In UCSD Guardian

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, SAN DIEGO

MONDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1985

VOLUME 56, #10

Gus Santoyo recounts the short-lived history of UCSD football and asks the question — can it happen again?

Noisy protestors disrupt Nicaraguan contra leader Arturo Cruz during his speech at the Institute of Americas.

PAGE 3

• From Russia with fear · PAGE 4

 Focus on religious newcomers

PAGE 16

• Bloom County

PAGE 2

Monday, October 28, 1985

Theologian lectures on biomedical ethics

Dr. J. Robert Nelson, a leader in the worldwide ecumenical movement, will deliver the Burke Lecture at UCSD November 7.

Nelson, an ordained Methodist minister and Director of the Institute of Religion at the Texas Medical Center and professor of medicine at the Baylor College of Medicine, will discuss "Human Life as Criterion of Science."

Among the subjects he will address are life and death, legal and moral aspects of euthanasia, the artificial heart and the technologizing of human reproduction.

Nelson was educated at the Yale Divinity School and the University of Zurich. He has served as chair of the Commission of Faith and Order of the World Council of Churches, and president of the American Theological Society.

As a resident fellow of the Kennedy Institute of Ethics at Georgetown University, he wrote the book Science and Our

BLOOM COUNTY

CERTAINLY I MYSELF DON'T MARTICULARLY CARE... I'M. A BROAD-MINDEP MOTHER OF THE EIGHTTES... I WOULD LOVE

a citation, medal and $10,000

Secretary John S. Herrington include William H. Miller, a professor of chemistry and vicechairman of the chemistry department at UC Berkeley and a senior staff scientist at Lawrence Berkeley Laboratory (LBL); David R. Nygren, group leader of the physics division at LBL; and Thomas A. Weaver, a senior scientist at Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory (LLNL).

The laboratories at both Livermore and Berkeley are managed by the University for the Department of Energy.

The Lawrence Award was established in 1959 to honor the memory of Dr. Ernest Orlando Lawrence, who invented the cyclotron and established major aboratories at Berkeley and

Miller, a physical chemist, was cited for his development of an advanced mathematical physics technique to describe the collision of atoms and molecules. He joined the Berkeley faculty in

Nygren, a physicist who joined LBL in 1973, was recognized for the development of experimental techniques in particle physics, and especially for the invention of the Time Projection Chamber, a device that analyzes the results

by Berke Breathed

MILDRED PUTSK I'M NOT GAY.

GIRL WILL BE ABLI TO BREATHE

Weaver, a physicist, will receive the award for his in x-ray laser experiments. He is also known for his research in astrophysics, with particular emphasis on the evolution of stars. He joined the staff at LLNL

Chancellor's Associates

Three faculty members at

The three honorees, David Luft, associate professor of history, John O'Brien, professor of neurosciences, and Sanford Lakoff, professor of political science, each received a certificate and a $1,000 award

Luft was selected as the citation read in part: "He has consistently earned enthusiastic reviews on his teaching. Whether in large undergraduate challenges students' curiosity about history. They appreciate his humorous, enthusiastic his students 'he makes history

O'Brien, a School of Medicine scientist who is a pioneer in the study of the molecular basis of neurologic disorders, was given the award for outstanding

"His work in a variety of inherited diseases has already led to the development of tests to identify affected individuals and to the prenatal diagnoses of several diseases. Dr. O'Brien's studies of the genes which produced recessive inherited neurologic disorders not only provided a basis for understanding how gene mutations affect the nervous system, but also a basis for future therapy of afflicted children," according to the Associates'

Lakoff, the founder of the UCSD political science department, was honored for outstanding community service. "He has consistently tried to enhance public discussion of political affairs," according to his citation. "He developed a series of seminars on international security which attracted the leading experts as well as the interested public to examine issues of global survival. He has consistently tried to provide the public with knowledge necessary to form judicious opinions about vital political subjects."

Professor home-loan program renewed

new home has its goals of helping to recruit and retain key professors, UC Regents were told

In the 15 months since it has been in existence, the UC Mortgage Origination Program has closed on 66 loans, with more than half of those loans going to recruit new faculty members, said Steven Mathews, director of faculty housing

"I've talked to officials at several campuses who say the ability to offer such loans has made the difference between or going elsewhere," Mathews considering offers from other schools. "and it made the difference in keeping them here," he said.

Besides hearing the status report, the Regents voted to continue funding for the program, for up to $15 million a year, once current funding runs out in July 1986.

The program was first funded in July 1984 for two years with $30 million from unrestricted Term Investment Pool. The save on the cost of buying a home by not charging application fees and by paying many of the one-time closing costs. Such costs, on a $150,000 $4000, Mathews said.

In addition, he said, the program offers more liberal faculty to allocate up to 40 the home purchase. To be eligible, faculty must be through their department.

The average amount of a loan was $150,600, and the average home price was $222,000. UCSD received seven of the 66 loans.

Peterson Hall. Admission is free. UC scientists

Troubled Conscience. He was a co-author of the report on genetic

Council of Churches and was a consultant on this subject to the President's Commission for the Study of Ethical Problems in Medicine and Biomedical and

The intention of the Burke permanent series of lectures on functions and responsibilities of religion in society and its role in shaping social and moral values.

Nelson's talk will be at 8pm in Lectureship is to sponsor a scholars who will explore the campus by distinguished

Behavioral Research.

engineering for the National win Lawrence Awards Three UC scientists were among six named as recipients of the 1985 Ernest Orlando Lawrence Memorial Awards.

The Lawrence Awards are given annually to young scientists who make outstanding contributions in the field of atomic energy. Recipients receive of very high energy collisions.

Time lines

the campus of upcoming "last chances." Note: We cannot be expected to remember everyone's mother's birthday.

Halloween (no holiday)..... Oct. 31

Veteran's Day (no holiday) ...... Nov. 11

Thanksgiving Holidays . . . . . . Nov. 28-29

Last day to drop classes without an "F" appearing on transcript..... Dec. 2 already done so. Daylight savings time ended on Sunday, October 27.

BUT MILDRED PUTSK ... SHE'S SUC

A WORRIER! "WHAT WILL THE CHURCH DEACONS THINK?" SHE SAYS. "WHAT WILL YOUR FRIENDS

THINK? JUST WHY IS HE

"Spring ahead, fall behind" — set your clocks back one hour if you haven't

BUT MYSELF... I'M BROAD-MINDED AND VERY ACCEPTING OF

WHATEVER LIFE THROWS ME.

Winners announced by Energy contributions to national security

honor UCSD faculty

UCSD have been recognized by the Chancellor's Associates for outstanding teaching, research and public service.

from the Chancellor's Associates.

outstanding teacher for 1985. His lectures or graduate seminars he approach. In the words of one of come very much alive."

A UC loan program which assists eligible faculty in buying a during their meeting October 18.

someone coming to their campus

In addition, he said, several campuses were able to offer the loans to faculty who had been portions of the University's Short University program helps faculty home, can range between $3000-underwriting of loans, allowing percent of their income towards nominated for the loan program

The UCSD Guardian

Managing Editor Andrew Keeler Sean Wagstaff Associate News Editor Opinions Editor Matthew J. Cronin Copy Editor Shelly Simmons

Editor in Chief

Arts Editor Associate Arts Editor Alicia Agos Photo Editor John Ashlee Office Manager Suzanne Marie

Sports Editor John Schacht

Senior Staff Writers: Rachel Freifelder, Phil Lauder. Staff Writers: Margaret Carlin, Tom Ferguson, Jay Greathouse, Marla Helman, Rober Leone, Dave Richard, Diane Rigdon, Monte Rosen, Art Salazar, Gus Santoyo, Anna Severson, Dave Tedrow, Daniel Thomas.

Photographers: Mark Johnson, Dawn Mamikunian, Roger Monroe, Rich Pecjak, Paul Redmond, Tom Smith, Josh Weil. Graphic Artists Herald Artaud, John Ashlee, Ricardo Diaz Canedo, Bradford L. Dezurick, Quan Kim-Hoang, Belinda Padro, Tom Plonka, Jackie Semore. Layout Artists: John Ashlee, Lauren Conway, David Koons, Vesna Kulasinovic, Niki Newlands, David Settles, Nelson Zamora. Typesetters: Lauren Fresh, Ken Furie, Katrina Kohanowich, Phil Lauder, Anggie

The UCSD Guardian is published Mondays and Thursdays during the academic year by and for the students of UCSD. Reproduction or use of this newspaper without permission is strictly prohibited. We are not responsible for unsolicited manuscripts or art.

Views expressed do not represent the opinions of the Regents of the University of California or the

Protestors disrupt contra leader's speech

By GAYLE HEIRSHBERG, Staff Writer

CROWD OF 50-100 people demonstrated A against American involvement in Nicaragua in response to the presence of Arturo Cruz, Nicaraguan contra leader, who spoke to an audience of mostly local business attempted to drown out Cruz men at the Institute of Americas (IOA) on Wednesday.

The protestors chanted loud slogans attacking the United States involvement in the contra movement in Nicaragua, and

—Dennis Woo

Arturo Cruz Porras is a long time member of the Nicaraguan Conservative Party and an economist

States, according to an Institute of Americas release.

dictator Anastasio Somoza Debayle, who jailed Cruz

Bank, then as a member of the governing junta, and later as Nicaragua's ambassador to the United States

until his resignation in December 1984 in protest over Sandinista policies. Cruz was the presidential Coordinadora, in the November 1984 elections but withdrew his candidacy claiming that the electoral process was not free.

candidate of the Nicaraguan unified opposition, the on two occasions. Following the revolution against

Somoza, Cruz served as President of the Central trained at Georgetown University in the United

He joined the Sandinistas in opposition to the who was speaking in a tent outside.

"The demonstrators did themselves a disservice," said Joseph Grunwald, president of the IOA. "They made the people of the audience more sympathetic to Cruz because he couldn't be heard."

Cruz, who is a leader of the counter-revolutionaries fighting against the Sandinista government, was invited to speak by the IOA. He is also one of three leaders of the United Nicaraguan Opposition (UNO), an alliance of the contra fighting

According to Grunwald, Cruz spoke on behalf of the contras. Alejandro Martinez, minister of trade and commerce in Nicaragua, will speak for the opposing Sandinistas on November 25.

Originally both Cruz and Martinez were to speak together at a panel discussion, but Martinez refused to be on the same panel as Cruz, Grunwald

Protestors chanted, shouted and beat drums, making it difficult for the audience to hear what Cruz had to say. It was also a "difficult situation for both Cruz and myself to speak under," Grunwald said.

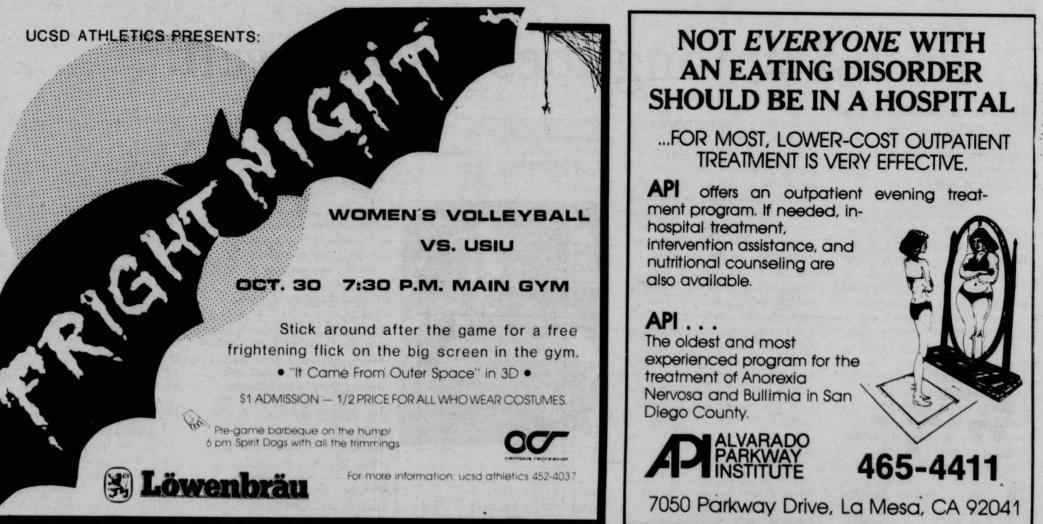

"We hear the contras' side talk all the time and it is purposeful disinformation by the Reagan Administration, the CIA and Cruz, who is a puppet," said Byron Morton, one of the student

"They (the protestors) were demonstration. We got noticed using methods like Hitler's by and we drew attention to the issue," Morton said. drowning out the other speaker and shutting up the opposition when you don't like something," said Grunwald. "I have no regrets about the "I don't mind protest but, give the other guy a chance to speak. This protest was a perversion of Please turn to page 11

Say hello to UCSD, Señor Cruz

Senor Arturo Cruz visited the Institute of the Americas last Wednesday afternoon around sunset in the hope of convincing a largely partisan crowd of academics and wealthy community members that his position on the present situation in Nicaragua is a viable one.

Senor Cruz, the recognized spokesman for UNO (United Nicaraguan Opposition), has had a rather tumultuous political career. Some consider him to be a hearty, moderate diplomat who has aligned himself with those who seek the overthrow of the Sandinista government because he truly believes that certain powerful leaders within the ruling party are fermenting a dictatorship of the proletariat, which he, a wealthy banker, considers detrimental to state progress. Others believe him to be an opportunistic huckster who, when cast into the very undesirable role of Nicaraguan ambassador to the United States in 1980, felt that his leadership position in post-revolutionary Nicaragua as on of the 10 designated members of the pre-election Sandinista ruling junta, was being stolen from by men like present President Daniel Ortega and Secretary of the Interior Tomas Borges. There are those, too, who believe him to be a "facisto," a "cochino" and a CIA pawn, and it was this group who turned out in the greatest numbers to greet him as he stepped up to the podium just before dark.

While Cruz sweated and stalked his way through 30 minutes of boring allegations directed against the Sandinistas, up to one hundred demonstrators screamed accusations at him 15 feet away from the plastic, transparent tent where the paying audience sat. One could barely hear Cruz unless stationed next to a speaker in the back. You could, however, hear the drumbeats and chants of the protestors quite well. For those folks who had thought that the six-dollar entrance fee only included wine, cheese, crackers and Cruz, the show of force of conviction exhibited by the demonstrators came as quite a shock. Instead of being treated to a clear, articulate barrage of manipulative misinformation by Cruz (the speech turned-out to be a muddled, confused barrage of manipulative misinformation for those who could hear it), the audience confronted Sandinistism; by definition, those people who are thoroughly enamored with the reformist-revolutionary government in

Most of the folks we spoke with after Cruz sped away from the Institute had mixed feelings about what took place. Although many were sympathetic with the demonstrators' cause, (that is, to boot the United States and the contras out of Nicaragua), not one of them could assimilate what appeared to be a protest for democracy and what they felt the protest act contradicted: the first Amendment and Cruz's right to and desire to convince educated people that you speak in the name of free speech without being subject to harassment.

Without further ado, perhaps we can clear up the matter for those institutions who are enraged over what happened, namely the Institute of the Americas, the San Diego Union, the San Diego Tribune, the federal government, the UC Regents and of course, UNO.

Primarily, Arturo Cruz and his cohorts are not exactly what one would call "a stifled voice." In fact, the contras, which Cruz is an integral part of have received $27 million in direct, "humanitarian" aid from the U.S.

government and upwards of $25 million from "private" sources in the United States with which to do whatever they please. Cruz himself is a frequent contributor to the New Republic, a widely-read, vaguely liberal publication out of Washington with a unique abhorence for anything one of the 20th Century's most overt crusades to overthrow the Sandinistas — and anyone who has heard his "totalitarian dungeon" speeches describing the relatively free society of Nicaragua, knows that his rhetorical analogies praising the contras as "freedom fighters" borders on the licentious. The CIA, consistent with their other historical acts of repression, is conducting an all-out war inside Nicaragua, as witnessed by the mass distribution of the "Freedom Fighters Manual," which basically encourages Nicaraguan citizens to destroy their economic infrastructure. The mass media, which is very quickly becoming a bastion of nimbleness, has quickly forgotten its lessons on colonialism and is now intent on dissolving their reputation as being more enlightened than the common man. The media's meager coverage of the amazing progress made by Nicaraguans under the Sandinistas (before the contras and the CIA became organized enough to stagnate the economy) can be viewed as blatantly discretionary and very possibly directed from above.

