

Benjamin-Palcic Elected

Jeff Benjamin and Mike 'Heavy' Palcic survived a run-off with the Waxman-Butler ticket Wednesday, and will assume office, along with the other elected AS officials, on May 21 at the annual Installation Banquet.

The run-off was necessitated after both Benjamin and Heavy failed to receive the necessary majority on the first ballot by some 40 votes. The final percentages were 57% for Benjamin, who succeeds Tom Shepard as AS President, and 55% for Heavy, who assumes the office of AS Vice-President.

The turnout for both elections was extremely light, with not more than 33% of the eligible voters having participated. With an undergraduate population of 2600 at UCSD the highest total of votes for any one office was 943.

The senators who were elected outright in Monday's election, having received the necessary majority of votes of their respective constituencies were James Magill, upper division senator; Cindy Neilsen, Revelle senator; Leonard Bourin, Muir senator and Steve Ishmael, Muir senator.

In Wednesday's run-off Paul Kaufman defeated Borden Covell for lower division senator and Mark Elson triumphed over Roger Showley for third Muir senator position.

The vote for the other two Revelle senatorial positions was so evenly split that only one candidate, VanValkenburg, was eliminated in the Wednesday run-off. Tom Peifer was re-elected, but a second run-off was necessitated between Bruce Morden and Fred Greensite. Voting in that contest will take place today in the Revelle plaza.

Art Lujan was running unopposed for the newly-created position of Head Cheerleader. He was elected but, in a rather unusual development, some 114 votes were cast for other write-in candidates. Tom Baer received a substantial number of votes for the position, and there were scattered votes for Jack Pancake, Ronald Reagan, and Provost Saltman.

The votes in the various referendums and opinion polls have not been counted, as the voting is continuing through 5:00 pm today. If either the athletic or student center referendums are to have any binding effect a 60% turnout of undergraduates and graduate students is necessary.

Senate Impasse Leads to Brief Takeover of Registrar

Wednesday afternoon, UCSD was the rare scene of a bold demonstration of student power. Following the frustrating Academic Senate meetings, about fifty students, led by members of Black Students' Council and Mexican American Youth Association, occupied the Registrar's office in protest to the apparent inability of the faculty to act without delay on the proposed Lumumba-Zapata College.

After their walkout from the Academic Senate meeting in HL Aud., members of BSC and MAYA clustered around the fountain in the Revelle plaza with some of their faculty and student sympathizers. They discussed what was happening in the meeting and what their response should be. Several possible courses of action were proposed.

About the time that the senate meeting was in a short recess, the students disbanded. They gathered again at 5:30 pm in the grassy quad facing the fire station on the Matthews Campus, as had been decided upon an hour before at the Revelle fountain.

At this time several black and brown students announced their decision to occupy the Registrar's office and asked all those who supported them to join in this action. About 50 persons then marched towards the building and entered the office after an unidentified person had smashed the glass in the door.

The crowd that gathered around the building grew, some standing immediately outside the office at the request of those inside, who had asked that "those who support us but do not want to come inside" show their sympathy in this manner.

While the occupation of the building was taking place the Academic Senate was proceeding in its deliberation of the hybrid resolution proposed by Verrone of the Med. School. They were informed of the take-over, proceeded in their discussion, and approved the measure.

After the meeting had concluded Dean Murphy invited those who had supported the measure to proceed to the Registrar's office to inform the students of the action taken. So, at about 6:15 a contingent of faculty members with Murphy at its head was seen marching towards the office.

However, the first faculty members to arrive with news of the Academic Senate meeting were Dr. Carlos Blanco, Professor of Spanish Literature, and Dr. Watson, Assistant Professor of Chemistry. They have been closely associated with BSC and MAYA in the past and were permitted to enter the office through a window.

The resolution that had just been passed was read to the demonstrators and discussion ensued as to its significance. Dean Murphy arrived and sought admittance, but was informed that Blanco and Watson were already in the process of briefing those inside.

