

HOTEL DEL
CORONADO

HOTEL DEL
CORONADO

CORONADO BEACH
CALIFORNIA

CORONADO BEACH
CALIFORNIA

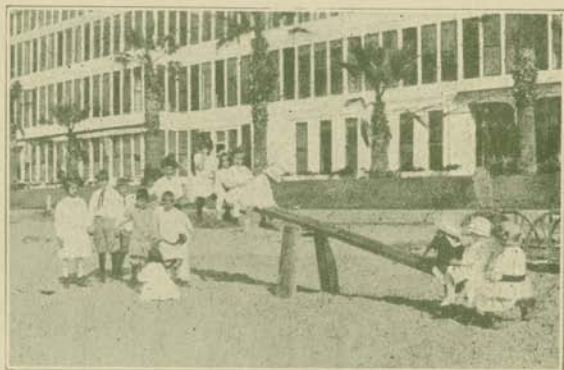

An Interesting Problem

Number Work in the Shade of a Palm Tree

A Never Ending Source of Pleasure

Ready for the Daily Walk and Story Hour

Out-of-Door Class Rooms

Recess Time

AN OUT-OF-DOOR SCHOOL ON THE BEACH

Almost every variety of Water Craft is Obtainable at the Hotel del Coronado Boat House

At the Bath House are many Private Salt Water Baths in addition to the Large Plunge

CORONADO Island of Dreams

UNDER sapphire skies, basking in the warm rays of a twelve-months summer sun, staggering under a growth of luxuriant semi-tropical vegetation and where the usually placid waters of the deep Pacific fondly lap the sands of a broad white beach---lies Coronado, like a glittering gem in a piercing light.

Among tall, dignified palms, stately pines, and flowers in a riotous confusion of color, winding roadways and shady, inviting paths, arises the rambling, home-like structure which has endeared itself to countless thousands---Hotel del Coronado.

Like a castle in an old-time fairy tale stands the famous building. One could easily imagine that it had grown on the spot, so naturally does it occupy its position of sympathetic understanding with the ideas of the landscape architect.

It is this serene environment of peaceful tranquility

Tennis is Always Popular

There are two Excellent Courts

that causes the traveler to linger for more of the enchantment of the place. Far from the roar of the subway and the bustle of activity, dull care is tossed eagerly to the four winds.

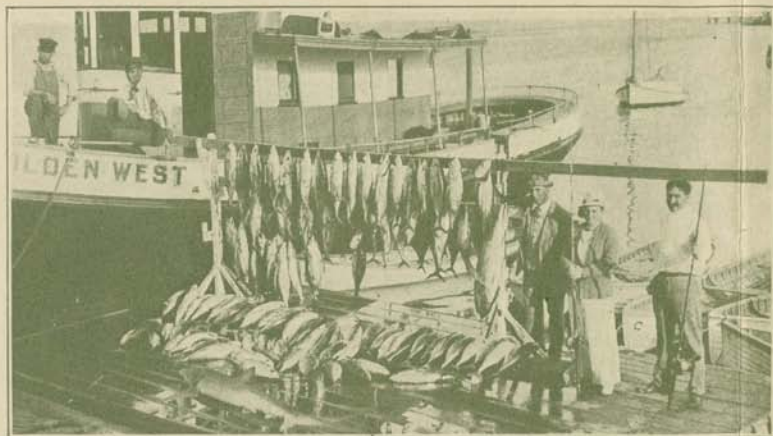

Brilliant with life, but also suggesting ease and quiet for those who desire it, the welcoming atmosphere of the romantic building proves a distinct relief after the cold, formal pillars and the stiff architectural notions upon which bleak city hotels are often fashioned.

To the first-time visitor evening proves delightful. You can watch the grinning sun take his evening dip into the deep sea, radiating in every direction colors and tints yet impossible to the hand of man. You

San Diego's Splendid Bay is a Delight to the Yachtsman

Tuna, Yellowtail, Spanish Mackerel, etc., Abound in the Waters Near By can listen to the final twitterings of the birds in the green twilight of the patio. You learn to recognize sweet melodies of a playful breeze as it dodges through the leaves of the palms. You may be lulled to sleep by the soft purring of a slumbering ocean. Or perchance you may doze to the tune of an angry sea in noisy conflict with the stout sea wall. Perhaps for the first time in years you will give yourself over to the imagination and dreams of childhood.

