of the large number of short-term foreign visitors who come to UCSD by renting kitchen equipment and baby things.

We are always happy to accept donations. And, if you enjoy meeting and helping people, we can use your help—call MaryRuth Cox, 755-4007; Louise Keeling, 755-7121; Liz Fong Wills, 454-6858; or Tzumei Yip, 755-6387.

LA JOLLA RENAISSANCE SINGERS

The La Jolla Renaissance Singers are off to another enjoyable season of song. Potential new members are always welcome. Call Connie Mullin, 454-6871, if you are interested in singing along.

INTEREST GROUP ACTIVITIES

LUNCH BUNCH

The lunch group will not meet this month. If you are interested in our next outing, call me at 454-6858 any evening. ~ Liz

MOVEABLE FEAST

This month we will enjoy the cuisine of Sala Thai on January 17. If you are interested in joining our informal group, you need to call me at 454-6858 the nite of the 13th or 14th for reservatins.

The group has become so large that we communicate details about the next dinner by e-mail. We usually meet on the second Saturday of the month, about 6 times during the year. The schedule revolves around our travel plans since the dinners start with drinks at our house. (Our budget usually doesn't allow for alcohol at the restaurant.) Singles can be accommodated if I can find an appropriate dinner companion. We still find bargain dinners for $15 per person, tax and tip included.

~ Liz Fong Wills

MUSEUM GROUP

The Museum Group usually meets once a month on the second Wednesday at 1:00 PM.

Our January meeting will be on January 14, 1:00 PM, at the Museum of Contemporary Art, San Diego, located at 700 Prospect St., La Jolla. The featured exhibit is the work of John Altoon, an "artist's artist", a key figure in California's West Coast abstract expressionism movement.

For information about carpooling call Odette at 453-0749 or Sally at 459-1322. Admission: members free, seniors $2, others $4.

zona, which uses stamps to reinforce regular classroom instruction in social studies, history, science, etc. It sells surplus stamps from all countries as part of its income. Donations to it are tax-deductible.

If you have stamps to give us, you may leave them at the office of Friends of the International Center (I'm there once a week), or mail them to me. We usually do not collect stamps on envelopes, so you may cut or tear around the stamps, and we'll take care of soaking them off the paper. The only exceptions are first-day covers and very old letters (prior to 1900). If you have questions about collecting stamps, feel free to call me, Betty Shor 453-0334

PEOPLE TO PEOPLE

We will be very busy in January. On Friday, January 16 we will host the International Cafe. Please call Doris Bailey if you would like to help out. 453-3900. On January 20 we will support Oceanids by participating in their Garment District trip. On Monday January 26 we will drive out to Anza Borrego where Edie Nierenberg will be our hostess. Please call Carole Ziegler for details. 297-0798. We will not have a February meeting due to our active January schedule and the "President's" weekends.

WALKING & HIKING GROUP

Over hill and dale we hit the trails, from the mountains to the sea, over the desert, through the trees.

Everyone is welcome to join our group on the second Saturday of the month. All you need is water, lunch bags and sturdy shoes.

For more information call Anna Maria Buonassisi at 453-2296 or Roswitha Enright at 459-7375.

STAMP GROUP

The members of the Oceanids Stamp Group collect stamps more for pleasure than profit. There are only a few of us, and we exchange (mostly used) stamps with each other. Anyone interested in stamps is welcome to call me. We do not hold regular meetings.

We very much appreciate the U.S. and foreign stamps that members of Oceanids give to us. We pay a nominal amount for those stamps of interest to ourselves, and the proceeds are returned to Oceanids. Duplicate stamps are given to nonprofit organizations that can put them to good use. One of those organizations is the Postal History Foundation in Tucson, Ari-

WINE TASTING

If you like to sample fine wines and learn more about them, call Betty Shor at 453-0334 to learn if the group has room for one more.

WITS & WITS II

Wits I & II are stock investment groups of 25 members each who meet to learn more about investments, finances, and the stock market. Both groups meet monthly. Call Pat Kampmann for more information at 454-1856.
