The International Center at the University of California, San Diego, is seeking families or individuals to host new foreign students for a three-day hospitality stay upon their arrival in San Diego to attend the university.

The students are arriving from countries throughout the world through early October. Individuals or families are needed to open their homes to these students for three days while the visitors become oriented at the university and move into their permanent housing.

Individuals or families wishing to participate--or to find out more about the International Center and this short-term hospitality program--may contact host family coordinator Ralph Fogarty at 488-2193, or Ruby Rosas at the UCSD International Center at 534-3730.
