Engine performance and operator comfort maximise production.

Smooth, Easy Controls

- Two hydraulic joystick controls require only minimum wrist/hand movement, greatly reducing operator fatigue.
- Auxiliary hydraulics are actuated by a thumb-operated rocker switch on the joystick.
- Hand-throttle allows you to run at a constant speed, or an accelerator pedal can be used during load and carry, excavating or backdragging.

Operator Comfort

- Optional suspension seat adds operator comfort.
- Clear view of the work tool reduces operator fatigue and increases productivity.

Power and Versatility

- The Cat 3034 Engine is proven and reliable.
- Powerful hydraulics deliver outstanding lift and breakout forces.

BANK OF PAPUA NEW GUINEA

IMPORTANT EARLY NOTICE FOR PRIVATE SECTOR EMPLOYERS

EMPLOYEE & EMPLOYER CONTRIBUTION RATES INCREASE IN 2005

I draw to the attention of Private Sector Employers that mandatory superannuation contribution rates will increase from 1 January 2005. This will require forward planning by Employers to ensure a smooth transition to the higher contribution rates.

At 1 January 2005, the private sector employee contribution rate will increase from 5 percent to 5.5 percent. The employer contribution rate (on behalf of the employees) will increase from 7 percent to 7.7 percent.

The schedule of changes to superannuation contributions is set out in Superannuation Regulation No. 4 of 2002 as certified on 6 April 2002. The scheduled increases are as follows:

Minimum Contribution Rates	Current	1- Jan-05	1- Jan-05
Private Sector - Employee Contributions	5.0%	5.5%	6.0%
Private Sector - Employer Contributions	7.0%	7.7%	8.4%
Public Sector - Employee Contributions	6.0%	6.0%	6.0%
Public Sector - Employer Contributions	8.4%	8.4%	8.4%

Currently public sector workers have higher mandatory contribution rates than their private sector counterparts. This will start changing on 1 January 2005. Contribution rates will rise to a mandatory minimum of 5.5% from the Private Sector employee and 7.7% from the Private Sector employer - an increase of 1.2% in total. There will be a further rise in 2008 to bring the private sector into line with the public sector.

The Private Sector employers have three (3) months before the increase in the contribution rates come into effect on 1st January 2005. This gives companies sufficient time to advise employees and to prepare for a smooth transition to the new contribution rates.

The superannuation industry is a vital cornerstone for the development of Papua New Guinea. We need to maintain a broad consensus on the direction of superannuation going forward.

Dokta Joe Pagelio Siaman - Accelerating Girls' Education (AGE) Komiti

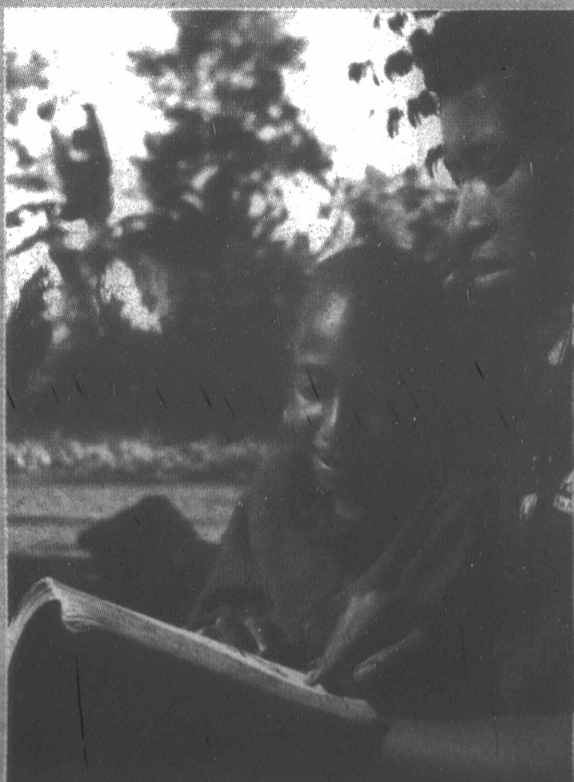

unicef Accelerating Girls Education (AGE) in Papua New Guinea

Education is vital to ensuring a better quality of life for all children and a better world for all people. But if girls are left behind, those goals can never be achieved. Educating girls yields spectacular social benefits for the current generation and those to come but many villagers in Papua New Guinea, which comprise 70 percent of the total population, are not convinced about this. Some of the benefits of an educated girl are; the children she does have will be more likely to survive; they will be better nourished and better educated. She will be more productive at home and better paid in the workplace. She will be better able to protect herself against HIV/AIDS and to assume a more active role in social, economic and political decision-making throughout her life. In realizing this need UNICEF in partnership with Governments and civil society, launched the '25 by 2005 Girls' Education Campaign' in 2003 to accelerate its ongoing efforts towards the world's commitment of educating every child. Papua New Guinea is one of these 25 countries and is the only one in our region because the status of girls' education is poor. Many girls in PNG do not enroll in schools due to cultural, social, economic and other factors and those that do enroll drop out of school for various reasons. One of the main problems is that of school fees. Many parents are not supporting the education of girls. Thus, the campaign in Papua New Guinea focuses on getting most of the school-age girls into school and retaining them until they complete their primary education. The Accelerating Girls' Education (AGE) initiative of the National Department of Education and supported by UNICEF is a step forward aimed at getting more girls into schools, ensure that they stay in school and that they are equipped with the basic tools they need to succeed later in life. The AGE program is part of the Government's on-going efforts to ensure every girl and boy exercise their right to an education and promote gender parity, a major concern in Papua New Guinea. The program is piloted in six provinces (WHP, Simbu, EHP, Morobe, Madang and East Sepik) and will be extended to other provinces subsequently. The results so far are impressive. About 85 percent of the total numbers of girls who have left school this year have returned to school. Advocacy and awareness campaigns through various media outlets and through our partners, districts and school authorities and Provincial AGE

Committees are proving successful. Focus group discussions have identified a lot of problems faced by girls, mostly in remote districts and these kinds of information have helped the AGE Team to design specific strategies and activities to break through some century old barriers which may otherwise be difficult. The positive responses from the communities so far are clear testimonies of the realization of the need for equal participation in education and in the development of the community and the country as a whole. With girls' education as one of its priorities, UNICEF is supporting the National Department of Education, other government entities, the churches and a range of other partners to achieve robust and sustainable gains in gender parity in primary education in the country. And by this the benefits of education will be passed from one generation to the next, the futures of those that follow will be much brighter too and in the end benefit the country as a whole.

Dr. Joe Pagelio
Chairman - Accelerating Girls' Education Committee.

Parents participation in their Catholic Education

Saint Joseph's International Catholic School - the School of Faith and Family is an independent Catholic Primary School, (Pre School to Grade Eight) that is owned by the Catholic Archdiocese of Port Moresby. The School operates within a framework of a vibrant, dynamic School Board established by the Archdiocese Catholic Education Agency.

An enrolment of 610 students. St. Joseph's is continually encouraging the parents of the students to participate in their child's education. This has been done this year at St. Joseph's by regular parent/teacher meetings, parent/teacher interviews.

Daily contact with parents through the Students Home Diary is another very useful and vital link with parents. St. Joseph's believes it is of the greatest importance that school and parents must work and cooperate in close partnership. St. Joseph's has nominated this partnership as an urgent priority. Far too easily can parents be left out of the educational equation. Parents are very much part of the Christian Life Program of the School.

By enrolling their child at Saint Joseph's, parents have made a wise investment and expect a benefit as a result of their investment.

As teachers we should recognize that parents of a strong united family can be well positioned not only to give support to their child in difficulties but also to build strong characters in their children from the earliest years.

The early years are the most important. As teachers we have a line into hundreds of homes. In fact we are ideally situated to access families.

We can therefore deliver support to parents and create support networks for parents. We who lead schools can decide we already have enough to do, or we can take up the challenge.

There is practically no parent who does not wish to be the best father or mother he or she can be. As educators at St. Joseph's, we support and share with parents the all-important crucial responsibility of educating and caring for their children, assisting them to realize their future destiny as Christian Citizens and Leaders of Papua New Guinea.

At Saint Joseph's we care about the children, not just their education. The School has built a strong reputation on caring for every aspect of children's well being - body, mind and spirit. At St. Joseph's we are deeply concerned in the all-round development of children.

In addition to a strong academic program students are offered a wide, diverse range of cultural, sporting, community and spiritual opportunities which enables the children to graduate with foundations of vision, integrity, understanding, compassion, tolerance, cooperation, honesty and prayerfulness.

Choosing the Right School for your children is so important. A school where students pursue individual growth. A school that encourages personal endeavour and the development of talent in academics, sport, arts, based on Christian values - gospel values. A school that respects individual differences but expects everyone to uphold a philosophy of care, respect and tolerance. St. Joseph's is just that school.

A School of Faith and Family with a balanced education. An education which will guide students to progress towards the attainment of their full potentials as individuals and valued members of society.

Top schools are a source of inspiration. Great schools are the results of great teachers whose commitment as Educators develops an inclusive school culture of learning.

Every week is Education Week at St. Joseph's. We celebrate Education Week forty times during the year. We are open everyday - never closed because of water, electricity, teachers failing to turn up for duty.

