Family: Seedbed of Vocation

The Archdiocese of Port Moresby is having an Open Day on the 12th of month at the Catholic Theological Institute at Bomana. The idea of the Open Day is to encourage and promote vocations to the Church.

The theme for the day, Family: Seedbed of Vocation, sees that vocations within the Church, as priests, Brothers or Sisters are first nurtured within the family. Through the witness of family and their commitment to Jesus Christ and his Church

The Church of today, Sr Virgie Gayon, FSP, said, needs young people who will respond to the challenges of society and work to bring Christ and his values to it, as priests or religious.

The program for the day will begin with a Eucharist followed by a discussion the theme of the day. After lunch there will be games and raffles.

The day will begin at 8.30 am and finish at 3.00 pm.

Sr Virgie said that all those who are interested are most welcome to come.

Vatican website a favourite for hackers too

Zenet News Agency

The Vatican's official Web page at www.vatican.va, inaugurated at Christmas in 1995, today is one of the most visited in the world.

The page, started at the initiative of Vatican press office director Joaquin Navarro-Valls, receives 50 million hits a month, from 150 countries. It also draws its share of attacks by hackers -- about 30 a week.

"Fortunately, we have always defended ourselves very well," said Bishop Claudio Maria Celli, secretary of the administration of the Patrimony of the Holy See, during a press conference Tuesday at the presentation of the Web page's new Vatican Museums HYPERLINK "http://mv.vatican.va/StartNew\_EN.html" section.

"In fact, not all hackers are enemies," the bishop said. He recalled that on one occasion the Internet defense services intercepted a Franciscan who tried a whole night, without success, to break into the papal Web site. "Obviously, he couldn't sleep," Bishop Celli joked. "We often have to defend ourselves also from U.S. engineering students, who want to win a bet among themselves," he added.

The Vatican site contends with more than 10,000 e-mail viruses a month. The site receives 20,000 e-mails per month.

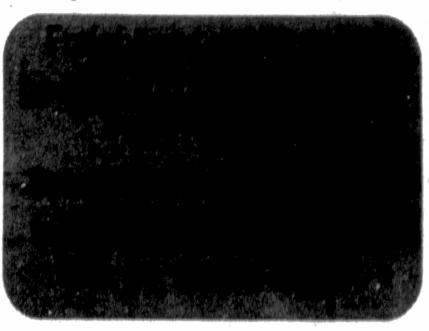

On May 18, the Pope's birthday, 23,000 electronic congratulations arrived. "And we are used to printing and answering each one," Bishop Celli said.

CBC looking at centralizing services

The Catholic Bishops Conference is looking at possible ways by which they can centralize activities, which would benefit the dioceses and other agencies of the Church.

Ben Dobson, of the CBC, said that a massive quantity of goods and services are required and used each month by the Catholic Church as a whole. He said that the Catholic Church is probably one of the largest purchasers of goods and services in the country. The purchasing power, he went on to say, of the various dioceses and agencies of the Catholic Church, is immense and many costs could be reduced if the Church were to work in union.

Mr Dobson stressed that there would be "no central buying" but agreements could be entered into by which members could purchase goods and services at advantageous rates.

At the moment, Mr Dobson said, he was interested in finding out the needs of the Dioceses and the various groups within the Catholic Church and what their priorities are.

Fijian people learnt a bitter lesson from the failed Coups of 1987. When a new coup raised its ugly head in 2000, Fiji's leaders knew exactly what to do. No more blanket amnesties for those who betray the nation, destroy its institutions and bring the nation to its knees. The main Coup leader, George Speight, faced trial, found guilty and was initially given the death sentence later reduced to life in prison. In a more recent court case, a leading Fijian politician and a journalist have both been jailed for life for their part in the Coup. Amnesty was indeed granted to some minor Coup actors but only after serious thought and reflection. Amnesty is too precious a gift to be lightly handed out.

Solomon Islands, on the other hand, gives amnesty out freely, easily without much thought for the good of the nation but with unusual sensitivity to those who led the coup, killed, destroyed and brought the nation to its knees. Does it not matter that we already have extended this great gift three times without seeing much in return. Guns and high powered arms were supposed to have been returned but three different times over an 18-month period, 500 guns still remain in illegal hands. Governments of the day have found it more convenient to simply extend amnesty dates. Politicians are convinced that amnesty is the best, no, the only way to go.

