

Karl Wolfram to perform at Sherwood Hall October 25

October 2, 1963

Karl Wolfram, German singer and lutenist,, will present a program of folk songs in La Jolla on Friday night, October 25.

Wolfram will appear at Sherwood Hall, Art Center in La Jolla, under the auspices of the Committee for Arts and Lectures of the University of California, San Diego.

Last year he performed before a standing-room-only audience at Sumner Auditorium, on the UCSD campus.

Wolfram accompanies himself on the lute and the theorbo, an antique form of lute with two necks. His repertoire is enormous, ranging from German folk songs of the fifteenth century through the Baroque period and modern songs.

Tickets for the event will cost $1.50. They are available from the Committee for Arts and Lectures, University of California, San Diego.