At St. Joseph's, we want parents to realize their dreams of Catholic (Christian) Education for their children.

CATHOLIC EDUCATION

What can you expect to see in a Catholic School?

- + children being educated in the faith and traditions of the Catholic Church
- + happy children and staff
- + an environment that is caring and peaceful
- + committed and caring staff
- + effective religious education programs
- + prayer and liturgical celebrations
- + attention to children with special needs
- + children who question "Why?" and "How?"
- + innovation
- + professional staff
- + quality in all learning areas
- + constant evaluation

STAFF WITH COMMITMENT

Commitment and dedication are the words that come to mind when one thinks of the staff in Catholic Schools.

Called to share their Christian lives with others they believe and live out to the best of their ability the values, messages and ideals that they are teaching.

Professionally trained, they recognize the need for constant professional and spiritual development so that they are conversant with curriculum changes and innovations in education. Most importantly, there is a great sense of care for each child as teachers work with parents to develop the potential of every child in their class.

BANK OF PAPUA NEW GUINEA

KINA FACILITY RATE FOR OCTOBER 2004

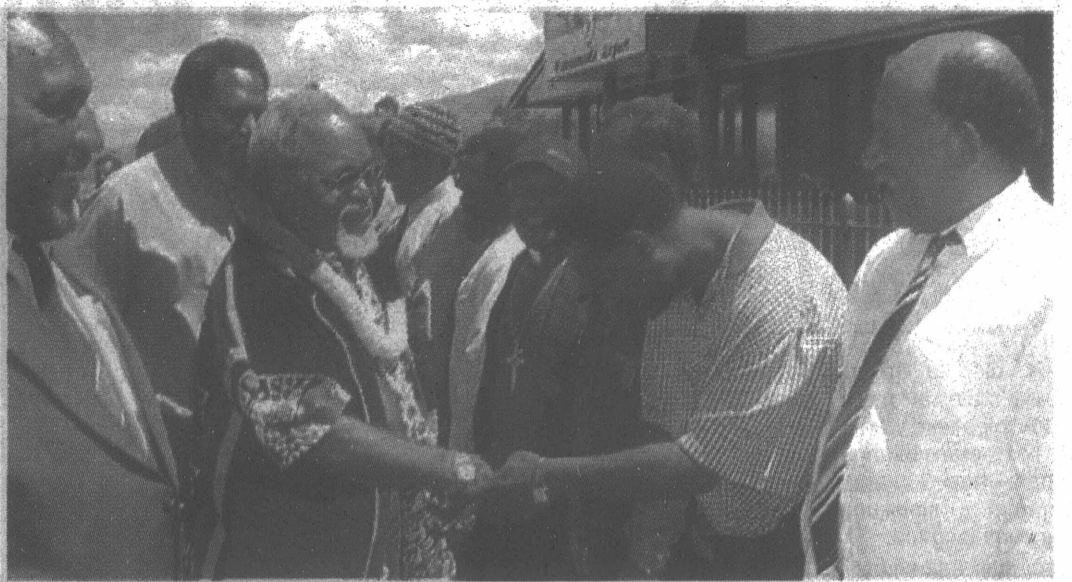

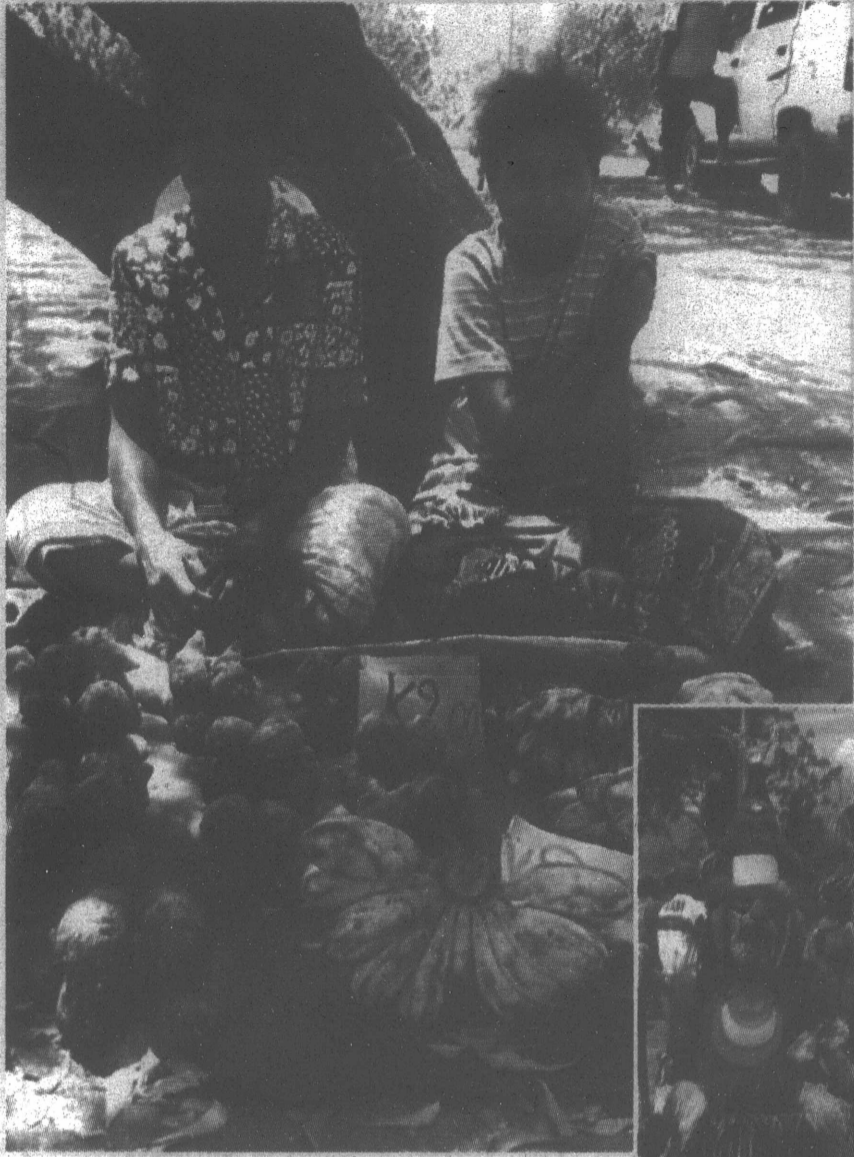

In the first nine months of 2004, the country has witnessed stability in the exchange rate, lower interest rates, lower inflation rates and a strong build up in foreign exchange reserves. This has led to expectations of lower future inflation and provides an enabling and conducive environment for private sector investment. Continued sound fiscal management has also enabled the Government to record a Budget surplus of 2.6 percent of Gross Domestic Product (GDP) in the first eight months of 2004. The Bank encourages the Government to continue to redirect these savings to development expenditure in order to generate sustainable economic growth in future, whilst restructuring its debt portfolio.

THESE ARE POSITIVE INDICATORS AND THE BANK OF PNG ADVISES THE PUBLIC THAT IN PASSING ON THESE BENEFITS THE KFR IS REDUCED BY 2.0 PERCENTAGE POINTS TO 7.0 PERCENT FOR OCTOBER 2004.

Gov't commended for keeping within 2004 Budget framework

THE National Government has been commended for working within its 2004 budgetary framework to achieve a budget surplus of K219.6 million and a net retirement of K92.6 million in Treasury bills and provided the counterpart funding for development projects.

In the June Quarterly Economic Bulletin of the Bank of Papua New Guinea, Governor of the Bank, Mr Wilson Kamit said the surplus reflected higher tax receipts and dividends from institutions now performing better as a result of financial reforms undertaken from 200 onwards.

Mr Kamit said these were complemented by the improvement in expenditure control measures, combined with the decline in interest cost on domestic debt.

"With the savings from interest costs, the Government has taken the opportunity to restructure its domestic debt from short to long term by issuing inscribed stocks with maturities of one to two years," he said.

He said with the savings from interest costs, the Government has taken the opportunity to structure its domestic debt from short to long term, by issuing inscribed stocks with matures of one to two years.

The overwhelming demand for these stocks reflect the markets expectation of lower inflation and interest rates environment and sets the foundation conducive for increase in private sector activity.

Commenting on the declining inflation outcome, Mr Kamit said liquidity conditions eased significantly as a result of purchases of foreign exchange by the Bank of PNG and retirement of Treasury bills by the Government.

The high liquidity levels led to faster declines in Treasury rates, which caused a divergence between the KFR and the market rates.

He said the reduction in the Kina Facility Rate (KFR) to 9.0 per cent in September 2004 was also aimed at correcting this misalignment between the official and market rates.

The declining inflation outcome, the stability in the exchange rate and the decline in domestic interest rates the Bank of PNG lowered the Kina facility Rate (KFR) by 100 basis points from 10.0 percent in May to 9.0 per cent in September 2004.

Treasury bill rates for all terms fell from their levels at end of August 2004, to below 5.0 percent in the second week of September.

Considering the annual headline inflation rate of 1.9 per cent, the returns on Treasury bills are still positive.

This should encourage portfolio investors to retain funds onshore and not undertaken unnecessary exchange rate risks by investing their funds onshore and not undertake unnecessary exchange rate risks by investing their funds offshore.

