Remembering Angela August

From Shaun Travers, Director of UC San Diego's LGBT Resource Center

Dear friends~

As many of you know, Thurgood Marshall student Angela August's life was cut short last week in a tragic car accident on June 11th, just as she was about to graduate from UC San Diego. Many in our community knew Angela, and her artwork was proudly on display in our Center last year. To honor her life, we will display Angela's work from now and throughout the month of July in the Community Art Section of UC San Diego's LGBT Resource Center's library. For those of you in San Diego for the summer, please stop by during July and take a moment to remember Angela, her life and her artistry.

For any students who are in need of support and assistance during this difficult time, you are encouraged to contact Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS). Counselors are on call on a 24-hour basis and can be reached after hours at (858) 534-3755. If you are a faculty or staff member looking for counseling and support, you can contact the Faculty Staff Assistance Program at (858) 534-5523.

Sincerely,
Shaun Travers

The Community Art Gallery is currently featuring a piece by Angela August titled "Two Women." Angela worked with oil paints for ten years prior to her passing. She was a Human Development major and Visual Arts/Studio minor while studying at UC San Diego. When first displayed in 2011, Angela indicated that inspiration for this piece relied heavily upon impressionists of the past as well as contemporary abstract works. Most recently, Angela was seeking to explore women's rights, gay rights, as well as gender differences in the United States. She hoped one day there would be greater acceptance and acknowledgement for lesbian relationships.

Purpose for this guide:

As an incoming first year, transfer student, graduate student, you might be wondering what kinds of resources there are for Queer/ LGBTQIA individuals here at UCSD. Also, what are some resources beyond UCSD? This pamphlet contains a handful of resources San Diego has to offer in regard to different resources that could be useful for you as a Queer-identified or questioning youth of color.

(Please note: this pamphlet does not contain all resources available in the local San Diego Area. This guide seeks to serve as a starting place, with hopes that future students, faculty and staff can make edits to support future QPOC at UCSD)

"When I dare to be powerful, to use my strength in the service of my vision, then it becomes less and less important whether I am afraid."

— Audre Lorde

"Our feelings are our most genuine paths to knowledge."

— Audre Lorde

Little Queer Resource Guide for Incoming Queers of Color

Student-run Organizations:

-Queer People of Color (QPOC): "...at the core of QPOC is our commitment to struggle and our commitment to activism. We recognize the intersection of our identities, as well as the related intersection of various social justice movements. We create a SPACE: social, political, academic, and cultural environment - to enhance our members entire self-being!"

email: ucسدqpoc@gmail.com

-Queer Womyn of Color (QWOC): "is a group for self-identified queer womyn of color to come together to establish our own space, acknowledge our intersectionalities, create visibility and community, and discuss possible ways to move forward...While the LGBT RC is where we primarily meet, we also branch out to other Campus Community Centers. During our quarterly Q-Trips, we meet off campus."

email: ucسدqwoc@gmail.com

-Coming Out Group: "is a place to meet and gain support while discussing your sexual and/or gender identities in a confidential setting. This group is for lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, straight or questioning folks who are coming out and who may already be out. Topics are determined by group participants, and can include coming out to yourself, coming out to family, coming out to friends, coming out and the work place, and coming out at school."

-TIA: Transgender Intersex Alliance

The mission of the Transgender Intersex Alliance is to provide a safe space for individuals undergoing SRS (sexual-reassignment or hormone therapies), as well as identities that may include, but are not limited to: genderqueer, genderfluid, genderless, gender non-conforming, agender, bigender, neutrois, androgynous, gender-bender, gender-blender, gender-f*cker, other gendered, two-spirit, gender-neutral, trans, intersex, or folks who don't quite fit into a binary identity. It is also a space to promote solidarity and education between members and allies of the transgender community. The first half of the meeting is a closed space for the aforementioned list of identities, and during the second portion, allies are welcome to join in on the conversation and activities. Count on a safe, confidential space that provides insight and information, coupled with fun and off-campus outings. Hope to see you there! Please join us! For more information, e-mail transgenderintersexalliance@gmail.com.

Ethnic Studies: "The curriculum of the Department of Ethnic Studies is designed to:

- 1) study intensively the particular histories of different ethnic and racial groups in the U.S., especially intragroup stratification
- 2) to draw larger theoretical lessons from comparisons among these groups
- 3) to articulate general principles that shape racial and ethnic relations both currently and historically
- 4) to explore how ethnic identity is constructed and reconstructed over time both internally and externally."

Keshet: Jewish LGBT Awesomeness

We are a group that is open to all people regardless of sexual orientation or religious practice. Our goal is to educate people about the intersectionality of Queer and Jewish identities. We strive to create a community in which one can be comfortable expressing their sexual identity in all Jewish aspects of campus life. Our three pillars are educate, include and inspire.

San Diego's Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual,
Transgender Jewish Community

The mission of J☆Pride is to reach out to the Jewish lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender community, encourage LGBT individuality and Jewish identity, and create opportunities for interconnections of the LGBT community. J☆Pride seeks to foster inclusion of the Jewish LGBT community within the larger Jewish community of San Diego.

Though only a few years old, J☆Pride is expanding rapidly in both membership and visibility.

J☆Pride caters to Jews of any denomination who identify as lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, intersex, queer, questioning, or ally.

Programming by J☆Pride consists of events that bring Jewish and LGBT issues together in interesting and provocative ways. Examples of past events include the screening of Yossi & Jagger, about a same-sex relationship in the Israeli army at the 2004 San Diego Jewish Film Festival, a lecture and book signing by Rabbi Steven Greenberg, the first openly gay Orthodox Rabbi, a J☆Pride Seder featuring a Haggadah (prayer book) specifically focused on LGBT issues, and frequent Shabbat services and dinners at local synagogues.

In addition to these events, J☆Pride members have attended community-wide events such as The Center's Annual Gala, San Diego AIDS Walk and the San Diego Pride Parade and Festival.

J☆Pride is a program of the Lawrence Family Jewish Community Center (JCC), Jacobs Family Campus, and has representation on its executive committee from The Center in Hillcrest, Jewish Family Service, the United Jewish Federation (UJF), and the San Diego Rabbinical Association.

J☆Pride has received official recognition from the following local synagogues that have also expressed their welcoming of LGBT members and families.