So then, it may not be spokesmen like Arturo Cruz who are having their free-speech rights violated, but it may very well be spokespeople for the Nicaraguan people, namely the Sandinistas. It is very rare indeed to locate an objective analysis of political movements in and around Nicaragua. How frequently do you hear facts such as this one: forty-eight out of the 50 commanders of the FDN (the largest contra group) are former National Guardsmen under the deposed dictator, Anastasio Somoza. Who, may we ask Senor Cruz and his supporters, do these murdering henchmen represent among the Nicaraguan people? They certainly do not represent the campesino, nor the student, nor the worker nor most of the business community. They do represent, however, Cruz, who is a wealthy banker, the Reagan Administration, the conservative flock and, moreover, further oppression for Nicaragua.

the back. They informed him that he cannot deceive the entire American public by dressing-up in well-tailored suits and parroting Ronald Reagan. If Senor Cruz did not know this before he came to UCSD, he does now: when you align yourself with historical brutality democracy, you better arrive well-prepared with facts about those you condemn — not pretty phrases. Senor Arturo Cruz did nothing of the sort. His talk did little to improve the stature of the contra movement. but did quite a bit in the way of strengthening the visibility of the pro-Sandinista movement here at home.

At least now the American public here in La Jolla is aware that there that has been labeled "Marxist." The Reagan Administration is launching

Now that is what the demonstrators were trying to put across last Wednesday much to the chagrin of those who attended to pat Cruz on are two sides to every issue, and that the less frequently heard viewpoint will not be silenced so easily.

The third world: profits overtake people By JOE WAINIO There has been a certain to the United States as a result of conservative backlash to my last contribution to The Guardian titled "Ignoring the Third World." Part of the article's central theme, that President Reagan's plan to spend untold billions of dollars on the illusion of a "Star Wars" defense is tragically misguided, was misinterpreted, however, when it was put forth that the article called for those billions of dollars to instead be "given to the Third World as a solution for poverty and hunger."

Part of the reason for the misunderstanding, I believe, was the article's generally presumptuous message. It did not really suggest how the United States could help the Third World acquire the technology we daily take for granted but which, in vast regions of the world, is beyond the means of most people. Rather than delving into theories on the causes of underdevelopment and what the United States could do to foment economic development — which are highly charged political themes and necessarily spark disagreement — I attempted to point out objective inequalities in the global distribution of wealth and thereby provoke in students some inner questioning on how this insanity is allowed to

I think the misunderstanding was caused by a common conservative predisposition to view the world in a very selective way. The central point of the conservatives, that "personal freedom and property rights encourage the hard work and creativity" that have provided us with our privileged position in the world, is certainly not a particularly inspired one. Still, in crediting our dominant economic position in the world today to capitalism, they speak the truth. A classic conservative portrayal of capitalism (which is critically flawed) praises the benefits that have been accrued capitalism's dynamism, which conveniently overlooks that economic system's darker side. Also, in urging the Third World to adopt economies based more heavily on free-market principles to spur economic development, they ignore many fundamental realities facing these nations today. Armed with information from Global Rift by historian L.S. Stavrianos of UCSD, I will now examine some of these ideas.

It is no coincidence that most Third World countries were once colonies of the European capitalist powers. The mercantilist theory (which guided the colonial powers in heir treatment of their colonies) held that the purpose of the colonies was to serve as markets for the manufactured goods of the colonial powers and sources of raw materials for European industry. The people, their labor and the natural resources of the colonies existed for the greater good of the European mother country. The economies of the colonies were designed with the idea of meeting the demands of the European market; the needs of the local economy simply did not matter. The colonial economies that developed were geared, usually, toward the production of a single export crop such as sugar or cotton (on plantations using African slave labor and Indian debt peonage) Whereas before the colonial conquest the land was used to meet local needs, i.e., the economies were largely selfsufficient — with the colonial system the land was devoted to a single export crop which (as in the case of sugar) was of little use to the local population. The export crop was useful in Europe, however, to which it was shipped in order to meet the demands of the market economy there. The colonies then served their purpose as a market for European manufactured goods and now even had to import food. Thus developed a vicious cycle of dependency into which Third World nations still seek to

The capitalist system inevitably led to this colonial expansion; the enrichment of the Europeans came at the expense of colonial exploitation. The economic development of the few came at the cost of underdevelopment of the many. Now the Third World faces such an overwhelming disadvantage to the developed world that any significant progress is very, very difficult.

debt to the tune of $865 billion, according to John Sewell of the Overseas Development Council. Efforts to develop internally integrated economies are almost impossible because of the onerous burden of that debt. If your country's main priority is to generate enough dollars to pay your huge monthly debt payment, and the internal market and industry of your economy are both very weak, your only choice is to endlessly increase . the export of your natural resources or primary products to raise the necessary cash. That cyclical process contributes nothing to the economic development of the Third World In the past when the few natural resources have run out, or a drought or disease has ruined an agricultural export crop, Third World nations (such as those in Central Africa) have experienced massive waves of starvation.

The idea that free enterprise system can somehow lead these nations into economic development is ludicrous. It is ludicrous because the sole objective of the capitalist is to turn a profit, not to feed the people. Foreign capitalists do not perceive it to be their job to assure that their actions are favorable to the economic development of the country in which they invest. Some domestic capitalists, spurred by nationalist sentiment, may well try and direct their activities toward, say, the development of an internal market. But it is the legitimate role of government to exercise its authority on behalf of the interests of the people it represents, i.e., to regulate and oversee the capitalists who seek to invest in its country. Because if the government does not direct the activity in its country toward economic development, certainly the capitalists will tend to do what will bring them the greatest return on their investment, not what will develop the country.

Throwing hope into hell in Central America

By KATHY BECKETT

The recent Congressional approval of a bill allocating 27 nillion dollars for "non-military" supplies for the Nicaraguan rebels, commonly known as "the contras," was a surprising and significant victory for the Reagan Administration. The intensity of the public and Congressional outrage generated by Reagan's infamous and illegal decision to mine the Nicaraguan harbors in 1984 seemed to indicate that the Administration's use of force in Nicaragua had reached unacceptable proportions, and that any further attempt to use military solutions in contending with the social and political problems in Nicaragua would be thwarted by Congress. Instead, partly as a result of an appeal to the public in which Reagan equated the contras with the freedom fighters of the American Revolution, Congress has approved the funding of the contras for fiscal '85-'86 — a decision that will mean another year of bloodshed and violence for the people of Nicaragua.

The Reagan Administration's desire to fund the contras in their fight against the freely elected Sandinista government is claims to "foster democracy for both practical and moral reasons." Practically, the President feels that we should prevent countries in Central America "from becoming part of the Soviet Empire." This policy of intervention, then, is based on a perception of communism as a universally destructive and coherent force in modern society. The Administration has chosen to ignore many facts that would dispel this misperception: that communism is in itself complex and fragmented, that there are no known Soviet advisors in Nicaragua, that the Sandinista government wishes to remain unaligned with both superpowers, and that the Sandinista government is the

The Reagan Administration also claims that we have a moral responsibility to foster democracy because "democracy is the best and only condition in which human rights can flourish." Authoritarian, military regimes are seen as more desirable than leftist regimes result of both a popular revolution and a popular part of a foreign policy which because "they can be changed to democracy" and "they stick to their own borders." For this reason, the United States recognized and supported the oppressive and murderous regime of Somoza in Nicaragua as well as the violent, right-wing faction of the Salvadoran government led by Roberto D'Aubuisson.

Although there is a significant amount of evidence (of which Reagan and the CIA had knowledge) pointing to D'Abuisson's leadership of rightwing death squads which have murdered thousands of innocent Salvadorians, the Administration professed to "be stumped" by the question of who was responsible for the killings.

Congressional requests for human rights certification before provision of more military aid, were ignored while countless murders of Salvadorans went uninvestigated, unpunished and almost unnoticed until the violence that had reached an all-time high was brought to the public's attention by the U.S. news media. "Fostering democracy" in El Salvador, then, consisted of three and a half years of active regime that had no regard for the ideals and rights that our government claims to value and hold as inalienable. The claim that authoritarian, military regimes "stick to their own borders" is as ludicrous as the claim that supporting governments like D'Abuisson's will lead to democracy; one need only look at Nazi Germany to realize that authoritarian leaders do not always stick to their own borders.

support for a violent, authoritarian

Unable to defeat the revolutionaries in El Salvador, the United States has turned its attention to the contras. These socalled "freedom-fighters" are recruited, equipped and paid only by the CIA to wage a war against the government of Nicaragua in which over 60,000 civilians have been killed. As part of this battle against Nicaragua, Reagan, in violation with international law, directed the secret mining of the Nicaraguan harbors. This decision was made without Congressional approval; thus, this attempt to "foster democracy" in Nicaragua was made through an illegal and undemocratic process.

The policy of using undemocratic means to "secure and protect democracy" is not dissimilar from the Nixon Administration's decision to secretly bomb North Vietnamese troops and supplies on the Cambodian border. If the United States continues to employ these undemocratic processes, the legitimacy of democracy itself will be called into question.

But the Reagan Administration has shown no sign of tempering its foreign policy in Central America. In fact, the United States recently declared that it will not abide by the World Court jurisdiction regarding its policy towards Nicaragua. President Reagan also withheld approval from a bill that would require human rights certification and impose conditions on military assistance in El Salvador, claiming that such requirements would "distort our efforts to promote human rights in that area." The President did not explain how this distortion would occur.

The answer to political and social problems in Central America cannot lie in the use of

Please turn to page 6

A friend among foes — farewell

By DAVE RICHARD, Staff Writer

Editor's Note: This is the conclusion of an article begun Monday by Mr. Richards describing his views on selective protest.

Artashes asked me if I would meet with him later that afternoon, to discuss life in the West. "I want to talk very briefly," I remember him saying, "just an hour or so. I want to learn about your country." I agreed to the meeting and at 6 o'clock that night, myself and a friend, met with Artashes and his friend Sasha outside my hotel. For two hours we talked on a bench in a park in Leningrad. Sasha sat opposite us on another bench to make sure we were not being watched by the KGB. This type of back-up would become commonplace as our friendship

Without simply-dictating the history of our friendship, let me leave you with a very honest

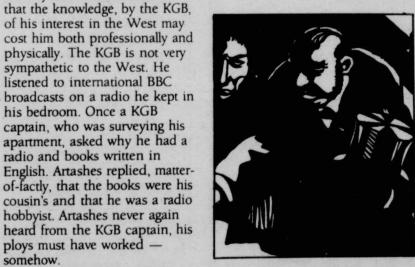

English by himself, trudging through used and worn novels to learn syntax. He did so in fear that the knowledge, by the KGB of his interest in the West may cost him both professionally and physically. The KGB is not very sympathetic to the West. He listened to international BBC broadcasts on a radio he kept in his bedroom. Once a KGB captain, who was surveying his apartment, asked why he had a radio and books written in English. Artashes replied, matterof-factly, that the books were his cousin's and that he was a radio hobbyist. Artashes never again a scared man. He learned

I have lost contact with Artashes. On my last day in the Soviet Union before returning home I asked him for his address. He politely declined. It

ploys must have worked observation. Artashes was and is seems that it is common knowledge among Russian people that all mail entering the Soviet Union from foreign countries is conveniently examined by the KGB. He did not want to take the risk. I agreed that it would not be in his best interest. I could see this hurt him, we had become good friends. To know with such final certainty that the two of us would never again meet was a tremendous blow. As a friend, I could not ask him to put himself at risk simply to maintain contact. I had to understand. On the last evening we were to see each other, we walked around Leningrad and talked about what we might do with our lives. I said I would like to come back to Leningrad some day and perhaps we might meet once again. He simply smiled. We laughed about a few things, mostly the Russian slang I still remember to this day. I tried to explain the concept of McDonald's to him which was utterly hopeless. But, as I boarded the subway train back to my hotel, Artashes had only one thing to say: "Don't forget about of Artashes that I have mixed feelings about the South African protest movement. It's not an objection through analysis, it's an objection from the gut. We have forgotten about the Russian people, haven't we? Maybe it is naive of me to expect for anyone to care, after all it's been close to 70 years since the October Revolution. But, if we care for all people, on the basis of human rights, then let's not forget those people throughout the world that are denied the opportunities which we so often take for granted. Let us protest the South African government, because in the interest of morality, we should. But let us not forget the many millions who don't even have the chance to express their opposition. Let us not forget that when the Curtain fell, life went

How could I? He was a true

I guess it is, in part, because friend.

OPINIONS

Those fickled fraternities of foolishness

By JAMIE OLIFF IFF SPOONHEAD'S big

sister Beuphora realized the dim reality that she was not sorority material when, much to her surprise, she

"But Beuphora," Biff offered for consoling purposes, "the world is full of so many opportunities. Don't just sit home eating dried apricots! Like my best friend Merf says, you are significant only insofar as you assert yourself!" And with that, Beuphora Spoonhead put on her favorite pink blouse her Aunt Mini had given her on her 17th birthday and set out to become the next best thing to a Delta Phi Epsilon — a Little Sister.

Beuphora met her good friend Grezda at school and told her of her plans with much glee and excitement. Suddenly, from across the plaza they spotted Dreynold Facto, the president of Sigma Cow Delta, who quickly approached them.

"Hey Beuphora, you've got lipstick on your teeth!" he remarked. Grezda then offered Beuphora her compact mirror.

"O be still my heart! You're right! I didn't realize it. It is just so difficult to see anything through these double-adhesive fake eyelashes. I must go home and re-do it. Excuse me." So they excused her. Dreynold then turned to Grezda, "I here you and Beuphora want to become

Sigma Cow Delta Little Sisters." Listen Grezda, the Sigma Cow Deltas are having their annual Pumpkin Dance on Thursday and a car wash tomorrow. We expect you and Beuphora to show up for both and promote that undefeating Delta spirit."

The Pumpkin Dance turned out to be a success, as Beuphora got 52 dates and Grezda won the Pumpkin Pie eating contest and thus earned a dance with President Dreynold as a prize. Beuphora missed the car wash because she "absolutely had to wash (her) hair...," but Grezda

"Oh Dreynold! You are sooo strong!" she sighed as she watched him scrub down a red

"How'd you like that Little Sister Cow meeting held last night? Hope you got much out of it. Beuphora looked very nice, Grezda faked a smile, "Absolutely, but that is only because she washed her hair eight times beforehand. I personally thought it was extremely informative and I better get in, Dreynold!" she shook her fist wildly, very unlike the Grezda to which he was accustomed.

"Then show up at the Delta meeting tomorrow. And be sure to tell Beuphora about it."

All eyes turned as Beuphora sauntered into the Sigma Cow Delta meeting room. Grezda was with her but that did not matter much to anyone. Suddenly, a Delta jumped up and took their picture, while another handed a slip of paper to each prospective Little Sister Cow.

"Name, class rank, GPA, and please write a one-page thesis on your contributing factors to the Little Sister program. Also, state whether you wish to participate in linear be-be gunning intramurals as a Little Cow." President Dreynold instructed with much authority.

Finally the notorious Sigma Cow Delta secret meeting occurred whereby certain Little Sister potentials were rejected and others eagerly accepted. Dreynold held up a photo of Lifferta Mopp. The masses of Deltas looked quickly away.

"But she's got a high GPA...she's good at sports!" he offered on her behalf.

"Look at the way she does her makeup!" a Delta interjected, "Bright turquoise shadow just isn't in anymore. Remember, we do have a reputation to live up

So Dreynold scrapped her existence as a Little Sister Cow and held up Beuphora Spoonhead's photo. The crowd cheered and waved flags, staring at her photo, which was manufactured by Kodak.

"Definitely, Dreyold! She is great for our image! Who cares if she cannot do athletics or anything intellectual. Her mere presence will undoubtedly build Delta status," said Taurus Limbo, a prominent Delta senior.

"But what about Grezda Ippert, her friend? If we don't include her, Beuphora might not go through with it." The Deltas pondered this most delicate

"I think," started Dreynold's roommate Nordart, "that Grezda should be a Little Sister Cow. She has got that Cow spirit, you

And so it went with each prospective until at last the voting was completed and the Deltas had a new batch of Little Sister Cows.

