

Principal Speaker of UCSD 93rd Charter Anniversary named

February 17, 1961

Sir Charles Darwin, scientist-grandson of the author of "The Origin of Species", will appear as principal speaker when the University of California, San Diego, celebrates the University's 93rd Charter Anniversary.

A famous physicist in his own right, Sir Charles is coming from England to deliver Charter Day addresses at three of the University's campuses: Davis, Riverside, and San Diego.

The ceremony will be held at Sherwood Hall, Art Center in La Jolla on Friday evening, March 24.
