

Chalk Comments on Campus

Walking through the campus
After getting off the bus.
On a cold Monday morning
I felt the university hurting.

I noticed something on the pavement,
A racist comment for entertainment
Saying mexicans should go back
All students felt like they were attacked.

How could an amazing university
With such a huge racial diversity
Write these racist comments
It blew my brain into bits

Later that afternoon
I went to the prayer room
There was a message on the wall
It was directed to everyone in the hall

It was from Christian students
And it was directed to UCSD muslims
It said that we love our muslim brothers
Their message gave me a warm feeling

I decided that with all its ups and downs
UCSD was very welcoming to all students
We may have harsh days full of hate
But we mostly welcome each other and appreciate