"O my god! We made it, Grezda! That was undoubtedly the most exhaustive week I've ever had. Imagine! I went through twelve packs of Acutrim just from sheer nervousness!"

"Isn't it simply wondrous, Beuphora? And Dreynold is such a dreamboat! I cannot wait until the first linear be-be gunning,

"You must be kidding. I have go to do my laundry. After all, we are Little Sister Cows and that means responsibility to our

"Well put! It's like my Delta big brother Ollert said, we must maintain our reputations to maintain theirs. How patriotic! Are you planning to be a Little Cow winter quarter, too?"

And with much thought, Beuphora slowly and seriously replied with much deliberation, "Only if I can get a color portrait made by then. I absolutely could not bear their passing around that disgusting picture they took of me at that meeting. I'd simply have to transfer schools if that picture circulated again. One of my beautiful locks of hair was three centimeters out of place!" And with that, she ran home, fearful that yet another lock of hair was out of place.

"So how'd the Little Sister business go?" Biff asked Beuphora that evening.

"Splendid! Piece of cake! I suppose I just happen to have exactly what those Deltas were looking for, which does not surprise me in the least, since I know I'm everything to everybody. It just goes to show, Biff, how much I can do with myself that no other girl could possibly come close to

"Yes, Beuphora, I guess you're just a born Cow."

DELIVERY THAT'S WINNING THE WEST

WELLS FARGO STUDENT LOANS

Speedy Processing: At Wells Fargo, we're committed to rapid turnaround. Our state-of-theart student loan system enables us to give your loan request prompt attention and swift handling.

We Make It Simple: No additional bank forms are required, and you don't need to have a credit history or account relationship in order to qualify.

Courteous Customer Service: Our service representatives are ready to answer your questions. We appreciate your business, and we're anxious to make your dealings with Wells Fargo Bank pleasant and hassle-free.

Choose Wells Fargo: If a student loan is part of your plans for financing your education, then tell your financial aid office that you want to go through Wells Fargo Bank. Soon after you mail us your application, you'll begin to see why Wells Fargo was the smart choice.

If you need more information, we'd be happy to help...phone or write us today!

Call (800) 641-0473 Toll-Free Weekdays 8 AM-5:30 PM

> Wells Fargo Bank Student Loan Center P.O. Box 9368 Walnut Creek, CA 94598 © 1985, WFB, N.A.

Hell

Continued from page 5 militarty force; such force fails to address the causes of the desire for just social change. In an attempt to maintain the status quo and protect existing balance of power, the United States has failed to recognize the need for justice in Central America. We must replace military aid with economic assistance that will help alleviate the poverty, hunger and disease that cast such countries into turmoil. We must better differentiate between legitimate, democratic governments and corrupt, violent governments who because of an irrational fear of communism and an emphasis on order rather than justice, we have supported in the past. If democracy is indeed our top priority, we must give it more than lip service.

California education needs big changes

Senior Staff Writer

ALIFORNIA'S educational system needs drastic changes, according to a report by the Assembly Subcommittee on Higher Education entitled "California Higher Education: the Challenge of the 21st Century."

Assemblyman Tom Hayden, the report's author, feels the most important problems are: (1) the overall lack of basic educational competency (e.g. literacy), (2) the even greater deficiencies in the black and Hispanic populations and (3) the potential loss of American leadership in world markets. The report begins with a discussion of technological and economic competition with Pacific Rim nations. Japan, by emphasizing math and science education, is producing highly competent engineers and business executives, and may soon leave the United States far behind, says Hayden. The average IQ and "average level of ability" have increased in Japan. He describes, in contrast, the recession in Silicon Valley, center of California's computer industry, and the lack of space for engineering students in the California State University system. There is a shortage of professors because trained engineers do not pursue careers in teaching due to salaries far lower than those in industry.

Hayden finds it equally distressing that fewer native Californian students study the Pacific Rim than the number of exchange students from those countries. He feels such study is necessary to understand the cultures and econmics of these nations whose international importance is increasing. UCSD is currently being considered as a site for the first graduate school of Pacific Basin studies. The education of California public school students is, in general, inadequate, the report states. Most workers are partially unqualified for their jobs, which he says require more training than did comparable jobs in the past. Because of the 25 percent illiteracy rate and the shortage of skilled labor, many companies train employees in basic skills. Hayden describes company schools such as Burger King University in Florida, run at the enrollment and funding level of standard universities, which meet with public approval but, he says, are less than ideal; they "minimize liberal education," are funded through tax deductions and compete with community colleges for vocational students.

Hayden cites statistics on high school and state university enrollment and graduation to support his point that the "educational success" is low for all students but especially poor for non-Asian minorities. Seventy-eight percent of white ninth graders, 66 percent of both black and Hispanic ninth graders and 100 percent of Asian ninth graders are expected to finish high school; 7.3 percent of all students will graduate from a UC or state university. These statistics make California look even worse, Hayden feels, due to the burgeoning minority

Many school administrators attempt to improve education through the imposition of "higher standards": emphasis on basic skills, stricter discipline, increased graduation requirements. Hayden questions the value of this; he says it may serve to further discourage already low-proficiency students, especially those for whom English is a second language. "If students cannot succeed in diluted educational tasks, there is little reason to believe they will succeed at more rigorous ones," says the report.

Hayden ascribes part of the problem to a shortage of adequately trained and enthusiastic teachers, especially at the elementary level. The changing structure of the American family also may change the functioning of public schools. Only 7 percent of families now fit the traditional stereotype of father at work, mother at home and two or more children at school. The number of singleparent households is increasing, with 23 percent of families now consisting of a woman and her children. A majority of families have no non-working parent.

Meanwhile, claims Hayden, American society is seeing the demise of the melting pot, replaced by "cultural fragmentation" into discrete social classes.

Since parents have less time to socialize their children, the task is increasingly left to the public schools.

As solutions, Hayden proposes increasing the "availability" of technological and intercultural education, in the interest of maintaining a competetive economy and "increasing quality of life," while improving the liberal education of the "wellrounded" person. Further, he advocates increasing the training of all "human capital" (potential workers) and studying the interrelationship of all sectors of education (K-12, community colleges, state universities and UCs) to determine how they can best help one another.

Hayden's report is one in a series reviewing the Master Plan for Higher Education written in the early 1960s by a State Assembly subcommittee. It planned growth and development of the California schools for the next 20 years, based upon projected population growth and demographics. A 1973 review showed the need for massive revisions due to decreased birth rate, increased housing costs and the collapse of the aerospace industry, all of which slowed the growth of California's population.

Police seek rapist

OLICE SAID that despite "a good number of calls and potential leads which haven't gone too far," they are still searching for the man who attacked and raped a UCSD staff member on October 16.

Sergeant Robert Jones said that they are checking any possible leads regarding the rape which occurred on the par-course fitness track north of the Central Library in the afternoon.

Jones also indicated that a search of the area where the victim was attacked vielded a piece of evidence which is not a conclusive lead, but should be helpful in the investigaton. The demand for on-campus escorts by the Community Service Officers (CSO's) has increased since the rape

"The victim," according to Sergeant Jones, "is in okay condition despite the obvious trauma of the violent act."

-Matt Lait

CAREER IN-

MANAGEMENT INFORMATION CONSULTING

-Presented by EMSSA, SAN AND IEE-

- Strong self-confidence
- Demonstrated leadership and technical skills
  - Strong academic record
- Eager to accept responsibility
  - High energy level

If this description fits you please attend a presentation given by representatives of Arthur Anderson and company discussing careers with the consulting division in L.A.

The presentation will be on October 29 at 7:00 pm in HL Auditorium. Refreshments will be served.

- We offer our professionals: • Excellent technical and business training
  - Great variety of assignments • Rapid advancement
    - Opportunity for travel

Arthur Anderson & Company is the largest information consulting firm in the world specializing in design & installation of business computer systems.

From Peru

MACHU PICCHU

A Unique Andean Musical Panorama

featuring RAYMOND THEUENOT

"A soul touching performance of the Andean spirit." Stadionhalle gut besetzt

Internationally renowned guena virtuoso, accompanied by David Sandoval on quitar and traditional instruments.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 8:00 PM UCSD MANDEVILLE AUDITORIUM

$7.00 general • $6.00 senior citizens • $5.00 students

TICKE TILLASTER & UCSD Box Office: 452-4559

NEWS

Hundreds of festive oungsters showed up at he Ché Café Saturday for a multiple band punk concert to benefit Mexican earthquake victims.

The party was apparently broken-up early for campus alcohol policy violations.

7 pm — Under 16 — Win 2 Free Tickets to Sea World 7:30 pm — Over 16 — Win $50

BJ's Chicago Pizzeria

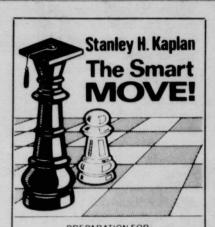

455-0662

8873 Villa La Jolla Dr. La Jolla Village Square

55-0662 free campus

delivery

GMAT · LSAT · GRE

Classes on Campus Diane Shopping Center 4780 Clairemont Mesa Blvd. San Diego, CA 92117-2006 (619) 277-6744

MARY McNULTY

October 30, Wednesday, 8:00 p.m. Mandeville Auditorium

Single Tickets: UCSD St. $5.50, G.A. $15.00 (and include bonus performances by the Thouvenel String Quartet & Tafelmusik). Single Tickets are $15.00

TOTAL ST the UCSD Box Office: 452-6467

Introducing the new Soft Contact Lens Plan... complete in one package.

It's the Package Plan!

Everything you need at one low cost. The Package Plan provides everything from your new contact lenses to vision examinations and follow-up care. All at the low price of $7900.

This package includes:

- All professional services
- Complete eye examination (glaucoma test and visual fields also)
- · Lens evaluation and fitting
- Set of soft daily-wear lenses for myopes (nearsighted)
- · Care kit
- · Full instructions and training
- Personal Vision Report
- Two-month care program and money back guarantee
- Plan membership fees

Limited-Time Offer

To take advantage of this special offer, call for your appointment before November 15, 1985 For your convenience we have evening and weekend appointments available.

New fashion tinted contacts, soft extended-wear and gas permeable lenses are also available at very low costs.

If you already wear contacts, ask about our special program and low prices for replacement lenses.

Remember—The Package Plan $79.00 offer expires 11/15/85. (Visa and Mastercharge accepted).

La Jolla Center (Near UCSD, above St. Germain's) 3251 Holiday Court, Suite 203 La Jolla, CA 92037 (619) 457-1181

Mission Gorge Center (Near stadium and SDSU)

10405 San Diego Mission Road, Suite 107 San Diego, CA 92108 (619) 283-9201

The inside line on long distance

By BARBARA SOBEL

T&T CLAIMS to pride itself on its service and quality. MCI offers lower rates AT&T, but restricted international service. Sprint offers the lowest rates but with the most restricted service of the "big three" long distance

There are several features which all three companies share. These features include 24 hour seven-day-a-week service, no minimum or maximum number of calls, no installation or monthly service fees, and calculated rates on the conventional (daytime, evening nightime/weekend) system. All three long-distance services offer a feature that allows the user to charge his or her long-distance phone calls when he or she is away from home.

As of December 1, 1985, all Please turn to page 10

NOTICE

FACULTY/STAFF JURIED EXHIBITION grove gallery 1985

> ENTRY FORMS AVAILABLE AT THE CRAFTS CENTER • B-023 • x2637

University Events Office presents a Special Screening of chal-lenge [chal'enj] n. 1. anything that calls for special effort.

Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity

is starting a chapter at Cal-San Diego

If you're ready to take on the challenge of starting a fraternity call our National Representative, Jay Barrow, at:

565-4852

Free passes must be picked-up in advance at UCSD Box Office: 452-6467

NEWS

PRE-HALLOWEEN SPECIAL FOR STUDENTS ONLY (with this coupon)

$24.00 BABY GIRL $24.00 BABY BOY $19.00 NUN MONK $19.00 CAVEWOMAN $10.00 $10.00 CAVEMAN $16.00 DEVIL $15.00 ANGEL $12.00 WITCH EXECUTIONER $19.00 $19.00 $19.00 CONVICT SURGEON

Other Costumes Available

We Guarantee Our Price To Be the Lowest No Reasonable Offer Refused

We Are the Only Discount Store in San Diego Now Two Stores to Service You

DISCOUNT COSTUME

3219 Adams Ave. San Diego 281-9266 Open 9-9 Every Day

3811 30th St. San Diego 295-7150

Open 7 Days a Week Exp. Oct. 31, 1985 SANDWICHES-THAT'S WHAT

IS ALL ABOUT

UCSD SPECIAL

WEDNESDAY AND SUNDAY

Show student I.D. and receive 20% off all sandwiches and half price on beer and wine

OVER 80 LOCATIONS
• LUNCH • DINNER • CASUAL CATERING

FREE

Buy One Small Sandwich To Get Another of Equal or Less Value FREE Good Through Nov. 30, 1985

PHONE

3166 Midway Dr. Good at This Location Only

222-TO GO

Long distance

Continued from page 9 three companies will have adopted an equal access system. This means that a subscriber no longer has to dial a long string of numbers to reach their longdistance services. Under equal access, the subscriber can call from either a dial or touchtone phone and will only need to dial l plus the area code and number he or she wishes to call.

AT&T sets the price bases upon which MCI and Sprint set their respective rates. AT&T offers between 40-60 percent off the standard phone company long-distance rate (Pacific Bell). During the daytime period, 8am-5pm, the percentage saved by AT&T long-distance phone service depends on where and when the user is calling. AT&T users that call between 5pm and 11pm can expect to save 40 percent over standard longdistance rates. Between 11pm and 8am and all day Saturday and Sunday, AT&T users will receive a 60 percent discount below standard rates; MCI claims to save users 5-35 percent over AT&T's discount. Infact, MCI users will only save 35 percent over AT&T in the first minute of a call. Sprint users can expect to get 15 and 5 percent discounts over AT&T and MCI respectively Both MCI and Sprint offer volume discounts for customers whose long-distance bills are over $20.00 per month. Depending on the time of the call, MCI users can save an additional 2-9 percent while Sprint subscribers receive 3-15 percent in additional savings. AT&T has no such service.

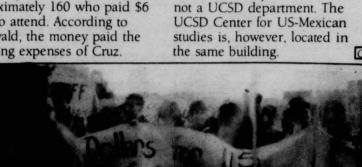

AT&T, a government-regulated corporation, has the base discount price for long distance phone services. In the last year, AT&T has lowered their rates by 11 percent, MCI's policy is to fluctuate its rates with AT&T's. Sprint's long distance rates have remained stable with no increase or decrease in the last year. Recently, AT&T asked the government if it could lower its rates again. If appproved, this rate decrease will occur within the next few months. MCI, in keeping with their policy to mirror AT&T's policy changes, will probably decrease their longdistance rates. Sprint has no plans to change their rates in the near future.

MCI offers long-distance phone service to 34 different countries. Sprint, however, only offers service to 18 different countries. Calling from anywhere with a calling card or travel code presents several differences between each of the three phone services. An AT&T customer who resides in California, for example, and uses his or her calling card from another city in California, will see a .50¢ surchage added to his or her bill for each call. The surcharge added to a bill for using an AT&T calling card in a state other than California in this instance would be $1.05. MCI subscribers who use their calling cards will be charged .55¢ regardless of where the call was made from. Sprint subscribers who use their travel codes will not be charged for doing so. However, although Sprint users can call anyone in the US, they can only use their travel codes in freedom of speech. We (the IOA) want to show both sides of a story. We don't take a side. The people can make up their own minds but, let them learn what both sides are first," Grunwald Cruz spoke to an audience of approximately 160 who paid $6 each to attend. According to Grunwald, the money paid the travelling expenses of Cruz.

Continued from page 3

"I agreed with the protestors'

perspectives but, not their

Americas resource center is situated near the UCSD campus on North Torrey Pines Road, it is

Specializing

'Hard to Fit'

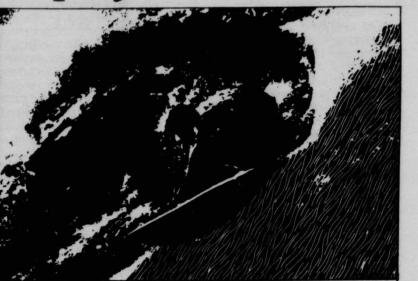

Patient

...sitting on top of the trash can

methods," said David Hammond, a Third World studies major, The UCSD Surf Club gathered who attended the speech. "They at Black's Beach, Saturday Oct. were distracting and tactless. I'm 19, to pick up trash. The club glad Cruz came so that people swept from the north end of the could critically examine him but, not so he could have the chance beach to the access road and picked up bottles, styrofoam and to spread his political line." Although the Institute of other garbage.