Meanwhile, Mr Kamit said the level of lending by the commercial banks to the private sector continues to decline, despite the high level of liquidity in the banking system and the low interest rate environment.

He said this partly reflected the lack of demand for loans.

As part of the Bank of PNG's ongoing consultation with the chief executives of the commercial banks, the Bank encouraged the commercial banks to pass on the benefits of these positive developments to their customers, through reductions in their lending rates.

He said accordingly the commercial banks reduced their Indicator Lending Rates to the current range of 12.25-13.00 percent, with further reductions announced to be effective on 01 October 2004.

In addition, the Bank of PNG removed the restrictions on Kina lending by licensed financial institutions to Non-Resident companies as part of the review of Foreign Exchange Control Regulations.

This change became effective as from the 6th of September 2004 and should facilitate lending to this sector.

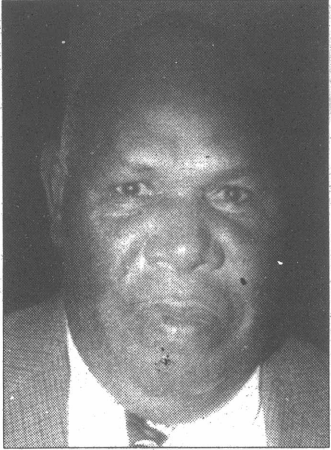

He encouraged small investors to purchase Treasury bills from the fund managers, stockbrokers and other finance houses with amounts of K10,000.

He said the change is consistent with the Bank's aim to encourage the secondary market for Government securities and the promotion of a vibrant financial market and system.

Mr Kamit said by encouraging the public to use financial institutions, rather than the bank of PNG, it is promoting the growth of the financial market in PNG.

He said the Bank was comfortable to shift retail type operations to the financial system, and retain whole-

Brown : Strengthening Public Service vital

Hon. Sinai Brown

Minister for Public Service, Mr Sinai Brown, has re-emphasised the government's commitment to strengthen the public sector institutions to improve service delivery to the majority of the people in the country.

Speaking to departmental heads and provincial administrators at the second quarterly review last month, Mr Brown said the cost of the public sector has reached a critically high level.

He said this was brought about because spending was poorly managed and controlled, accountability was weak and structures systems and processes did not work efficiently.

Mr Brown said despite these constraints the government has been systemically addressing these problems since coming to office but the pace of reform now needs to be rapidly accelerated.

The Government need the support from all national and provincial administration to make the reforms transcend beyond printed words.

"We intend to use every means possible to reduce spending and rebuild the public sector to one that efficiently delivers services to the community," the Minister said.

Cabinet to ratify biosafety agreement soon

The National Executive Council will soon ratify the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety to protect Papua New Guinea's interest in this emerging technology.

The Protocol is the first legally binding international agreement governing the movements of Genetically Modified Organisms (GMO's) across national borders.

The aim of the protocol is to provide an adequate level for the safe transfer, handling and use of GMO's resulting from modern biotechnology that may have adverse effects on the conservation and sustainable use of biological diversity

An interagency committee known as the National Coordinating Commission (NCC) comprising of representatives from the Departments of Environment and Conservation, Agricultural & Livestock, Health, Justice & Attorney General, Unitech, UPNG and NAQIA was set up to coordinate the National Biosafety Framework (NBF) Project.

The aim of the project is to develop a relevant legal and administrative framework for biotechnology.

A national project coordinator within the Department of Environment and Conservation manages the project on behalf of the NCC.

Secretary for the Department of Environment and Conservation, Dr Wari Iamo, said PNG's preparation in the NBF projects was approved on the 28th of March 2003 and commenced in August 2003.

Dr Wari explained that the main objective of the National Project is to prepare a national driven biosafety framework in accordance with the relevant provisions of the Category Protocol on Biosafety taking into account PNG's own specific needs.

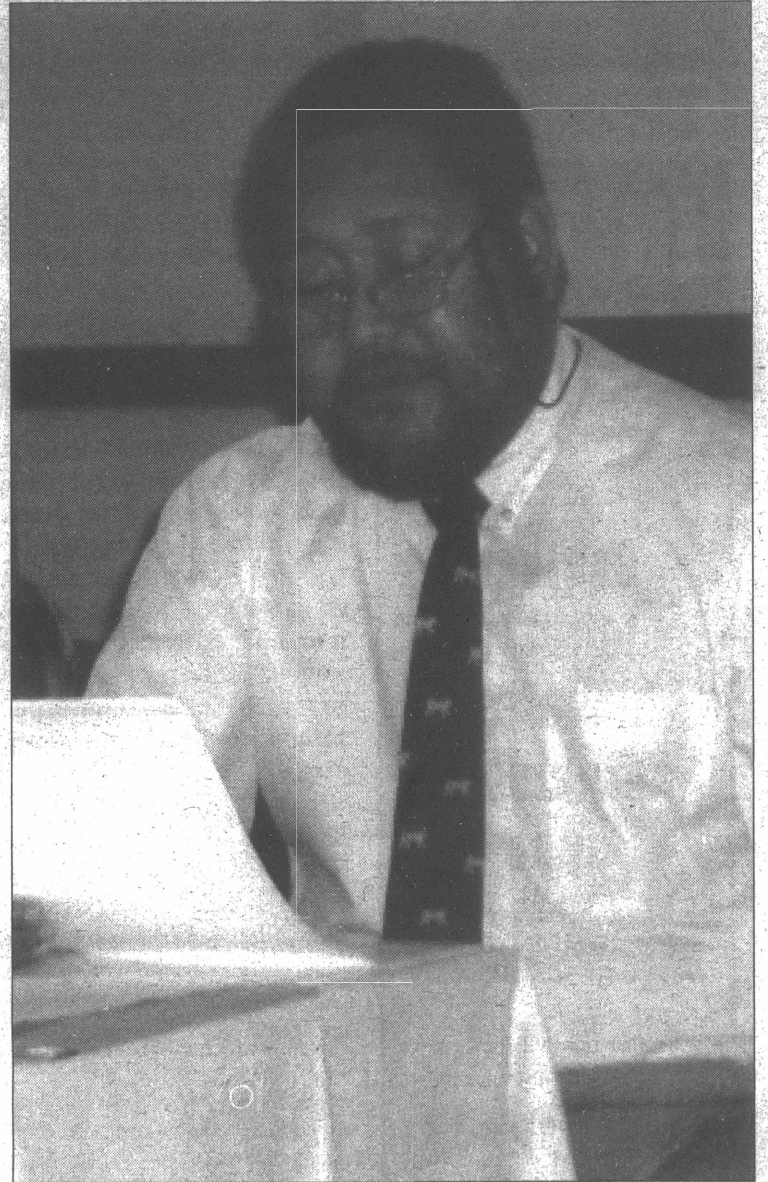

Dr Iamo Wari said the main element of this framework is aimed at developing a regulatory regime a biosafety policy framework, an administrative system to handle notifications and requests for export and import of GMOs.

"Another element was for the development of a monitoring system for follow up actions and development of a mechanism for public participation and information dissemination," he said.

"PNG recently benefited from a funding arrangement under the auspices of the United Nations Environment Program and Global Facility.

The funding is to assist countries to develop their National Biosafety Frameworks (NBFS) in preparation for the coming into force of the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety.

The project valued at US$200,000.00 with the government contributing 30% (US$72,000.00 in kind contribution and GEF trust fund with US$144,000 for 18 months.

The project is divided in four phases with phase one consisting of preparatory activities and the gathering of information, phase 2 - the analysis of the information gathered and phase three will involve the drafting of the PNG national biosafety framework.

Phase one of the project was the workshop held at Lamana in April this year and was attended by 30 leading scientists, bureaucrats and policy makers.

The aim of the workshop was to provide all the stakeholders with the information collected so that they may collectively review the findings, ascertain its validity, identify gaps and needs and decide priorities for the NBF projects in the next phase

Dr Wari explained that there is concern that an increasing appearance and trading of products developed from GMOs were now entering into PNG that the public should be made aware of.

He said a recent survey indicated that most people in the country had no idea nor any understanding of the issues related to biotechnology and the environmental and health implications of the use of modern biotechnology.

The workshop resolved that there was need to disseminate balanced information on the issues discussed throughout the life of the NBF project to the general public by using the mass media and other avenues to enable the public to make informed decisions regarding modern technology.

However, he warned that biosafety industry is growing at a rapid pace of 20% per year and was likely to grow even bigger if the are not doing anything.

He said a current review of the current applications of the technology revealed that most of the institutions were involved in tissue culture.

The Biotechnology Centre of the PNG University of Technology (UBC) is one of the new biotechnology centres in the Pacific Island Region and is participating in a number of regional projects including research in DNA fingerprinting and virus indexing in taro and more recently forestry programs on molecular tree identification.

Others include the Institute of Medical Research, two state of the art facilities, managed by the Oil Palm Research Association (OPR) at Kimbe (NBPOL Dami Oil Pam Research Centre) and Alotau (Milne Bay Oil Palm Estate, Coffee research Institute (CRI), Cocoa and Coconut research Institute (CCRI), and UPNG (Schools of Physical and Natural Sciences, and Medicine and Health Sciences).

The project now moves to phase two stages with a workshop to be held next month in Port Moresby.