Hotel del Coronado, the hotel with a personality, rich in the memory of friends the world over, invites you to be its guest.

In summer clothing you may sprawl upon the grass in January. Kissed by the dancing sunlight and fanned by the soft, soothing, salt sea air, color is restored to pallid cheeks. Oddly enough, you are promised the same delightful sunshine and cooling breezes in July.

Provision for your favorite sport has been made. You may wander over the spacious grounds of the Country Club or you may take more strenuous exercise at tennis or in the water of the ocean or the finely appointed plunge. You may watch players of international fame at polo, the sport of kings. Horses are at your disposal for riding. Or if you enjoy sailing you are offered a choice of boats and the best bay on the coast on which to test your skill. To points of romantic interest you may motor. And such motoring!

Days of delightful touring are in store for visitors. You may glide over smooth, serpentine mountain roadways, overhung in places by canopies of live oaks, by the side of rejoicing streams and overlooking valleys of velvet green hundreds of feet below. Scenes change with every turn of the wheels. Now you are gasping for breath on the summit of a shaggy crag far above sea level and again you search your vocabulary for words to express your admiration for the panorama spread out before your eyes. You will absorb the healthful odor of the pines and drink deep of the pure mountain air. You will quench your thirst at a happy, sparkling, deliciously cold mountain spring, and you'll help make away with a lunch with an eagerness that may astonish you.