> According to Scott Cambell, the club's public relations officer, the club is proud of its clean-up job and expects people to keep the beach clean. "Now that Black's is clean again, the surf club is going to go out of its way to make sure it stays clean. We're sick and tired of cutting our feet on glass because some kook can't pick up after himself," he said.

The club plans to have monthly beach clean-ups and urges other people to get involved, Campbell said.

All interested newswriters come to the newswriters' meeting at the Guardian at 6:00 pm on Monday. October 28.

Designer Frames — Starting at $25 —

20% STUDENT DISCOUNT on all contact lens fees (Exp. Nov. 30)

GERALD W. FLANAGAN, O.D. 7341 Clairemont Mesa Blvd. 560-1156 TIC TAC DOUGH

THE JOKER'S WILD

Are Testing In

SAN DIEGO CONTESTANTS WANTED

UNLIMITED WINNINGS SAG/AFTRA Eligible

Call 619/429-KTTY

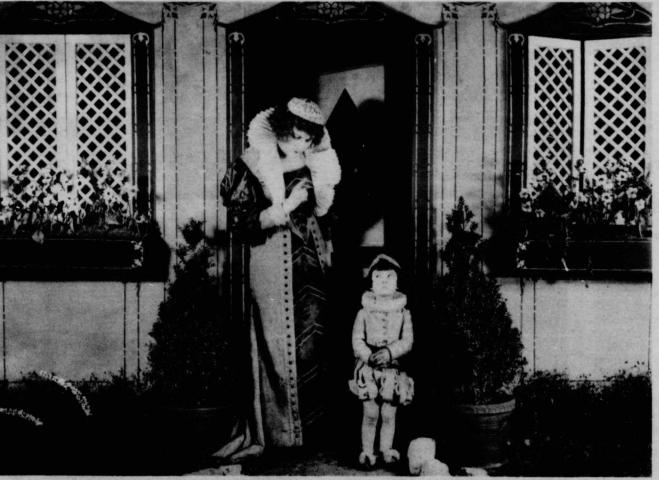

experience our atmosphere visit our garden

- You'll be surprised. -

All You Can Eat Ratatouille over rice, salad

Wed. night, Oct. 30 5-7 pm $3.50 Healthy food at inexpensive prices Fabulous lunches only a walk away

Medical-Technical Department Springer-Verlag Halloween Bookfair

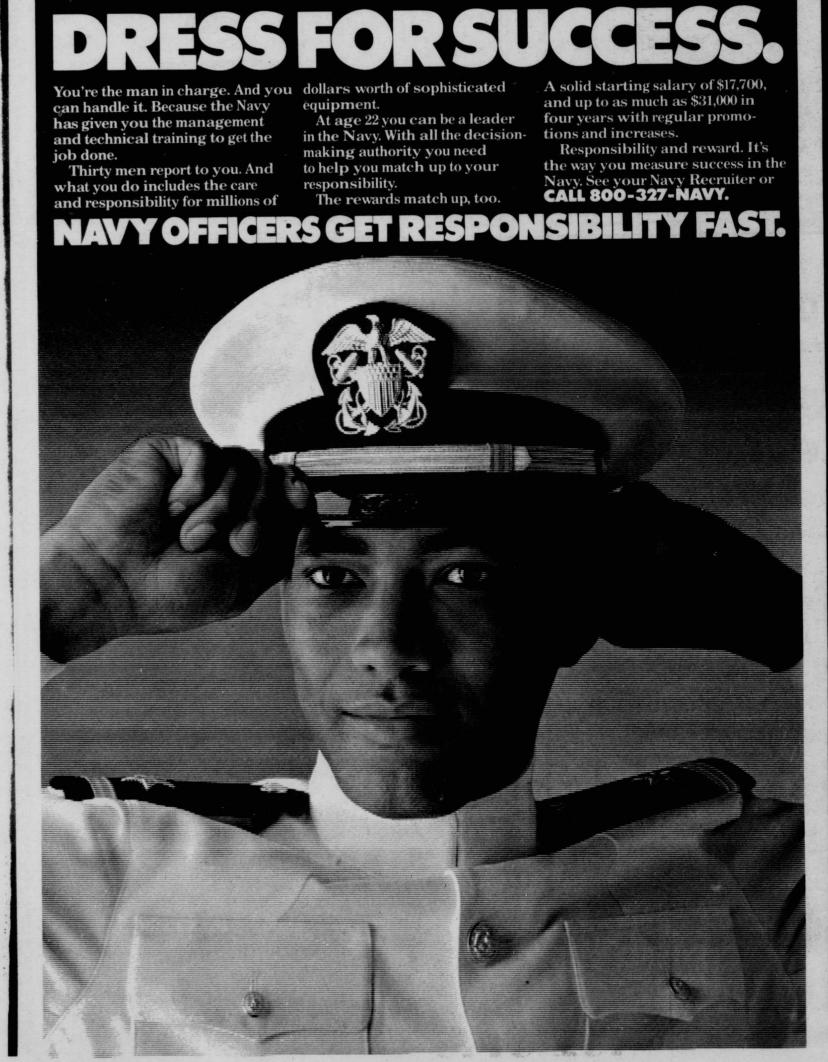

"No trick or treating until after you get back from the Bookfair."

20% Discount on ALL Spring-Verlag Titles in the Medical-Technical Department

Special Orders Also Accepted for Any Titles Listed in the Publisher's Catalog, for the Duration of the Sale

Wed., October 23 - Sat., November 2

452-3149

MONDAY-FRIDAY

8:30 am-2:30 pm — SIGI. Systems of Interactive Guidance and Information is a computer-based program of career information designed to help you clarify your values and occupational interests. For more information, come to Career Services Center. 8:30 am-4:00 pm — OASIS Writing Center offers free service for all UCSD students who need pre-writing help, conferences on drafts, and editing advice. We engage any kind of writing and any kind of writing problem. Conferences are by appointment only. Evening appointments are also available in OASIS Third Place at Third College. (For the full range of services see the back of the current class schedule). Call 452-2284 or come by USB 4010 to make an appointment. This service is available throughout the quarter. Sponsored by the OASIS Writing

8:30 am-4:00 pm - PAL Conferences -Don't spend more time studying than necessaryl Schedule a one-to-one PAL (personal assistance for learning) conference to streamline your studying. The conferences will deal with your course materials concerns including reading comprehension, memory control, lecture notetaking, and test preparation, as well as how to manage your time, handle stress, concentrate better, and overcome prograstination. Sponsored by the OASIS Reading and Study Skills Center. In HL

8:30 am-4:30 pm - OASIS NICHE Writing tutorials and workshops in Subject A. In HL

9:00 am-4:00 pm — Grammar Moses Hotline — A hotline phone-in service for help with diction, grammar and punctuation problems. To reach Grammar Moses, call 452-2284 between 9 am & 4 pm Monday through Friday. Service available throughout the quarter

MONDAY

- Drop-in Advising Hours: For help finding desirable part-time employment, determining career goals, searching for jobs or exploring professional or graduate school opportunities. No appointment necessary, just walk-in. In the Career Services Center.

TUESDAY

8:00 am-2:00 pm - The Language Program Level 1 — This OASIS program focuses on the thinking skills you need to sucessfully handle the reading and writing tasks assigned in your courses. It is designed for those who want to perfect their English language skills. LP classes are taught by reading and writing specialists and bilingual tutors. LP is presented by the OASIS Writing Center and the OASIS Reading Center. In

10:00 am - The Marketable Resume Workshop. Learn how to construct a stateof-the-art resume that will make you stand out from the crowd. In the Career Services

11:00 am - On-Campus Interviewing Orientation. If you are interested in participating in the Career Services Center's on-campus interviewing program this quarter, it is mandatory that you attend one of these orientations before you interview. In the Career Services Center

:00 pm — Finding the Hidden Job Market 80% of all job vacancies are unadvertised. This workshop will teach you a way to find out about them. In the Career Services

3:00-3:50 pm — Frustrated by textbooks of impenetrable density by reading assignments whose pages seem to stretch before you without end? Learn to improve your reading skills with techniques designed to extricate meaning from morass. Come to OASIS Reading & Study Skills Program's workshop on efficient and effective reading. In HL 1154. THURSDAY

10:00 am — Making Career Decisions. Too many choices? Learn an easy and effective process for choosing between several career options and setting appropriate goals. An excellent follow-up to the "Identifying Your Career" workshop. In the Career Services

2:00 pm — Interviewing Skills Workshop. Do you need help in preparing for job interviews? Career Services Center will provide tips on the best ways to present your qualifications and what kind of interview questions to expect.

7:00-10:00 pm — Third World Students for Academic Progress. Come develop study groups and get tutoring in math, bio, chem, writing etc... Refreshments availablell in the S. Conf. Rm. Student Ctr. B.

- Drop-in Advising Hours: For help finding desirable part-time employment determining career goals, searching for jobs or exploring professional or graduate school opportunities. No appointment necessary, just walk-in. In the Career Services Center.

9:00-10:00 am - The OASIS GM (Grammar & Mechanics) Workshop is designed for students who would like to work on clarifying basic grammatical concepts and categories, and applying them in extensive, systematic series of practical exercises. An exercise manual to be purchased by the student will be used. All work will be completed in the context of the workshop. In USB 4010.

10:30 am-2:30 pm — Science and Engineering Job Fair — This is your chance to to informally discuss job opportunities with employers in aerospace, biotech, communication systems, and research. In the Rec. Gym.

ORGANIZATIONAL MEETINGS

7:00 pm — Surf Club meets, note the new location. Anybody interested in resolving our current controversy should attend. Fiberglass enemas will be distributed to all not there. In

WEDNESDAY

8:00 pm - RISC meeting. Refreshments, steamboat rep., films, broomball afterwards at UTC. Also floor hockey afterwards. Don't miss the excitement II In the Rec. Gym Conf.

Service, 2nd floor.

1:00-2:00 pm - UEO Music Committee second meeting of the quarter. Anyone interested is welcomel In the University Events Office.

12:00 pm — Learn about diet and diabetes, the latest information presented by Phyllis Crapo, Reg Dietician at Diabetic Support Group meeting today. In the Student Health

ENTERTAINMENT THURSDAY

8:00 pm — EPOCH 2000: An astronomical performance and installation with tape, dance, video, staged by enterprising undergraduate musician, Alexa Henderson. In the Mand. Courtyard South. Free.

SUNDAY

3:00 am - Magnificent Bosendorfer Series: Schubert interpreted by pianist Cecil Lytle, founder of the series. In Mandeville Aud. $5 general admission, $3 students/staff/seniors.

RELIGIOUS FUNCTIONS MONDAY-FRIDAY

5:00 pm - Catholic Mass. Sponsored by the Catholic Community at UCSD. In the University Lutheran Church.

MONDAY 7:00 pm — AACF, Asian American Christian Fellowship meets in the North Conf. Rm. in Student Center B; come join us as we look into how to have a productive quiet time with Godl 8:00 pm — "Relationships: Depth in Dating." A coed bible talk led by seminar speaker and minister Greg Marutzky. Designed to apply biblical principles to our lives in a practical, relevant, and enjoyable

way. In HSS 2250. TUESDAY

12:00 pm — Commuter bible talk. Designed specifically for students living off campus. Come meet some new friends. In the Student Center B, lounge.

12:00 pm — Faculty bible talk. Designed specificaly for faculty and their friends. In the Revelle Formal Lounge. 7:00 pm — Campus Crusade For Christ.

"Study Break." Come join us for a great time of fun, singing, fellowship and insight into having a personal relationship with Jesus Christ. This week we're looking at Acts chapter 3. Refreshments following. In BH

7:30 pm — Tuesday Night Discussion Group. An opportunity to explore with others what it means to be a Catholic in 19851 Sponsored by the Catholic Student Coordinators. In the Catholic Lounge at University Lutheran Church.

WEDNESDAY

5:00 pm — Bible study for undergraduates sponsored by Lutheran Campus Ministry. In Pastor Huber's study at the University Lutheran Church.

6:00 pm — Supper for students hosted by the Lutheran Community at UCSD, open to all. In the room behind the chapel at the University Lutheran Church.

7:00 pm — Bible Study: the Gospel of John. led by Lutheran student/young adult group, open to everyone. In the University Lutheran

7:00 pm — Are you looking for some grrreat fellowship? Well, check out Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship. We meet every Wed. night at 7 pm on the beautiful Warren Campus. Come join us for a great time of worship and fellowship not to mention fun and a great backrubs! Absolutely everyone is welcome so grab your friends & family & join us Wed. nights! In the Chancellor's Complex

7:00 pm — Bible Study with Fr. Jim Wilson, Luke's Gospel. In the Good Samaritan Episcopal Church.

10:00 pm — Candlelight Mass. Sponsored by the Catholic Community at UCSD. In the chapel of the University Lutheran Church.

7:30 pm — United Campus Ministry Sun House will sponsor a Halloween Party. For details, please call U.C.M. office, at 452-2521.

7:00 pm — Miniature golf tournament for fun and prizes, followed by frozen yogurt

The Weekly

Photo by Tom Smith

run. Meet at Catholic Lounge.

SATURDAY 5:00 pm — Catholic Mass. Sponsored by the Catholic Community at UCSD. In the University Lutheran Church.

SUNDAY

8:00 & 10:00 am — Episcopal Church Worship Service: Sunday Eucharist and Parish fellowship. In the Good Samaritan Church. 8:30 am — Catholic Mass. Sponsored by the Catholic Community at UCSD. In the University Lutheran Church.

8:30 pm — Sojourners Christian Fellowship. In the Conf. Rm. Student Center B, Lower

10:00 am - Lutheran Worship: the observance of All Saints Festival, led by Pastor John Huber. All welcome. In the Chapel of the University Lutheran Church.

10:30 am — Catholic Mass. Sponsored by the Catholic Community at UCSD. In the Lower Level Conf. Rm., Student Center B. 11:15 am — "Anticipating the November 5 Election," presented by Mary Heising, a graduate student in political science at SDSU, and frequent political candidate. In the University Lutheran Church.

5:00 pm — Catholic Mass. Sponsored by the Catholic Community at UCSD. In the University Lutheran Church.

7:00 pm — University Christian Worship led by UCSD campus ministeries: Sojourners, United Campus Ministry, Episcopal and Lutheran. Open to all. In the University Lutheran Church.

LECTURE TUESDAY

4:00 pm - Lecture w/question & answer by Prof. Gerald Steinberg — visiting Prof. from Hebrew University, Jerusalem. Topic: Zionism and National Independence Movements. Sponsored by Israel Action Coimmittee. In the Revelle Formal Lounge.

INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS MONDAY

6:00 pm-7:00 pm — Don't just sit there! Get involved! Come to the News writer's meeting at the Guardian. At the Guardian News room (next to the Che Cafe).

WEDNESDAY

7:30 pm - Fright Night at women's volleyball vs. crosstown and rival USIU. Come in costume and get in 1/2 price. Free 3D movie following game - "It came from Outerspace." In the main gym.

THURSDAY

5:45 pm — The Thursday Dinner. Good food and great company. Sponsored by the Catholic Student Coordinators. In the University Lutheran Church. Donation $2. 6:00 pm — Get involved in the hottest new sport in the world — windsurfingIII It's fun, it's exciting, it's happening! Get on it -Yahooll The newly formed windsurfing club invites everyone to our 1st meeting. Free like the wind.

FRIDAY

3:30 pm — Men's waterpolo poster day — Come see the Tritons take on Stanford and get a free waterpolo "hunk" poster. At the Canyonview pool.

6:30 pm — Dine free. Indian style. Natural vegetarian cuisine. Krishna meditations, traditional music, Hindu philosophy. At the North Conf. Rm. in the Student Center.

8:00 pm — Halloween Party — You are invited to pass bewitching time - in costume, apple bobbing, pumpkin carving, eating and dancingl At the International

SATURDAY

10:00 am - Men's and women's cross country vs. USIU. At the cross country

1:00 pm — Fencing vs. Cal State Fullerton & Calif. Institute of Technology. In the Rec.