PRIME MINISTER: SIR MICHAEL SOMARE ANNOUNCES NEC DECISIONS

PNG host Pacific Island Forum and MSG Meeting

PNG will host two important regional meetings next year - the Pacific Islands Forum Leaders' and the Melanesian Spearhead Group meetings.

PNG would also celebrate its 30th Independence anniversary in 2005.

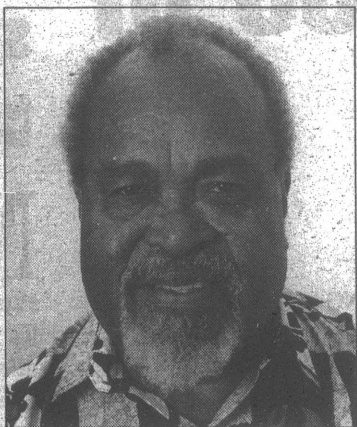

Sir Michael said Cabinet has also endorsed the reactivation of the PNG Events Council to coordinate preparations for these three important events.

"Hosting these important regional meetings is our commitment to further enhancing regional cooperation," Sir Michael said.

The Prime Minister said hosting the meetings and the independence celebrations would require enormous responsibility and resources, and it is imperative that a central coordination system is set up to effectively and efficiently manage our preparations.

Sir Michael said two task forces will be set up and their chairmen will report to the Chairman of the PNG Events Council on their activities and programs.

The first one will be responsible for the PIF and MSG meetings, and will be chaired by the Secretary of the Department of Foreign Affairs, and also comprise representatives from the departments of Prime

Sir Michael Somare

Minister & NEC as deputy chairman, Treasury, Finance, Police, Provincial & Local Level Governments, State Enterprises & Information, the media, Tourism Promotion Authority, NCDC and a representative from the private sector.

The second will be responsible for the 30th independence anniversary celebrations. It will be chaired by the Chief of State Protocol & Ceremonies (Department of PM & NEC), with a similar membership to the other task force.

"Funds will be required for these events, which will be determined by the PNG Events Council as an immediate priority. The request for funding should be submitted through the Budget process this year," Sir Michael said.

National Tobacco Policy

The National Executive Council's has approved of the PNG National Tobacco Control Policy.

Sir Michael said the policy will provide a national framework for implementing integrated tobacco control strategies which would substantially reduce the prevalence of tobacco use in the country.

"PNG must face the reality of the risks posed by smoking which are similar to HIV/AIDS except that the latter has a sharp and alarming epidemic rate.

"The policy is timely as it complements efforts to address the many health related problems. It will help put into place effective control measures with support from leading health promoters like the United Nations and institutions such as the WHO, the World Bank, Food & Agriculture Organization and UNICEF," Sir Michael said.

Dept PM & NEC DepSec acting Chief of State Protocol

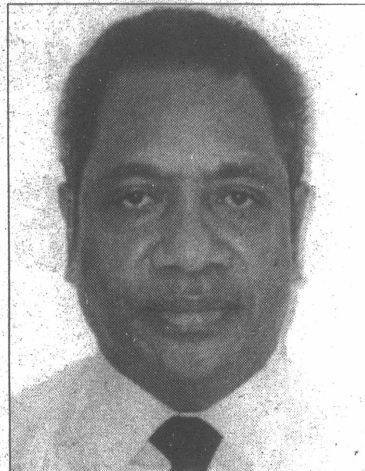

Cabinet recently appointed Mr David Tauaole as Acting Chief of State Protocol & Ceremonies.

In announcing this, Prime Minister Sir Michael Somare said the incumbent Mr Maimu Raka Nou is away on sick leave.

Mr Tauaole's substantive position with the Department of Prime Minister & NEC is Deputy Secretary (Operations). The Director-General for Ministerial Services, Mr Gideon Oli will be acting Deputy Secretary (Operations)

Mr Tauaole is a senior and experienced officer, having served the Department for over 30 years.

Mr Tauaole will provide the necessary leadership and direction in ensuring the office of State Protocol & Ceremonies functions efficiently," Sir Michael said.

David Tauaole

NEC endorses proposals for PNG passports

The National Executive Council has endorsed a proposal to order new ordinary PNG passports with security features.

Sir Michael said Cabinet has approved for design, artwork and printing of 10,000 new ordinary passport booklets.

"The new passports are valid for 10 years and has the National Emblem with six new security features in it," Sir Michael said.

He said the artwork and design with additional security features will make it difficult for counterfeit production of the PNG passports.

The Prime Minister said the focus of the new passports are in line with security measures aimed at seriously addressing trans-national crimes like human smuggling and terrorism, and is also in compliance with International Civil Aviation Organization set standards for passport booklets.

PNG adopt Bangkok agenda on ICT

The National Executive Council has approved the Bangkok Agenda, adopted by Asia-Pacific Ministers responsible for telecommunications, information and communications technologies of which PNG is a member.

Sir Michael said Cabinet has noted that ICT has significant potential for development.

"Current ICT policies in the country, including telecommunication sector policies, need to be revisited to capitalise on the opportunities created by advances in technology," Sir Michael said.

The Bangkok Agenda is a regional Action Plan aimed to harness the potential for Information and Communication Technologies (ICT) for human development.

"Cabinet has directed the Department of State Enterprises and Information to review the National Policy on Information and Communications (1994) to reflect advances in technology," Sir Michael said.

The Prime Minister said that NEC has also directed the department to form a committee of government agencies, non-government organizations, the private sector and all stakeholders to provide guidance and support to the department in the review.

PNG host International Rubber Association Meeting

PNG is to host the 28th Meeting of the Association of the Natural Rubber Producing countries in October this year.

Prime Minister Sir Michael said that ANRPC, at its 26th General Assembly in Kuala Lumpur, in 2003, requested PNG to host the 27th Assembly Session and the 28th Session of the Executive Committee.

"Cabinet has given its approval for these two meetings to be held back from the 5-8 October with field trips planned from 9-10," Sir Michael said.

The Association of Natural Rubber Producing Countries was established in 1970 and has its headquarters in Malaysia. Its membership comprises; India, Indonesia, Malaysia, PNG, Singapore, Sri Lanka, Thailand and Vietnam.

Sir Michael also commended Mr Philip Tabo Pondikou for his appointment as the ANRPC's new Secretary-General.

"The ANRPC's is an important regional commodity organization and we should be proud that it will be headed by a Papua New Guinean for the next three years," Sir Michael said.

Mr Pondikou is from Manus Province and was with the Department of Agriculture and Livestock for 20 years until June this year when he took up this regional post.

PUBLIC HOLIDAY DATES

Prime Minister, Sir Michael Somare has announced the public holidays and special observance days for year 2005.

Sir Michael said the following dates in 2005 have been endorsed by the National Executive Council as official public holidays throughout Papua New Guinea:

New Year's Day	Saturday 1st January
Good Friday	Friday 25th March
Easter Saturday	Saturday 26th March
Easter Sunday	Sunday 27th March
Easter Monday	Monday 28th March
Queen's Birthday	Monday 13th June
Remembrance Day	Saturday 23rd July
Independence Day	Friday 16th September
Christmas Day	Sunday 25th December
Boxing Day	Monday 26th December
Public Holiday	Tuesday 27th December

Sir Michael said Cabinet's endorsement of these dates will enable everyone to make proper planning for year 2005.

He emphasised that Christmas Day falls on Sunday, 25th December therefore, the following Tuesday, 27th December, shall be observed as a public holiday in accordance with the Public Holidays Act.

"Employees are also required by law to observe the public holidays that fall on Saturdays," Sir Michael said.

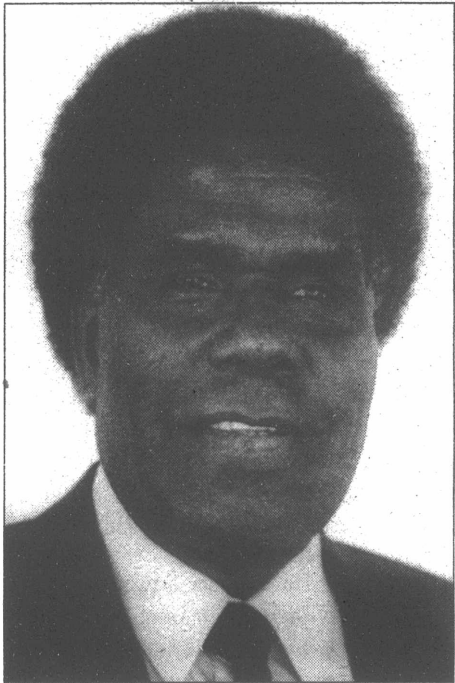

The Prime Minister said the following dates next year will be observed but not as public holidays:

International Mother Language day	Monday 21st February
International Women's Day	Tuesday 8th March
International Day for Women's Right's and International Peace	Tuesday 8th March

EDUCATION

Education Department to emphasise importance of books to students

TOKPISIN Ol Sumatin i mas save long strongim long buk - Laimo

Hon. Michael Laimo

"Students must use the library to source extra information not provided in their textbooks and notes from teachers,"

The Minister for Education, Mr Michael Laimo has urged provincial governments and school boards to support their public and school libraries so that they are open for students and the community to use to access information.

Mr Laimo said libraries are an important source of information and students should be encouraged to read books and make it a habit to visit the public library or school library where they have access to one.