The Glorietta, a Speedy and Comfortable Pleasure Boat

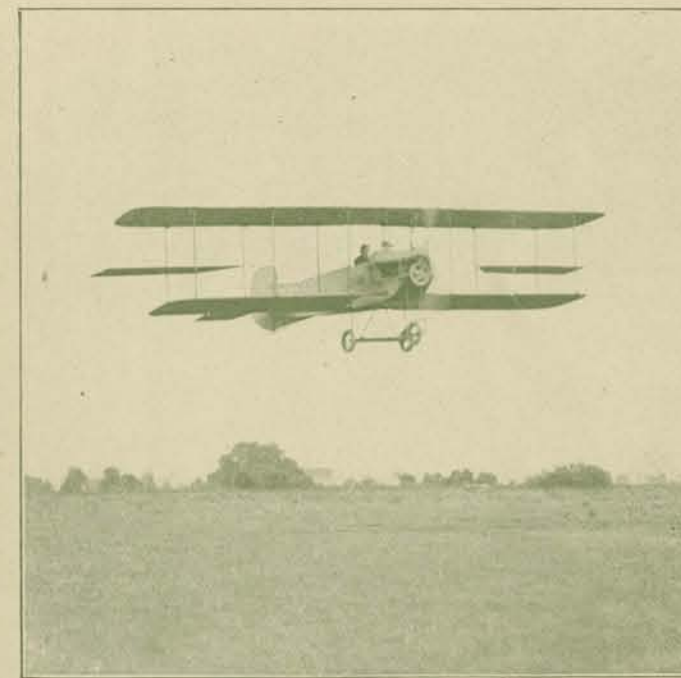

The Flying Boat Makes Daily Trips

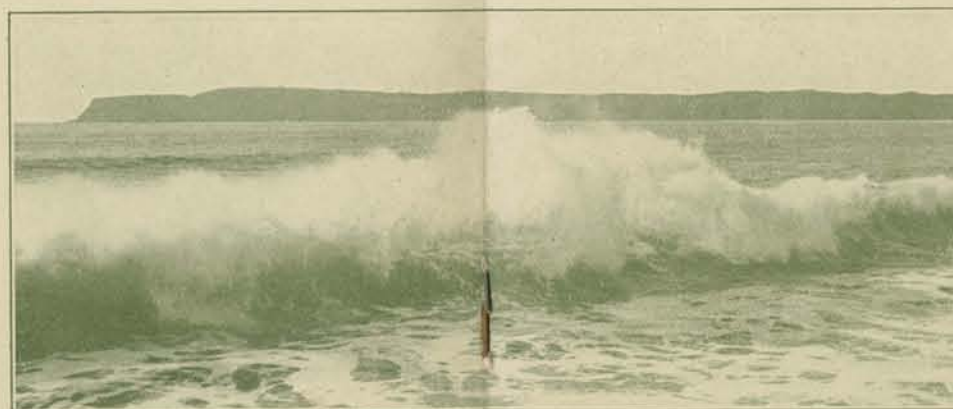

A Perfect Type of Japanese Garden—By Marsh & Co., San Francisco

Army Biplane Flying Over Hotel

A Morning Scene on the Beach

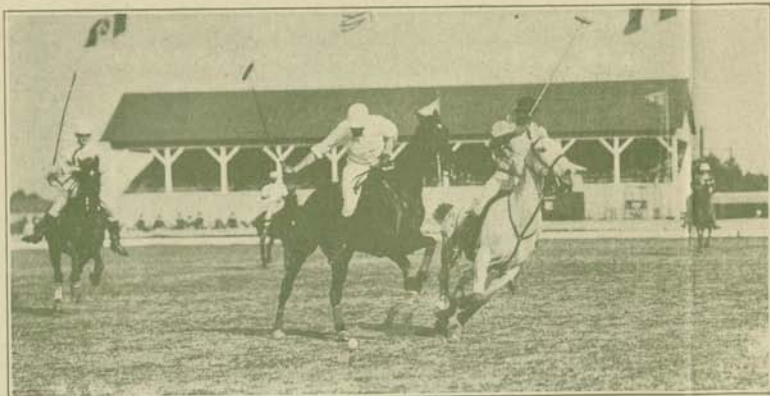

Point Loma, from Hotel

Front Porch—An Ideal Living Room

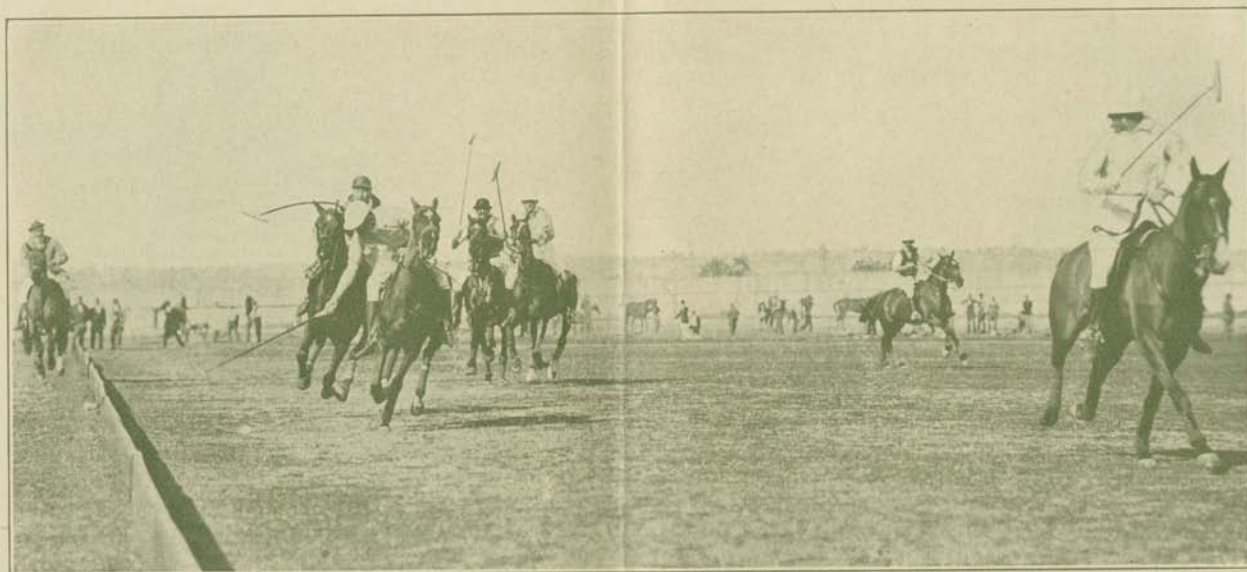

Polo, with its action and color, is fascinating even to the uninitiated the hour pass in review before you.