SERVICES/WORKSHOPS MONDAY-FRIDAY

9:00 am-3:00 pm - Need to learn more about internships? ASIO is the place to go! While it is too late to apply for winter quarter internships, we do have several positions which can be filled immediately. Stop by ASIO or call 452-4689. We're located in the Student Center above the game room. Find out what an internship can do for youl

MONDAY-12:00-1:00 pm - Let Go Of Stress And

Relax. For all UCSD students, this group is designed to teach methods of relaxing and dealing with stress which can be used for a lifetime. Techniques will include breathing exercises, biofeedback, progressive relaxation, autogenic training, guided food and who desire personal growth. imagery, meditation, self-hypnosis and time-management. Meets each week this quarter.

Journal writing, psychological testing and feedback, and relaxation and imagery work management. Meets each week this quarter. Students may attend all sessions or drop in to Will be used. Led by Maynard Brusman and any one of them as convenient. Led by peer counselor. Call Maynard at 452-3035 Maynard Brusman. Students should call for information and sign-up. In HL 1003.

Becca at 452-3755 for information and signup. Sponsored by Psychological and Counseling Services. In HL 1003.

2:00-3:00 pm — A note to all men: It is your responsibility as well as your mate's to get the facts on sexual health and birth control. You have the opportunity to get this information from your peers and for free at the Birth Control Information Sessions this Monday and every Monday upstairs at the Student Health Center. Don't forget guys, it takes two to tango.

3:00-4:30 pm — Overcoming Compulsive Eating/Red III. This group is for students who wish to give up their obsession with food and who desire personal growth. Journal writing, psychological testing and feedback, and relaxation and imagery work will be used. Led by Beverly Harju and Isabel Lerman. Call Beverly at 452-3987 for information and sign-up. In HL 1003.

4:00-5:00 pm — Headache Management Group. This is a group for students who are chronic headache sufferers. Participants will learn stress reduction techniques, as well as other headache treatment procedures. Interested students should call leader, Penny McClellan, at 452-3035 for information about signing up. Sponsored by Psychological and Counseling Services. In the Student Health Service.

4:30-6:00 pm — Progressive Women Support Group: How is your behavior as a woman affected by media, society and family? What does your boyfriend/girlfriend expect of you and why? Come and begin to understand the intricacies of gender roles and how you can change that which you don't like. Informal discussion. All welcome. In the Women's Resource Center.

7:00-8:30 pm — Women and Sexuality Support Group: Relationships, first sexual experience, the "sexual revolution?" -Pornography, fantasies, is there a feminist sexuality? Power-erotica... etc. All ages, backgrounds, sexual orientations encouraged to attend our support group Monday eves. at the WRC next to the Food Со-ор.

TUESDAY

8:00-9:30 am - Recovering From Eating Disorders/Red III. This group is for students who wish to give up their obsession with 12:00-1:00 pm — AAAAAA. S.S.S.S.S. AAAAAA. P.P.P.P.P.P. Come to the Birth Control Information Session and LEARNIII Upstairs in the Student Health Center.

2:00-3:30 pm — Adults Molested As Children group organizational meeting. A group for men and women who were molested in childhood or adolescence by strangers, acquaintances and/or family members. Interested students should call Miriam Iosupovici (452-3755) or Lorraine Watson (452-3987) for information. If you cannot make this time please call and make an individual appointment as group time may be changed. In HL 1003.

4:00 pm - Informational meeting regarding the Recovering from Eating Disorders program sponsored by Psychological and Counseling Services. In HL

4:00-5:30 pm - Lesbian/Bisexual Women's Support Group. All discussion strictly confidential. In the Women's Resource Center.

7:00 pm — Employment presentation by Arthur Anderson & Co., management Information Consulting Division. Free refreshments. Co-sponsored by SAM, EMSSA, IEEE, AND ASUCSD. In HL Aud. WEDNESDAY

12:00-1:00 pm — General Therapy Group for Undergraduate Students. Will focus on personal and interpersonal concerns of group members. Led by John Andrews and Libe Weiss. Group leaders can be reached at 452-3755 for more information and to sign up. In HL 1003.

12:00-1:00 pm — Learn how to get your treat and avoid the tricks this Halloween by attending the Birth Control Information Session. It could be the smartest thing you have done this quarter. Go upstairs at the Student Health Center and learn some useful

1:00-2:00 pm — Assertion Training Group for Women. A group designed for women who feel unsure about asserting their needs in work, personal or family relationships. Led by Connie Brunig. Call her at 452-3585 for info and sign up. In the Muir Conf. Rm.

2:00-3:30 pm — General Therapy Group for Undergraduate Students. Will focus on personal and interpersonal concerns of group members. Led by Steve Brady and Connie Brunig. Group leaders can be reached at 452-3755 for more info and sign

4:00-6:00 pm — Campus Black Forum. A weekly, informal discussion on the issues, concerns, and the quality of life of the Black community at UCSD. This is an ongoing group and students can join at any time Students can call leaders Phil Raphael at 452-3755 or Rochelle Bastien at 452-3035 if they have any questions; otherwise, they can just come to the group. In the Mountain View

Lounge. THURSDAY

1:00-2:30 pm — Gay/Bisexual Men's Counseling Group. On-going confidential group for male students questioning their sexuality, as well as those who identify as gay/bisexual. Meets weekly. Students can call leaders, Dr. Steve Brady, Carlos Nelson or Marc Weinberger, at 452-3755 for more informtion. Sponsored by Psychological and Counseling Services. In HL 1003. FRIDAY

11:00 am-12:00 pm - 7 Week Weight Management and Control Workshop. The goal of this group is permanent weight loss. Participants will learn how to break the yo-yo system of weight loss and weight gain. Sessions will focus on nutrition, exercise and health. The program is based on a bahavioral model designed to change life-style habits

with respect to food intake, physical activity and attitudes toward the body and its healthfulness. Participants will learn to break self-defeating habits and substitute new behaviors leading to permanent weight control. Led by Barbara Czescik. Call Becca at 452-3755 for information and sign up. Enrollment limited. Sponsored by Psychological and Counseling Services. In HL 2:00 pm — Alcohol and Substance Abuse

Group. If you've ever asked "do I have a problem?" chances are you do have a few things to talk about. Students of any age or history with substances are welcome to participate in the weekly discussions. Before joining the group, interested students are asked to call Becca at 452-3755 to make an appointment with one of our counselors to see if the group will meet their needs. Led by Dan Munoz and psychological interns. In the Revelle Provost's Office.

FRIDAY

2:00-3:30 pm - Gay Men/Lesbian Support Group. On-going support group for gay/bisexual men and women, as well as those who are simply questioning their sexuality. Will meet weekly on a drop-in basis. Led by Kevin Ward, 452-4297. In HL

Calendar

Photo by Rich Pecjak

Monday, October 28, 1985 15

Uncorking reactions to new alcohol policy

By MELISSA WEINSTEIN

The remnants of last Saturday night lay tossed aside in the shadow of a eucalyptus tree. An empty bottle of Smirnoff looked almost lonely as I kicked it further down towards Central Library. I wondered how it got there. A bottle like that had no place on a campus like this.

It's bad enough there's little social life here, I thought; but now that they've changed the alcohol policy, it seems they've taken away any partying potential this school might have had. However, curiosity arose, and I had to discover just exactly how much life at UCSD has changed since the initiation of this infamous alcohol policy.

Although the legal California drinking age is 21, the old alcohol policy at UCSD implemented in August of 1981, states that one could drink in an individual residence or one's private space. While another section of the old policy states that whenever alcoholic beverages exist, other nonalcoholic beverages must be made available; I don't recall ever going to a TKE party at the gym where there was a Pepsi stand next to the kegs.

Also, the earlier policy evidently prohibited individuals from bringing their own alcoholic beverages to any function. All I know is that it was not apple juice in everyone's cup at Tioga Hall. After years of condoning, the university came to the conclusion that it was responsible for acting as a guardian over the new population of freshmen and sophomores who were not of legal drinking age

The new alcohol policy prohibits the consumption of alcohol in all public areas of campus housing facilities. In addition, the campus resident is now no longer allowed to consume in his or her own private living space.

UCSD's police Sergeant Robert Jones believes that the new policy "will have a positive effect on the student residents and the community at large. The university is doing this to enhance a safe campus community, to protect people from injury and to avoid any problems in the future."

However, this will not deter people who are going to drink "no matter what." "People who find a need to drink will go elsewhere," Jones admits.

In terms of liability, Jones rhetorically inquired, "How can you justify to a parent a kid who has had too much to drink and goes off Tioga Hall? You can't."

Jones explains that one of the events that led to the change in the old policy about three and a half years ago was the annual Fogcutter event — a competitive drinking contest to see who could drink the most without passing out. As a result, there were passed-out bodies all over the place, he said. This evidently caused problems and was therefore banned. Iones added, "If you want to go to Arizona or Nevada where the drinking age is 18, then fine. But right now as we sit here, the legal age is 21. We can't condone it."

Jones reported that his Monday mornings have been quieter since the change in the policy, although it is still too early to tell if it is a significant

There is some fear among students and Resident Advisers that there will be a change in the relationship between the RAs always there available, it passes out of their mind; they don't find a need for it.'

DRY

CAMPUS

However, Loren thinks that what students do in their own private space is their business. "I think it's unrealistic of Joe Watson to think that students are not going to drink. I got the impression when he came to talk UCLA does not allow alcohol on campus, but the fraternities across the street have plenty of There appears to be a growth in the UCSD Greek system this year as a result of the change in the alcohol policy. The ZBT fratemity president, Todd Haines, estimated a 25 percent rise in rushees. "Last year, only

15 people showed up at the

and soda are served in place of

has no written policy set on campus yet. The UCSB newspaper, The Daily Nexus, expects that they will have one outlined by winter quarter. There goes Santa Barbara's reputation.

alcohol at TGs. UC Santa Barbara information meeting with the IFC (Intra Fraternity Council). This year there were 85. It is most likely attributed to the change in the alcohol policy."

As for avoiding cars wrapped around trees; the solution would be to drink responsibly. According to Danylyshayn-Adams, "Students are going to go out and find their own alcohol whether they go off-campus or not. That's something they are choosing to do. I'm hoping when they do choose to do that, they are going to act responsibly. For instance, if a group is going to go off campus to a party, someone is designated to drive who will not drink."

Dr. Richard Whitehill, Counseling and Psychological Services director — the alcohol proposal was interpreted as "one of those policies which gets instituted without student input."

and the dorm residents. Chris Moore, Muir House adviser, agrees, "The relationship has become more formal. People are avoiding me, and I'm avoiding them when I walk down the hall on Friday nights. You get the time is if there is alcohol door closed in your face."

stop people from drinking, "lt's almost like during prohibition. They took alcohol away because they felt it would stop a lot of problems, but it just caused more ...I can see it now: a UC

However, Revelle Resident Hall Dean, Judith Edwin, doesn't think that the relationship will change. "Students relate to students. They interact just as they would in any other situation. A good RA should be and a friend.

Revelle RA Stephan Loren also state law. If you are under 21, agrees that the policy does not threaten his relationship with the doing the best we can in residents. "In my opinion, students don't spend most of their time drinking. For the 99 percent of the time that they're not drinking, it's no different. For the time they are drinking, they go in their rooms and avoid know that we are not alone, we

Dean Edwin suggests, "I don't campus policy does not allow hink the students will try harder alcohol except in its bar and think the students will try harder to get it. It's like if you put the candy jar on the table, it's more accessible to the person. The person won't have to use other means to find it. But if it's not to the RAs that he thought the residents were not going to Vice Chancellor Joseph Watson states, "There is this idea that the only way to have a good present. We all agree, RAs in Moore explained that you can't particular, that the university has an obligation to provide alternative activities without alcohol...we don't want alcohol to be a primary concern."

Loren adds, "People are getting out and meeting people without the alcohol. Sometimes it's a shock for freshmen because they use alcohol as a crutch."

Muir Resident Dean Pat Danylyshayn-Adams finds it particularly difficult to enforce the part of the policy that takes away the freedom of drinking in able to balance being an enforcer one's own private space. "You, as a student, have to follow the you cannot drink." I think we're enforcing the policy."

Danylyshayn-Adams also does not think it will impose much of a change on the RA-resident

> It it makes one feel better to are not alone. The UC Davis restaurant, which cards its customers. However, one may have an alcoholic-beverage on campus if a certain percentage of guests have proper ID. Hot dogs relationship

On the origins of alcohol policy

By MARGOT GERBER

In the early 1960s when UCSD first opened the doors to its

In the early 1960s when UCSD first opened the doors to its dormitories, student protest generated by a strictly enforced "no alcohol on the premises" policy was unthinkable. At this time, campuses across the United States were still following the social standards carried over from the previous conservative decades. In compliance with the morals of this pre-civil rights, social-awareness era, students generally accepted the university's in loco parentis position, which allowed college officals to dictate and enforce rules regarding curfews, dormroom visiting hours and sexual behaviour. However, the fast moving decade that it was, the '60s quickly became marked by youth's heightened consciousness '60s quickly became marked by youth's heightened consciousness of the need for social movement, growth and change on a multitude

Aside from their concerns with the Vietnam War and the plight of black civil rights in our own country, students began to question their own liberty as legal adults, and the infringement on their way of life by university policies. The alcohol policy was among the dissatisfactory conditions that students rebelled against.

During these years of social upheaval, when renovation of old rules wasn't considered adequate unless it was extremely radical, many of those measures that governed alcohol usage in a reasonable fashion, were thrown out with those stipulations that were unreasonable and outmoded. The university hence adopted a rather laissez-faire policy which held UCSD through the '60s and part of the '70s.

The campus alcohol policy remained a somewhat innocuous issue to both students and administrators until about 1974-75, when the weight of a number of factors forced the topic back into a negative limelight. One major factor which renewed interest in the Please turn to page 15

Policy Origins

drinking issue, was the resurrection of alcohol, which replaced marijuana as the drug of choice amongst college students, when the latter was found less benign than was once thought.

With this new trend towards alcohol, the university administration became concerned about the inconsistency of alcohol policy across the campus, especially considering the shift in the conception of the university's legal responsibility for the students' well being. Another prominent voice urging restructuring of the alcohol policy came from the community, which was experiencing a period of increased awareness of the alarming proportion of the population that suffered from alcohol addiction and its related crises.

The policy that was devised to accomodate the above mentioned problems of the mid-'70s, or rather what was left of it nearly ten years later, is the policy that returning UCSD students have witnessed wax and wane in strength of enforcement in the past several years. Recently there has again been university recognition that expectations of behavioural standards and implementations of regulations has to be made more specific, due to increased alcohol induced damage to the residence halls and complaints from students who felt that their rights were being infringed upon by the behaviour of others who indulged irresponsibly in drinking.

In 1983-84, Vice Chancellor Dr. Joseph Watson convened a campuswide committee to examine patterns of alcohol use and abuse at UCSD. The committee conducted a survey based at Warren College, which documented the existence of large numbers of students who didn't seem to be able to use alcohol wisely. The committee recommended the institution of an educational program on alcohol abuse, and also the establishment of a committee which would look into the current procedures and policy on alcohol to see what regions were recovered as a committee which would look into the current procedures and policy on alcohol to see what regions were recovered as a convenience which would look into the current procedures and policy on alcohol to see what regions were recovered as a convenience which would look into the current procedures and policy on alcohol to see what regions are recovered as a convenience which would look into the current procedures and policy on alcohol to see what regions are recovered as a convenience which would look into the current procedures and policy on alcohol to see what regions are recovered as a convenience which would look into the current procedures and the convenience which would look into the current procedures and the convenience which would look into the current procedures and the convenience which would look into the current procedures and the convenience which would look into the current procedures are convenienced as a convenience which would look into the current procedures are convenienced as a convenience which would look into the current procedures are convenienced as a convenience which we can be convenienced as a convenience which would look into the current procedures are convenienced as a convenience which we can be conveniented as a convenience which we can be conveniented as a convenience which we can be conveniented as a convenience which we can also be conveniented as a convenience which we can be conveniented as a convenience which we can be conveniented as a con policy on alcohol to see what revisons were necessary.

