

1992 Campaign Season: Politics & Public Policy Experts

June 30, 1992

1992 CAMPAIGN SEASON: POLITICS & PUBLIC POLICY EXPERTS

PROFESSOR STEVEN ERIE, (619) 582-3966 or (619) 534-3083. Department of Political Science. Expertise: California politics, racial, urban and minority politics; Welfare reform; Politics of growth, redevelopment and infrastructure; Political leadership, esp. in Los Angeles and San Diego; San Diego mayoral race.

PROFESSOR DANIEL HALLIN, (619) 534-2356 or (619) 528-8022. Department of Communication. Expertise: Media coverage of political campaigns; Political sound bites of presidential election; presidential debates; Impact of media coverage on public opinion.

PROFESSOR GARY JACOBSON, (619) 534-4295 or (619) 455-6913. Department of Political Science. Expertise: U.S. senate and congressional elections; Presidential campaign issues; Politics of budget deficit; Impact of term limits; Problems of divided government.

PROFESSOR SAMUEL KERNELL, (619) 534-4988 or (619) 792-5122. Department of Political Science. Expertise: The presidency; Media coverage of political campaigns; Presidential campaign issues.

PROFESSOR ARTHUR LUPA, (619) 534-5799 or (619) 793-0593. Department of Political Science. Expertise: Ballot referendums and initiatives; Redistricting; State-wide bonds; Voting behavior; Voter surveys.

PROFESSOR SAMUEL POPKIN, (202) 574-5200 (c/o Greenberg Lake Pollsters, Washington, D.C.) Department of Political Science. Expertise: National, state and local elections; Public opinion and voter behavior; Presidential campaign strategy. Note: Professor Popkin is working in Washington, D.C. this summer as a consultant to the Clinton campaign. He can be reached at the above Greenberg Lake number through September 1992.

Media Contact: Dolores Davies, (619) 534-5994

(June 30, 1992)