San Diego, Calif., November 18, 1914.

The Railroad Commission of the State of California,
Market Street, San Francisco, Cal.

On behalf of the City of San Diego, a municipal corporation of the State of California application is hereby made to the Railroad Commission of the State of California to fix a valuation upon the properties of James A. Murray and Ed Fletcher, commonly known as and used in connection with the Cuyamaca Water System. The purpose of this application being to enable the City of San Diego to purchase this system at a price to be fixed by the Railroad Commission under the power now vested in said Commission and additional powers that may now and hereafter be vested in said Commission under Assembly Constitutional Amendment 87 adding Section 23 A to Article twelve of the constitution.