In April of 1984, Dr. Watson asked Dr. Richard Whitehill, the present clinical director of Counseling and Psychological Services, and former assistant and associate vice chancellor for Students Affairs from 1973-79 (a position which heavily involved him in the formation of general campus policy, including alcohol policy in the 1970s), to chair a second committee to make recommendations for change in the alcohol policy.

This committee gathered an ad hoc committee which consisted of seven senior student development professionals, and asked them to draft an initial policy for committee consideration. This draft was submitted to Dr. Watson, and prior to any plans for formal publication, Dr. Whitehill says that by circumstances unknown to him, the proposal somehow went public and was interpreted as "one of those policies that gets instituted without student input."

The AS promptly responded to the reform by starting a group called "Students for Responsible Drinking," and recommended an educational program on alcohol which Dr. Watson accepted. The policy was altered somewhat as a result of AS input, and it went into effect this fall, 1985, primarily shocking and disheartening resident advisers and students who had resided in on-campus housing under the old policy.

"@!&#! THE ALCOHOL POLICY, WE CAN JUST DRIVE TO OFF-CAMPUS PARTIES ...

Come to the Features writers' meeting this Friday, Nov. 1, 3 pm at the Guardian office. All interested hersons welcome.

your way?

COPIES AFTER DARK.

kinko's° Great copies. Great people

HOURS M-Th 7:30 am - 8:00 pm Sa 10:00 am - 6:00 pm

F 7:30 am - 6:00 pm Su 12:00 pm - 6:00 pm 8855 Villa La Jolla Dr. (near Ralphs/Sav-On) La Jolla Village Convenience Center

457-3775

ANTI-BULIMIA Research Drug Study

- FREE -Medical Evaluation Psychiatric Evaluation

Call Christene 549-0810 457-5912

La Jolla Eating Disorders Clinic James M. Ferguson, M.D. Director 9844 Genesee Ave., Suite 207

Birthing Alternatives

Looking for a SAFE, affordable, and more satisfying childbirth experience? Want to have your baby

We provide high quality, SAFE care in the comfort of your own home, or in the convenience of our birth center.

Call 299-0840 for free consultation

Midwife Services, Licensed, Certified Nurse-Midwives. serving San Diego since 1979. Services covered by most insurance companies. Gynecology and family planning

NOTICE UCSD Faculty/Staff

Juried Exhibition Entry Forms available at the Crafts Center/ grove gallery B-023D or call -2637-

Want to Earn Money?

BE A CAPE RUNNER!

Flexible hours, temporary job, only 4 weeks long. Check the job board NOW and drop in for an interview at CAPE.

Q-314 (452-2668)

New religion anticipates space brothers landing

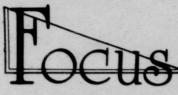

By JOHN C. TOMAN

He lives in a small, modest La Jolla apartment. As I walked in, I was struck by its barrenness and simplicity. There was a picture on the wall, above a colonial-style couch of an old, motherly woman, dressed in a white robe, standing in a doorway, giving a somewhat quizzical smile. The walls behind her were painted a if from a fantasy; there was a strange, crystal-looking castle, and eerie lights ringing a blue checkerboard walkway, winding down from the castle to where the woman was standing.

On a coffee table, were a few magazines and books. The man himself sat placidly on his couch, waiting for me to get my note pad out. Judging from his surroundings, I would have never made the connection between his job as a counselor and his research in "new religions," of which that strange picture and the magazines were a part of. Steven Parker, 31 years old, is by his own definition an "education consultant." He is the director of School Search, a private organization which he has worked for during the past six years. He normally works with UCSD and San Diego Mesa College students in afternoons during the week, sometimes out of his home but also out of School Search's offices in La Jolla Village Square and Hillcrest.

In his own soft-spoken words, Steven is a "resource person or an idea person for students." He helps high school and college students with their educational plans and with their career goals

Freshmen often come to him "tearing their hair out," wondering what to do and what classes to take. "Sometimes just talking with them," he says, "they can get a clearer sense of what direction they want to take." He also tries to keep them from getting too overwhelmed by school; "At UCSD, the quarters begin and end before you can blink your eyes."

"The school system easily lends itself to negative reinforcement. The teachers may see what's going on, but they're too busy. An outsider...can be the student's advocate."

Steven got started as an education consultant "by accident." Six years ago, he saw Please turn to page 17

Steven Parker, education consultant and new religion's researcher, counsels people who aren't sure about school and studies people who aren't

FALL SEMESTER
ON-CAMPUS
INTERVIEWS WITH LOCKHEED.

Meet America's Top-rated Aerospace Employer.

Talk with our representatives about why The Almanac of American Employers rated Lockheed second overall among America's largest, successful companies. Tops among aerospace firms. And talk about career opportunities at Lockheed. And about our famed "Skunk Works" facility where we developed the SR-71 Blackbird, an aircraft so advanced, it's still the fastest, highest flying airplane in the world.

Just sign up in your placement office and mark these dates on your calendar:

Presentation — November 5 Interviews — November 6

You'll see why we're a company with a remarkable history. And a future as promising as your own.

Lockheed is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer. U.S. citizenship is required.

SKUNK WORKS and the skunk design are registered service marks of the Lockheed Corporation. © 1985 Lockheed Corporation

Color Blind?

If you are color blind we will pay you $5.00 per hour to participate in perception experiments on the nature of color blindness.

For more information contact: Kathy Purl at 452-3924 between 9:00 am and 12 noon.

Religion looks to space brothers

Continued from page 16

an ad at a used bookstore in La Jolla, concerning a child needing a tutor. He looked into it, and soon it turned into a business. He figures that he'll be doing it for the rest of his life.

Steven really enjoys his job.
"It's a nice feeling," he says.
"Each person has something very unique inside, and if that can be brought out, in a positive way, they can really give a lot to other people." Just recently, he has become involved with a State Senate public Awareness Committee for the developmentally handicapped, as part of his commitment to what he terms, "the underdog."

With the rest of his time, Steven researches what he calls "new religions." He has written a few articles on the subject for foreign magazines, and he is currently working on his first book, Shopping for God. He has also given several lectures on new religions. He tries to take an objective standpoint, but he says it's hard. He hasn't seen anything magical; the religions he's researched claim such things exist, but he's never seen any evidence that proves these allegations.

Four and a half years ago, at a La Jolla coffee shop, Steven and his photographer, Scott Sothern got involved with new religions. "These two people came walking in, like they were from Star Trek. They were dresssed in blue capes and tights, and they carried posters which pictured the Earth and flying saucers. "Scott asked, 'What planet are you guys from?' One of them said Orion, and the other said Venus, without blinking an eye."

Steven and Scott chuckled as the two people began to talk seriously about a "third world convocation of light." Steven received a poster, about an "interplanetary conference celebrating Earth's joining the 33 planets from the fourth dimension."

Steven was interested, so he looked into these people that called themselves the "Unarius" group. They were founded in 1852 in the south, and soon after, based themsleves in El Cajon. People came from as far away as Canada to attend their conference, and it was clear that the group was pretty serious about their beliefs.

An old woman named Uriel

(an acronym for Universal Radiant Infinite Eternal Light), the one in the picture above his couch, runs the group. In the picture, the painting on the wall behind her is supposed to be her home planet.

According to Steven, her civilization was attacked by the planet Orion 33,000 years ago. Thirty-three thousand "Space Brothers" scattered to other planets, and for a time fought "cosmic battles." Uriel and her followers were stuck on Earth. On her home planet, she was a space princess for many generations; on Earth, she claims to have been Cleopatra, the Virgin Mary, Mona Lisa and Isaac Newton.

In Steven's words, she believes that "...we here on Earth have been corrupted by the Orionites, and the Space Brothers are coming to save us." The Space Brothers are supposedly in claim to recieve transmissions from the Space Brothers, which have been published in 55 books. Steven has a couple of the books, but he says that they're "hard to read." They even have a weekend television show, broadcast from "Star Center #1."

Steven categorizes many new religions under the name "paganism." The people in these groups, which are organized into very small sects, tend to come from deprived backgrounds and are usually between the ages of 40 and 45. There are as many men as women, but few children, because the people in these spaceships orbiting Earth now, but are unable to land because there is too much "negative polarized energy." Uriel believes that "positive thoughts will repolarize the Earth's energy, so the Space Brothers can land." Then, the Space Brothers are supposed to convert their spaceships into great universities.

Steven Parker — the 20th century is witnessing an emerging mythology.

Uriel and her followers are serious about their beliefs. They groups tend not to have families. Steven has met some of these "paganists" and he says that they are "basically very sweet people who are into very idiosyncratic religious beliefs." Many of them hold regular services, and the majority believe in ESP, UFOs and astro-projection (which has to do with the mind leaving the body).

Steven thinks the movie Star Wars is somewhat responsible for all the new religious movements.

The idea of "the force" really affected some of these groups. As a result, paganists even believe in a force of some sort.

Steven thinks that there may be "an emerging monolith, an emerging mythology, for the 21st Century." He says, "There is this combination of a really, really new belief in UFOs, in the force, and in life, not necessarily in our solar system...but in other star systems and other galaxies." These people believe "that our destination is to move away from the Earth and into space, however long it may take," says

New religions are more accepted today than they were during earlier times. "Forty years ago, they would have been considered crackpots by the majority of the population," says Steven. He thinks that there has been a splintering of religious beliefs since 1960, and now, religious sects are more numerous than ever before. According to Steven, anywhere between 200,000 to 1,000,000 people are currently involved in new religions.

Steven has this to say about his research: "For me it's an exciting area, but also a very difficult one. There just is no real hard data; everything is based on impressions."

I asked him what new religions had to do with counseling, and he said that they both deal with alienated people. He counsels people who aren't sure about school. and he studies people who aren't sure about society; both are trying to escape reality. He gives me a soft, knowing smile and says, "I tend to side with the underdog."

The Tritons of '68: will gridiron glory return to UCSD?

By GUS SANTOYO, Staff Writer HEN MOST people think of the late 1960's, several things drugs, the Olympics, the Beatles, Richard Nixon, The Graduate and the Flintstones to name a few. But in these parts, oldtimers will tell you that one other recollection of this time period is especially memorable — this was the era of the UCSD Football Team.

It would have been great to hear the oldtimers reminisce about the tradition of Triton

-- "Remember Blanchard and Davis? Well, they would've been cut from that great Triton team of '68.

-- "We had one quarterback that made Dan Marino look like Billy Kilmer." -- "On our team, Dick Butkus would have been a smurf." Unfortunately the team never quite reached those glorious heights. The sad truth is that the team lasted one season, lost every game and had the faculty supported such a move, having come from universities like UCLA and Michigan schools with strong football traditions. Ted Forbes, chair of the PE Department at the time, had been a football coach at UC Davis, and was intrigued by the idea of a team on campus. Forbes, along with support from students an faculty, presented their their case to the chancellor and dean of student affairs. The decision was to approve the development of a football program at UCSD, but no scholarships were to be allowed. Fifty thousand dollars was allocated for funding of the team. Excitement spread through the university as visions of a football powerhouse, albeit at the small school level, became popular. Coaches began salivating when they heard that a head coach was needed to start a football program at UCSD. The general consensus among many coaches was that although UCSD was just an infant in the football world, with big brothers like

"No other sport can generate all that excitement, school spirit and unity."

-Bert Kobayashi

a Cal Tech team that hadn't won a game in five years. Although this team never made anyone forget about Notre Dame, a quick look back on the rise and fall of the UCSD football team provides an interesting perspective on the benefits and harsh realities of resurrecting another intercollegiate football team at

In the late '60s, some students expressed an interest in starting a team on campus. Many in the infamous distinction of losing to UCLA and Cal (Berkeley), it was just a matter of time before the Rose Bowl committee would be knocking at the door. If one were to look at the Warren Field now - the place where all the games were then played — it's very hard to ever fathom the concept of Rose Bowl. Nevertheless, coaches from all over the contry were interviewed, including Chuck Fairbanks who would later become head the chance to develop this bluechip football prospect. The school chose Walt Hackett, defensive coordinator of the San Diego Chargers. Hackett chose a staff and although no full requirement of student athletes could take place because the program was just starting, a football team was assembled for the '68 season.

The team proceeded to play a winless season, including the embarrassing loss to Cal Tech. Yet the team was enthusiastically supported by the students. "It was exciting seeing all the students cheering at the games," said Bert Kobayashi, presently the Director of Recreation, who at the time was a graduate student and the timekeeper for the home games. "There were 500 to 600 students in the stands, which was a lot considering there were probably a thousand students at the school."

After the season ended, Hackett, his coaching staff and many of the players decided that the only way to improve the team was to provide scholarships to the players. The faculty dissented on this suggestion, so the issue was to be solved by student vote. The students voted down the referendum to provide the players with scholarships by a vote of 4 to 1.

This is where the demise began. Hackett, seeing his "Rosy" dreams of a Division I program go kaput, fled to Pittsburgh to work for the Steelers under his old coach at San Diego, Chuck Noll. Many in the coaching staff left for other jobs while players began transferring to other

This abandonment of players and coaches struck a fatal blow to the football program. "We wanted to continue the program

Please turn to page 19

Taller, quicker Tritons hope to raise ladies basketball to new heights

coach of the NFL's New England

Patriots — all of them wanting

By FLIP HARRISON

THE TRITON womens' basketball team is more than enthusiastic about its upcoming season. Watching the women in practice, you get the feeling they all just finished reading L. Ron Hubard's Dyanetics. If only Pee-Wee Herman had this much energy.

Head coach Judy Malone is not one to hide her excitement, either. "I'm extremely excited about this year's group and I think we have a lot to look forward to," says Malone. Including seven returning players, a good group of recruits, and a taller, faster club, preseason enthusiasm may not be misplaced.

With a 10-12 overall record -7-4 in Division III play last year - this year's Triton squad hopes to better both marks. "This year we're going to be the best and we'll definitely be in the playoffs," predicts confident returning sophomore Courtney Simpson. And this enthusiasm comes after a grueling two-hour practice. Wow.

Also returning are last year's third leading scorer and leading rebounder in seniors, Lynne McLevie and Jennifer Gregory, respectively. Malone expects a lot from both, in addition to great productivity, "leadership, both on and off the court," says Malone. Coach Malone is also expecting excellent performances from third-year player Heidi Jungling; 6-foot-1 junior-college transfer Beth Coplan; prospective starting guard Sandy Keaton; and, freshman Shellie Velie, a member of last year's Colorado state champions. Thus, with the mixed group of improved veterans and incoming players, the team has improved in the areas of height, quickness and athletic ability. Improvement in these areas will help create an overpowering defense which coach Malone anticipates will be the teams forte. She also expects a controlled fast break and aggressive rebounding to be amongst the squad's strengths. About the team's strategies,

Malone says, "we are looking to dominate teams defensively and from good defensive play we hope to key our fast break."

These and other strategies will be used to combat the variety of foes on the Triton's mixed schedule. Amongst the opposing teams are powerful clubs such as Northern Arizona and USD, as well as the less than fearsome teams of Point Loma and La Verne. The Tritons open their season at home on November 26 against Azusa.

enthusiasm and keep intact the club's "tight-knit" quality.

Excited as she is about the new season, however, Malone offers no predictions as to how the team will fare against the opposition. She believes it is better to take one game at a time, although she does include amongst her goals an above .500 record. Winning all its games hardly seems to be the teams primary goal, however. More overcome." important to the players, it seems, is that they enjoy themselves, sustain their

Black Wednesday; UCSD loses at Claremont

By ALICIA AGOS

T WAS a tough week for the UCSD men's soccer team. The Tritons were the proud owners of a 16-0 record when Wednesday rolled around and it came time to play Claremont. Bad things happen in Claremont around Claremont, and when UCSD even thinks of Claremont. snapped, but with two victories since, the team has shown that the spirit is still willing.

Claremont is synonomous with frustration. By all accounts, the Stags are no better talent-wise than UCSD, but the Tritons have had much trouble breaking through the Claremont jinx, particularly at the Stags' home field. The 2-1 score was the first time this year that more than one goal per game has gotten past Goalie Albertto Gomez. Robert Paterson's goal keeps him at the head of the Tritons in goals scored, with his 14th of the season.

