QUARTZ ROCK JEWELRY.

Barrett & Sherwood

Beg to announce the arrival of a celebrated Lapidary Artist, engaged specially in the East for them; the machinery for this exquisite branch of their business is of the most improved and perfect description, being ordered for their establishment here, without any regard to cost. They are now able to cut and test all kinds of precious stones and gems; no longer, therefore, need the curious treasures of our soil and menes remain unregarded or undeveloped. Quartz rock mixed with gold when cut and polished makes the most brautiful and unique style of jewelry. Rings, Pins, Studs, Seals, Cane Heads, Coat Buttons, and a huadred different things, can now be manufactured from it that for beauty of design and elegance of finish would be highly appreciated in the Eastern States rendering them above all other souvenir most superior for Home Presents. Call and see them at BARRETT & SHERWOODS, 161 Clay Street, San Francisco. N.B.—Quartz mixed with Gold, suitable for cutting, purchased at from one to five hundred per cent. above the nett Gold value.

FECTIONARY. PIE AND Cake BAKERY, and RE-RESHMENT SALOON, Long Wharf, bet ween Sansome and Battery streets.

I Will just say to my parrons for their especial henefit, some of woon have ben frequently decoyed by the near imitation of tables, chairs, &c., (as we las my system of tickets) by a house in close proximity to the Fountain Head, (and been as often taken in) that with a little mor attention they can avoid the like occurrence for the tuture, by noticing the numbers on the Candy windows, 47 49, and 78 and 80 on the doors.

The FOUNTAIN HEAD was first established on Jackson street, and was destroyed by fire in September, 1850—re-opened in Clay street, the same month—then again consumed by the same devastating element on the memorable 4th f May, 1851, and was again opened where it now stands, in July following, and was the first public refression ment saloon ever started upon the coast of the Pacific, without intoxicating liquors—not even a glass of beer has ever been sold upon the premises—neither shall be. My friends advised me to introduce the sale of liquor into my business, as they thought it would said much to my profits; my reply was, "I have hands to labor and produce what will sustain like, but not to deal out that which will destroy it." The Fountain Head, as usual, is open from six o'clock in the morning till 12 o'clock st night; so that gentleman who are une able to obtain seats at regular meal hours, may get re reshments, when the crowd is not so great.

S. DIEGO, SATURDAY, Oct. Ist.

"Te Deum Laudamus."

Judge Ames has returned! With the completion of this article my labors are ended; and, wiping my pen on my coat-tail, and placing it behind my sinister ear with a graceful how and bland I shall abdicate with dignity the "Arm-

Divested stairs, and "Boston" stood before us. of its poetry and romance, the objects of our highest admiration become mere common places, like the Herald's chair and table. Many ideas which we have learned to love und reverence from the poetry of imagination as tables, become old sugar boxes on close inspection, and more intimate acquaintance. "Sicbut I forbear that sickening and hacknied quotation.

During the period in which I have had control over the Hemild, I have endeavored to the best of my ability to amuse and interest its readers, and I cannot but hope that my good humored efforts have proved successful. If I have given ofsome to any by the tone of my remarks, I assure them that it has been quite unintentional, and to prove that I bear no mañoe, I hereby accept their apologies. Cartainly no one can complain of a lack of versarities in the last six numbers. In conclusion, I am gratified to be able to state that Johnny's otnice, (the fighting department,) for the last six weeks, has been a sinecure, and with the exception of the atrocious conduct of one miscreant, who was detected very early one morning, in the act of chalking ass on our office door, and who was dismissed with a harmless kick, and a gentle admonition that he should not write his anything from their columns, worthy of name on other person's property, our obtaining immertality in ours.

Interview between "Beston" and "Phanix." The Thomas Hunt had arrived, she lay at the wharf at New Town, and a rumor had reached our ears that "Boston" was on board. Public anxiety had been excited to the highest pitch to witness the result of the meeting between us. It had been stated publicly that "Bostou" would whip us the moment he arrived; but though we thought a conflict probable, we had never been very sanguine as to its terminating in this manner. Coolly we gazed from the smile for my honored admirers, and a window of the Office upon the New with of intense meaning for my enemies, Town road, we descried a cloud of dust in the distance, high above it waved a Chair," in favor of its legitimate propri- whip lash, and we said, "Boston" cometh, and "his driving is like that of Jehu By the way, this "Arm-Chair" is but the son of Nimshi, for he driveth furi-