The Kemakeza government once more favors another amnesty. No matter what was solemnly pledged on 31 May last year, that the third amnesty was to be the very last one, our leaders want another amnesty. Here we are back tracking again, treating militants as our top priority rather than the nation's children. What are we saying our kids? Aren't we teaching them: If crimes are really ugly, hurt thousands of innocents but are committed by many Solomon Islanders, then the state will find a way to give full pardon. God forbid that a militant should spend a single day in prison, face court action or compensate those who have lost greatly.

Perhaps the logic behind the latest--this, the fourth amnesty--is a belief that militants will finally hand in their weapons, turn their behaviour around and become solid citizens once again. Perhaps those holding weapons are finally waking up to the tremendous power of a battalion of Australian, New Zealand, Pacific Islander soldiers waiting for them. Let's hope so! But can we not ask our reluctant militants to do more, much more, before becoming eligible for an amnesty?

Melanesian custom and tradition already teach the fundamental steps that must take place when groups of people experience serious communal conflict. Each language area and island group differs in detail on how to reconcile, what steps need to be taken to show deep sorrow and how to renew respect to a fractured community. However, simply handing over a pig or two, sharing strings of shell money and having a sit down feast has been never sufficient. Once there is a genuine reconciliation between those who murdered, raped, tortured, destroyed homes and the victims who lost terribly by these actions, then the village community itself would issue a Certificate of Amnesty to the offender.

A government sponsored amnesty, on the other hand, does none of this. In fact it sends out the opposite message, a political, juridical one. A government-sponsored amnesty officially puts the militant beyond the reach of the law. He no longer needs to seek forgiveness, reconciliation and can go on with life as if nothing important had happened. The victim, however, suffers a second pain. His suffering is seen as nothing, not really worth talking about. A whole country feeling this way becomes a sure recipe for future disasters.

After all, the state has not suffered as much as individual men and women, families and village communities. Doesn't it make sense for those who have lost most to reach down to the bottom of their hearts to forgive and as a show of forgiveness and present a Certificate of Amnesty. Only then, when true reconciliation has taken place with those most destroyed in life and livelihood, would the Certificate of Amnesty be handed over in a public ceremony. Only then, would former killers, rapists, torturers, destroyers be finally relieved of the burden of their crimes. A killer can not forgive himself . . . forgiveness comes from the other.

A state amnesty preserves a militant from court trial and possible jail sentence. But a state sponsored amnesty fails to produce peace of mind, an internal cleansing from the evil deed and the needed forgiveness from the victim and/or family. We have over the past four years cheapened the whole idea of amnesty. It's now almost worthless. Let's re-invest the great gift of amnesty with real value . . . allow victims who have suffered to present the Certificate of Amnesty. Then it means something!

Don't think such a process is too complicated, it would drag out too long or be too hard to administer. Melanesian people are experts in the reconciliation process. They have worked on these ceremonies for centuries. Parliamentarians, you now have a chance to revitalize the country once again. Don't choose the shortcut or cave in to those still holding on to guns. Rise up, re-make our beloved country so that the scourge of brother killing brother is never seen again in our land. Fiji learnt its lesson after suffering three coups. Can we do better and learn from our first?

Amnesty . . . yet again!

The Catechism of the Catholic Church

Bishop Francesco of Goroka writes

Let's continue the exploration of the faith taken from the Catechism of the Catholic Church

Male and female he created them

Man and woman have been created by the power of God. They have a dignity of their own, which comes directly from God and at the same time form a unity by complementing each other. They are partners to each other. The Scripture wants to indicate such unity by saying it is no good that the man should be alone. I will make him a helper fit for him (Gen 2:18).

Human beings in paradise

Adam and Eve were created good and were asked to look after all creation and be in union of friendship with God. They were sharing in the divine life of God. But this harmony at the beginning was to be lost by the sin of our first parents.

The fall of the first parents

Our first parents, tempted by Satan, abused their freedom and disobeyed God and did not trust in his goodness. They chose themselves over and against God. They were created good and able to be fully in union with God, but, seduced by the evil one, they wanted to be like God (Gen 3:5) and in this way they lost the initial goodness offered them by God. This refusal of God is called sin.

The fall

Everyone experiences suffering and evil in life. Not only the physical suffering but also moral evil. The question arises: where does it come from? It is only in the light of revelation that we find an answer to the question. God had a plan for all human beings. He gave freedom to human beings to accept him or not. Freedom is the core of our responsibility to choose to love God and one another or to refuse to do so.