The Tritons chances were also dealt a severe blow when Scott Strommer was ejected for throwing a punch at one of the Stag players. "It's tough enough to win up there with the sides even," coach Derek Armstrong said, "and when its 11-10 and you're down that one man well, that's a bit much to

Until that point, the Tritons had dominated Claremont after tying the match ten minutes into the game. UCSD took 17 shots on goal and limited the Mudd to nine at the final whistle. But the jinx seemed to be in full force. Joe Giaclone broke free on the right wing and passed the ball to John Wingate who scored from in front of the net. Unfortunately for the Tritons, the goal was nullified by an offsides and the teams went into the half still tied at one. The Tritons also had one the crossbar in the first half.

Josh Quinones scored the decisive goal with only 13 minutes to go in the half after the Tritons had stifled Claremont for 20 minutes despite the man disadvantage. It was the first time all season that the Tritons had allowed more than one goal in any match.

Despite the outcome, the Tritons and Claremont will meet again in the championship rounds - the only question remaining is where that match will be played. "Well, we didn't help ourselves any, " said Armstrong of the Triton's hosting chances, "and I've been told that the home field advantage doesn't necessarily hinge on the best record - whatever that means.'

The Tritons showed their mettle two days later when they got back to the basics and beat Division I USD 2-0 on Friday. "We played a very committed aggressive game. You could tell the lads wanted to redeem themselves and play a good game - the Claremont game really hurt everyone," said the

Please turn to page 21

UC football

Continued from page 18

for a second year," said Howard Hunt, chair of the PE Department who was the athletic director at the time, "but all this disenchantment caused our program to come to a screeching halt. Another coach offered to continue the team, but by that time, there were not enough players to field a team, so we cancelled the program

So after the lessons learned with the football team in the late '60s, is there a possibility that UCSD could once again have a football team? "There is always the possibility of having a football program again," said Hunt. "If there is enough student interest and if the students are willing to pay for it, we will support the football program. A variety of things are necessary, but student interest and support are essential to get this sort of thing off the ground."

One who would wholeheartedly agree with Hunt is Mike Warren, head coach of the UC Santa Barbara football team. What started off as a friendly game between students, and then as a friendly game between the alumni, grew into a club team that plays a schedule comprised of schools from Divisions II and III, and also semi-pro club teams. Although still considered a club team, the football program at UCSB is under the auspices of the Athletic Department and hopes to become a full fledged intercollegiate program by next year. "The students were team," said Warren, "Without their efforts, this team would not cheerleaders; but only two short years ago, there they were

UCSB Athletic Director Ken Droscher remains cautious about the football team going intercollegiate. "We are presently

By ROBERT LEONE, Staff Writer

during the women's volleyball game.

instrumental in starting the interest in the team has already been evidenced by the approva of a student referendum which provided funds of approximately $65,000 for the football program. Another major factor is that the program does not affect the funding of other sports. Yet Droscher remains optimistic. "This was initiated entirely by Cheerleaders? What cheerleaders?

T CSD ONCE HAD a cheerleading squad, but tracing it through time is a difficult task. Few

According to Laurel Den, an assistant recreation supervisor, "We used to have one." Dean, who started working at UCSD three years ago, remembers that there was a cheerleading squad during her first two years, but the cheerleaders seem to have faded away last year. The squad, which was organized as a recreation club, seems to have suffered the fate of many such clubs by failing to traditional cheerleader style. Also, the cheerleaders were handicapped because there was no pep band to play for them. Dean pointed out that this year UCSD does have a pep band, which will debut at the October 30 volleyball game against USIU. The Sun God mascot will also be present.

Recreation program instructor Judy Malone was rather more blunt than Dean, saying that "They just kinda died." Malone, who said that one of the problems with the cheerleaders was that they were very quiet, echoed Dean's statement that sports spectators didn't seem to respond to the cheerleaders. "We would like a bunch of rowdy people to lead cheers," said Malone, who then referred to the cheerleading on Oct. 19 of the men's basketball team, led by Greg Kaminsky,

Malone mentioned that such less traditional, but enthusiastic cheerleading seems to rouse UCSD students more than more traditional cheerleaders. As an example, Malone mentioned the guys who sit in the bleachers and form their arms into U, C, S and D shapes while yelling a "U-C-S-D"

However, neither Dean nor Malone predicted a resurgence of traditional cheerleading.

attract new members. Dean also mentioned that UCSD did not seem to respond well to the remember that there was a cheerleading squad, none seem to remember the names of the

of all sports," said Kobayashi, who will become the chair of the PE Department. "The equipment is very expensive; coaches demand salaries, travel costs become heavy and, on top of that, you still have to pay the officials. You need to have enough money so you don't take away funds from other sports. It sports. "If a program is not subsidized, you run into a number of problems," said Hunt, "Look what happened to San Diego State. Their football team relies heavily on gate receipts and if they don't get a certain amount of people in the stadium, money is taken from other athletic programs. Even if a football team doesn't become a Michigan or Oklahoma, most would agree that football is beneficial to a school. "No other sport can generate all that excitement, school spirit and unity. These benefits also slop over to other sports because people are more aware of the athletic programs," said Kobayashi.

In the United States, football is the most glamorous and attractive sport a university can have. No other sport can lure 105,000 people into Wolverine Stadium in Michigan every week, for example. No other sport can make an Arkansas crowd of 60,000 scream "Whoo, pig sooie!" to inspire their "Hogs." No other sport can make a man trade in his house for tickets to the Texas-Oklahoma game. Now it's doubtful anyone will trade in his house for tickets to the UCSD-Biola football game or that crowds will make Triton noises - whatever those may be - to inspire play on the gridiron. But a football team at UCSD could be the foundation for better school spirit and unity - something that could use improvement at UCSD. The key to football here is in the hands of the students. But a football team should be on campus for one more reason: to beat Cal Tech and avenge the reputation of the '68 Tritons.

team hopefully by 1986." Droscher explained that the criteria consisted of some very important factors. Student

re-evaluating the football team and if certain criteria perceived by the institution are met, then we will become a Divison III

the students, and if we go into this with a proper perspective, I think we can have a successful

Funding remains the number one problem in having a *football program at UCSD. "Football is the most expensive would probably cost around $15,000 just to start." Unless Refrigerator Perry is seen running in their direction with a football, an athletic director faces no greater fear than when the football program begins to eat money from other

their season record to 8-1 with a thrilling 15-13, 10-15, 11-3 win over the top-rated FESTERING SHANKERS in Men's AA Volleyball action last Wednesday evening in Burgoon and Lotito time and again blistered the strong-block of Matt Adams, Brian Mequet and John Adler with crisp hits from the outside and middle to finally wear down the previously undefeated SHANKERS (7-2). Setter-hitter Luke Lau chipped in with an all-around court game that moved into fourth gear in the third and deciding game as Norvus Ordo built up an insurmountable 9-0 lead.

Even though the SHANKERS, a stalwart group of IM employees, were handed a "heavy" defeat, they bounced back with a well-deserved round of Lites from Miller at a local watering hole immediately afterward. Look for these guys to have definite impact on this division in the days to come.

Call for appointment now.

Armstrong was pleased with the turnout for the La Verne

Cyclists gear up for new season

As a Marine Officer, you could be in charge of a do it by the time you're 23. But it takes a special commitment on your part. We demand leaders at all levels.

Mach 2 + F/A-18A, a vertical take-off Harrier or one of our other jets or helicopters. And you could

By ERICA GLENNON

T F YOU think being a member of the UCSD cycling club is L as easy as riding a bike, perhaps you should stop in at the UCSD bike shop and have a few words with manager and cycling coach, Tom Colley. He'd be the first to let you know that cycling is both physically and mentally demanding. Though the cycling season doesn't officially start until March, the Tritons are already pedalling into vigorous workouts.

Pre-season or winter training isn't easy. The riders average one hundred miles per week, riding five out of seven days from seven am to nine am. Yet compared to the speed training workouts that begin in January, Tom Colley calls the workouts "fun."

"Speed training is where people find out what they are made of. It's when your body wants to quit, and your brain still push yourself a little farther, so that when you do stop it's because you want to, not your body," says Coley. During speed training, the mileage the team puts in doubles, and what was once a fun winter ride becomes an intense training session. In addition to riding, the team works out on weights bi-weekly All this, plus an occasional training party, helps the Tritons prepare for tough competition including top teams like UC Santa Barbara and Stanford.

Cycle racing competes on three different levels. The women's team competes in a separate class, and the men are divided into an expert and a novice class. Expert racers are required to be licensed by the United States Cycling Federation. Expert riders also must be ranked as a number three rider. Riders are ranked on a scale from four to one, with the number one racers including

Weekly Sports Calendar
Women's Volleyball	vs. USIU vs. Azusa Pacific vs. La Verne	7:30 pm 7:00 pm 7:30 pm	UCSD Away Away	Oct. 30 Nov. 1 Nov. 2
Women's Soccer Men's Water Polo	vs. Occidental vs. Stanford 49er Invitational	5:00 pm 3:30 pm All day	Away UCSD Away	Nov. 2 Nov. 1 Nov. 2-3
Men's Soccer	vs. Pomona-Pitzer	3:00 pm	Away	Nov. 1
Men's Cross-Country	vs. USIU	10:00 am	UCSD	Nov. 2
Fencing	vs. CSU Fullerton	1:00 pm	UCSD	Nov. 2
Men's Crew	Head of the Harbor Regatta	7:00 am	San Pedro	Nov. 3

many national team racers. Colley feels this will be a big year for the team. Last year's team finished fourth out of 22

schools in California. In addition to their impressive overall finish, they received an overall individual expert win and an overall men's novice win. But where the team hopes to improve this year is in their women's competition. Coach Colley is "still looking for a few good women" to add depth to his team. Triton rider

Anne Kline returns to race for UCSD after spending some time in Italy and racing on a team there. She will be offering some coaching help in addition to being a promising rider. Freshman Doug Grose looks to be a significant rider for the men's team. Grose comes to the club with an already impressive record as he was ranked as a junior state racer. The Tritons get some extra coaching help from number one ranked rider Matt

The cyclers race a variety of distances, depending on what type of race they are involved in. Road racing averages from 40 to 70 miles, criterions are between 25 and 50 mles, time trials are generally 10 mile races, and track or velodrome races are generally 3000-meter pursuits. The club races on a velodrome when they travel to Dominguez Hills.

Tom Colley's personal goal is Please turn to page 21 salaries are from $17,000 to $23,000. And you can count on going farther...faster.

For more information call Capt Bowen at 294-2174.

All-Campus Tennis Tourney Results

THE ANNUAL UCSD Singles Tennis ■ Tournament recently concluded with three exciting final matches at the Muir courts It represented the climax to two full days of tennis, which saw the participation of over 100 UCSD students staff and faculty

The men's Open Divison saw Dave Souter emerge as a 6-2, 6-2 winner over Francois Monnar. Both players displayed impressive tennis skills throughout the championship, but in the end Souter's patience and steadiness made the difference in the match. The 21year-old junior relied on over six years of experience to systematically frustrate Monnar

Still, it seems like a bright future lies ahead for the 18-year-old Muir freshman from Pt. Loma. After only two years of playing the game, he seems intent on competing at the intercollegiate level, an ambition he seems likely to fulfill.

In the Men's Intermediate Division, Doug Kadamoto battled Stephan Matthaei for over 90 minutes before emerging with a 6-3, 6-4 victory. Both players relied on steady baseline play in a final that was ultimately decided by a single service break in each set. The women's field, less numerous than the men's draw. ended in a very competitive final between two graduate students. Julie Phillipson, a fourth year medical student formerly ranked in the top 10 female juniors in Southern California, used an impressive attacking style of game to beat Anne Schwartz.

field was in excellent shape that won't be a problem at all." Renovations on the field were made days before to lengthen the necessary to host a game, the turnout was marvelous," he said, "and the

UCSD beat Azusa Pacific on -Michael Fahlbasch Saturday 2-0 in a "good little competition for hosting the field to the same size as

Soccer win," as Armstrong characterized it, and now finishes up the season against Pomana-Pitzer before awaiting the news about the playoff sights. "We should know by Wednesday, I imagine," loses Continued from page 19 said Armstrong, "because for organizational purposes you've got to have a little time to get game two weeks ago Wednesday, things ready." a game that he felt had to show But Armstrong admits that its that UCSD had the community difficult to stop thinking about support and playing conditions the monkey on their backs named Claremont Mudd. "We're championship. "For a mid-week focusing our attention on the next Claremont game," the coach said. "We are very committed to beating them the next time." The Tritons can now only wait and see where the next time will be. Rod Cramblit, who scored one of the goals in Saturday's game Claremont's, the Tritons' stiffest thinks that the Claremont loss was a positive thing actually. It brought us together as a team. We'll be ready to tear them apart in the playoffs.'

Cyclists

Continued from page 20 stay with the program long enough to gain some support from the P.E. Department, and to see the team establish itself with a little more continuity. In past years, pre-season was often spent wondering who would coach the club. Two years ago, when Colley took over the coaching assignment, he hoped to see the club through, so that they would be able to depend on a coach. -Though he feels his coaching efforts were largely diminished last year when he became manager of the bike shop this year, with the additional help he's receiving, he feels this will be one of the club's best years

German Car Specialists

Monday-Friday 8 am - 5:30 pm ■ Saturday 8 am - 5 pm

m Expires Nov. 15, 1985

(619) 454-7823 (619) 454-3705 (619) 275-1132 Kendali

4630 Mission Bay Drive (I-5 to Balboa Exit) San Diego, CA. 92109

10% OFF On All Repairs*

*(Except Motor & Transmission Overhaul) With This Coupon

Part Time Opportunity Work your own hours Be your own boss

Health, Nutrition &

452-0231

Personal Development Field Call: Lee Balentine

TO STUDENTS & STAFF

Clothing, Furniture, Records and Tapes, Housewares Anything and Most Everything Quality Merchandise at Affordable Prices

> Open M-F 9-9, S & S 10-6 (except downtown store) 4 locations to serve you

> > THRIFT VILLAGE 7011 Linda Vista Rd.

San Diego, CA 92111 THRIFT VILLAGE THRIFT VILLAGE 300 W. Main St.

THRIFT VILLAGE 7875 Broadway 750 12th Ave. El Cajon, CA 92020 Lemon Grove, CA 92045 San Diego, CA 92101

LIKE A GOOD NEIGHBOR, STATE FARM IS THERE.

Southern California Regional Office 3333 Hyland Avenue, Costa Mesa, CA 92626

An equal opportunity employer

The Southern California Region of the State Farm Insurance Companies has established an on-campus recruiting schedule to explain our career opportunities. (Please visit your placement office for specific recruiting dates.)

We have immediate and projected needs for:

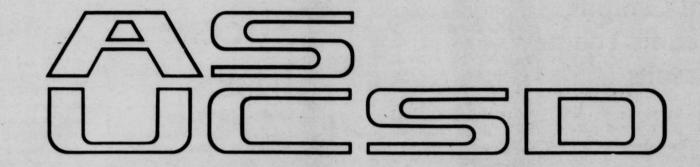

- Claim Representative Trainees
- * Operations Tainees
- * Data Processing Trainees
- * Accounting Trainees

We offer an excellent salary package with a cost-of-living adjustment program, regular performance reviews and many other employee benefits.

We look forward to meeting you.

State Farm Insurance Companies Home Office * Bloomington, Illinois

Future dentists of America

Pre-Dental Club meetings will be held in the Revelle Informal Lounge on Mondays at 4 pm. There is lots of information, so all you predents be there!

Learn about diabetes

Student Health Service invites anyone with diabetes or anyone interested in learning more about the latest information on diet and diabetes to an "Update on Diet" with Phyllis Crapo, Registered Dietician with V.A. Hospital research, at the next Diabetics Support Group, Friday, November 1 at noon in Student Health Service, second floor training room. For more information contact Dalynn T. Proffitt, Health Educator, 452-2419.

Presented by the Student Center at the Triton Pub

Just Five Friends — Jazz Wednesday, OCt 30 from 6-9 pm

The Reflectors — Halloween Party Thursday, Oct 31 from 4-6:30

The Outriders — Rockabilly Friday, Nov. 1 from 4-6:30

Entertainment and more is provided every week at the student center at UCSD.

Peruvian folkstar at Mandeville

The Center for Iberian and Latin American Studies presents Raymond Thevenot who will appear along with an accompanyist for the first time in San Diego at Mandeville Auditorium, Saturday, November 2 at 8 pm. He will recreate pre-Inca melodies that express the heritage of the highlands of Bolivia, Peru, Equador, Colombia, Chile and Argentina. The performance, featuring Thevenot on the quena (a resonant cane flute), accompanied by David Sandoval on guitar and traditional instruments, will include a slide show of the Andes. Tickets are $7 general, $5 for students.

