CHILDREN'S CHRISTMAS PARTY

The OCEANIDS will hold their annual Children's Christmas Party on Saturday, December 14th from 3-5 P.M. at the South Cafeteria of Revelle College. The program is designed to appeal to university children from about age 3 to approximately 3rd grade. Mrs. Jean H. Filloux will give a puppet show based on Kipling's "The Elephant's Child". Several members of the Madrigals will sing Christmas songs for the children. Other activities will include Christmas tree decorating and a dance around the tree.

Co-chairmen for this year's party are Mrs. George E. Backus and Mrs. Francis T. Haxo. Committee members include: Mrs. Gerhard N. Schrautzer, Mrs. Frederick R. Jameson, Mrs. Warren L. Butler, Mrs. Osmund Holm-Hansen, decorations and Mrs. Richard Rosenblatt, refreshments.

"HOLES IN THE WALL" A SUCCESS

The People to People money making event of the year was very successful. The "Holes in the Wall" tour raised somewhat more than the $300 which was its goal. The tour was conducted on two days, November 15 and 16, for 120 people. There 15 drivers the first day and 7 the second day (some devoted drivers served both days). In addition to being taken to 5 or 6 fascinating places, the guests were given an invaluable list of other out-of-the-way spots in San Diego and Tijuana that they can explore at their leisure.

Funds raised will be used for scholarships to enable students from "Ciencas Mirinas" in Ensenada to continue their studies at SIO.

UCSD AROUND THE WORLD

Seventy-one new students from other counties enrolled for the fall quarter at UCSD, making a total of 233. There are one hundred seventy-five people from other nations on the faculty; post-doctoral list; working as research fellows or employed on campus. Nations represented are: Argentina; Australia, Austria; Belgium; Canada; Chile China; Columbia; Costa Rica; Cuba; Ecuador; England; Finland France; Germany; Greece; India; Indonesia; Iran; Ireland; Israel; Italy; Japan; Jordan; Korea; Luxembourg; Mexico, Netherlands; New Zealand Nigeria; Norway; Pakistan; Peru; Phillipines; Scotland; South Africa; Soviet Union; Spain; Sweden; Switzerland; Thailand; Turkey; United Kingdom; Uraguay; United States of America; Venezuela; Vietnam and Yugoslavia.

FLEA MARKET A SUCCESS by Doris Simon

A very successful sale was the result of the many hours, days and even weeks which so many of our members and friends spent creating and assembling the merchandise for the OCEANID Gift Booth at the UCSD Hospitals Auxiliary's Flea Market. Although final figures are not yet available, the gross income approximates $600.

On Sunday, November 17, under sunny skies and a bright umbrella, the boutique items of our booth (one of over twenty booths at the Flea Market), attracted many buyers at the Mission Valley West Parking Lot. Our merchandise consisted mainly of card table covers, tote bags, colorful burlap flowers, potted poinsettias, sweater and glove bags, Christmas tree ornaments, aprons, bibs, sweaters, pillows, hand-puppets, bookmarks, soap turtles, and beanbags as well as hand cream. Among comestibles were strawberry guava jelly, rumballs, pickles and sour dough bread-all made especially for this occasion. Hand-made pottery, candle-holders and many other gifts including shells were donated. Also donated were Torrey Pine seeds which were sold in conjunction with the Torrey Pine notepaper and Season's Greetings Cards which were designed especially for us by Nancy McMaster to whom we are deeply grateful.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank each and everyone of the many contributors who worked so diligently on the preparation and execution of our successful event. My sincerest gratitude goes to Fran Tyler, whose tireless efforts, weeks of labor and magnificent cooperation, made our OCEANID affair such a profitable one. Working with Fran has been a true pleasure, and the cooperation received from a large portion of our membership has been most gratifying. Thank you, one and all!

In summary: The sale paid for our $100 sponsorship of the University Hospital Gift Shop, which will bear a placque with the OCEANIDS name as one of its sponsors. Our treasury should be increased by more than $150. The $20 parking lot fee, too, was recovered by our sale. The Hospitals Auxiliary will receive all proceeds (about $150) from the sale of the Torrey Pine Cards.

Editors note: OCEANIDS wishes to thank Doris Simon and Fran Tyler for their enthusiasm and many hours of hard work which made possible the terrific success of our booth at the Flea Market.

GERTRUD WEISS DIRECTS HEALTH STUDY

Dr. Gertrud Weiss, known to most OCEANIDS as Trude Szilard, was recently appointed project director for a health study of Southeast San Diego. This study will be carried out under the Comprehensive Health Planning Association of San Diego and Imperial Counties with a grant from the California State Department of Public Health. The study has begun a search for existing data which includes a search for and a compilation of all surveys made in the area in recent years. The study will then obtain the information not otherwise available thru a sample household survey which will be conducted with the help of the UCLA Survey Research Center.