"Students must use the library to source extra information not provided in their textbooks and notes from teachers," said Mr Laimo.

"Information is needed in all aspects of life whether at home, in school, at work, or play. It enables us to make good plans, predictions and conclusions about our immediate and long-term future," said Mr Laimo.

Mr Laimo this year's Book week coincides with the Silver Jubilee celebrations for National Book Week hence schools were encouraged to celebrate the event in line with this year's slogan "Learn on Information for Self Reliance".

He added that this year's slogan is special as it supports the Education theme for 2004, which is "Prosperity Through Self Reliance".

National Book Week has been celebrated since 1980 and since then schools and libraries around PNG have marked it annually, says the Minister.

He said it is a time to focus on the importance of books, reading, information, libraries and literacy. These are fundamental building blocks to the development of individuals, families, communities and our country, Papua New Guinea.

Children must continue to read to know and keep up with what is happening around them, as they grow older. Reading is an important way to keeping up to date by finding and having access to information available to us, Mr Laimo said.

We need to read and source out as much relevant information as we can become self reliant in what we are doing instead of depending on others to do things for us.

The Department of Education has been reminding schools in the country to implement self reliance projects so as to help students develop positive values and life long skills, reduce the burden of fees for parents and supplement school requirements.

Mr Laimo added that being self-reliant is very important because it is the only way forward for individuals, families community and the nation of Papua New Guinea to prosper.

The Minister wished all school children a happy week of reading and celebrations and reminded them to Learn on Information for Self Reliance.

RURAL DEVELOPMENT

ADB loan agreement for Highlands roads

A contractual agreement for the sixth sub-project under the huge Asian Development Bank Highlands road project worth K300 million that includes a loan from ADB for US$63 million was signed at Government House in Port Moresby on September 22, 2004.

Asian Development Bank loan (1709) project will include maintenance and upgrading of roads in the Mt Ambra Kotna in the Western Highlands Province.

The Minister for Works Mr Gabriel Kapris and Secretary for Works Mr Alphonse Niggints, ADB officials and Global construction, which contracted for the project, were present at the signing of the contractual agreement.

So far at least one project in each of the highlands provinces has been completed, excluding Southern Highlands province, where Kisenepoi-Ialibu road project at a cost of nearly K12 million has just started.

However, emergency rehabilitation works on the road for over 1100 kilometres in the five highlands provinces so far have been completed.

Four large projects namely Nupuru-Okapa, Mendi-Nipa, Chuawe-Move and Wabag-Laiagam stage one are currently on tender.

Four more projects will be tendered in October-November this year. These projects include

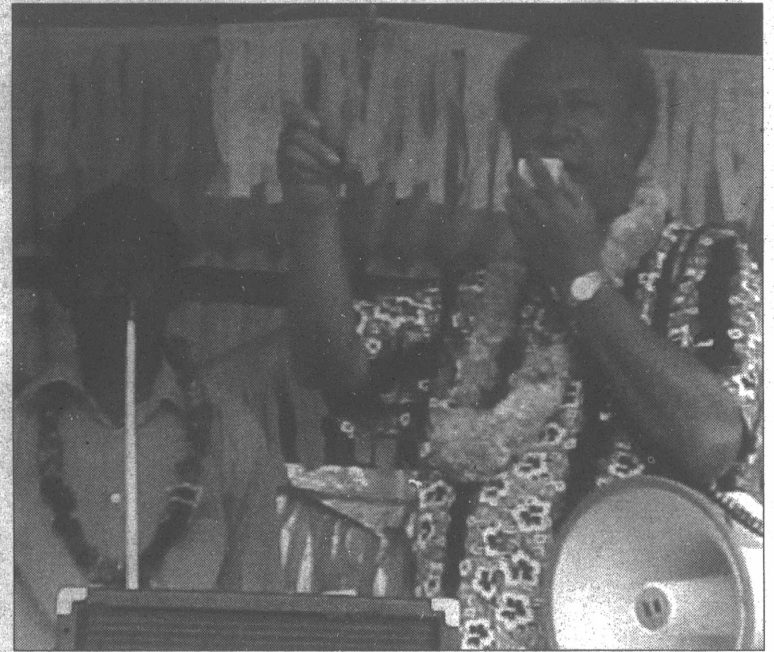

Kundiawa-Gumini Stage 2, Kandep-Laiagam, Mt Hagen-Baiyer and Goroka-

CIS roads at a cost of over K100 million.

Mr Kapris said the Mt Ambra Kotna road upgrading project has been hundred percent funded by the ADB and he thanked the Bank for their kind consideration. Although procurement process took much longer than expected, the upgrading and sealing project is an important one and will benefit the five highlands provinces.

He said the ADB considered the other completed projects in Western Highlands province as in-kind counterpart contribution. They have also agreed to fully fund the required K12.6 million for the project that will cover the length of 15.6 km and will continue to Banz and Dona under Phase 2. The road project will be extended to 2006 for further counterpart funding.

Minister Temu donates tractor and dinghy to people of Abau

Dr Puka Temu officially hands over keys for the tractor and dinghies with outboard motors.

The Minister for State Enterprises and Information and Member for Abau, Dr Puka Temu, has donated a tractor with a trailer and two 23 feet dinghies with motors worth a total value of K150,000.00 to the people of Doma Ward in the Cloudy Bay Local Level Government area of Abau District.

Dr Temu's presentation of these equipments coincided with the recent 29th independence anniversary celebration in his Abau electorate

As the Minister arrived at Ganai village, people from nearby nine other villages who gathered for the presentation ceremony danced to the beat of the kundus as they echoed from the mountains of the island to the sea and the celebrations continued through the day.

"The sun in Abau is beginning to rise again and this is time to rebuild Abau within the years ahead", said Dr Temu.

"I have been in office for 7 months and today I am here to deliver K150,000.00 worth equipments for the people of Doma ward.

"It is time for action and time to work, not time for politicking. Cloudy Bay in Abau District is blessed with resources both on land and sea.

He said Cloudy Bay resource owners will be proud recipients of benefits derived from resource developments when the Timber Permit on the FMA license will be issued in November this year out of 10 other FMA's permits by Forestry Authority.

Dr Temu officially handed the key for the tractor for farmers and the two 23 feet dinghies with outboard motors to Doma Ward Chairman Mr Job Wakai on Friday (17/09/04) for the people to be involved in farming and transporting crops to the nearby markets, whilst the dinghies be used for medical or emergency purposes.

He appealed to the local community to look after the tractor and the dinghies. He reminded them that it will take only one moment to destroy these items bought by the money belonging to people of Abau.

It is also therefore, essential that monetary policy matters are not constrained by sectoral interests.

Mr Kamit said the stable exchange rate, lower inflation and lower interest rate environment has created other investment opportunities for the public other than in Treasury bills.

The private sector is encouraged to invest in projects and other assets given the current stable macroeconomic environment. This will contribute to the transformation for this favourable macroeconomic environment to positive economic growth to PNG.

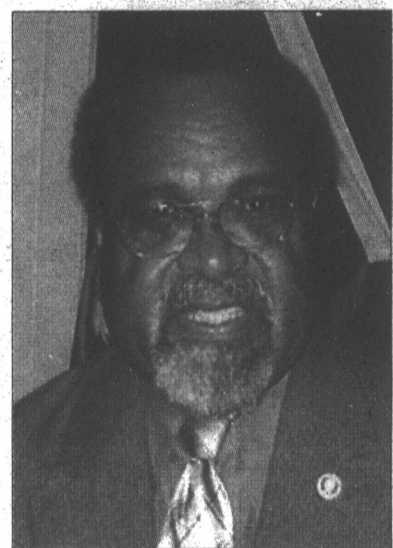

The Governor stressed the importance for the Government to continue to be vigilant in its expenditure controls, and for exporters to take advantage of higher commodity prices and continue to process and export more produce. Improvements in fiscal balance and exports would help to sustain stability in the exchange rate and continue to reduce inflation.

PNG Celebrated 29th Independence Anniversary

Flag Raising - Prime Minister

Flag Lowering - Governor General

Rt. Hon. Sir Michael Somare

The Prime Minister, Sir Michael Somare, has called on the people of Papua New Guinea to focus on the country's achievements.

Speaking during the flag raising ceremony to mark the 29th independence anniversary celebration, Sir Michael wants to see Papua New Guinea move towards achieving economic and not just political independence.

"Since last year how many of you have taken a step forward towards economic independence", he asked.

"The Prime Minister said the government has worked hard within that time to further pave the way for this to happened.

"The results of our efforts are evident in the increase in employment around the country, further investment and our improved economic performance," he said.

"Throughout my travels around the Pacific in the last year, I keep meeting elites in the Pacific Islands who tell me they have been educated at institutions in our country.

He said equally more Papua New Guinea Guineans have received education over the last thirty years an all the years under the colonial administration.

He said while we can still improve our institutions of learning, our people who have passed through their doors are competing with the best of them around the world job.

Papua New Guinea companies have moved overseas and opened successful ventures in the Pacific, as far south as New Zealand and East to Fiji, the Prime Minister said.

When we think of Independence Day it should not just be seen as breaking away from the bonds of colonialism, it should be celebrated of our achievements too.