Assorted Vinyl? It's not a satanic cult, it's a record

Sale! 6.66!

$6.66 sale on Halloween and Halloween only. All $8.98 list albums and special order 8.98 albums and cassettes are $6.66 including tax. Only $6.66. Happy trick or treating!

Assorted Vinyl

in the student center 452-2733.

We invite all newcomers and continuing members to join us! Supportive faculty/administrators welcome too. RENU is a social support network for students who are beginning/returning to college; geared for students 25 or older who identify with the untraditional student. Come join us Friday afternoons at the Pub 4:00 - ? to meet colleagues. Look for RENU posting at the Pub entrance. For further info, see Randy in the Associated Students office.

UCSD's 25th Anniversary party is coming soon - November 18. Come help plan the party. Call Mary Rose or Barbara at x4450.

The following organizations have not registered for the 85-86 Academic Year. Some of you have funding from the Associated Students and should contact the Student Organizations Office as soon as possible to complete the paper work for this year.

Bahai Club, American Institute of Chemical Engineers, Central American Caribbean Solidarity, Communications Club, Dark Star, L'Chayim, Christian Science Organization, Peace Meditations, San Diego Stew, Polit-Journal, Sociology Club, Sports Activity Board, Student Pugwash Chapter, Students Against Reaganism, Students for Unity, Chile Democratico, Women in Communications, Triton Wargaming, Zeta Beta Tau Little Sisters, Persian Club, Latter Day Saint Student Org., Guam Club, Lutheran Community, Art Students League, Organization for Industrial Policy, Panhellenic, All SORORITIES EXCEPT FOR Kappa Kappa Gamma.

You'll flip over this!

Flip San Diego, UCSD's very own gymnastics club, will have a general club meeting on Thursday, Oct. 31 at 4:30 pm in the South Balcony of the Main Gym. Whether you are an exgymnast or just someone who wants to learn backflips on a trampoline, come up and check us out. For further information call Dan Grobeck at x4037 or Eric Alikpala at 452-8480.

Attention: All seekers of fun

Looking for a social environment where there is no pressure to drink? Daeg Tir Feoh, the organization that believes that alcohol is not necessary for a fun time, will be meeting Wednesday, Oct. 30 at 6 pm in the Revelle Formal Lounge. All UCSD students are welcome.

A discussion on Zionism

"Zionism and National Independence Movements" is the title of a discussion with questions and answers. It features Professor Gerald Steinberg a visiting professor in the Political Science department from Hebverw University in Jerusalem, Israel. Tuesday, Oct. 29 at 4 pm in the Revelle Formal Lounge. Sponsored by the Israel Action Committee.

Attention All Students:

The following are the A.S. Senators' Office Hours

Revelle:

Sal Veas (W 2-3, F 2-4), Deb Simon (M 11-12, W 10-11) Maryanne Arabia (M 3-4, T 2-4, Th 3-4), Revelle College Council (W 3. Revelle Provosts Conference Room.)

Gregory MacCrone (M 10-11, T 12-1, W 10-11, F 10-11), Greg McCambridge (M 11-12, W 11-12, Th 10:30-11:30), Dave Sheldon (M 11-12, W 11-12), Muir College Council (Th 6:45, Muir Provosts Conference Room)

Robert Rios (T 2:30-4, Th 12-1, 2:30-4), Fil Buenviaje (M 3-4, W 3-4, Th 4-5, F 9-10) Eric Weiss (M 12-1:30, W 1-2:30, Th 1-2:30, F 12-2:30) Third College Council (M 5:30, Third Provosts Conference Room.)

Warren

John Riley (M 9-12, W 9-12, F 9-12), Scott Pickett (Not available), Hayley Sneiderman (M 1:30-2:30, T 1-1:30, W 1:30-2:30, Th 1-1:30, 2:30-3, F 12-2) Warren College Council (M 6, Warren Provosts Conference Room.)

Drop by to see what is happening at your college and the university, or

Cluster Library Hours

Mon-Thurs 8 am - 2 am Friday 8 am - 10 pm Saturday 9 am - 10 pm Sunday 10 am - 2 am

Internship of the Week

Watch this space! Each week, ASIO will highlight one internship that we want you to know about.

Palomar Systems and Machines is looking for students interested in script writing, technical writing or marketing promotions. If you are an English, writing or communications major interested in science who want to intern 10 hours a week, stop by ASIO for more info today. If this doesn't interest you, visit ASIO or call 452-4689 to find out what else we have to offer! We're located on the second floor of the student center above the gameroom.

UCSD Political Film Series

'Viva La Muerte'

Friday, November 1 at 7 pm FREE TLH 107 FREE

Attn: Radically Inclined

The Radically Inclined Ski Club is having a meeting Wednesday, Oct. 30. A Steamboat representative will be there at 8 pm in the Rec. Conference Room. Directly after this meeting will be an exciting game of broomball at the UTC ice rink at 10 pm. (We have to practice for the All-Cal!) All-Cal tickets are on sale at the box office. Thanksgiving trip tickets are sold-out. We have a sizable waiting list for another bus — if enough are ready to go we'll get another bus for this trip. Interested? Let us know. RISC Canyonview O.H.s 10-2 Mon-Thurs x4037. We'll have a table on the Revelle Plaza Tues. and Thursday 10-2. Memberships are $15.

EMSSA, SAM & IEEE present:

Arthur Anderson & Co.

A presentation of career opportunities in business and management systems.

Tuesday, October 29, 1985 HL Auditorium at 7:00 pm

Informal Reception Following

Pre-Law Club!

Don't forget the Halloween festivities this Thursday at 4 pm in the North Conference Room. Thanks for making the Stanley Kaplan auction a success.

SWE company tour

The Society of Women Engineers will tour TRW LSI on Tuesday, October 29. The members who signed up should meet at the Revelle Commuter Lounge at 1:30 to carpool to TRW.

Golf Tourney

Tee it up for fun and prizes in a miniature golf tournament, followed by a frozen yogurt run on Friday, November 1. Meet at 7:00 pm in the Catholic Lounge with green fees. Sponsored by the Catholic Student Coordinators.

Are you dead because of midterms?

Well, dance yourself back to life at the 2nd Annual ZBT Halloween Masquerade on October 31 at 8 pm at the Pub. $2.00 at the box office and COSTUMES REQUIRED.

Lesbian/bisexual women's support

Group meetings Tuesdays from 4-5:30 At the Women's Resource Center x2023 All discussion confidential

Classifieds

Announcements

Kona Grill and Barll DaKine Burgers $3.95 also fresh seafood & steaks! Dinner 5-10. Happy Hour 4-6. 735 S. Hwy 101 S.B. $1 off dinner with mention of this adll (10/28)

Need cash? We buy and sell used LP's and cassettes. Rock, Metal, New Wave, etc... Clairemont 268-8444, El Cajon 447-5025, Chula Vista 426-6138. (11/14)

LOVERS OF SOUL MUSIC, Dance every MONDAY at the WHISTLE STOP—if you dare. 30th and Juniper 21 and up. (10/31)

Dr. Who? Do the names Dalek or Tardis ring a bell? Anyone interested in starting a Dr. Who Fan Club contact Alex at 452-7839. (10/31)

453-FILM. A movie critic to trust. Over 100,000 have called. Call today. FREE SERVICE. (10/31)

ARE YOU HUNGRY?? Come enjoy a great breakfast for only 50¢ in the Revelle Commuter Lounge on Wednesday OCT. 30/7:30-9:00am — Sponsored by the Revelle Commuter Advisory Board. (10/28)

LSAT, MCAT in future? Save cash! Stanley Kaplan prep course auction Tues. 12 Rev Plaza. Come bid. (10/28)

Women volunteers needed for study on eating disorders. Must be 20-40, 20% or more overweight or bulimic. Will be paid $10 for completing some questionnaires. Call Denise 573-0630. (10/31)

-STUDENT SPECIAL -- Promotion 3*2*1 full WETSUIT Only $118. Call Danielle 453-4822 — (Custom Fitting) — (11/7)

London $539 Auckland $819 RT 10-35% off Any Int'l Flight Int'l Travel Club/619 722-8954. (11/14)

Personals

Wanna do something creative for that special someone? Send 'em a Halloween Candy Graml—On sale at Revelle Plaza or in front of M.O.M., Thurs-24th, Fri-25th, Mon-28th, Tue-29th for the low-low price of $11 Relax! We'll deliver it for you on Thursday, Oct. 31 — Sponsored by ABT Delta Pledge Classi (10/28)

Lenore—where are you? We miss you, scumsucking peehead. Call us. 488-4670. (11/4)

To Cindy: The perfect storgic Partner one can ever love. Although we change as time passes, our feelings will be forever the samel Love Shmoo. PS Watch out for those F.A.G.S. (10/28)

UCSD's Panhellenic is sponsoring MC Donalds run for child abuse prevention on November 16. (10/31)

To the girls of AOTT, we're looking forward to meeting all of you, love, your s.s. (10/31)

So there is some truth to the old addage that cream always rises to the top and pond scum always sinks to the bottom. (10/28)

Not only did we stand here laughing, but now we are smirking, giggling, chortling, guffawing, hee-heeing, and generally bathing in the limelight of success. OK? (10/28)

So Mr. Pres: bought my ticket today. I am waiting for that egg nogl See ya Wed...blond (clue #2: L.B.) (10/28)

10/24 — B-day —Jean: You didn't show at ETII Too bad write back, the Sec-Pac-Lotteryloser man fake id? (10/28)

T.K. Buddyl Stayed out of the slammer this weekend — congratulations. (10/28).

Computers

Generiq XT runs all IBM software $929, with 10 meg HD $1299, 300/1200 modem $209, 20 meg HD $599. MORE. Charlie Kelly 753-2521. (10/31)

For Sale: Televideo 92S terminal with Hayes Smartmodem 1200 baud $600. Call Bob 695-8253. (1/7)

Lost & Found

Found: Clarinet in Student Center. Go to Edna to identify. (10/31)

Lost gold watch on friday 10/18. Pls call Susan 453-1284. (10/31)

Services

Halloween Makeup Artist extensive background in theatrical makeup design, application. Sue 587-0233. (10/28)

Typing & Word Processing. in Clairemont, Tues-Fri 10-6, Sat 9-1. Gail, Tandem Enterprises, 279-4953. (11/7)

Painting: Experienced craftsman. Quality preparation, thorough cleanup, in/out. Bob or Ed 755-8582. (10/31)

KONA KONA. (10/28)

Typing. Drop off at Kinko's by 3, pick up next day. 50¢ off per page with this add. No appt. needed! (11/4)

LA JOLLA ACADEMY OF ADVERTISING ARTS. One year course and job placement assistance in advertising, marketing, copywriting, design, production, public relations, media sales. For free catalogue call 459-0201. (12/5)

Typing & word process. for grad and undergrad papers. Penasquitos area. Carolyn Lewis, 484-1860.

WORD PROCESSING: Fast service. $1.75/page. Campus pick-up/delivery. Andy Laurence, 222-2345. (12/5)

Word Processing — Fast, accurate, reliable campus pickup/delivery. Cheryl - Mesa Apts. 457-2188 eves til 9. (1/16)

Wordprocessing Ocean Beach $1.50 per page all major styles IBM comp. letter quality printing fast svc. Call till 11:00pm 224-1841 (10/31)

Unix (Catt) operator — vi, tbl, eqn; tables, articles, theses; laser, typeset. Leave message 440-8964 (11/7)

WORD PROCESSING. Professional. 7-day wk. exc English skills. Student rates. 755-2683. (11/7).

Typing & Word Process. for grad and undergrad papers. Penasquitos area. Carolyn Lewis, 484-1860 (10/28)

Burke Secretarial—Quality typing Speeling correct—rush jobs specialty/flexible hrs. La Jolla 457-3842. (1/6)

Wanted

Workstudy comp. coder IBM PC XT Mar Bio Database Prog/Anal/Plot Supercalc/Lotus. Greg Mitchell 452-4789. (10/28)

APT. CONDO HOUSE Wanted Dec. 24-Jan. 5 or Jan. 1-5 to rent for relatives for wedding — Also need violin/viola/cello soloists for wedding. Call 944-1387 eve/wkend. (12/5)

Programmer: Hi & low level. Must have hands on experience send resume: 5580 La Jolla Bl. #172, La Jolla 92037.

Wanted: 75 people who wish to lose weight to try Guaranteed Weightloss product. Call Eric, 755-3976. (10/31)

Workstudy Lab Helper Mar Bio/Optics. Boat Exp Des Greg Mitchell 452-4789. (10/28)

Like Carson? Letterman? We want to party with you. Bring TV and $215/mo. to beachfront apt. Liz/Lisas 488-4670 (pm).

Wanted: Reader for high school AP history class. History majors preferred. 5 or 10 hrs/wk ph 459-0170. (10/28)

MODELS — new faces for swimsuit series in European magazines. David Schoen Photo. (619) 749-3435. (10/31)

Sales $400 to $1200+ per mo. part time! Desire + Hard Work = Big Bucksll Call Jerry 9-6 438-5884. (10/28)

For Sale

80 Honda Civic 1500DX, 5 speed, am/fm cass., 70,000 miles, metallic red, $2750. Call 452-2113 (day) 450-3026 (eves). (10/28)

Honda Express II Moped 3,200 miles like new cond. $275. 756-2171. (10/28)

BMW 1969 2002 sunroof, fm-cassette stereo. $2200 or best offer, call 481-3083. (11/4)

AMPLIFIER Fender Super Reverb, 1970s, excellent condition with cover and casters. Wouldn't fit on plane to England! $400. Jan 452-3466 days; 696-8066 evenings. (12/5)

1976 Buick Century, 4-dr, auto., air conditioning, power steering, brakes, seat. Even the clock works! Mechanically well maintained, have all receipts. $900. Jan 452-3466 days; 696-8066 eves. (12/5)

Brand new desk never used. Moved — need to sell call: 453-4679. (10/28)

San Diego to Vancouver one way plane ticket. Open date. $99 or best offer. Ph: Jayce 454-6083 eves. (11/4)

One 13" color T.V. only 4 wks old. $140.00 o.b.o. Call: 453-7372. (10/28)

Pioneer car stereo, autorev, music sensor sep bass, treble. Perf cond. $200 or b/o. Sharo 481-7648. (10/28)

Puppies I 8wks need good homes—m&f—we love them; you will tool Call 293-3706 (10/31)

HP41CX Calculator with MATH PAC hardly used three months old asking for 200 or best Henry 271-9021. (10/28)

The ultimate Halloween treat. AKC Golden Retriever Pups. Only 1 m @ 325 & 1 f @ 300 left. Roger 460-1157 (10/28)

For Sale: 73 VW Bug entirely rebuilt engine, frame in bad cond asking $400 obo call eve Mr/Mrs Edwards 722-5280. (10/28)

Fisher 3way, 30watt speakers. Great as main speakers or as a second pair. Steve @ 453-5708 after 5 (10/28)

Housing

Roommates wanted for furnished L.J. house at Windansea. 459-2125 (evenings). TAKE A CHANCE. (11/4)

Need female, U.City share a room $170/mo+ 1/5 util ASAP Call 458-1880 (10/31)

Two non-smokers wanted to share Ig mstr bdrm in quaint La Jolla apt. $225 ea Call 457-1330 (11/7)

Roommate needed: M/F needed to share 3br/3ba house Cardiff. Own room/bath. $350. Laura 942-9615 (11/7)

Dear Mom & Dad.

Dear Mom & Dad.

Jound a great new condo for sale near gound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale near

new Jound a great new condo for sale new condo for condo. A great investment! Let's buy now. SIGN HERE

THE PINES OF

STOP WASTING RENT MONEY

from $71,990

Models Open Daily 10:30 - 5:30 Thursday 2:00 - 9:00 p.m. 452-1152

8324 Regents Road

MESA

THE HOLD WAS A SHEET WITH THE PARTY AND THE PARTY.

Prices and terms subject to change without notice

52

Minutes from Campus

Underground Parking

Pools, Spas, Racquetball

VA/FHA

Conventional Financing

Available

N