

Public auction of unclaimed items

October 24, 1969

Hey Mister, would you like to buy a bongo drum? Maybe a black mini dress? I can give you a good deal on a first-class Jew's Harp.

Sound strange? It wouldn't if you had attended last year's public auction of unclaimed property at the University of California, San Diego.

If you missed the auction last year, there will be another one on Saturday, November 1. So brush up on your bidding techniques.

The Office of the Campus Materiel Manager will conduct the auction at Building 409 (the Receiving Department), Matthews Campus. The goods may be inspected from 8:30 a.m. until 10:00 a.m.. The auction will begin at 10:00 a.m.

W. M. Burgeson, Materiel Manager, and his staff will be calling for bids on such items as books, all types; clothing, men's, women's and children's; many slide rules; wallets and purses; jewelry, including broaches, rings, earrings and necklaces; watches-, glasses, prescription, sunglasses and even contact lenses, and a whole host of miscellaneous items, including a pipe, tennis balls, umbrellas, bicycles, briefcases, lunch boxes, pens, a truck tire and wheel, radios, and a water pistol.

There is truly something for everyone at the annual UCSD public auction.