While the demonstrators inside were deliberating as to what course of action they should pursue, the resolution that had been passed was read to the crowd and a graduate student attempted to explain what had been happening at the Senate meeting.

Finally, the demonstrators decided to vacate the building by a vote of 29-23. As all the actions had been taken as a group, those who wished to stay were persuaded to bide by this decision.

A major factor in the decision was the message that had been relayed to those inside concerning their status as regarded violations of university regulations. Dean Murphy had made it clear that, as of that time, he knew of no such violation, with the exception of the breaking of the door. Furthermore, he didn't know who had committed that act, so he wouldn't be able to prosecute anyone. He gave them his word that if they vacated the premises there would not be any disciplinary action.

Later, in a press conference, Murphy stated that he was bound by his word and would not renig on what he had said. When asked by reporters why the students had taken such action he replied that it was probably because of "a deeply felt sense of frustration" that resulted from what appeared to them to be "a parliamentary game."

In a statement distributed to the student body yesterday BSC and MAYA explained their actions. It appears that they felt that their demands had been met to some extent in the resolution passed by the Senate. This was cited as the reason for the leaving the building.

However, BSC/MAYA qualified the statement by adding: "It should be understood that the passing of the resolution has been a significant advance, but we still do not have Lumumba-Zapata.

The occupation of the building took place at 5:45. The students were in the office for 80 minutes. Outside of the broken glass door no actual damage was done, although the office was somewhat disarrayed afterwards.

Chancellor McGill was on a plane at the time and could not be reached for comment.

MAYA-BSC STATEMENT

Due to the lack of ability of the Academic Senate to address itself to our demands, MAYA and BSC walked out of yesterday's senate meeting. The senate insisted on going through their parliamentary acrobatics. This lack of progress necessitated another course of action in the struggle for Lumumba-Zapata College. The taking of the registrar's office was this course of action. BSC, MAYA, and other supporters of Lumumba-Zapata left the building when it was learned that the Academic Senate had met our demands. It should be understood that the passing of the resolution has been a significant advance, but we still do not have Lumumba-Zapata.

Rumper, Machan Debate on Thurs.

A public debate on capitalism and socialism will be held next Thursday in the Revelle cafeteria. Tibor Machan, a student at UCSB working on a Ph.D. in philosophy, and Herman Rumper, a student at UCSD, also working on a Ph.D. in philosophy, will discuss the basic philosophic issues underlying capitalism and socialism.

Machan, who is being brought here by the UCSD Students of Objectivism and UCSD-YAF, is described as an objectivist-libertarian. He has written articles for "Barron's" and "Freeman".

Rumper has been involved with radical politics on this campus and could be called a member of the New Left.

The event is scheduled for Thursday, May 15 at 8:00 p.m. in the Revelle cafeteria. It is free to UCSD students. The public is invited and there will be an admission fee for them.

'Fiesta de la Gente' Begins

Bonfire;

The burning of "El Viejo Prejuicio" will take place at 7:30, Friday, May 23, in a cleared area east of the Gym. The Fiesta Queen, the girl winner of the Beauty and the Beast contest, will light the bonfire structure; thus signifying the beginning of the Fiesta de la Gente.

Only the general UCSD community is invited to this activity. After the bonfire has burned to completion, approximately 1 hour, there will be a plaza dance in the Revelle Plaza.

This campus-wide event is to begin at about 8:30 pm in the Revelle Plaza. We plan to have both a Mexican band and a local rock group supplying music. Decorations include a huge pinata to be broken by the students. Saturday, May 24

Today is the Fiesta to which all of San Diego is most cordially invited. The carnival activities begin at 1:00 pm with the opening of a multitude of booths on the Revelle Plaza. There will be food booths, game booths, and cultural exhibits.

Authentic Mexican foods will be supplied by Old Town's famous Casa Blanca; enchiladas, tacos, tamales, tostados, Spanish rice and other popular dishes. Our UCSD Coffee Hut is providing a booth which will sell Mexican candies (dajetas), sweetbread (pan dulces) and the traditional corn (maiz) on the cob.

