Help comes pouring in for the champs

THE urging plea for help for the Lahanis team by Goroka league president, James Korarome three weeks ago did not go unheard or fall on deaf ears as certain national and provincial politicians responded generously with financial donations as incentives to support players and officials in defending the cup.

Politicians donated well over K6,000 to the Lahanis during the Lahanis - Gurua match break in Goroka recently.

Former Police minister and current member for Goroko, Mathias Ijape donated K2,000 - while six provincial politicians donated a total of over K3,000.

A prominent businessman, Akapite Wamiri also gave K1,000.

President Korarome said the donations have given prove that the leaders are backing champions and their support will make the players give their best each week. He also appealed to the public to give generously to help keep the players and officials happy and winning.

The financial appeal to assist the Lahanis came amid difficulties the Goroka league is facing with providing proper training equipment for the Lahanis.

The cash donations pushed the Lahanis to hold onto a narrow 28-24 win over a courageous Gurua side that came so close to unsettling the champions in an exact replay of the match the Gurias won last year.

The support was timely, but the Lahanis were very unfortunate on Sunday at the Lloyd Robson Oval in Port Moresby when they suffered their second loss to former champs - Vipers with a 31-20 scoreline.

Their first loss was at the hands of Mt Hagen Eagles two weeks ago in Mt Hagen. The score was 25-20.
