St Paul turns 2000 Church Resources

Pope Benedict is to declare a Year of St Paul in honour of the 2000th anniversary of the apostle's birth, Rome sources say.

Independent Catholic News reports that Pope Benedict will make the announcement from the Basilica of St Paul Outside the Walls during Vespers. The Basilica is the oldest church in Rome and according to tradition was the burial place of St Paul.

In December last year, archaeologists working for the Vatican unearthed a sarcophagus in a crypt near the main altar of the basilica, which they said could contain the remains of the saint.

The original inscription on the top reads: Paulo Apostolo Mart - Latin for 'Paul Apostle Martyr'.

Motu proprio on Latin Mass due

Meanwhile, Kath.net reports that the motu proprio liberating the Tridentine Mass for the entire Catholic Church has been presented to about 30 bishops from all over the world in the Sala Bologna of the Apostolic Palace by Vatican Secretary of State Tarcisio Cardinal Bertone.

German paper Die Welt reports that the bishops had been invited to Rome for that purpose.

At the end of the meeting, in which the motu proprio was introduced together with a letter of explanation by Pope Benedict XVI, Pope Benedict met with the bishops.

The document is about three pages long, the accompanying letter about four. From Germany, Cardinal Lehmann had been invited.

The circumstances of the procedure make clear that the Pope was very interested to personally inform the bishops, in collegial manner, of the content rather than from the media.

The publication of both documents will take place on 7 July, Kath.net says.

It emphasises the unity of the Roman Rite which will consist of an ordinary and an extraordinary form which are supposed to inspire each other.

The ordinary/regular form will continue to be the new rite of 1969. The extraordinary form will be the Missal of Bl John XXIII of 1962.

GIVE CHILDREN THEIR RIGHTS: To you all the children, you are gifts of joy, a blessing to your parents and you are always free to be happy.

2007 the year of the Children

By Sr. Marilyn Akonoh
MSC
Diocesan Christian
Education Office. Daru-Kiunga.

What are we going to do for our children so that they can experience this year as a special year for them?

GIVE THEM LOVE by giving them their RIGHTS and RESPONSIBILITIES within their families, schools, communities and those on the streets.

We the Catholic people would like to provide an environment where our children should experience Love, Peace, Joy and support from their parents and teachers as well as the communities in order for them to grow in to well integrated persons and good citizens of Papua New Guinea.

In many cases children are being denied their rights and responsibilities. Some parents do not show much interest in what their children are doing and in turn neglect them.

This happens mostly in the villages where parents cannot afford to pay for their children's education and other activities as well.

As a result the children develop attitude problems in the families, in villages, in schools because their needs are not met as they would expect.

So they become the kind of persons that you and I try to avoid. Who is to be blamed for this? It goes back to our parents because they are the ones who make decisions to bring children into families.

The responsibility lies in their hands with the support of the community to provide a healthy and peaceful environment for the children to live in. Some parents are able to discipline their children and bring them up in good peaceful environment which we can tell from their behaviours.

Message to the Children...

To you all the children, you are gifts of joy, a blessing to your parents and you are always free to be happy.

But you also have the responsibility towards your parents to be obedient and to cooperate in the schools with your teachers.

Your cooperation is very much needed in your families as well as in the schools, villages and communities.

Every one is called to participate in the discussions to find ways in which we can support the children by lessening what is wrong and upholding what is right in the society so that they can experience that somebody cares for them and loves them.

Our love to children

Children - Give Them Love

Our children are our future. They are living in our world today.

In families of every kind they grow and learn and play.

The roots that we can give them foundations for their way

The skills and values that we teach the tools to shape each day

Let's give them faith in God's great plan for families there to be.

Let's give them hope, let's give them love a future then they'll see.

Love gives life.

God, the Creator, has planned that parents through their sexual, loving self-giving should be co-creators with him of their children. Ideally this is the love of husband and wife. In reality this is not always so.

However, children need to experience the love that gave them life and continues to nurture and sustain them for their fullest human development.

Responsible Parenthood is the calling of all parents. It should be promoted and taught to adult and teenagers in preparation for life-giving parenthood.

Love cares for Children's needs

According to Familiaris Consortio one of the tasks of families is to nurture life from conception to natural death. Nurturing involves caring for children's health and wellbeing, their physical and emotional needs and their education.