At 1:00 pm there will be a Mariachi Performance by the famous Oscar Amezcua, and Mariachis will be constantly strolling the plaza all afternoon, playing your favorite Mexican tunes upon request (if you can speak Spanish?).

At 2:00 pm Estudiantina de la Paz, a children's singing group from Tijuana will perform.

The official welcoming ceremony will take place at 3:00 with dignitaries from Tijuana, San Diego and the university to speak briefly. The ceremony will end with the release of hundreds of balloons, and an official pinata breaking.

Ballet Folklorico will perform at 4:00 pm.

The grand performance to culminate the day's lively activities will be a concert by the Baja Marimba band. Tickets will be sold previous to the date of performance.

Oscar Amexcua, Magic Violin and Ballet Folklorico, will supplement this evening performance which promises fantastic entertainment to appeal to all age levels. The concert will be held at the UCSD Gymnasium, and should be over by 10:30 pm.

More Votes Needed in Referendum

The student center referendum requires a vote of 60% of the students to be validated. The total vote now stands at about 50%. If the student center is to become a reality you must add your vote today. Also on the referendum ballot are the issues of recruitment and athletic aid. In addition a run-off for Revelle senator between Fred Greensite and Bruce Morden will be held.

Academic Senate Meetings Heighten Student Confrontation

By Paul Emus

The two Academic Senate meetings this week proved to be not only its typical arena of confusion and frustration but also a theater for confrontation and crisis. Meeting in the HL-Aud., an unusually large attendance of faculty discussed the proposed Lumumba-Zapata College with many students considered a "parliamentary game" or "academic exercise."

The following is a chronological description of the main events of the meetings leading up to the student walk-out and the passage of the Verrone resolution:

 MAY 6 *****

The meeting on Tuesday began with the usual hassle over student observers. Chairman Walter Monk insisted upon only allowing 28 seats aside from the eight for the L-Z negotiating group. Dr. Schultz challenged that there were more than 28 observers, a comment which drew an amusing remark from Prof. Kirby that "You've just pulled the trigger!" In any event, the threat of recess moved out the excess students.

Third College Provost Rappaport reported on the five meetings between the eight members of the planning board and eight members of BSC/MAYA. Rappaport at this point presented the resolution which had been produced by the committee (see text).

In the discussion which followed BSC/MAYA were called upon for their feelings on the Rappaport Resolution. Azzan Davis of BSC responded after Prof. Schultz again challenged the legitimacy of this representation. Calling for a "first rate institution relevant to our needs...not just your needs, Davis said that the new FTE allocation system "insures that the interest of minority students are served."

"I claim that the reason for student unrest is that you have not given students a voice." He further said that "the minorities effectively and legally" voiced their views "in a meaningful, significant rational way" only to be met with "breaking the rules." Israel Chavez, a representative of MAYA, commented on the need for a 50% voice "which we feel is adequate."

Prof. Simon called upon the departments to encourage the recruitment of faculty "committed to the aims of progress." Concerning the students asking for a strong voice in the university for change, Simon said that "we are on the verge of an experiment and any experiment carries a certain amount of risk." Prof. Kohn commented on the resolution assuming a "major emphasis...to meet the needs of black and brown students." Kohn pointed out that "the Provost would be weak" and that "students by nature are inexperienced in educational policy."

Prof. Halstrom, chairman of the rules committee, looked at the legal aspects of the proposal considering "the standing orders of the Regents," and insisted that the faculty be the main governing board instead of the proposed Board of Directors. At this point, the faculty, in their true parliamentary tradition, moved for a motion to table the previous resolution, rose to points of order or information, and were so confused that one faculty member remarked: "I'm completely in the dark, I don't know what's going on."

After postponing the Rappaport resolution until 5:15 pm, Prof. Jamison quipped: "Just what are we to do between now and 5:15?" McGill was concerned about the character of the discussion and that by procedural devices it could be construed as trying to avoid the issue. This resulted in a proposal of "a committee to advise the committee" and Prof. Marcuse walked out.