"An important aspect of the survey is community participation. Area residents will be used as interviewers," said Dr. Weiss. "We expect to determine what the health needs are at present, and also how the residents of the area perceive their needs and what they want done about it." The results of this study will be given in a report which will make recommendations for a comprehensive health care system for Southeast San Diego. The methods and findings will be presented in such a way that they will be applicable to other urban poverty areas throughout California.

Since many agencies are working in the area and are in need of current health information, the study is being carried out in close cooperation with the Model Cities Program (which has recently received a federal grant to operate in the same area), the Economic Opportunity Commission, the Regional Medical Program, the S.D. County Health Department, the S.D. State Service Center, the County Medical and Dental Societies, the UCSD School of Medicine and others. Therefore, a health committee is now being established which will include representatives from the above mentioned agencies and also residents living in the area. It is anticipated that the study will be completed in one year. It will be conducted from offices in the Comprehensive Health Planning Association and the State Service Center (which is located in Southeast San Diego).

Dr. Weiss, a native of Austria, received her medical degree from the University of Vienna. She also received a degree in Public Health from Columbia University in New York. After working as district health officer in the New York City Health Department for several years, she moved to Denver where she was associate professor of Preventive Medicine at the University of Colorado. She later went to Washington D.C. where she worked for the Pan American Health Organization.

More recently, Dr. Weiss has served as consultant to the Public Health Service and is affiliated as research associate with the Department of Community Medicine at UCSD. In November she was appointed to the Task Force of Health and Welfare of the San Diego Urban Coalition.

UCSD ARTISTS SHOW EAST AND WEST by Mary Elliott

Over East as well as here in California art galleries and museums are exhibiting the work of teachers in the Visual Arts Department of UCSD. These painters and sculptors have had, are having, or will have shows in New York, Los Angeles, Newport Beach, and La Jolla during the current season.

Newton Harrison's "shaped paintings," for example, are on exhibition at the La Jolla Museum through December 6. John Baldessari is in a group show at the Richard Feigen Gallery in New York, and his work was shown recently at the Molly Barnes Gallery in Los Angeles. Last month, in New York, Paul Brach's paintings were exhibited at the Kornblee Gallery; in march, Miriam Shapiro's one-man show of paintings will open at the André Emmerich Gallery in New York. And a joint-retrospective exhibition of works by the two artists, Brach and Shapiro, is now being organized to open at Newport Harbor Art Museum in January and at La Jolla Museum in March.

Currently showing at the UCSD Art Gallery are examples of the work of the four artists mentioned above together with paintings by Harold Cohen and constructions by Michael Todd. All are members of the Visual Arts faculty. The exhibition runs through December 14.

CHRISTMAS VACATION CAMPING

A recently published book Beaches of Baja by Walk Wheelock, La Siesta Press ($1.95) will be of interest to those who yen for a camping trip. The author, who spends half of his weekends in Baja, knows well about the beaches and roads he describes. They are all within 250 miles of the International Border. A previous publication by publisher Walk Wheelock and authored by John W. Robinson is Camping and Climbing in Baja.

These are excellent additions to guide books for Baja campers, many of whom have seen Gerhard and Gulick's Lower California Guide Book.

GIFT HINT

A fabulous gift for Christmas is the newly published centennial volume The University of California, A Pictorial History ($12.50). Scripps Institution and UCSD have wonderful treatment from the authors, Albert G. Pickerell and May Dornin. Contributors from this campus who worked on this volume are Paul West, Helen Raitt, Sam Hinton, and Marston Sargent. A pictorial history of all the campuses is given. The book is published by the University Press.

CAMPUS CHRISTMAS CONCERT

A Christmas Concert will be presented by the students and faculty of the Department of Music, University of California, San Diego, on Saturday, December 7, at 11:30 p.m. in the Matthews Campus Recital Hall. The concert is under the direction of Alan Johnson, a graduate fellow, who will also perform as soloist in Alvin Lucier's "Action Music for Piano, Book I."

The concert will include music for a variety of performance media; A group of "Chansons," performed by a quartet composed of members of the UCSD Muir College Chamber Chorus, Nancy Roblin, director; "Two Songs" by Charles Buel, graduate student composer, Bonnie Barnett, contralto, and Betty Wong, piano; Morton Subotnick's "Tarot," for large ensemble, directed by Thomas Nee of the UCSD faculty; and "Decay," a theater piece by UCLA faculty composer, Douglas Leedy.