For the sportsman the finest of fishing is at hand. Tuna, barracuda, yellowtail abound in the waters within two hours run in a power boat.

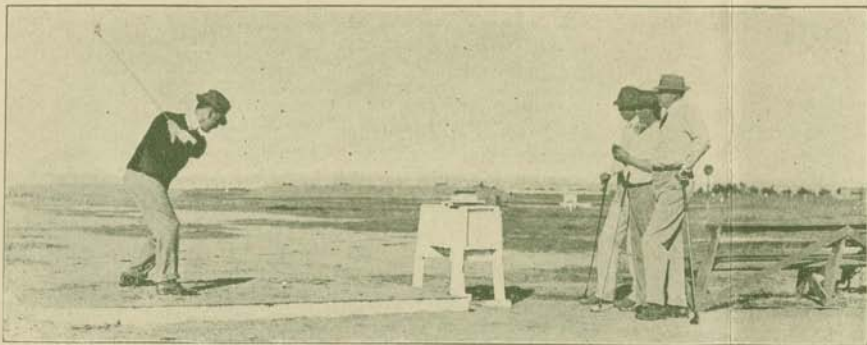

If you long for a new sensation, that also has been provided. You may ride in a hydroplane. The sport has become popular among hotel guests. Aeroplanes from the army aviation

An innovation is promised this season in the way of Summer Polo

If you enjoy the light, gay side of life you will find it awaiting you at the Hotel del Coronado. The brilliant entertainments in the bell-shaped ball-room are famous from the fashion centers of Fifth Avenue to the city limits of Snohomish, Washington. All that is new, perhaps a minute ahead of prevailing vogue, is found at Coronado. At these functions men and women of

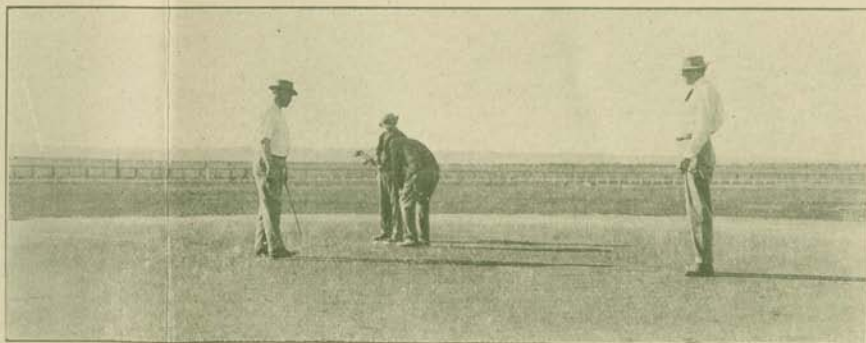

The eighteen-hole golf course is but a short walk from the Hotel

In short, if you desire to pass a week or a month, either during winter or summer, at a beach resort where it is not a question of "What can I do today?" but rather of "What pleasure will I choose today?" then the Hotel del Coronado, Coronado Beach, California, is the place you are seeking.

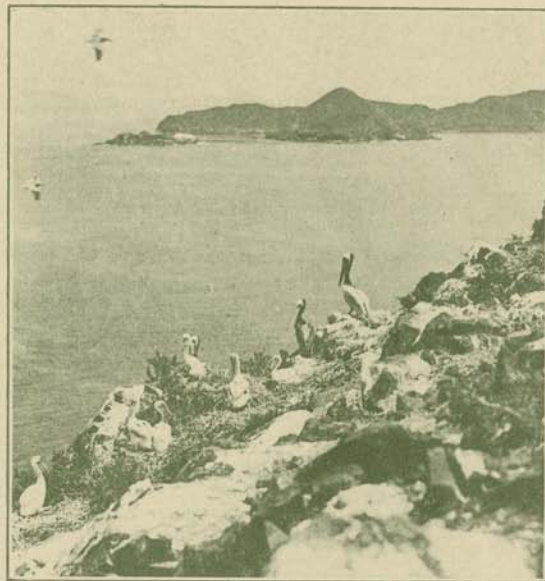

school on North Island and from the Curtiss camp, fly close enough nearly every morning that you can distinguish the features of the men operating them.