We have so many things to celebrate at Independence because it is a time to celebrate who we are. Papua New Guinea is an independent nation in the South Pacific as such all eyes are on us.

Sir Michael said the government will continue to make the necessary reforms in policy and legislation so that further economic growth, rural development and poverty reduction through the promotion of agriculture, forestry and fisheries on an economically sustainable basis.

He said Equality is another area where we can improve. But for now it can be cause for celebration because at Independence we shed our second class citizenship.

More importantly our constitution recognised both men and women as equals at independence.

Lets take that step forward towards economic independence that our 30th anniversary we can once again assemble here with the knowledge that we as a government, a people and all interested parties have all together contributed towards a better, greater Papua New Guinea.

"We are a developing country that is taking our future into our hands. With God's guidance we will move forward in peace, harmony and prosperity, the Prime Minister said.

Sir Paulias Matane

Governor General of Papua New Guinea, Sir Paulias Matane, has cautioned Papua New Guineans to face development challenges because the country was at a crossroad in our development endeavours.

"Today is yet another opportunity for us to join hands together and take up this responsibility, rebuild confidence, consolidate the economic foundation which has been put in place and think positively about creating a brighter and a better future for our country", Sir Paulias said at the flag lowering ceremony to mark the country's 29th independence anniversary celebration.

Sir Paulias is concern that after 29 years of independence education was rated well below.

Education must be made accessible to all our people so that we can free the majority of them from the bondage of illiteracy, the governor General said.

"Free education should not be a policy of any successive Governments. The current policy on this issue is to have parents help pay for the education of their children. It may be wise however for the Free education policy to be implemented only amongst the disadvantaged sectors of our community. But freeing all parents from their responsibilities of paying school fees make them become lazy and irresponsible parents."

Sir Paulias said he supported the on-going reform efforts of the Government and encourage further reform to uplift the country towards productivity and prosperity.

Sir Paulias said the current Public Service Reform should be right size and re orient the service delivery mechanism to make it effective.

He said the Government must increase its capacity of resolving problems, as it was critical for the Government to be able to mitigate national crisis and negative consequences of changes.

The Government must establish a clean political system. A good government means an efficient, capable and a democratic government, that work to fulfil the expectations of the people and Government Agencies must form partnership with other Sectors in Society.

"We must not be afraid to make changes, Changes are inevitable and Papua New Guinea has to adopt these changes if it is to survive in this competitive world. We must realise that we cannot continue to live the way we have been for many years.

"My fellow Papua New Guinea let us pool our wisdom, strength and resources together to help the government uplift this country to a new height of development in all spheres of life.

"It is not an easy task, but together we can achieve our common goals of peace, development and progress in all facets of life.

Good governance is important for effective management of the country's affairs. The rule of law, transparency in the conduct of business and accountability are fundamental principles for effective government.

Sir Paulias said corruption is a disease that has hindered development in the county and undermined the integrity of our institutions.

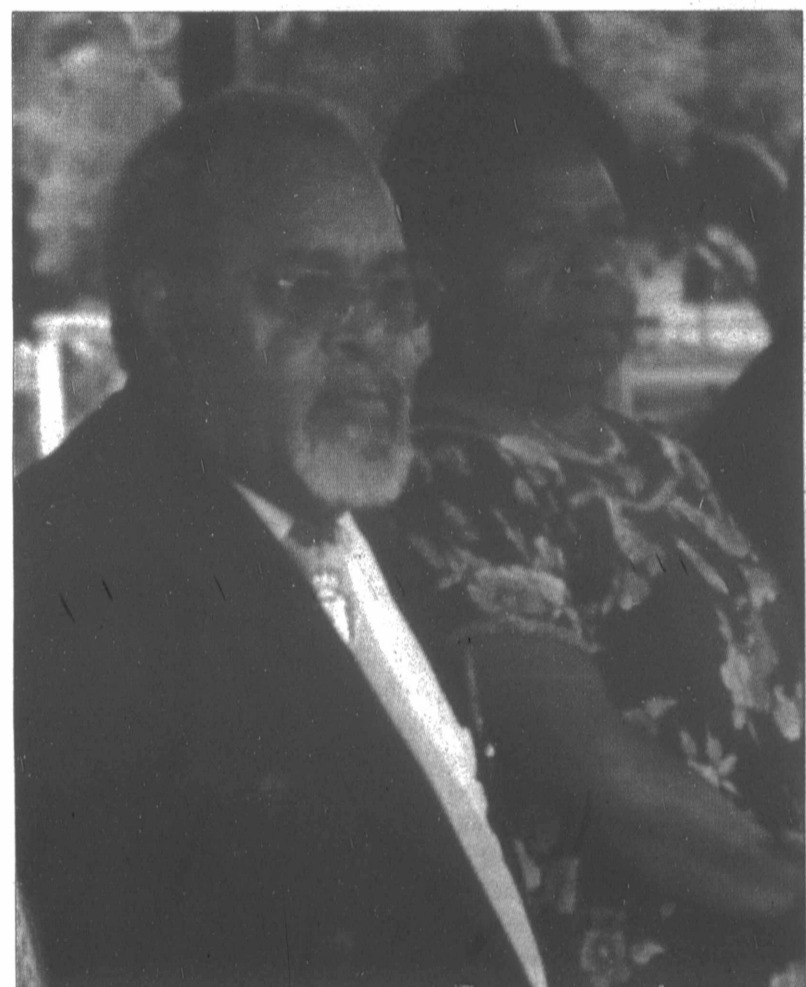

He commended the Ombudsman Commission and other corruption restraining authorities on the tireless efforts in combating this disease.

FOREST RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT

TIMBER MARKET INFORMATION SYSTEM

DURING the June-August, 2004 period the Timber Marketing Information System (TMkIS) promotional team from the Papua New Guinea Forest Authority (PNGFA) and the Eco Forestry Programme (EFP) visited and conducted introductory presentations to provincial clients at Alotau, Madang, Lae, Kimbe and Port Moresby.

The turnout in all the provinces was good except for Port Moresby. For some, the TMkIS promotional presentations were obviously an eye opener and drew a lot of interest, especially from clients who were either directly or indirectly involved in small timber businesses.

Furthermore, those who came commended the team for developing and putting together the much sought after timber marketing information - that many said was long over due.

A participant from the Investment Promotions Authority makes a point during the Port Moresby presentation. On his left is the Daltron representative who is assisting with the Timber Marketing Database.

In addition to the discussions on our timber marketing services, other subjects that frequented discussions in all provincial client presentations included client registration, monitoring and awareness, consistency of supply, quality control and sustainable forest management practices. Clients highlighted some grey areas that would require some clarification by the PNGFA such as the Forest Industry Participant (FIP) regulations and their capacity to monitor small scale activities.

During the follow-up Technical Advisory Group meeting in Port Moresby, members agreed that organizations that wish to use the services offered by the Timber MkIS should first register and provide some basic background information (in addition to FIP registration). It was proposed that the TMIC put in place registration forms for timber producers, buyers and sellers which should be linked to the Timber Marketing Database system now being developed with Daltron Technology.

Whilst consistency of supply, sustainable forest management and quality control were the ultimate responsibilities of timber businesses - members of the Technical Advisory Group agreed that timber marketing services must be designed to assist where possible.

For example, the Start & Improve Your Timber Business (SIYTB) programme should provide training and/or awareness on these three important topics. Also, individual producers could form associations to assist with consistency of supply, sustainable forest management and quality control problems.

Biosafety Policy Formulation Seminar : Sec Dr Wari Iamo

National Stakeholders will hold the second workshop next month to discuss the draft biosafety policy and regulatory system for Papua New Guinea.

Secretary of the Department of Environment, Dr Wari Iamo said it is hoped that the second workshop will provide the framework to address the concerns regarding the use of modern biotechnology.

Dr Iamo said the policy will take into consideration PNG's specific needs as an emerging exporter of Genetic Engineering Modified Organism (GMO).

He said the Biosafety issue is of global concern because once a GMO is released into the environment, it is impossible to recall, retrieve, eliminate, alter or remedy its effects.

The term Biosafety describes the range of measures that are taken to confidentially determine or predict whether a genetically modified organism can be used safely without it causing any harm to the environment or to human health.

He said a concerted effort was now being made at the international level for countries to come to an agreement to develop their domestic guidelines and regulations to regulate the movement and trade of GMOs.

Dr Iamo said that the main elements of the Biosafety framework was to develop a regulatory regime to handle notifications and requests for export and import of Genetically Modified Organisms and a mechanism for public participation in the decision making process.

Papua New Guinea recently received a grant under the auspices of the United Nations Environment Program (UNEP) and the Global Environment Facility (GEF) in which funding was made available to assist countries to develop their National Biosafety Frameworks in the preparation for the coming in to force the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety.

The Secretary also announced that Cabinet will soon ratify the signing of Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety to protect Papua New Guinea's interest in this emerging technology.

Sir Nombri appointed Chairman

Former Ambassador and senior statesman, Sir Joseph Nombri has been sworn in as Chairman of the Correctional Service Promotions Board by Principal Magistrate Iva Koppo.

Senior officers of Correctional Services throughout the country have welcomed the appointment of Sir Nombri.

Many members have waited for many years for promotions to come their way because the promotion board in existence did not have a chairman.

After his swearing in, Sir Nombri said he will carry out his duties without fear and favour.

