

Daycare Benefit Concert to feature Eric Christmas, Sam Hinton, Cecil Lytle and Bert and Nancy Turetzky

October 14, 1980

Performances by Eric Christmas, Sam Hinton, Carol Plantamura, Cecil Lytle and Bert and Nancy Turetzky will be featured in a concert at the University of California, San Diego on Sunday, October 26.

The first annual Daycare Benefit Concert will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Mandeville Center Auditorium. Admission is $5 for the general public and $3.50 for students and members of the armed forces. Tickets are available at the UCSD Central Box Office, 452-4559.

The program will offer a wide variety of entertainment from some of the university's best-known artists. Actor Eric Christmas will be master of ceremonies. He will give a reading during the concert and present some of the children from the center. Pianist Cecil Lytle and soprano Carol Plantamura will perform seven love songs by German composer Hans Eisler, and a selection of folk songs will be sung by Sam Hinton. Bert and Nancy Turetzky will present "The Last Contrabass in Las Vegas."

In addition, James Skelly, a graduate student in the Department of Sociology, will present a reading from Dalton Trumbo's "Johnny Got His Gun." Mary Bogart-Skelly, a graduate student in the Department of Music, will perform a selection of contemporary folk songs. Graduate student actress Meredith Alexander will perform a series of monologues taken from works relating to women, marriage and society,

Funds raised at the benefit will be used to buy educational supplies and expand the UC San Diego Daycare Center. The center currently serves 32 children, and 130 names are on the waiting list. Only the children of UC San Diego students are accepted at the center. The staff hopes to raise funds in the future to open the center to the children of staff and faculty members. The center currently receives funding from the university's registration fee committee and the State Department of Education.