The Scriptures presents how human beings, created for the glory of God, refused to follow his plan and acted against him. The Scriptures present also other beings like Satan and other evil spirits as those who radically rejected God and his plan. It is a choice that makes their refusal of God unforgivable. Satan acts now in the world against the plan of God but he cannot destroy it. God is the one who works for good with those who love him (Rom 8:28). At the end God will be the victorious one.

The consequence of the Fall

Our first parents, and as a consequence all human beings, lost the original goodness offered them by God. Now we all experience the reality of sin, which is disunion, hatred, injustices, rivalry, and at the end, death. Sin is present everywhere in the life of all people and they experience its power in their lives.

With the presence of sin in the world now, a great battle continues on now between good and evil, because human beings are not totally destroyed by the presence of sin. God did not abandon them to the power of sin but in his great love he offers salvation in Jesus Christ. With Christ all human beings now receive a new friendship with God and the power to trust in him.

A question may arise: why did God not prevent the first parents from sinning? Such question has to be understood in the light of Christ. In Christ, the Redeemer of all mankind, salvation now is totally available to all people. The sin of our parents reveals the greater power of God. We may rejoice now, because the world fallen into slavery to sin has been set free by Christ, crucified and risen to break the power of the evil one (GS, 2).

The Catholic Theological Institute at Bomana has celebrated its third

The idea of a CTI Day came about after the restructuring of what was called the Holy Spirit Seminary at Bomana into a distinct academic institution now called the Catholic Theological Institute and a diocesan formation house called Holy Spirit Seminary along with the other religious colleges. It was felt that there was a need to find a special day for CTI as such. The CTI choose the feast of St Peter and Paul (29th June) and, specifically, as their patron, St Paul.

The plan is to have a day without classes close to, if not on, the feast day with a special invited guest speaker to give what has become the Singkai Lecture. This was named after Bishop Gregory Singkai who was involved in the founding of the seminary at Bomana.

In 2001 they had their first annual CTI day with Bishop Belo from East Timor as the guest to give the first Singkai Lecture. It was a special event for the CTI as Bishop Belo had just received the Nobel Peace Prize for his contribution to the creation of the Independent State of East Timor.

In 2002 the second Singkai Lecture was given by Jan Cardinal Schotte, head of the General Secretariat of the Synod of Bishops in Rome who had been responsible for organizing the various synods and in particular the Synod for Oceania. He was in PNG to meet with the Bishops Conference and officially launch the Pope's Post-Synodal Apostolic Exhortation, The Church in Oceania.

2003 is a special year for the Catholic Church in PNG as it is the year of the General Assembly. Bishop Douglas Young is the bishop deputy for this Assembly and so he was invited to give the third Singkai Lecture.

In his lecture he explained that the purpose of the Assembly discussions, that are to involve everyone, is to respond to the Pope's call that we go out into the deep as the disciples were called to leave the shore and go out into the deep waters. The bishop spoke of the need to reach out to everyone to build a communion of faith, to inculcate the Gospel message and to grow in holiness. He spoke of the need for a pastoral plan to renew Christian faith in PNG. Specifically he mentioned the need to face certain issues in the PNG culture: land issues, the practice of sanguma or witchcraft, the question of polygamy.

In his lecture the Bishop expressed the hope that the Assembly discussions would invite lay people to contribute to a better formation of priests in PNG who are servants to their people.

Fr Doug Young giving a speech during the celebrations.

They Said THIS in the Church Bulletin?

Fr Victor svd has a few laughs to share with us.

■ Heavens to Betsy! When you're spreading God's word, it's important to pay attention to commas and spelling and proper phrasing. If you don't, you may end up saying something other than what you really intended. And sometimes the result can be scandalous—or just funny as all get out. The following are excerpts from church bulletins nationwide. Who needs professional comedians when everyday folks are just as humorous?

(Note: You have to read this carefully to catch the funniest mistakes.)

Preach it!

■ The sermon this morning: "Jesus Walks on the Water." The sermon tonight: "Searching for Jesus."

At the evening service tonight, the sermon topic will be "What Is Hell?" Come early and listen to our choir practice.

Suffer the little children

■ Our youth basketball team is back in action Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the recreation hall. Come out and watch us kill Christ the King.

For those of you who have children and don't know it, we have a nursery downstairs.

