Baha'i Faith

40 Years in PNG

Elti Kunak, MBE, a Baha'i from New Ireland

"The first time I hear anyone say that white and black people were all the same was when I heard about Baha'i teachings. Then I knew these teachings were good. I also never heard the Baha'i say anything against other religions. We believe that all the religions came from the same source and they are all doing work for one God."

"Baha'i live in every country of the world. They are trying to help in the work of the United Nations, and they work to help the Government where they live too. They do this because they believe that unity between people is the answer to all our problems."

"I see so many things in the Baha'i Faith which are the same as the traditional spiritual ways of my people, the Nalik people. I also see that the Baha'i Faith has many things that are similar to the Christian Faith. We believe in One God. We are following His Holy Word. We also believe that all people have a soul. This soul of a human will pass on to an after-life when we die. From the time before Europeans came to our land, we have always been people who follow one God. We see that the Baha'i Teachings carry us one more step ahead, into today's world and connect us to other nations."