Prof. Schultz again rose on a point of information questioning the minutes on the negotiation committee, and Prof. Baron remarked that "we shouldn't discuss these in this large senate" indicating the general feeling of being snowed under with rhetoric.

At this point Azzan Davis rose to say that "Dr. Rappaport has entirely misled us" concerning the Academic Senate. Davis referred "all the silly little games that you men with PhD's play" and further called the faculty "immature." He then threatened a walk-out unless some immediate action was taken.

Professor Kirby pointed out that "we must force the bureaucracy to accommodate us" and that "we have to stop this quibbling and figure out how we as an Academic Senate can change this."

Prof. Frazier played around with some illegals and moved his resolution as a substitute motion before the house. More points of order were raised. The parliamentarian was consulted and he gave a barrage of technicalities which confused everyone even more. The Chancellor moved for a ten minute recess.

Readjournaling, the observers were kicked out again. Davis then addressed the Senate stating that there is "no reason why we should negotiate with people that treat us in this manner." Another black student commented "BSC/MAYA won't sit and listen to more parliamentary bullshit."

Prof. Broch noted that "what I've observed is a surrealistic performance of very sober people...while Rome is burning," and called for a reversal of priorities.

BSC/MAYA informed the Senate that they would no longer sit down with the negotiating committee because they felt that it had been shown to have no power; they charged the faculty with "playing games with us."

After tooling with an amendment to the amendment, and filibustering in what Dr. Arnold called the "Senate Tradition," a motion was finally carried to end debate. The Rappaport Resolution carried by 87-34 and the Senate recessed for 24 hours.

Wednesday's Academic Senate meeting was initiated by the Blanco Amendment (see text) which approved the first five points of the Rappaport Resolution with an added understanding that legal avenues would be explored to accommodate any problems. An alternate resolution was presented by Walter Kohn, Chairman of the Committee on Committees.

In discussing his resolution, Kohn said: "this university does not work in any manner which can give a yes or no answer." "I am very aware that we may not have a third college at all," said Kohn, later qualifying that however, we do want one.

Davis replied: "We did not ask for any yes or no answers to particular demands..." but we asked for you "to come forward and give us the necessary assistance." "It's important at this point that we stop bickering with each other and sit down...to get something done." Davis then read the BSC/MAYA

This resolution was in response to the action taken by the Senate on Wednesday.

At this point three BSC members burst into the Auditorium. One exclaimed: "you're jiving", why don't you get down to business." Azzan Davis then explained to the Senate members that such a reaction was due to the fact that "we live in a different world than you. Our brothers and sisters are dying in the ghettos while you are playing games." Davis stated that what was vital to them was only an academic exercise to the faculty.

At 4:30 pm the eight BSC/MAYA negotiators walked out, followed by most of the student observers as well as several faculty sympathizers. The mood of the senate changed considerably at this point. As Prof. Jackson noted, everyone was seeking the best way to break the deadlock. The parliamentarian commented that "rules of order or efficiency of debate, not for parliamentary morass," and an attempt to recess for ten minutes was not passed. There was also a move on the floor to table everything, thus wiping the slate clean.

Finally, Professor Verone, of the UCSD Medical School, presented his resolution, which was ultimately the one approved by the body. After he had introduced this resolution Provost Rappaport was called upon to make some comments. He supported the resolution and indicated that it was "crucial" for BSC/MAYA to accept it. "The Third College must undergo a radical metamorphosis, which I am prepared to participate in," Rappaport said.

He indicated the necessity of having an equal number of students and faculty governing the college and expressed his "sympathy with minority education."

Rappaport referred to the original plans for Third College. He indicated that these plans would have been satisfactory, but that they were not historically needed. He conceded that a college of the type proposed by BSC/MAYA was the type needed at this point in history. He implied that although he was very much interested in seeing LZ through to completion, he realized that he might not be equipped to be the provost of such a college.

Professor Kirby arose to draw attention to "a sense of real crisis." Suggesting that perhaps it was already too late, and charging that the Senate had been "farting around" for much too long, he insisted upon the urgency of doing something. Prof. Simon concurred with Kirby, claiming that the Senate was acting passionately and like a bunch of children.