A program of music for brass quintet will precede the concert, under the direction of Jack Logan, a graduate fellow.

The concert is free and open to the public.

BOOK DISCUSSION GROUP by Juliet Saunders

In November this interest group of the OCEANIDS began its year of reading with a sortie into the Mexican literary scene. The novel, Death of Artemio Cruz, by Carlos Fuentes became not only a focal point for a discussion of modern Mexican writing but also of Mexican history, politics and the current recurrent theme, student unrest. As has become a tradition in this group, we drew upon the international character of our membership and hope to continue to do so, more or less often as the opportunity presents itself. We are planning to recreate, if possible, an exciting meeting held several years ago on Japanese fiction, this time with an emphasis on the recent Nobel Prize winner, Kawabata (Snow Country and A Thousand Cranes). And in January, Simone de Beauvoir's autobiography, Memoirs of a Dutiful Daughter will give the French contingent its voice. For December, Americana will have to work its way through the writings of Norman Mailer, whether to purge or reinforce prejudices. Any or all of his writings are up for discussion; may we suggest a look at his latest book condensed in the November issue of Harpers. We welcome all readers, not only those who want to talk about what they've read but those who want to listen about what they've read. We need your suggestions on choice of books.

Our meetings have been changed to the second Tuesday of each month; the forthcoming session, December 10th at 9:45 a.m., will be held at Odette Filloux's, 8402 Sugarman Drive, La Jolla. May we welcome as of this coming January our new chairman, Sally Kroll (459-1322) and her co-chairman, Odette Filloux (453-0749). Georgette Price and I have greatly enjoyed working together at these posts for the past years, particularly because this group is (by nature!) such a stimulating one.

STATISTICS

The University of California's full enrollment is 98,725 students on the nine campuses. San Diego-3,825; Berkeley-28,132; Davis-11,453; Irvine-4,123; Los Angeles-28,997; Riverside-4,563; San Francisco-2,411; Santa Barbara-12,619; and Santa Cruz-2,602.

CHARTER CLASS OF MEDICAL STUDENTS*

Admission of a Charter Class represents the single most important milestone in the development of any new medical school. Although our planning goes back more than four years and we have been operating our downtown University Hospital for almost two years, these beginnings cannot quite compare with the excitement being generated by the prospect of 47 medical students due to arrive at UCSD in September.

Our Charter Class can be characterized as bright (3.4 grade point average on a scale of 0 to 4.0), cosmopolitan (15 colleges outside of and 13 colleges within California), and somewhat weighted to the distaff side (eight women instead of the four expected, judging by the national average). The 47 entrants have been selected from well over 1,000 applicants on the basis of scholastic ability, recommendations by their teachers, and at least three interviews with members of the UCSD faculty. Nineteen of the entrants are from campuses of the University of California, an additional 11 come from other colleges and universities in California, 15 from colleges and universities elsewhere in the United States, and one each from Canada and Switzerland. Only two of the entrants are now seniors at UCSD, although three others are currently engaged in graduate work on our own campus. Of the U.C. campuses, Berkeley and Los Angeles will supply five entrants apiece, two will come from Riverside, three from Davis, and one each from Santa Cruz and Santa Barbara. Two are from San Diego State and seven from Stanford. Interestingly, five will be members of the graduating class from Grinnell College in Iowa, attesting either to high standards at Grinnell or to our academic salesmanship, or, more likely, to both.

The wide variety of undergraduate majors reflects the increasing diversity of interests displayed by students seeking admission to medical school and advises us to provide a highly flexible curriculum to satisfy these broad interests. Although 32 of the 47 students majored either in the biological sciences or chemistry, we also have five who majored in psychology, three in the humanities, two in mathematics, two in engineering, and one each in economics, philosophy, and business administration. Our students range in age from 19 to 29. Two will enter medical school prior to obtaining their baccalaureate degrees, three have already obtained their Master's degrees, and one has earned a Ph.D. Several members of the class have published original work, and others have taken advanced training at such institutions as the Argonne National Laboratory, Scripps Institution of Oceanography, Hopkins Marine Station, and Woods Hole. Quite apart from their formal academic achievements, our entrants show a striking assortment of extracurricular talents, especially in music. Over half the class play musical instruments including the violin, viola, 'cello, french horn, guitar, piano, flute, and clarinet, and several are members of choral groups. We also can claim some poets, track stars, cross-country hikers, and international travelers among the group. Many of the entrants have demonstrated a strong concern for the underprivileged. Several have tutored in ghetto districts of large cities, and others have taken part in civil rights projects in the South,

Seven of our entrants are already married, and four more expect to marry prior to matriculation. Our recruiting efforts helped Cupid to the extent that two entrants from Davis have chosen each other as well as UCSD School of Medecine.

