

Clap your hands

jump down from a few steps touch a dessert-spoon on a table

a sheet of paper

rest your hand on a window-pane, so that it shakes.

walk, walk.

put your hand on the wall.

move the door-handle.

put down a pencil.

set down an instrument. a trumpet.

throw a chair

rub your face with your hands

laugh, slightly.

utter a sound.

open the piano

play with a coin.

play with a large white cloth. like a flag.

strike the wall with your fist

crush a coffee-cup

Type a few letters.

sit down.

go out

come in

sew some material with
a sewing-machine

sing. if possible, the allegretto
from Beethoven's Seventh Symphony.

write.

drink

drink a second time

pull out from the library many books, be as quick as possible and let them fall on the ground the one after the other.

ask a girl to tell you her name. it does not matter if she does not answer.

" WHISKY "

by Giuseppe Chiari

to Earle Brown 1964