Also present at the swearing in ceremony was the Minister for Correctional Service, Hon Posi Menai, Commissioner Sikani, Deputy Commissioner, Policy and Administration, Giru Mohiau and senior members of the Correctional Service Executive Team.

HEAD OF STATE : GOVERNOR GENERAL

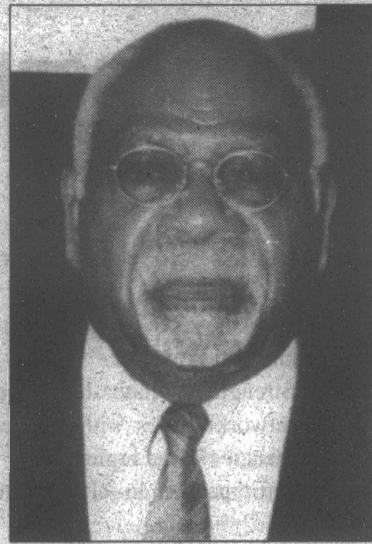

Bangladesh envoy in PNG

Governor General, Sir Paulias Matane, has said Papua New Guinea look forward to entering into cooperative arrangements with Bangladesh to increase the level of bilateral trade, investment and technical cooperation for the mutual benefit of our two countries and its peoples.

Sir Paulias said both countries enjoy warm and friendly relations since the establishment of diplomatic relations in 1982.

"It enables both countries to further cooperate with each other on issues of bilateral interests and also in the multilateral for a healthy and prosperous nation.

Papua New Guinea has made good progress in promoting these principles.

Thailand ambassador presented credentials

Governor-General Sir Paulias Matane welcomed her Excellency Mrs Atchara Seriputra, Ambassador-designate of the Kingdom of Thailand to Papua New Guinea when he received her credentials at the Government House in Port Moresby on September 21, 2004.

In accepting her credentials, Sir Paulias said that the two countries have shown a great deal of respect to each other since establishing a good relationship.

"I am indeed pleased to note that since the establishment of diplomatic relations between our two countries in 1976, the level of friendship and cooperation have reached new heights and have further strengthened through various cooperative arrangements," said Sir Paulias.

Sir Paulias said the frequent visits of political leaders and senior government officials as well as private sector representatives have fostered mutual understanding.

He said the recent visit of the Vice Foreign minister of the Kingdom of Thailand, Dr Kasemsuvan to Papua New Guinea from 6-8 June 2004 has added impetus to fostering this unique relationship between the two countries.

"Indeed, our cooperation in trade, economic, investment and technical areas as well as in fisheries remain as potential prospects for mutual development".

He urged both countries to swiftly facilitate the conclusion of the investment promotion and protection agreement, the double taxation treaty and the development and technical cooperation agreement in order to foster cooperation in trade, economic and investment between the two countries.

He said this would indeed ensure increased cooperation between the two countries on all aspects of their bilateral relations.

"We will however, continue to require the support of friendly countries like the Kingdom of Thailand as a development partner during this difficult period of recovery," Sir Paulias said.

Sir Paulias assured the Mrs Seriputra that the government of Papua New Guinea stands ready to render all the support and assistance she may require in fulfilling her tasks on behalf of her Government and people.

CP Governor Alphonse Moroi courtesy call

Hon. Alphonse Moroi

Governor General, Sir Paulias Matane, met the Central Province Governor, Hon Alphonse Moroi as his guest on a courtesy visit early this month.

Mr Moroi was the first Governor to visit Sir Paulias at the Government House after having been sworn in as the 8th Governor General of Papua New Guinea.

Sir Paulias raised concerns that for years the Central Province especially the Koitabuan whose land accommodates the Nation's capital city of Port Moresby used by business houses and successive governments have looked down on unplanned settlements and have forgotten to properly compensate the landowners for the use of their land.

"The capital city is built on customary land and government after government have forgotten to improve the living conditions as well as actively involving the Central Province people in meaningful developments and projects," Sir Paulias told Hon. Moroi.

He also raised concern about the Central Provincial Government for taking no initiatives in the past like improving rural infrastructures and promoting historical sites for tourist attraction.

He took examples of the few sites such as Yule Island where the first Catholic Missionaries landed in the Central Province, which still exists,

● Rautoka in Rigo District where the first London Missionary Society settled inland 78 years ago to establish the church

● And Basiatabu also a historical site for the establishment of the first Seventh Day Adventist church in the province.

GG congratulate PNG athletes from Athens

The Governor General Sir Paulias Matane has praised the improved performance of our four athletes at the 28th Olympic Games in Athens.

Our female weightlifter, Dika Toua is ranked sixth in the world since the Athens Games and is number one in the Commonwealth in the 53kg division and has set an Oceania record in the female 53kg division.

Hurdler, Mowen Boino has set a new national record of 50.97 seconds, which is better than his previous national record of 51.38 seconds at the Sydney Olympic Games in 2000.

Sprinter, Mae Koime reduced her previous national record of 12.14 seconds at the Gold Coast athletic meeting in Australia to 12 seconds at Athens.

Swimmer, Ryan Pini also set a national record in the 100 metre butterfly of 53.26 seconds in Athens.

"On behalf of the government and the people of Papua New Guinea I congratulate you for the fine performance and to welcome you back home from the 28th Olympic Games," Sir Paulias said.

He said: "Your improved performance and setting of the national records and personnel best times has done us very proud of your achievements."

"Your sheer hard work, determination, and commitment has made you superb athletes and great ambassadors of our country," Sir Paulias said.

Sir Paulias also thanked the PNG Sports Federation, which co-ordinated the trip and the many corporate sponsors who helped paid for the trip, and who continuously assist financially our sports men and women in the country.

"I urge the athletes and many Papua New Guinean sports men and women to strive in fulfilling your dreams and goals and be good role models for the upcoming generation," Sir Paulias said.

Appeal for donations for Cheshire Homes

Governor-General, Sir Paulias Matane has appealed to business houses and the community for donations in cash and kind for the Cheshire Home.

This was the Governor General's first visit to Cheshire Home since he became its Patron and was taken on a tour of the facilities of the Home.

Sir Paulias expressed sorrow when he noticed that there are very lucky people moving around and walking around while some of our people are disabled".

He commended the Board of Management, Volunteers, trainers, and careers for their assistance at the centre.

The Governor General was later brief on the operations of the centre by administrator, Solo Damien, Board Chairman Mr Stephen Kassman, other board members and the volunteer staff.

The Cheshire Home was established in 1967 to provide residential care to the physically and mentally handicapped children and also provide physiotherapy, special education, basic health care and the self-help programs for the disabled children.

At the beginning of this year the home begun community rehabilitation program.

can be developed into possible tourism sites with guest houses, picnic areas, marine conservation areas for tourists," Sir Paulias said.

Sir Paulias also praised the Governor for supporting and encouraging rice growing in the Central Province, which is successful with overwhelming support from overseas experts and the people of Central Province.

He encouraged the Governor to continue resourcing the 12 Corporative Societies in the province which has found market for coconut milk gel in Manila and Canada.

"I encourage you to continue doing what you are doing for the people, especially working together in helping Hon. Puka Temu in the rehabilitation of feeder roads in the Central Province. In doing so you have helped your villagers to have success to markets in NCD", Sir Paulias said.

PNG participation in APEC investment mart lured more investors

PNG attracted many visitors to its booth during the 4th APEC Investment Mart in Thailand recently, the Prime Minister, Sir Michael Somare, has said.

The National Executive Council has endorsed a report from the PNG delegation to the 4th APEC Investment Mart in Thailand.

He said PNG's participation at such expos and road shows was vital to attract more overseas investors into the country.

"Being a member of the Asia Pacific Economic Co-operation (APEC), PNG is obliged to implement programs and activities of APEC at the national level to enhance the process of APEC in liberalising trade and investment in accordance with the Bogor Declaration within the precinct of the 21 APEC economies", Sir Michael said.

The expo coincided with the APEC Leaders Meeting, which our Prime Minister attended.

The 4th APEC investment Mart was held in Bangkok from the 16th- 21st October 2003.

Sir Michael said many visitors to the booth were interested in investing in petroleum, forestry, fisheries and the agricultural sectors:

The team's objective at the expo was to:

- Market PNG as a potential investment destination
- Strengthen bilateral relations and networking ties with counterpart agencies in the region and
- Participate as an APEC member.

The PNG delegation was led by representatives from the Investment Promotion Authority and accompanied by members from the departments of Petroleum and Energy and Trade and Industry, National Forest Authority and the Industrial Centres Development Corporation.

Corporate Plan launched for ICCC

Acting Commissioner and Chief Executive Officer of the Independent Consumer and Competition Commission (ICCC), Mr Thomas Abe, has launched the Commission's three year Corporate Plan.

Mr Abe said the Vision of the ICCC is to foster an informed and fair PNG Market and encourage fair trade and promote competition in PNG market.

"Our Mission, which is consistent with the ICCC Act of 2002, is to enhance the welfare of the people of PNG through encouraging fair trade and protecting consumers, promoting a competitive and informed market, regulating the prices of declared goods and services and declared industries where competition is restricted, and developing the ICCC into an effective and efficient regulatory agency," Mr Abe said.