Parents are primary educators and are directly responsible for spiritual and moral education. Others may take over as primary cares.

There are children with special needs and many of orphaned children in our country, cared for by relatives or in orphanages.

Their needs are the responsibility of the whole community. Children too can do their bit to care for other children.

Mother-love nurtures life

One of the most basic psychological needs of children is for a mother-figure. Mothering is a natural attribute and involves giving life, giving birth, nurturing and caring for another person over many years. Ideally motherhood and fatherhood are balanced.

Father-love supports life

Everyone has an image of what an ideal father is, whether we have one or not. We look to God as the ideal father one who would most likely be supportive, strong and protective, a provider, carer and friend.

Love celebrates traditions

Family traditions give children roots, a sense of belonging and a sense of their uniqueness and that of their family. Traditions are inherited or can be created from an early age.

Older children become more influenced by peer pressure or they might look down on or reject their own culture and heritage.

Family traditions are simple like grace at mealtimes, how birthdays are celebrated or what is done at Christmas or more structures as in PNG cultural practices.

Love gives children goals

Childhood is a time for growing, developing, learning and achieving goals. Career and life choices are important as children grow into teenagers.

All this builds a healthy self image. Parents are caregivers need to give encouragement and praise as well as the necessary amount to discipline.

World Caritas organizations hold 18th General Assembly

Caritas Papua New Guinea is the Justice, Peace, Relief and Development agency of the Catholic Bishops conference of Papua New Guinea. It is a local church organization but it does have links and relationships with other Catholic organizations that have similar platforms. Most of the Catholic relief, development and social services organizations around the world are know as Caritas. There are 126 Caritas member organizations and they operate in more than 200 countries and territories around the world.

All of these member organizations affiliate to Caritas Internationalis which is the confederation of the 162 member organizations.

In June Caritas delegates from the 162 member organizations gathered for the 18th General Assembly of Caritas Internationalis in the Vatican City with the theme "builders of Peace and witness of Charities". During the meeting Pope Benedict XVI thanked Caritas delegates for their services to the grassroots as he said "your confederation does not simply work on behalf of the church, but truly it is part of the church. He further iterated that the greatest challenges facing the world at the present time, are issues such as globalization, human rights abuses, unjust social structures and these cannot be confronted and overcome unless attention is focused on the deepest needs of the human person: the promotion of human dignity, well being and off course eternal salvation.

Caritas organizations during the meeting were urged to put humanitarian assistance, integral human development and building sustainable peace at the heart of their work. To achieve plans that have been developed by the confederation, Caritas member organizations, have agreed to put their efforts and resources in place so that the necessary tools of coordination, advocacy and communication can be developed. Caritas members after the meeting hope to continue professionalizing the network to better achieve their potentials in serving the needs of people around the world.

The Catechism of the Catholic Church

Bishop Francesco of Goroka writes:

Let's continue the exploration of our faith taken from the Catechism of the Catholic Church

Grace and Justification.

Justification. God in his mercy offers us forgiveness and frees us from our sin. We are justified in the eyes of God by the passion and death of Jesus Christ and with the grace of the Holy Spirit we are made clean of our sins. The Spirit leads us into conversion, turning away from sin and moving towards God. By dying to sin we take part in Christ's passion and in his Resurrection we are born to new life.

Justification is given at the time of Baptism, the sacrament of faith, because it makes us righteous in the eyes of God.

It is the base for the cooperation between God's grace and the freedom of human beings.

God will invite them continuously to conversion by the invitation of the Holy Spirit deep in their hearts.

Grace. Grace is a favour, a help that God gives us to respond to his call to become his children. God invites us to take part in his divine life. In Baptism, having been cleansed from their sins, Christians participate now in the life of the Trinity and become united with Christ in his body, the Church.

The grace of God helps the Christian to be always ready to live and act according to God's call and will.

Human beings have to respond in freedom to such a call. God gave the gift of freedom to all human beings together with the ability to know him and to love him.

This response in freedom is the deep desire for goodness that God has already placed within the heart of people.

Grace is the gift of the Holy Spirit who justifies and sanctifies us. It helps us to be united with him in the work of salvation for ourselves and for others. Grace is also connected with the sacraments when we receive them.

