

<https://library.ucsd.edu/dc/object/bb63190548>

Students Occupy Chancellor's Office

Crowds of students stormed and occupied the office of a University of California, San Diego chancellor for six hours Friday after a noose was found hanging from a bookcase in the main library (Goodman, 2010).

Goodman, Amy (Interviewer). Following String of Racist Incidents, UC San Diego Students Occupy Chancellor's Office. (2010, March 1). Democracy Now. Retrieved from https://www.democracynow.org/2010/3/1/following_string_of_racist_incidents_uc

Students wearing red handkerchiefs over their faces blocked the doors to Chancellor Marye Anne Fox's offices for hours, while more students inside chanted "Real pain, real change." The students remained inside the office several hours later (Students storm UC San Diego chancellor's office, 2010).

Students storm UC San Diego chancellor's office. (2010, February 26). NBC News. Retrieved from http://www.nbcnews.com/id/35610103/ns/us_news-life/t/students-storm-uc-san-diego-chancellors-office/#.W10hWvLMkb4

Collection Tell Us How UC It: History of Student Activism Timeline

Project website <https://lib.ucsd.edu/tellushowucit>