He said not many people know what the ICCC is about and one of the three priority areas in the Corporate plan in the next three years is to inform all stakeholders about ICCC Act and the roles and functions.

This is linked to the second priority area which was to ensure business comply with the ICCC Act 2002, he said.

"We have come along way in just a short period of 16 months, in successfully establishing the organization as well as putting some important runs on the board.

He said we have recruited some very good technical and senior staff from both the government and private sectors.

Last year ICCC initiated some major pricing reviews on the declared goods and services and declared entities. These include review of prices for the fuel, flour, water and postal services.

The review on fuel prices was completed and the final report released in August this year, Mr Abe said.

He released the Commission's Corporate Plan at a Media workshop held at the Commission's Head Office in Boroko on September 23rd.

The workshop was conducted at the initiative of ICCC to inform the media about the work of ICCC.

BOUGAINVILLE RECONSTRUCTION

National Gov't committed to Bougainville Peace Process: Sir Peter Barter

Sir Peter Barter

The Minister for International Relations, Hon. Sir Peter Barter, has advised Bougainville leaders that Cabinet has approved the National Government's contributions to meeting the costs of the Bougainville Constituent Assembly.

"The Bipartisan National Committee will play its part in progressing consultations over the draft Bougainville constitution as soon as it receives the legal and other technical advice it requires and finalises its views on the Third draft and the Report prepared by the Bougainville Constitution Commission (BCC).

The Minister met with Bougainville Governor Hon. John Momis, Bougainville People's Congress President Joseph Kabui and senior officials of the Bougainville Administration in Buka on 26th August, after the Cabinet meeting in Kokopo.

A number of other ministers and senior officials travelled to Bougainville with Sir Peter Barter for the meeting. They included the Ministers for Environment and Conservation, William Duma, Higher Education, Hon. Brian Pulyasi, Transport and Civil Aviation, Hon. Don Polye, and Mining Minister Hon Sam Akoitai. The party also included the former Attorney General and Secretary for Justice, Francis Damem.

The Minister said, "The willingness with which so many Ministers rearranged busy schedules in order to travel to Bougainville and meet with Bougainville leaders is a clear sign of the priority the Government gives to Bougainville.

"It demonstrates the strength of our shared commitment to implementing the Bougainville Peace Agreement.

"It underlines the close personal interest Ministers take in facilitating the transition to autonomy.

"The Government is committed to playing a full part in developing our joint creation by co-operating in finalising the Bougainville constitution, preparing for early elections and working with the autonomous Bougainville Government to realise the potential of the Bougainville Peace Agreement.

"This includes encouraging the development of an economy capable of sustaining autonomy, and providing people with opportunities to improve their lives".

The Minister said "Cabinet's decisions on funding for the Bougainville Constituent Assembly and other critical steps on the way to establishing the autonomous Bougainville government show that the Government is determined to honour the commitments contained in the Bougainville Peace Agreement and the law giving it legal effect as part of the National Constitution.

The assistance Australia, New Zealand and other foreign aid donors provide through the Governance and Implementation Fund (GIF) is a valuable source of additional support for the partnership between the National Government and Bougainville leaders on which progress towards autonomy depends.

All of the parties appreciate the help we receive from our friends. The Government is doing everything possible to play a full part in implementing autonomy.

We look to our Bougainville partners to ensure that the National Government can meet its responsibilities by being allowed a reasonable time to consider the BCC's Third Draft and Report properly, and opportunity for the Bipartisan National Committee to make its views known when the Bougainville Constituent Assembly meets.

Progress with weapons disposal has been impressive.

Bougainville leaders have been putting a great deal of effort into promoting public awareness and encouraging former combatants to destroy the remaining guns.

A major weapons destruction ceremony is planned for Tinuputz this week.

It is critical that the process continues, and reaches an early conclusion so that preparations for holding elections can move into high gear, and voters, candidates and observers are all confident that the elections are both free and fair.

Japanese artist presents portrait of Sir Michael Somare

A Japanese war veteran group has handed over a portrait of the Prime Minister, Sir Michael Somare.

Vice Minister assisting the Prime Minister, Hon Martin Aini received the portrait worth 3 million Japanese yen on behalf of Sir Michael who was away in Samoa at that time.

Thanking the group for the portrait Mr Aini said the gift would further strengthen the bilateral ties between Japan and Papua New Guinea.

"On behalf of the Prime Minister, let me pass his sincere gratitude for this gift, I hope this gesture will strengthen the relationship between our two countries," Mr Aini said.

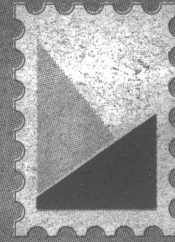

The group, known as the Japan-Solomon Association, delivered the portrait on behalf of the artist Seisui Akiyama.

The painting was done when Sir Michael visited Japan for the Palm Summit last year.

The group returned to Tokyo on 7th August after visiting several war sites in the country including Bougainville.

Double Tax Agreement between PNG and Thailand

Second round of negotiations for a double tax agreement (DTA) between PNG and Thailand held recently in Port Moresby concluded with a high note. The treaty negotiations were finalised on Wednesday 25th August 2004, following the initialing of the minutes by both heads of delegations; Ms Betty Palaso, Commissioner for Tax (IRC) and Mr Suri Buakhom, Deputy Director General (Thailand Revenue Department).

A six-member delegation from the government of Thailand was in Port Moresby from 22nd to the 26th August 2004, and held talks with senior government officials from the Internal Revenue Commission and Foreign Affairs. The three days of negotiations went smoothly as most of the debatable issues were already finalised following the first round of talks last year.

The decision to negotiate for a double tax agreement between both governments came about following a bilateral visit to Thailand a couple of years ago by Dr Alan Marat, during his tenure as deputy Prime Minister. This was intended to complement a proposed Investment Promotion and Protection Agreement (IPPA) that was being mutually considered between both countries.

A DTA basically encourages and promotes investment in the country, which in turn creates opportunities for employment. It also overrides domestic income tax laws and provide for concessional tax rates that are beneficial to investors from Thailand.

Having a DTA also ensures avoidance of double taxation of investors operating in either country. It also allows for exchange of information between both countries on taxpayer issues, which would otherwise be difficult to obtain.

The finalised DTA will be required to go before Parliament for ratification before the actual signing takes place between both governments. Meanwhile, PNG already has double taxation agreements with Australia, Malaysia, UK, China, Fiji, Canada, Singapore, Germany and Korea. The tax treaty negotiations with Indonesia concluded last year has yet to be ratified.

Wabag by-election writ issued - GG

The Governor-General Sir Paulias Matane, has signed the writs for the by election for the Wabag Open electorate.

The seat was left vacant after the National Court ruled that the results of the 2002 National Parliament Elections for the seat was declared null and void.

Chief Electoral Commission Andrew Trawen said under section 106 of the Constitution, a by-election has to be held to fill the casual vacancy.

He said in accordance with Section 74 of the Organic Law on National and Local level Governments that a writ be issued for holding of the by election.

Central bank paid K50 million dividend

The Bank of Papua New Guinea has paid K50 million as payment of 2003 dividend to the Government of Papua New Guinea on September 14, 2004.

The Governor of Bank of Papua New Guinea, Mr Wilson Kamit when addressing the occasion of the payment said that besides the core functions of managing monetary policies, supervising the financial system, ensuring an efficient payments system, promoting macroeconomic stability and economic growth in Papua New Guinea, the Central Bank also has a special relationship with its shareholder, the Government.

"Our relationship with the Government involves acting as its banker and financial agent, as the official depository, perform general agency functions, liaise with international financial institutions and provide short-term advances to meet wrongful cash-flow", the Governor said.

Mr Kamit said the Bank of PNG has a Board that ensures that the Governor and management perform in fulfilling the duties so prescribed as well as strive to make profits and declare dividends to its shareholder.

"I am pleased to reiterate that the Central bank has a very dynamic and vigilant Board, which ensures that the bank's policies and operations are prudent and sound. The membership of the Board is prescribed under the Central banking Act with representation from civil and business community with explicit governance responsibilities", Mr Kamit said.

Mr Kamit said the Central Bank performed well due to its performing good governance, making sure that procedure and policies are followed.

The Board insists on performing good governance and management and staff to maintain excellent work in their jobs. This has been supported by the implementation of new systems in the Central Bank, and on-going capacity building and training of staff.

The Governor said the Board approved the net profit available for payment, as dividend to the Government is K50 million after the transfer of K18 million to the reserve funds of the bank of PNG. This appropriation is consistent with the Bank's policy adopted by the Board in September 2002 to build its reserve funds to 10 percent of assets at risk in order to meet future contingencies that may arise in the bank's operations. At the end of December 2003, the amount of assets at risks was K2,600 million, while the balance in the reserve funds was K125 million. The Minister has agreed to these profit appropriation.

Mr Kamit reminded the Government that the Bank's financial result would likely be affected by the current low interest rate environment and high liquidity situation faced since the beginning of the year.

He said whilst we have rebuild our foreign reserves, our interest earnings on them would be also affected by the low interest rates overseas and the appreciation of the kina exchange rate.

"It is therefore important that this dividend payment should not allow us to rest on our laurels and pat ourselves on the back. Whilst we should take time to celebrate achieving such a result, we must also be mindful of our on-going duty to the Government and to the nation", the Governor said.