Christian holiness. All Christians, invited by God to take part in his divine life, are called to be "perfect as your Father in heaven in perfect" (Mt 5:48). Holiness means that we live in union with God by avoiding all sins and direct always our intentions and actions according to his will.

Holiness cannot be obtained without renunciation and sacrifice: it demands mortification and discipline. The fruits of holiness are peace and joy

Baptism, First Holy Communion and Confirmation

Fr Peter vamn Adrichem

We, as all schools, have the usual days of opening the school year, graduation at the end of the year and naturally the exams for grades 12 and 10. We also have times for cultural days and sports events.

But for Catholic Agency Schools there are two other days of special significance.

On one of these days some of the students receive the Sacrament of Baptism and they and some others, First Holy Communion. On the other day a larger number of students receive the Sacrament of Confirmation.

This year 5 grade 9 and 10 students received Baptism and another 15 with them their First Holy Communion at the Fr Peter Secondary School at Fatima in the Archdiocese of Mt Hagan. They prepared themselves for more than 10 weeks. During the meetings for preparation the candidates followed a program called: "Jesus Invites". A Journey of Faith for students"

The course was inspired by the Journey of faith to Emmaus. The story of the two disciples walking with Jesus to Emmaus and whom they recognise in the "Breaking of the Bread".

Some of the topics covered in the course were: Travelling with Jesus, - Jesus calls disciples. - Why Jesus? Why follow him? - Jesus heals, Makes whole, - Jesus is Baptized and we are, - Who do you say I am?, - Last Supper. Holy Communion. Each topic consisted of two parts: a "guide" and a worksheet with questions to work on during the week.

The celebration of First Communion is an event of special importance, not only for those receiving First Communion, but also for all in the school.

The other day of significance for many students and the school is the celebration of the sacrament of Confirmation. This year there were 81 students from grades 10, 11 and 12 who received this Sacrament.

It was a day to remember

1st comm. Fr Peter 2: Baptised into Christ. One of ten students baptised by Fr Peter at the Fr Peter Secondary School, Fatima, WHP.

For these candidates also followed a preparation programme called "Walking together the Christian Journey". Some of the topics covered were: "The Helper, the Holy Spirit whom the father will send in my name will teach you everything and make you remember all I have taught you" - "Wait for the gift my father promised" - "They gathered frequently to pray" - "You are my own dear Son, I am pleased with you". "As the father sent me, so I send you" - "All of you are Christ's body and each of you a part of it". - "You are the only Bible, many people will ever read"

"To make the theme, "Walking together the Christian Journey" real, each of the candidates had his or her own "companion".

These 81 companions were mostly fellow students who already had received confirmation.

They brought their companion into the Church, put their hands on their shoulders when the Bishop confirmed them and guided them, at the end of the celebration, out of the church into the world of every day.

Confirmation is also a challenge and a special challenge for young people.

During their preparation candidates were challenged to "Choose Life" and to be alive in Christ.

To Say and live Yes to him and No to what brings death such as marijuana, home made alcohol and premarital sex.

A little pamphlet with a promise was given, which each could sign.

You are light and salt. To make these words of Jesus clear for the candidates and all others at the end of the celebration the newly confirmed all lite their candles from the Easter candle symbolising sharing the light of Christ.

After the blessing the bishop and priests also pour salt on each one's head and then with their companions hand in hand they left the church while the other students sang:

"You are the light of the world and the salt of the earth" This was a way of expressing our Christian journey and that our being light and salt is "outside" in the classroom playing field, dining room and so on, not just in the church building.

Catholic aged care launches HIV aid to PNG Church Resources

A NSW Port Macquarie parish aged care centre has launched a project to assist a HIV/AIDS program run by Port Moresby diocese as Religious leaders meet in Perth today to explore ways they can be better "neighbours" to their Pacific counterparts.

St Agnes Parish, Catholic Care of the Aged has announced that its nursing managers and the TAFE NSW North Coast Institute Nursing, Aged Care, Children's services have joined hands to assist Ametur House in East Boroko Port Moresby and Veifa'a Health Care Facility and Training School in Papua New Guinea.

The announcement follows a visit by Archbishop John Ribat of Port Moresby to Port Macquarie yesterday where he thanked locals for their initiative.

HIV/AIDS is an urgent and increasing concern for the people of PNG where up until late 2005, 13,465 cases of the disease had been detected, project officials say.