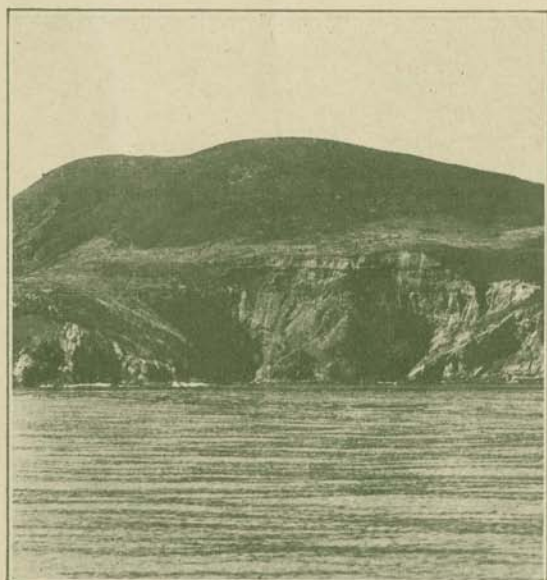

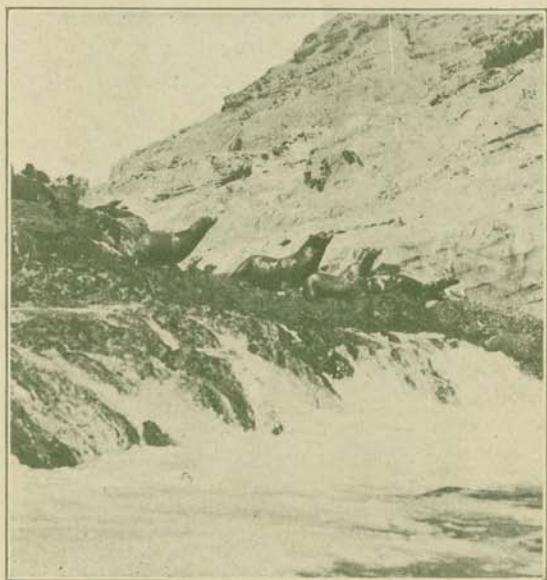

San Diego, a city of 90,000 population, offers cosmopolitan amusements, theatres, baseball, and the like. San Diego is but a trolley ride of half an hour from the entrance of the hotel.

The Coronado Islands, sixteen miles southwest of the Hotel, are the destination of frequent launch parties. The islands are uninhabited save by pelicans and other wild birds, and seals. Near by are the game fish banks.

Hotel del Coronado can be reached by all railroad and steamship lines. Hotel representatives and conveyances meet all trains and steamers. Those who prefer the street car can connect at Broadway and Arctic street, diagonally across the street from Santa Fe Station, with No. 10 car for Coronado Ferry. For rates and further particulars, address

JOHN J. HERNAN, Manager,

Los Angeles Agent:

Coronado Beach, California

H. F. NORCROSS, 334 South Spring Street.

The large Private Porches make it possible to live and sleep practically out-of-doors

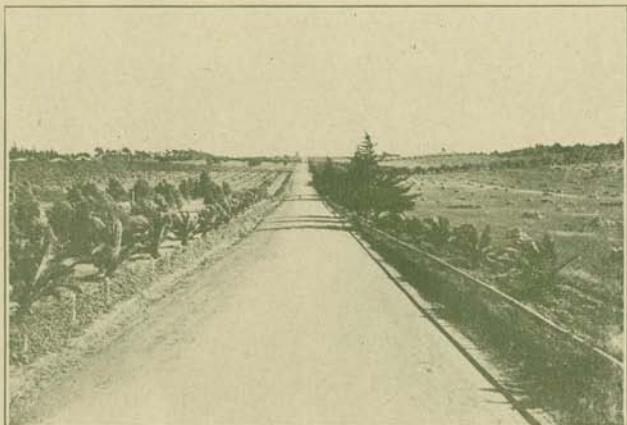

California's Oldest Mission

A View in the Famous Mission Valley

A Section of Boulevard

Old Spanish Lighthouse—150 Years Old

La Jolla's Rocks and Caves

Torrey Pines—The last of their race