The eighth-graders will be presenting Shakespeare's "Hamlet" in the church basement on Friday at 7 p.m. The congregation is invited to attend this tragedy.

Sunday School:

■ Children will be led in sinning and Bible study.

The Power of Prayer

■ Remember in prayer the many who are sick of our community.

■ Smile at someone who is hard to love. Say "Hell" to someone who doesn't care much about you.

■ Don't let worry kill you. Let the church help.

■ Remember in prayer the many who are sick of our church and community.

■ After the worship service... This evening at 7 p.m. there will be a hymn sing in the park across from the church. Bring a blanket and come prepared to sin.

■ Bertha Belch, a missionary from Africa, will be speaking tonight at Calvary Methodist. Come hear Bertha Belch all the way from Africa.

A bean supper will be held on Tuesday evening in the church hall. Music will follow.

■ Announcement in a church bulletin for a national Prayer and Fasting Conference: "The cost for attending the Fasting & Prayer Conference includes meals."

■ The peacemaking meeting scheduled for today has been cancelled due to a conflict.

Ladies, Ladies

■ The ladies of the church have cast off clothing of every kind. They may be seen in the basement on Friday afternoon.

Ladies, don't forget the rummage sale. It's a chance to get rid of those things not worth keeping around the house. Don't forget your husbands.

■ Ladies' Bible Study will be held Thursday at 10 a.m. All ladies are invited to lunch in the Fellowship Hall after the B.S. is done.

■ The pastor would appreciate it if the ladies of the congregation would lend him their electric girdles for the pancake breakfast next Sunday.

Peace building workshop

A five-day intensive peace Building workshop was recently held in Lae by Caritas PNG for its Diocesan Development Secretaries and four Executives of the PNG Catholic Women's Federation.

The workshop, the first of its kind to be conducted in PNG by Caritas PNG came out of an earlier similar workshop in Fiji in which the Programme Officer for the Caritas PNG National Office and four of the Diocesan Development Secretaries participated. The Caritas International Confederation conducted the Fiji Workshop for its members in the Oceania Region.

Facilitators at the Lae Workshop were the five officers who had participated at the Fiji Workshop.

"It gives me great satisfaction," said Mr. Tas Maketu, National Director for Caritas PNG, to know that this workshop is being conducted by our very own people who attended a similar international programme only three months ago—and to witness their enthusiastic facilitation at this workshop is even more pleasing."

The Peace Building workshop highlighted that peace was more than just the absence of violent conflict and war. Rather, it is about developing programmes that better address the people's needs and concerns by identifying and transforming the issues of injustice that may be present in the structures and systems of social, political and economic institutions of our country.

The workshop provided a valuable opportunity for the exchange of views on practical approaches to the peace building process and project in PNG. It also provided an opportunity for the Caritas PNG National Office to propose the planning and formulation of a National Peace Building Plan in consultation and coordination with all the nineteen Dioceses in PNG. This national plan will result in more and more of these peace building workshops and programmes, subject to funds being sourced from various donors, being carried out at all levels of the community.

scholarships offered

To mark the occasion of the 83rd Birthday of Pope John Paul II, the World Federation of Scientists has established the John Paul II One Hundred Scholarships Programme for the purpose of promoting Science and Culture throughout the world.

The Scholarships will be awarded to the best young minds involved in the study of Science, to further their knowledge inside their national boundaries.

The Pontifical Academy of Sciences and the World Federation of Science have asked if we could present a name of young science students or graduates who could be a very good and qualified candidate for one of these scholarships.

The year 2003 corresponds with the 25th Anniversary of Pope John Paul II's Magisterium and the 40th Anniversary of the establishment of the first Academy of Sciences by Federico Cesi and Pope Clement VIII.

"The John Paul II One Hundred Scholarships are intended to be the World Federation of Scientists' concrete contribution to the culture of our time, for the sake of a better future for our younger generations."

Applications can be directed through the National Catholic Education Secretary, Box 1633, Boroko, NCD.

Master General of the Dominican's visits

The Master General of the Dominican Order, Fr. Carlos Aspiros Costa (left) from Argentina, and his assistant for the Asia Pacific region, Fr. Quirico Pedvogosa, from the Philippines recently spent a few days with the Dominican community at Bomana. From there they continued on to the Solomons and New Zealand. Their stay was part of Fr. Carlos' role of contacting every friar during his term of office."