Newspapers teeming with execrable and silly effusions and filled with the most fearful wood engravings, "got up regardless of expense" or anything else, the contemplation of which was enough to make an artist tear his hair and rend his garmonts. A Yankee named Gleason. of Boston, published the first we believe, calling it "Gleason's Pictorial (it should have been Gleason's Pickpocket) and Drawing Room Companion." In this he presented to his unhappy subscribers views of his house in the country, and Queen Victoria of England, and the his garden, and for aught we know, of father of many of her children. We held the Signers of the Declaration of Inde-"Boston" down over the Press by our pendence." They love pictures in Yannose, (which we had inserted between his kedom; every tin pedler has one on his teeth for that purpose,) and while our wagon, and an itinerant lecturer can alhair was employed in holding one of his ways obtain an audience by sticking up hands, we held the other in our left, and a likeness of some unhappy female with with the "sheep's foot" brandished above her ribs laid open in an impossible manner for public inspection, or a hairless gentleman with the surface of his head Progress, &c. laid out in eligible lots, duly marked and numbered: the factory girls of Lowell, the Professors of Harvard all bought the new Pictorial, (Professor Webster was reading one, when Dr. Parkman called on him on the morning of the murder.) Inspired by his success, old Feejee-Mermaid-Tom-Thumb-Woolly-Horse-Joyce-Heth-Barnum, forthwith got out another Illustrated Weekly, with pictures far more extensive, letter-press still sillier, and engraving more miserable if possible than Yankee Gleason's. And then we were bored and buffetted by haying incredible likenesses of Santa Anna, Queen Victoria and poor old Webster thrust beneath our nose, to that degree that we wished the respected originals had never existed, or that the art of wood engraving had perished with that of painting on glass.

It was, therefore, with the most intense delight that we saw a notice the other day of the failure and stoppage of Barnum's Illustrated News, we rejoiced, thereat, greatly, and we hope that it will never be revived, and that Gleason will also fail as soon as he conveniently can, and that his trashy Pictorial will perish

It must not be supposed from the tenor of these remarks that we are opposed to the publication of a properly conducted and creditably executed Illustrated paper. "On the contrary, quite the reverse." We are passionately fond of art ourselves, and we believe that nothing can have a stronger tendency to refinement in societv, than presenting to the public, chaste of high artistic merit, accompanied by graphic and we'll written essays. Arrivals and News of the Week.

The fine little steamer Thomas Munt, Captain Sampson, arrived at San Diego on Saturday last. She brought a cargo of goods for our merchants and an Editor for the San Diego Herald. Both were much needed

Some twenty emigrants from Texas, two or three with families; have arrived during the week. They have nearly all gone to work on the river. They report four or five hundred more behind, with fine stock. One emigrant is said to have brought through a thorough bred three year old colt, for which he was offered and refused aix hundred dollars at the Colorado river. We don't believe this story, for we doubt very much if there is any one there who has so much money. The Indians at work on the river, beamore. There are at present forty-seven at work, but fifty more are expected early in the week. They are under the control of Mr. Conroy and 'Charles Gage, overseers, and their own Chiefs, Manuelito and old Tomas. Tents have been pitched for them, and with an unlimited supply of beans, and the flesh of bulls, (a burnt offering that they do not despise.), they are as happy as circumstances will admit, and "doing as well as could be expected." This is about the extent of our news, for this week, -- may be something else will turn up before the next, in which case the great "Ames" will undoubtedly publish it. Meanwhile the public are requested to conduct themselves in a virtuous manner, and keep their olfactory organs in a state of cleanli-

A respectable "pusson" of the colored persuasion applied to the overseer of the trenches, on the river, on Wednesday morning, for work. His services were accepted and he labored with ardor until the bell tolled the hour for the noontide meal. Then the workmen, who are mostly from the southern States, objected to his sitting at the same table with them, and they being in a slight majority of thirty to one, he was informed civilly by the overseer that a separate repast would be spread for him, or a proper allowance made if he thought proper to board himself. The following beautiful and tender lines are from the pen of "The Squire." It was with much difficulty that we prevailed upon him to give us a copy for publication, but he finally consented, and whistled to us the tune, a most touching melody, the score of which we forthwith chalked up on our office door. We regret that we have no type to publish the music, as the whole composition is of a Diego, for the production of "first rate character to speedily find its way (if once in print,) to every parlor, boudoir, and drawing room in the country We recommend the lines themselves as a sweet and plaintive composition that we have As Thomas Tennent, of the surveying seldom seen equalled, to the attention of our lady readers.

SECOND EDITION!

Such has been the demand for the back numbers of the "Phonix" Herald that our editions have been entirely exhausted, and we have at last concluded to have the whole of them stereotyped. We have now seven hundred and eighty-two Indians employed night and day in mixing adobe for the type moulds, and as no suitable metal is to be found in San Diego, to east the stereotypes, we have engaged 324,000 ball cartridge from the Mission for the sake of the had. A very serious accident came near occurring in our office this morning, owing to the ignition of a cartridge, caused by friction, resulting from the rapid manner in which it was unrolled, but fortunately we escaped, with slight loss, one of our compositors having had his leg fractured just above the knee joint. The injured member was promptly and neatly taken off by "Phœuix," with a broad axe in 2.46, and the sufferer is now doing well and engaged in setting type with his teeth. Our steam roller presses having failed to arrive (owing to the non-arrival of the Goliah, as a matter of course,) we have been obliged to work off the Pictorial Herald on our solitary Power Press.

"The Press is a tremendous engine." We have two tremendous Indians working at ours, four men remove the papers as fast as printed, and forming a line to the outer door four boys destribute it from the gallery to the excited crowd below.

Nothing is heard but the monotonous houp hink! of the Indians, as in a cloud of steam of their own manufacture, they strike off the paper. CAROLINE CHAPMAN .- We miss the name of Nothing can be seen without but a shower of quar-