Meanwhile, more than 100 leaders of Australian religious institutes and societies who are meeting this week says that civil unrest and the threat of natural disasters in the Pacific are "more than enough reasons" for Religious in Australia to explore ways in which they can be better neighbours to their brothers and sisters in the Pacific nations.

The 2007 Catholic Religious Australia assembly will invite all participants to explore what it means to be neighbours in this region, chair Fr Mark Raper says.

"Catholic Religious in Australia will seek to learn from the experiences of our brothers and sisters in the Pacific and East Timor.

"Together, we will explore how relationships may be enriched by strengthening the long-standing and extensive networks among the Religious communities of these countries," he said.

"The Catholic Church - often through the ministry of Religious - is a main provider of health and education services in countries of the Pacific and East Timor while our own society is enriched by the many people from these countries now living in Australia."

Vanimo Celebrates Ordination of First Diocesan priest

Matilda - Communications, Vanimo

From Imonda to Leite, from Yapsie to Wutung, from Vanimo to Tangu and even to Italy, there was much enthusiasm and excitement as the day drew closer and closer.

The Ordination Committee had estimated the turnout to be 2500, and on the day, the square at Dasi church was packed to capacity. The mass of believers who flocked to Mary Immaculate sub-parish at Dasi had long been praying and hoping to witness such an event with their own eyes and in their own Diocese.

It was the priesthood ordination of one of their sons who was educated and trained in the Vanimo Diocese's own minor and major seminaries.

As this was a rare and historic occasion, preparations began a month earlier. Committees were set up to look into areas like food, liturgy, decoration of church, transport and entertainment and such. Even the Diocesan Health team was on standby in case people of difficulties. Each community in the six coastal Parishes of Vanimo Diocese contributed food and prepared entertainment items like traditional dances, action songs and dramas.

Three women from each parish were selected to help prepare lunch for everyone who attended the ordination Mass.

Fr. Joseph Runnai is from Tangu in the Bogia District of Madang province. He started and completed all his schooling in Vanimo. He is the eldest son of the six children of Anton and Martha. As a policeman, his father Anton, traveled the country, being transferred Vanimo.

Joseph was among the five new intakes at the St. John Vianney Minor Seminary in 1995.

He continued on to the St. Charles Borromeo Major Seminary.

After more than 10 years of spiritual and mental formation, he was ready to be adorned with his priest.

A lot of people had good reasons to let tears of joy flow freely as they watched the fruit of their prayers and hard from Tangu to be at their son's side when he made his vows to be chaste and be obedient to his bishop in all circumstances, and above all, to give his whole life as a minister of Jesus to the people.

Another proud and satisfied man who felt that his dreams had come to fruition was Bishop Cesare Bonivento, PIME, the pastor of Vanimo Diocese.

When asked if he ever dreamt that one day he'd lay hands on Joseph and anoint him as a priest, he gave a satisfied smile and said: "Of course it is the dream of every bishop. I came to this Diocese to help many young men become priests, that's the main aim of my presence here...to increase the local clergy."

The excitement and the buzz may be settling in Vanimo, but not in Tangu. The whole Parish was alive with the anticipated arrival of Fr Joseph who had come to say his first solemn Mass with them. The Ordination of Fr. Joseph is a historic event for both Vanimo and Tangu. In Vanimo he is the first priest taught and trained in the two Diocesan seminaries. In Tangu, it is a different story. Tangu is one of the pioneer parishes in the Archdiocese of Madang known for its daring catechists who braved the terrains and valleys of the province and other parts of the country to bring the Good News to people. Yet, after almost 61 years of missionary zeal, there has never been a priest.

Who would have known that this tall, humble son of a policeman would break that spell.

Ordination, as in any academic graduation, is not the end of the story. Rather, it is the beginning of the great priestly calling that Jesus had commissioned his Disciples to carry on.

Bishop Cesare, when explaining this priestly ministry, urged the people to continue their support for Fr. Joseph with their prayers, as it was a long, hard and perilous road to be a priest.

Bishop Cesare said Joseph would become a better priest if people prayed for him and supported him spiritually.

work bear fruit.

Among them were his parents, Anthon and Martha. They had come to Vanimo all the way from one post to another. He finally settled long enough for Fr. Joseph to start and complete his education in
