Two receptions will be given this month in honor of Dr. John H. Moxley III, new vice chancellor-health sciences at the University of California, San Diego and dean of the UCSD School of Medicine, and Mrs. Moxley.

Dr. and Mrs. Clifford Grobstein will host a cocktail reception for Dr. and Mrs. Moxley from 4 to 6 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 8, at University House, the official residence of UCSD's chancellor on La Jolla Farms Road.

Dr. Grobstein is the new vice chancellor-university relations at UCSD and former dean of the School of Medicine.

Approximately 60 members of Community Associates, School of Medicine (CASOM), a group of community members closely involved with the medical school, and the medical school administrative staff will attend.

Special guests will be V. Wayne Kennedy, assistant vice chancellor health sciences, and Mrs. Kennedy and Margaret Jackson, assistant to the dean of the School of Medicine. The two officials came to UCSD with Dr. Moxley from the University of Maryland where he was dean of the School of Medicine.

UCSD Chancellor and Mrs. William D. McElroy will honor Dr. and Mrs. Moxley at a larger reception Friday, Sept. 14, which will include the medical school faculty; the Chancellor's Club, a group of individuals in the community who support the university, and CASOM.

More than 400 persons are expected at the event set for 5 to 7 p.m. at University House.

The Moxleys and their children, John, 10; Brook, 9, and Mark, 4, are now settled in the La Jolla Farms home they purchased this summer.

Dr. Moxley received a bachelor of arts degree from Williams College and was graduated from the University of Colorado School of Medicine.

Mrs. Moxley attended the University of Colorado and is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and the Junior League of Baltimore.