Dean Murphy then announced that 50 student were sitting in the Registrar's office and called upon the senate to give him something to go to the students with.

The Veron resolution was then passed by a vote of 94 to 5. Chairman Monk later remarked that he felt the resolution would have passed anyway.

Murphy asked any concerned faculty members to walk over to the Registrar's office with him. Prof. Saville expressed a desire that the university could be run by parliamentary democratic procedure rather than "listening to insanity."

As the faculty left the meeting, this reporter ironically noted that Chairman Monk and several others had no idea where the Registrar's office was.

EDITORIAL An End of Patience

No longer content merely to report on Lumumba-Zapata College, our paper is compelled to demand its implementation. Successful establishment requires the support and cooperation of the faculty and the administration, but at no time should the ideals of LZC be compromised. These ideals include a firm, tangible university commitment to minority education, as well as meaningful student participation in college government.

The events of the last week, however, must be closely examined. The fundamental question at this point is whether the Academic Senate can begin to think, talk, and write Lumumba-Zapata.

It has ceased to be a question of confronting minority demands, carving them up, and transplanting them into the Third College. The Third College Plan, as enlightened as it may have been, must submit to the needs of our society.

Compounding this problem, or rather the result of it, was the parliamentary morass created by the Academic Senate. Attempting to act like a 150 member committee, the senate displayed a maddening amount of confusion. Abody its size must delegate trust and power to its committees, and then ratify, with a minimum amount of discussion, their recommendations.

It is important that the committee formed under the Vorone resolution enjoy this trust, and that its function be one of implementing LZC, rather than providing topics for general debate.

Symptomatic of the senate action, as well as of the lack of student power, was the seizure of the Registrar's Office. Nothing is quite so pathetic, nor as potentially dangerous, as a group of frustrated, angry students milling around in the plaza. We saw it after the Regents meeting in November, and we saw it again last Wednesday.

Real student power, real participation in college government, would go far toward siphoning off such fury. LZC, we suggest, is an attempt to build a college structure that wouldn't have to be torn down nor even attacked by angry students.

The action also points out the need for the average student to become informed and concerned; and for concerned students to consider carefully their tactics. This editorial has tried to stress how important LZC is for every student, and we think that massive, overwhelming student support would make the seizure of buildings unnecessary.

As for the action itself, the vote to evacuate the building, reportedly 29 to 23, demonstrates the protesters lack of unity. While it may be argued that it influenced the senate, it cannot be denied that it was somewhat haphazard and badly coordinated. It is unfortunate that perhaps such an action was necessary to show a lethargic faculty that the students meant business. Now, hopefully, real communication can begin that will allow students and faculty to achieve a solution that both can live with.

RAPPAPORT RESOLUTION

- The Board of Directors shall have the powers of the present provosts.
- In addition, faculty FTE's shall be allocated to the college at large. The board shall allocate the FTE's to those departments represented in the college. The board shall have final approval of the appointments to the college faculty by the departments.
- The governing body of the college shall be the Board of Directors and shall consist of three students, two faculty members and the provost.
- Each member of the Board of Directors shall have one vote.
- The students who serve on the Board of Directors shall be chosen in a general election of the student body of the college to serve for a twelve-month term.
- The student representatives can be recalled at any time by a majority vote of the student body of the college.
- The Senate approves the above five points of the Rappaport resolution, with the clear understanding that whatever are legal technicalities will be resolved either by following present University regulations or trying to change those regulations whenever possible.

