

Press Conference: "Summer Study on Post-Apollo Lunar Science"

July 7, 1972

As the attached advance explains, some 40 specialists in lunar science will assemble at UCSD beginning Monday, July 10 for a five-day conference on the current state of knowledge of the moon.

Many of the world's leading figures in lunar science are scheduled to attend.

The press conference will feature members of the conference executive committee, including:

Dr. J. W. Chamberlain, Director, Lunar Science Institute
Dr. Robert Phinney, Princeton University, Conference Chairman

Dr. John Adams, Fairleigh Dickinson University, Co-Chairman for Geology and Geochemistry

Dr. Paul Coleman, UCLA, Co-Chairman for Lunar Experiments

Dr. Nafi Toksoz, MIT, Topic Leader, State of the Interior

Dr. G. J. Wasserburg, Cal Tech, Topic Leader, Lunar and Planetary Evolution

Dr. R. M. Walker, Washington University, Topic Leader, Interaction with the Interplanetary Medium

Dr. Eugene Shoemaker, Cal Tech, Topic Leader, Evolution of the Lunar Surface

These and perhaps other experts are scheduled to be on hand for the conference.