As for their expectations at UCSD, we have ample evidence that the incoming class has been attracted by the novelty of our School and the flexibilty of our curriculum with its emphasis on elective time. Novel features such as the Basic Neurology study sequence now being developed as a national resource by our Department of Neurosciences have attracted some students who plan special emphasis in this discipline.

The study of medicine is expensive, but it has been possible to select our students irrespective of their ability to meet the expenses of a medical education. At least 31 of the 47 members of the Charter Class will be receiving some kind of financial assistance. The University has provided the School of Medicine with 10 Regents' Scholarships and six President's Scholarships, and has authorized two waivers of tuition for out-of-state students. In addition to these University resources, we will also utilize the Health Professions Scholarship and Loan Programs from the federal government, thus meeting about 75% of our total needs from State and federal sources. The remainder of financial assistance has been sought from private sources, including foundations and individuals in the San Diego area, corporations, and national foundations. The faculty itself has established a small fund to meet students' emergency needs.

Exploration of frontiers of medical science, education of students, and care of patients are central purposes of the School. Of these commitments, concern for undergraduate medical students represents the strongest bonding force for all academic programs.

*excerpts from "notes from the Dean's Office" Clifford Grobstein, Ph.D., Vice Chancellor for Medicine and the Biological Sciences, Dean of the School of Medicine.

CRITICS PRAISE UCSD WRITER by Mary Elliott

Reinhard Lettau's new volume of prose/poetry, entitled Feinde and recently published in Germany, is receiving high praise from the literary critics and appraisers of that country. The work will soon be available in other languages since within a week of its German publication translations were contracted for by publishers in the United States, France and Italy.

Lettau is professor of German literature at UCSD, having joined the faculty last year. He was born in Germany, studied at the universities of Heidelberg and Cologne, and took his Ph.D. at Harvard. For a number of years he taught at Smith College.

Obstacles, an earlier work by Lettau, has been published in all major Western languages.

FROM THE GOURMETS

Twenty-five members met at the home of Ahlie and Marge Ahlstrom on November 1 to inaugurate this year's series of Gourmet Dinners. In keeping with the Italian theme of the evening, vermouth cocktails were served.

AQUARIUM-MUSEUM NEEDS DOCENTS

Donald W. Wilkie, Director of the Aquarium-Museum has sent us the following letter:

Help! We need more ladies to assist with our education program for groups visiting Scripps Aquarium-Museum.

Can any of the OCEANIDS help us? Any ladies interested in working with school children and at the same time interested in learning more about oceanography are urged to contact us. They can provide a valuable service to Scripps and the community by joining our docent group and helping to educate our 30,000 yearly group visitors.

SANDY HILL CO-OPERATIVE NURSERY SCHOOL

Select a sunny location where flowers will create an eye-catching display. Avoid steep slopes with loose soil which is subject to erosion. If practical, spade first; or in a large area, plow ground. Then rake or harrow until the soil is pulverized. Should weeds be a problem, the ground should be watered several weeks prior to sowing and the weed seedlings destroyed with a nonsterilant spray. This treatment should be done whether or not the area has previously been cultivated.

Seed should be sown in the fall at the start of the rainy season. Later sowing will result in smaller plants and fewer flowers. With small seed, mix first with fine dry sand to insure more even distribution. Germination will be soon after the first rains, usually needing no further attention. Should rains be lacking, additional watering will be beneficial.

The quantity of seed required for open area is about eight pounds per acre. In home gardens, an ounce will cover about 150 to 200 square feet.

The school was founded 3 years ago by Linda Simon, wife of Dr. Melvin Simon, Biology Department. It is a co-operative, non-profit organization licensed for children aged 2 1/2 to 6 years. Mothers assist the teachers twice a month on a rotation basis; for non-participating mothers tuition fees are 10 % more.

We have children coming from places as far apart as La Jolla and Leucadia; car-pools are available throughout the area. The school is open from 9 am to 12 daily, some children come every day, others 2 or 3 times a week. We have two classes, with a maximum of 10 children in each, two well-equipped classrooms. The school is situated on 9 acres of natural chaparral and we take good advantage of our rural location, with outdoor play, nature walks, and beautiful views out over the ocean.

You are welcome to come and see us in action. Please call me-Margaret Oldman-at 454-6527, to ensure that your visit does not co-incide with one of our frequent outings to places of interest in the area.