VERON RESOLUTION

- The Senate recommends that the Provost of Third College add to and modify the Provisional Faculty of the Third College to ensure that its members be committed to the educational needs of minority students.
- In order that planning for Third College can continue without delay, the Senate recommends that a new Executive Committee for the Third College be immediately established and given Academic Senate status. Its eight members shall be selected by the Provost from the new Third College Provisional Faculty for their commitment to the principles underlying the BSC/MAYA proposal and in consultation with BSC/MAYA. They shall be approved by the Third College Provisional Faculty.
- The Senate further recommends the immediate establishment of a Third College Planning Committee of the following composition:
 - Eight students and eight faculty members
 - The student members shall be appointed three by BSC, three by MAYA and two by AUS/UCSD members committed to the Lumumba-Zapata College concept
 - The eight faculty members will be the new Executive Committee for the Third College
 - Four faculty members shall be designated by the Planning Committee one each representing the Senate Committees on Educational Policy, Budget, Admissions and Rules and Jurisdiction, as advisors to the Planning Committee.
- The Planning Committee is charged with developing a detailed master plan for Third College, in accordance with the resolution passed by the Academic Senate on May 6, 1969. This plan shall be in compliance with University regulations. When, in the course of planning, legislative changes are required, actions aimed at such changes should be initiated. If legal obstacles remain which prevent the full enactment of desired objectives, an accompanying report should describe those objectives and recommend necessary further legislation.
- During the course of its work the committee shall regularly consult with the Third College Faculty and the four Senate committees represented on it.
- If a situation should arise in which it is necessary for the Planning Committee to consult the entire Senate directly it can do so. Prior to such consultation the Committee shall, through the Chairman of the Division, obtain the opinion of the appropriate Senate committees. These committees shall report their comments to the Senate.
- The master plan shall be submitted to the Third College faculty and the Committee on Educational Policy before presentation to the Division for approval.
- Given the nearness of quarter end, a substantial outline of such master plan shall be presented for Senate endorsement within two weeks.

Why is Camaro the pace car again?

Official Indianapolis 500 Pace Car, Camaro SS Convertible with Rally Sport equipment and new Super Scoop hood.

Because it's the Hugger.

Camaro SS has been chosen to be the Indy 500 pace car for the second time in three years. That's because it has what it takes.

Engine choices start with a standard 300-hp 350-cu.-in. Turbo-Fire V8 and run up to a 225-hp 396-cu.-in. Turbo-Jet job. There's even a new Super Scoop hood you can order. It opens on acceleration, pouring cooler air into the engine for more go power.

The SS version of the Hugger grips the road with wide-oval tires on 14 x 7-inch-wide wheels, beefed-up suspension and power disc brakes.

The transmission comes linked to a 3-speed floor shift. If you want still more, there's a 4-speed Hurst shifter available.

Indy's tough. So's Camaro SS.

When it comes to pacesetter, it's pretty clear that Camaro knows its way around.

Start setting a pace of your own. At your Chevrolet dealer's now.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

ATTENTION STUDENT LOAN BORROWERS: Do you know that you can have up to 100% of your NDEA loan cancelled if you teach? Do you know that you are entitled to have up to three years of your NDEA loan payments deferred while serving in the military service, Peace Corps or Vista?

If you have an NDEA, Regents or other student loan and are in your final quarter at UCSD, we would like to discuss with you these and other provisions concerning the repayment of your loan.

Please contact Mrs. Alberta Jackson, Loan Collection Office, Building 204, Matthews Campus, Extension 2616, for an appointment.

I had language courses on audio-visual equipment at UC Santa Barbara, but the V.B.S. is different.

It was evident to me the first day that learning vocabulary this way is more interesting and stimulating than most people would believe, and I measured twelve years' improvement in ten weeks.

I know I have a greater sensitivity to the meaning of words. The surfing industry uses its own vocabulary, and specific theories are sometimes hard to get across. I find now that with a better understanding of language I can re-state ideas if I am not understood at first.

Since I completed the course my interest in language and reading in particular has sharply increased. I read every night.

Lexicon offers a practical and proven plan for vocabulary building using Non-Linear Systems' new audio-visual equipment.

The fifteen programs range from elementary school level through the highest levels and are the results of 46 years of research.

Each student starts at his own level and proceeds at his own pace. The average improvement has measured in excess of four years (or grade levels) for the ten week course.

Open Mon./Thur. Until 8 — Fri./Sat. Until Exhaustion
