Representatives from more than 40 California colleges and universities will be on campus to provide information to prospective students when the University of California, San Diego hosts its yearly College and University Information Fair on October 15.

The fair will be held in the Recreational Gym, next to the Main Gym, from 7 to 9 p.m. Admission is free and all transfer students and San Diego area high school students and their parents are welcome. More than 800 students attended last year's event.

The fair, now in its fourth year, is sponsored by the UCSD Educational Opportunity Program/Office of Relations with Schools. UCSD's Financial Aids Office will also put on workshops during the evening.

"The comprehensive, up-to-date information available at this college fair program can help students make better choices of schools when they apply for admission," according to fair coordinator Shirley Balbin.

Among the estimated 45 colleges to be represented will be UCSD, UC Berkeley and UCLA along with San Diego State University, California State University at Pomona and Palomar College.
